Several hundred years ago, representatives of a number of nations assembled in London, England, for the purpose of charting the then known world. In so doing they charted two hemispheres, north and south, with two supposed poles. Subsequent to the establishment of these, it has been discovered by aviation that there is another pole termed the magnetic north pole, which is some 900 miles south of the original charted north pole. This "Magnetic North" is in reality the true north, being the centre of attraction of the whole earth including the Antarctic. Because of this situation, Canada is placed at a decided disadvantage latitudinal and climatic. According to the present chart, Vermilion is in about latitude 54, but if charted from the true magnetic pole, the centre of the earth, we here in Vermilion would be somewhere near latitude 60, thus putting Siberia in a more temperate zone, this being the sole reason for their accomplishments in agriculture above Canada in the present charted Arctic regions. And more, where Canada has only two settlements in the Arctic of 200 people or more the Russians have a dozen cities of 30,000 or more in the same Arctic latitudes, so it is quite obvious that Canada is at a great disadvantage geographically and climatically as compared to the Russians.

Thank you,
C. Young

MANNVILLE. — While still under construction the new Co-op store had a big hole smashed into the brick tile wall. A truck, belonging to the Inland Cement Co. of Edmonton, loaded with cement was being backed into the rear entrance of the store, in order to unload. It failed to stop soon enough however, and crashed into the west wall making a hole in it. Fortunately the building was covered with insurance against such mishaps.

Diary of a Vagabond

BY DOROTHY [illegible]

Is there anything more tantalizing than the smell of a freshly baked pumpkin pie wafted on the breeze of a crisp fall day? For weeks I had been trying to find the time of day in the Ontario countryside that surrounds the fertile valley of the Schromberg River. I knew that if I planned well I could take an early train north, saunter over the country roads lined with maple and elm trees in their gay fall garb and be home again in time for tea.

I had another motive as well. In our weekly paper I had read an ad offering an ancient walnut desk for sale in this area. Being a pushover for almost any antique article, but especially having a use for a desk where I could store the volumes of information this Diary is needing, I decided that day would be well spent in a trip north.

I took the train as far as Bradford on the Holland Marsh. The air was like new wine, a bit heavy but heady. My feet shuffled in the curled brown leaves that danced before me as I trudged along through the town and out into the country again. There were few birds on the wing, only now and then a chickadee chirped on a telephone wire to keep me company. Fat sleek cattle grazed next to the fields of stubble that had not yet been ploughed for spring sowing. This had been a good year and the harvest was plentiful.

Somewhere along the way I had attracted a little mongrel dog who tagged along at my heels, or chased a chipmunk and then [illegible] prancing back for praise of his efforts in running it to hole. "Ah life is good," I thought as I turned down the farm lane, lined on either side with knotty pines. At the end a small house nestled in a hedge of honeysuckle and lilac bushes, its white board and batten exterior dating it as having been built in the middle of the last century.

I was greeted with a wave of a sweaty cap as the young farmer kept right on pushing a squeaky old manual lawn mower over the hummocky ground. "Maw's in the kitchen," he called, "walk right in."

And that's when I smelled the pumpkin pie. Maw was hustling from stove to table with first one hot pie and then another. "We're getting ready for the Thanksgiving supper at the church and everybody's gathering here to help us carry the makin's. That's why Ned can't stop to show you the desk. It's in the parlour, you go see it if you like." Maw had never even stopped to ask me my name, just assumed I must be the lady who had phoned long distance about the desk.

In the dusk of a heavily curtained room the desk looked exactly as I had hoped it would. The glass in the cupboard doors was old and bubbly, the interior pigeon-holed and smelling of wood smoke as all very old wooden pieces smell if they are authentic. Even its sturdy legs were graceful and would match other pieces with which it would have to associate. I didn't quibble when the price was set, nor wonder how I could transport it twenty miles to my home. I was in love with it and that was that. Also I was filled with the spirit of Thanksgiving for having found this prize and met two human beings who still mark this festival [illegible] as their ancestors.

When the [illegible] days later we couldn't even get it into the living room. I realized too late that its former resting place could boast ten-foot walls whereas mine were only eight feet tall.

[illegible] especially inasmuch as we broke the thermostat to the furnace in trying to get the high top to fit. But I'm never stumped for long. I took the top to my carpenter who can do anything with wood. The lower part is now playing a new role as a serving table in the dining room.

Did I taste the pumpkin pie? No, but the smell was treat enough. Obviously Maw's recipe was not a mix but the old fashioned kind that really makes one thankful for a good and wholesome harvest.

C.N.R. Marking Y.M.C.A. Month

WINNIPEG — October is Railroad Y. M. C. A. membership month. For more than three-quarters of a century, the Y. M. C. A. has been closely identified with the C. N. R. and its predecessor railroads and, today, the relationship is closer than ever.

The program offered by the Railway Y. M. C. A. includes the basic needs of men away from home, furnishing comfortable housing and good food in a clean, wholesome environment. They provide a variety of recreational, educational, health and religious services to all members of the railroad family and, in many instances, serve the entire community.

Many of the services furnished by the Railway Y. M. C. A. cannot be reduced to statistics, yet, simple as they may be, they are among those most appreciated by the railroad men away from home.

Since the first Canadian National Railways employees suggestion plan came into effect in 1949 the company has adopted more than 7,000 money-saving, time-saving suggestions submitted by CNR personnel.

Temptation may be strong, but it seldom overtakes the man who runs from it.

Birch Creek W.I. Observes Anniversary

Birch Creek Women's Institute celebrated its 25th birthday on Saturday, October 24th, when the members invited their husbands, families and friends to a turkey banquet in the Anglican church hall. The hall was decorated in colors of blue and silver, to match that of the Birch Creek banner. The place cards used the Alberta motif of a wild rose. The table centre pieces were the figures "25" flanked with Union Jack flags.

The president, Mrs. Jack Bryden, placed the guests, and called upon Mrs. Lily Colborne to say the W. I. grace. The Happy Hour W. A. of the Anglican church catered to the banquet, which was followed by a program of toasts and speeches. Mrs. S. A. Thorne, Provincial Director for District no. 2, ceremoniously cut the candlelit birthday cake.

After the toast to the Queen, proposed by Mrs. Colborne, Mrs. J. Bryden, in her toast to the visitors, welcomed all the guests to this special occasion. The reply was made by Mrs. Edna Sloan. On behalf of the mayor who was unable to attend, Russell Whitson lauded the good work of the W. I.'s and spoke of the spirit of perseverance with which W. I. members achieve their goals.

Mrs. J. I. Jones proposed a toast to the A. W. I. which was replied to by Mrs. Mabel Finlay.

In her toast to the Charter members, Mrs. Russell Whitson spoke of the high standards attained by W. I.'s and expressed the wish that they may be maintained. She acknowledged the Charter members and introduced those who were present. Charter members are: Mrs. R. J. Shaw, Mrs. J. H. McLuckie, Mrs. Stewart Bothwell, Mrs. Elmer Arnold, Mrs. D. J. French, Mrs. M. E. Colborne, [illegible] Gilbert (now McLaughlin) and Mrs. Maggie Craig. In answering the toast Mrs. Ethel McFadden told of the W. I. creed, and she also mentioned how the men had played a helpful part in the work by providing transportation to meetings, and then enjoyed a game of cards in the kitchen with the other husbands while the meeting was in session.

In speaking of the history of the W. I.'s Mrs. Alice Rutherford pointed out that the W. I. achievements were possible only through the combined efforts of all W. I. branches in the Mannville area. Among the notable accomplishments were the Mannville rest room and the aid given to the hospital. In the war years the W. I. worked together on the home front making a valuable contribution to the comfort of soldiers.

[illegible] GUEST SPEAKER

Introduced by Mrs. E. B. Allen, Mrs. S. A. Thorne, Provincial Director of District no. 2, was the guest speaker. Mrs. Thorne maintained that the women are interested in the same things, especially as regards handicrafts; they are drawn together making of their project an enterprise and a means of increasing membership.

Mrs. R. Mead, Provincial Educational Convener, spoke about the rising standards of teaching, saying that she expected that these would continue to rise with more teachers improving their qualifications.

A film entitled "Associated Women of the World" was shown by Nestor Bahaichuk, and it depicted scenes from the Ceylon Conference held in 1957. Mrs. R. Whitson gave the commentary.

Other entertainment numbers were given by James Johnstone, a vocal solo; Mrs. M. Johnson, a reading, and Miss Merna Whitson, a recitation.

4-H Beef Club At Dewberry

The organizational meeting of the 4-H Beef club in Dewberry was held in September with Don Braithwaite as leader, and assistant leaders, Ewen Garnier, Ernest Garnier and Solomon Lemp. The following were elected to executive office:

President	Wayne Garnier
Secretary	Iris Hawryluk
Vice-Pres.	Gary Mathieson
Treasurer	Ernest Garnier
Lunch Conv.	Joanne Gray
Club Reporter	Allan Gray

It was decided that all members should have a calf by the first of October.

New club members are Joanne Gray, Richard Parker, Dennis Maltais, Allan Davis, Evan Finlay, Evelyn Stone and Darlene Garnier. Although eight of last year's members will not be joining this year, there are seven new members. All meetings will be held in the Dewberry school and are scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

At the October meeting Darlene Garnier moved that the Dewberry 4-H club leader be asked to attend a meeting held in Kitscoty to discuss the separation of the Alberta Saskatchewan sale held in Lloydminster at the end of each club year. On motion by Ewen Garnier, it was decided that no more new members would be accepted into the club after Nov. 11.

District Agriculturist Morley Douglas was present at the October meeting and spoke to the members concerning 4-H club activities.

Pig War Averted

Ottawa and Washington are working out a deal to prevent a threatening new "pig war" between the U. S. and Canada, reports The Financial Post.

Under the deal, Canada would voluntarily limit Canadian pork exports to the U. S. If this is not done voluntarily, the U. S. is threatening to impose special import taxes.

For some time a Canada-U.S. blow-up has been threatening over the hog situation.

The trouble started when Agriculture Minister Harkness disclosed he was going to change the hog price support system.

Many National Film Board Pictures Are Available Here

By arrangement with the National Film Board, the following films may be obtained locally through W. F. Stewart, Principal, Vermilion Elementary school during the month of November. Organizations wishing to use any of them should place their reservations early.

1. "The Teens." Color. 27 minutes in length.

Two boys and a girl demonstrate in their attitudes, the basic similarities of teenagers of thirteen and fifteen, and at the same time the individual differences evident in their developing personalities. We see this age of adolescence at a time of adjustment. A film for the Home and School.

2. Legend Of A Raven. In color, length 14 minutes.

An old Eskimo legend is retold through the use of a series of pictures of Eskimo carvings. Against natural Arctic backgrounds, the carvings become almost life-like as they express the words and movements of the story. This film will appeal to all audiences — children and adults alike.

3. David, Profile of a Problem Drinker. In black and white; 28 minutes in length.

The film looks for reasons and shows us that in many cases alcoholics are seeking through alcohol, release from or to compensate their feeling of inadequacy. However, in the search for a man's addiction to alcohol the film sees the starting point to recovery and explains the medical and other resources available for helping to regain control.

4. Fisheries of the Great Slave. In color, 19 minutes long.

From the depths of Great Slave Lake to a dining table in New York is the theme of this film, which tells us of a new enterprise in the North West Territories that is bringing added trade dollars to Canada. A good general interest film for any groups.

5. The Public's Business. A black and white film, 6 minutes long.

Can a person in public office legitimately use his position for private gain? The film depicts a scene in a teenage organization that illustrates the point and after presenting different points of view leaves the decision to the audience. Another good discussion film.

More Cub Leaders Are Needed

The monthly meeting of the Cub and Scout Mothers' Association was held in the Scout hall on Tuesday, October 20th at 2:30 p.m.

The annual Scout Apple Day proved to be an outstanding success and the boys are to be commended on a job well done. Thanks once again to the citizens of Vermilion and district for their co-operation and whole-hearted support.

Saturday November 14, has been set for the annual Cub Fall Tea and sale of home baking. This will be held in the Elks hall between 3 and 5 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this tea and thus support the Cubs in their endeavor to raise funds for the forthcoming year.

There is still a shortage of Cub leaders and anyone interested in this work is asked to contact Mrs. J. Alfke. In the meantime it has been decided to ask the mothers, in turn, to help out whenever needed.

In order to acquaint mothers of new cubs and scouts with the organization, a Membership Tea is planned for the very near future. Arrangements are also being made to have a talk on some phase of cub and scout work at each meeting in order to give mothers an idea of what their boys are doing. These talks should prove very interesting and it is hoped that as many mothers as possible will try to attend the meetings.

United Nations Speech At Rotary

Dorothy Jean Stewart gave a talk on her trip to the United Nations Headquarters in New York, at last week's Rotary meeting. It was a very appropriate time for this subject, as the address was given during the week of United Nation's fourteenth anniversary. Surely no organization in the world's history has done so much to preserve peace and we remember it with gratitude.

Last spring Miss Stewart won a public speaking contest for this area of the province. The award was a free trip to United Nations, New York. The donors of the prize were the Oddfellows and Rebekah lodges.

Newcombe Bentley introduced Miss Stewart and Jack Knaak thanked her for a very fine speech.

Visitors at Friday's meeting were Emerson Luther, Harold [illegible] and Neville [illegible], all of Lloydminster; Bill McLaughlin, back from a long [illegible] in England; Lloyd Walmer of Winnipeg and Lloyd Hauser of Vancouver.

Death of Mrs. Rosetta Cambridge

Mrs. Rosetta Cambridge passed away on Saturday, Oct. 24th in the Wainwright hospital at the age of 79 years.

She is survived by one son, Fred of Vermilion, and four daughters, Mrs. Derward Bowman of Dewberry, Mrs. Tom Gannon and Mrs. Lorne Wilson of Vermilion, and Mrs. Henry Tonda of Wainwright. One sister, Mrs. Robert Butler, resides in Vermilion. There are 19 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was predeceased by Mr. Cambridge in 1943.

Mrs. Cambridge was born in Ireland and first settled in this district in 1907.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Oct. 28 in the Holy Name Roman Catholic church, Vermilion, Father Patsula officiating. Interment took place in the Roman Catholic cemetery, Vermilion.

Mayer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The weather refuses to clear up and drizzles of rain with some snow flurries have been registered on four of the past seven days.

Harvest is still at a standstill with farmers endeavoring to obtain feed under very adverse conditions.

Golden Age Friendship Club Holds Another Successful Bingo and Social Evening

The second fall social of the Golden Age Friendship club was held at the Legion hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 21 with fifty-two members present. Bingo was the feature attraction with eighteen games being played. There were the usual "Oh's and Ah's" and various expressions, but everyone had a good time. Due to illness, the president, Mr. W. Waldenberger was unable to attend. All wish him a speedy recovery. Wes was truly missed. However, Mrs. Waldenberger did a very capable job with the help of the different committees. A big thank you to Mr. Roy Walker for his help. After the games were all finished, the kitchen committee took over, and once again, hats off to the ladies for the very efficient manner in which they got the lunch on so quickly. Many thanks to the gentlemen who helped to pour tea and coffee, also to the ladies who so generously brought the cakes and cookies. The birthday cake, bought by the club from Vermilion Bakeries, was very much admired and enjoyed. After lunch was over, Mrs. Waldenberger, on behalf of Mr. Waldenberger, announced that the next social is to be held in the Legion hall on Nov. 18 in the evening. Election of officers for the coming year will also be held that night. It is hoped that as many members as possible will attend. Please make a special effort to be there. To all members who are on the sick list, best wishes for a speedy recovery and it is hoped that all will be at the next social.

A very nice "thank ou" note was received from Mr. and Mrs. Waldenberger, but due to an oversight it was not read at the social. Sincere apologies to both and in order to rectify this oversight the letter is herewith reproduced:

Dear Mr. Cross:

As secretary of the Golden Age Friendship club, please convey our very sincere thanks to all members for the nice surprise of a a 'golden purse'. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered with gratitude.

Thanks again, folks.

Sincerely,
Mabel and Wes Waldenberger.

The social came to a close with the singing of the theme song followed by "The Queen".

Rita Majeau Is Honored at Shower

MANNVILLE — Miss Rita Majeau, a former Mannville girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garney Majeau and a bride-elect of this month, was honored Friday evening, October 23, when a number of friends gathered in the United Church Social Rooms for a miscellaneous shower. Rita received many useful and beautiful gifts, which each guest presented personally upon entering, and which were later displayed at a separate table, as guests came up to inspect all the gifts. This made possible the mingling of all those assembled. Following the opening of the gifts by Rita, her mother, and sister Donna, a happy social hour was enjoyed by all present. The bride-elect very graciously thanked all for the lovely gifts.

Referring to the recommendations of the Irrigation Study committee Mr. Halmrast stated that one of the main functions of the Board would be to advise the government on the development of new irrigation projects and on the extension of irrigation districts. The Board would be expected to examine all the existing information and surveys respecting soils, topography, water supply and the economic aspects of the proposed development. The Board would obtain any additional information that it might require in drafting its recommendations to the government on the feasibility of the proposed project. All aspects of the agricultural, engineering and economic potentialities would be considered. In all probability the government would refer other major irrigation problems to the Board for its [illegible] and advice.

Bad Construction Weather Delays Alberta Highways Program

Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, reported today that the grading program had now reached 67% completion. This compares unfavourably with 74% at this same time last year. 226 miles out of the planned 404 have been completed.

Only 65% of the stabilized gravel base course work has now been completed as against 88% last year. 174 miles of base course have been laid out of the planned 267.

71% of the asphaltic plant surface course has been completed as against 83% at this same time last year. 152 miles have been surfaced out of 214 planned.

74% of the double surface stabilization has been completed in the amount of 180 miles. 242 are in the program. The seal coat program has been fully completed. 194.5 miles have been sealed.

The lag in 1959 is largely due to the wet cold summer. This year to date 2,352 shifts have been lost due to rain as against 1,231 at the same time last year.

"It is possible to still complete the grading program if the weather clears but we cannot expect to complete much more of the asphalt work as the temperature and the short days work against same," the Minister said.

Lower Air Fares?

Air fares soon may start down again as the airlines hunt for more passengers, reports The Financial Post.

After a full year of jet operations the world's airlines have been meeting recently at two International Air Transport Association conferences in Honolulu and Tokyo. The year's findings: Air travel has never been so popular nor airlines so broke.

The need for more passengers is becoming drastic.

W. I. Reports To Home and School On Awards

MANNVILLE — With president Mrs. George Young in the chair, Mannville Home and School met in the high school gym at 8 o'clock p.m. on Thursday, October 22nd. An interesting film on England was enjoyed before the business meeting. Rev Harry Shell conducted the impressive ceremony of installing officers in this group as all stood to pledge allegiance. Reports of the secretary and the treasurer were adopted as read.

The executive announced that they had decided to invite Dr Scragge as guest speaker for a future meeting which report was approved by meeting.

Mrs. Russell Wilson, on behalf of the W. I. groups in the Vegreville area, gave a report on the survey of all groups connected, re awards being given to the Home Economics and Industrial Arts classes for worthwhile efforts. It was the general opinion of all W. I.'s that such awards would greatly encourage [illegible] and stimulate more interest in these courses, perhaps resulting in more young folks becoming teachers in said courses. Particularly are these courses of interest to W. I.'s who are dedicated to serve "home and country." The groups are in constant touch with Home Economists, in carrying out their work. Miss Ruth Gray, the Home Economics teacher and Allison Toronchuk the Shop teacher made interesting comments on the matter and pledged their full support. A suggested plan of marks for awards was given by Mr. Toronchuk which would include all outside points taking courses. Mrs. Whitson hoped the Home and School would lend their assistance in the matter of finances re awards.

Principal Angus Smith of the high school made a request for a further $30.00 towards band incidentals and hoped the Home and School would subscribe toward part of this. Oswald Bauer then reported that Stellaville Community had dissolved and had voted $30.00 towards the Mannville school band which sum has not yet been legally released. So the Mannville Home and School have lent the $30.00 to the band until the money from the community fund is available.

Reporting on a recent questionnaire sent out to the parents, Mrs. Lily Park said that less than 50% were returned.

Room visits were the highlight of the evening when all parents were free to visit the respective rooms in which their children were taught. A lively buzz session followed these visits with reports given as to the results of the various discussions.

It was noted on a visit to the arts class and typing room, that some wonderfully creative work was being done in art, inspired by the earnest endeavors of the teacher, Allan Rostron. Some especially interesting work was observed in the pencil class in shading, etc. The typing also was neat, clear and good samples were shown in types of business letters. There are only five students in the arts class. New typewriters were an additional delight to the class, as well as to Mr. Rostron, who has a full class.

Lunch was served at the conclusion of the meeting by the east-side ladies of the town.

One of the basic rights of our form of Government, and consequently, of our way of life, is the right of the individual — that is you and your father, and your friend and his father — to the peaceable possession of his property.

On Hallowe'en this right is sometimes violated—BUT GOOD—and the person who suffers damage usually accepts it good naturedly — but don't push him too far. Remember, what you are doing to him may also be happening at YOUR HOME—even at the same time!

Lark Station Wagon for 1960

A new Studebaker model for 1960 is this Lark four-door station wagon, available with either a 6-cylinder or V-8 engine. The new Lark station wagons feature newly - designed tailgates with greater glass area. They also have safety locks which securely hold the lifted tailgate doors and upper sections in place. Studebaker is offering a complete line of models including a V-8 and 6-cylinder convertible to meet all motorists' 1960 needs.

New Larks Now On Display At Ken Isley's Showroom

Two new Lark convertibles — plus three new models of four-door station wagons — highlight the 1960 Larks by Studebaker which are on display at Ken Isley's showrooms in Vermilion.

Addition of the convertibles and four door wagons to Lark offerings rounds out the first complete line of body styles in the convenience-size car field. Studebaker has not marketed a convertible since 1952.

Announcing the 1960 Larks, President Gordon E. Grundy of Studebaker-Packard of Canada, Limited, said: "In response to public enthusiasm for the Lark during its first year on the market, Studebaker is adding new models for 1960. With a selection of six different body styles, the Lark now provides the Canadian public with the only full line of automobiles in the convenience-size field."

The new four-door Lark station wagons will be available in L-head six-cylinder in the Deluxe line, and V-8 engine models in both Regal and Deluxe lines. The Lark convertibles will become part of the Regal lines with either six or V-8 power plants.

Because car buyers resent the practice of making cars "psychologically obsolescent" by needless annual style changes, the Lark's distinctive style features have been retained for 1960 Mr. Grundy said.

He pointed out this was promised by Harold E. Churchill, President of Studebaker-Packard Corporation, the engineer-executive who was largely responsible for the development and introduction of the Lark last year.

The Lark was deliberately designed to stay in style indefinitely, Mr. Grundy said, and this year retained its minimum exterior dimensions and full-size interior roominess along with the main features of its classic design.

The unusually high popularity of the two-door Lark station wagons dictated the addition of the new four-door Lark wagons for 1960. Steadily rising industry sales of convertibles and the absence of a domestic convertible in the convenience-size field were major factors in developing the newest Lark body style.

Additional rear legroom in 1960 Lark sedans and station wagons has been achieved through new front seat design.

The Lark's four model groupings provide a wide range of power and styling choices for the discriminating car buyer. The Regal V-8 line offers the new convertible, new 4-door station wagon, the 4-door sedan, and 2-door hardtop. The Deluxe V-8 has two body styles — 4-door station wagon, and 4-door sedan.

Six choices are available in the six cylinder lines. In the Regal six, Studebaker Lark offers the new convertible and the popular four-door sedan. Available in the Deluxe six are four styles — 4-door station wagon, 2-door station wagon, 4-door and 2-door sedan.

Optional equipment available on all 1960 Larks includes overdrive or Flightomatic transmission, Twin-Traction differential, hill holder and reclining front seats.

Power steering is optional on all Lark V-8's. Power top is standard on the Lark convertibles. Roof luggage carriers and rear-facing third seat are available for all Lark station wagons. Individually adjusted headrests are a new option in 1960 for all two-door models as well as all other models equipped with reclining seats.

Preston 4-Club Meets, Elects Officers

The Preston 4-H club held their annual meeting on Monday evening. The new officers were installed and Mr. Holte is again [illegible].

A Hungry Child At Christmas?

With Christmas just around the corner our thoughts naturally turn toward presents and bright lights and extra special things to eat. Can you imagine what it would be like if none of these things were in sight? If you were so poor that a dry crust of bread looked like a banquet and a cave became a palace.

Well there are thousands upon thousands of youngsters throughout the world who lead just this sort of life. They are the world's "lost babies" — innocent victims of economic strife and revolution. Their lot is not an enviable one. Death will take the lucky ones this winter — then they will not have to know the terror of long nights of giant shadows and feel the creeping cold along their undernourished limbs. These are a generation of hungry, frightened children. They are the citizens of tomorrow.

Maria is one of them. Her daddy was killed during an uprising in Greece — her mother died of TB last year. Maria lives with an aged grand[illegible] too old and rheumatoid to earn a living for her small charge. Maria begs in the street to eke out a living for her Nanny. And Maria is just five years old — not old enough, even, to go to school — yet wise as the ancient philosophers to the ways of this cruel world. Maria's present is bleak — her past is intolerable — her future is non-existent.

There are many Marias throughout Europe and Asia. These children need our help or they will not live to see Xmas and next spring. You can help them through a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-government relief organization called Foster Parents' Plan Inc. PLAN has looked after 95,000 of these youngsters since 1939. Through Plan hunger, cold and terror are chased from their young lives and they become children once again.

By becoming a Foster Parent you can take part in their great work. Your $15 a month payment financially "adopts" your very own child. $8 is an outright cash grant, the rest is made up in food and clothing parcels, warm blankets and medicines. A warm personal relationship is established between parent and child — and gifts and secrets are exchanged for years to come. Letters are translated both ways by Plan interpreters. These children need to be loved — almost as much as they need warm bedding and food.

Won't you help them?

Red Cross Ships Relief Supplies

More than 2,000 items of childrens clothing, quilts and bedding are en route from Alberta to assist the typhoon victims of Japan.

The shipment of 11 cases left Red Cross Provincial Headquarters in Calgary October 22nd, en route to [illegible]. Valued at $1,978, the relief shipment contained 2,[illegible] articles, which are all new items made by volunteer workers in Red Cross women's groups throughout Alberta.

Prize Livestock To Move via CNR

WINNIPEG — A special movement of 21 Canadian National Railways' livestock cars will carry Manitoba and Saskatchewan's best show-stock to Toronto early next month for competition in the Royal Winter Fair. The movement will include four sleeping cars to accommodate special grooms accompanying the livestock.

Manitoba entries include 29 horses, 65 cattle, 70 swine and 23 sheep. Entries from Saskatchewan include 24 horses, 29 cattle and 27 swine.

WILDMERE WINKS

The Preston Central Home and School meeting was held on Wednesday evening with a good attendance and the ones who didn't attend missed a very informative meeting. The teachers' convention was reported on by the teachers and principal Mr. Sweet gave a summary of Mr. Aalborg's talk on the Cameron Commission. The new officers elected for the forthcoming year are Mr Bill Veitch, president; Mr Dave Hughes, vice-president, and Mrs. Roy Dibben, secretary-treasurer. The directors are one for each district, namely Mrs Forest Beale, Battleview; Mrs. Lloyd Howard, Wildmere; Mrs Dick Donlly, Triangle; Frank Gibson, Basswood.

Mr and Mrs. Harry Howard of Edmonton were visiting a few days with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howard last [illegible].

Mr and Mrs. Fred Kottmeier and Mrs. Hazel Batke visited at the home of Mrs. Wally West[illegible] Tuesday.

It was nice to see Peggy Graham, who is nursing at Elk Point, recently. She brought Mrs. Wallington out to the home and struction for a few days.

Dave Hughes has gone to Calgary for a month, to further his studies and write exams on his welding course.

Adam Smith went south to a lake near Chauvin on Sunday to try the fishing. He returned with three rainbow trout, one measuring 17 inches in length. He really caught the one that usually gets away.

Cliff Cruthers has been helping out with Pettigrew Con-school meeting.

Everybody is busy trying to do some combining and threshing but the grain is still pretty damp and fields terribly wet.

Hazel Whitlock, formerly of Wildmere, now on the staff of the Bank of Commerce, has been having quite a time with her tonsils. Cheer up Hazel, now that they've been removed they won't bother you anymore.

Closing thought: Knowledge is one thing that doesn't become second-hand when used.

Laymen Take Anglican Services

MANNVILLE — Laymen's Sunday was observed at the Mannville service of evening worship on October 25th in which Lister Emmott read the first lesson, Ralph Dawe the second, and Chris Hamilton read the latter portion of evening prayer.

Ronald Forsyth delivered the sermon, taking as his text "I therefore the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called." [illegible] fourth chapter of Ephesians, 1st verse. Said Mr. Forsyth: "We, as members of Christ's church, must see that church teachings do not stop at the door of the church, but that we carry them into our daily lives, into everything we do. This, then is our vocation"!

Prior to 1873 all butter made in Canada was churned on the farm. In that year a creamery operation was commenced in Athelstan, Huntingdon County, Quebec. It was a short-lived venture but was succeeded by a successful creamery at Helena in the same county.

FIRST JAPANESE SHIP TO SAIL THROUGH THE SEAWAY

A Toronto harbor commission tug brings line ashore for the 500-foot Munesjima Maru, the first ship direct from Japan to sail through the St. Lawrence Seaway to the port of Toronto. Capt. Hisao Oda skippered the ship on its voyage to inaugurate the service.

Radio Station CFRN Increases Power To 10,000 Watts

As a climax to their 25th anniversary celebrations, radio station CFRN pulled the big switch this week to increase power to 10,000 watts, to become the first station in Northern Alberta with a continuous 24-hour a day service at that power.

Edmonton's two other fully commercial radio stations CJCA and CHED operate on 10,000 watts also, but during the daylight hours only. At dusk CJCA's power is reduced to 5,000 watts and CHED's to 1,000.

To make the increase possible, CFRN had to move their transmitter to a new site approximately six miles south of the location on the Jasper Highway about one mile west of the city limits. The new high-efficiency antenna is 472 feet high. Its great height, plus the latest technical improvements will have the effect of doubling the power. In other words, CFRN's output will be closer to 20,000 watts, instead of 10,000 as would be the case with ordinary antennae.

With the power increase, CFRN now transmits a stronger and much clearer signal to a considerably larger broadcast area.

CFRN commenced broadcasting on November 1st, 1934, as a 100-watt operation. In 1941, power was increased to 1,000, and in 1947 to 5,000. The latest power increase was timed to coincide with CFRN's silver anniversary celebrations.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Committee Studies Hutterite Problem; No Magic Solution

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — The government-appointed committee which has been studying Alberta's Hutterite Colony problem didn't come up with any magic solution in its report, released last week.

But it may have given the government the green light to step out from under the problem — at least to a degree — by handing it over to a permanent board.

Formation of a permanent board to regulate Hutterite landholdings and start the long, slow process of integrating the black-clad brethren into North American society was the main recommendation of the three-member committee headed by Charles P. Hayes of Strome.

Premier Manning had no comment when he released the report, but it may form the basis of new legislation to replace the admittedly ineffective Communal Property Act which at present restricts land purchases by Hutterite colonies.

The Hutterites, members of a religious sect started in Germany in the 16th century, seem to stir up resentment wherever they establish colonies. They don't do it purposely, because their doctrine is strictly pacifist. All they want is to be left alone to live their simple, communal lives.

But they contribute practically nothing to the communities in which they live. Their colonies are practically self-sufficient. The few provisions they must buy are bought in wholesale lots, so they don't contribute to the economy by patronizing local merchants. Their farming methods are so efficient they are able to pay better than the going price for choice farmland. Their birth rate is high, and some people fear they may someday control all the good farmland in the province.

As envisioned by Mr. Hayes' committee, the proposed permanent board would head off some of these difficulties before they have a chance to arise.

As part of its job of controlling Hutterite landholdings, it would help the colonies find property in areas where the least resentment would occur. It would try to persuade them to deal with local merchants. It also would try to sell them on the idea of pioneering new land instead of inviting criticism by always grabbing choice, cultivated land.

The board would have some discretionary powers, but its rulings would be subject to cabinet approval. It would work under the framework of a new act, which would contain a broad outline of government policy without the detailed restrictions set out in the present act.

SCHOOLS

The committee also found that existing Hutterite schools are not satisfactory, but it had little to offer in the way of a solution beyond saying better teachers might help, and that perhaps all children should be required to write grade nine examinations before leaving school.

All Hutterite children leave school at the age of 15 and take their place in colony life. Each colony operates its own school; the Hutterian Brethren feel their children would be badly influenced if they attended public schools. Teachers in the Hutterite schools complain that the curriculum is offset by too much instruction in German language and religious doctrine by colony elders.

INTEGRATION

Is there any chance of the Hutterites becoming integrated into society? There is, says the committee, but it will take time and patience. Among hopeful signs: Hutterite acceptance of modern farm machinery, new panel trucks which offer comfort to passengers, and the appearance of the occasional plaid skirt worn by girls, swings for the children, and the odd flower garden on the colonies.

But the Hutterites themselves, especially the elders, don't want to change things. Their belief is in the community ownership of all property. Their life is austere by North American standards, but they seem to thrive. One of the things the committee found is that there is practically no mental illness among the Hutterites.

Chevy's done the next best thing to paving every road in Canada!

First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it a ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day.

They're tougher than any Chevy trucks ever made. Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for sheet metal.

Ship's Chapel Is Setting For Wood-Benson Rites

HALIFAX, N.S. — White gladioli and silver anchors decorated the altar of the Chapel of St. Nicholas, H. M. C. S. Stadacona, in Halifax for the recent wedding of Miss Audrey Elizabeth Benson, daughter of Mr and Mrs. R. H. Benson of Edmonton, and Able Seaman Lloyd William Wood, son of Mr and Mrs. S. R. Wood of Dewberry, Alberta. The double-ring ceremony was conducted by Rev. A. G. Faraday.

Given in marriage by the groom's grandfather, Mr. Alex (Sandy) Wood, the bride was radiant in a floor-length gown of silk organza, fashioned with a full skirt which swept into a chapel train. The fitted bodice featured sequin trimmed yoke, scalloped neckline and short sleeves. She wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings, gift of the groom. The bride's shoulder-length veil was held by a crown of rhinestones and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley.

The groom, his best man Mr. Steve Moyer, and ushers Mr. [illegible] Paul and Mr. Thomas Wiggins were in full dress navy uniform.

Following the wedding, a reception and dance for fifty guests was held in the banquet room at Winnie's Lodge, Halifax. Centreing the head table was a three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the groom's mother and beautifully decorated by Mrs. V. Dennil of Dewberry. Vases of white gladioli, white and pink streamers and white wedding bells made a lovely background. The groom ably responded to the toast to the bride, given by Mr. Steve Moyer. Many congratulatory telegrams, from relatives and friends, were read to the young couple.

For a honeymoon trip to Bedford, N.S., the bride wore a white [illegible] chiffon sheath, with [illegible] coat and white accessories. [illegible] corsage was of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood will make their home in Halifax until the end of the year, at which time the young couple will return to the groom's permanent base in Esquimalt, B.C.

THE CHALLENGE OF KITCHEN CABINETS

DOOR ARRANGEMENTS

Plan your kitchen cabinets for convenient door arrangement and desirable divisions of space. In the upper cabinet, wide doors tend to interfere with the worker. Plan the direction and size of swing of the door to give a satisfactory working arrangement. Avoid doors which swing in front of windows, over the sink or surface burners. Wall cabinet doors should not project beyond the counter edge, to provide for safety in use.

SHELVES

Shelves wide enough to store only one row of dishes, equipment and supplies, placed [illegible] together, make it easy to [illegible] similar pieces without [illegible]ing. When making shelves, it is convenient to have a [illegible] in several thicknesses. Three-fourths inch lumber is [illegible] for most shelves.

ADJUSTABLE SHELVES

Shelves in the upper cabinets should be made adjustable to be moved up and down to accommodate the articles stored. This may be done by using rows of metal stripping. Half shelves may be added between the standard shelves to increase efficiency in the storage of utensils and supplies.

DO-IT-YOURSELF METHODS:

Are recommended according to Miss Shirley Wood, Home Designing Specialist. Wood does seem to be the most easily handled material, but whether it is intended to have painted cabinets or a natural finish, choose materials carefully.

A NEW PROJECT FOR KITCHEN CABINETS

Manufactured in Calgary, fir popular ply is available in seven different finishes. It is the best buy if planning a painted surface. It gives a grain-free smooth surface without the hours of sanding needed when fir ply is used. Fir core poplar is reasonable in price and has a relatively good finished appearance. An estimate of finishing plywood with natural finish is four cents per square foot per coat.

A TIMELY REMINDER from YOUR GAS COMPANY

Winter is coming! But before it sets in, we suggest you make sure your home is ready to provide complete warmth and comfort during the cold weather.

Here are some points to remember:

- Registers should be free of dust or foreign objects. Furniture should be placed so that the registers are not obstructed.
- If doors and windows are loose fitting and drafty, weather stripping will help to eliminate this condition and prevent heat loss.
- The humidifier should be checked to make sure that it is clean and that the float valve operates.
- Every gas appliance with the exception of late model gas ranges must be properly vented. Chimneys and vents should be checked for blockage and state of repair.
- Furnace air filters should be checked and either cleaned or replaced.
- Motor and fan bearings should be oiled according to manufacturer's directions.

Check your furnace yourself or call a qualified service man. And remember, taking these precautions NOW will pay off in comfort and lower heating bills THROUGH-OUT THE SEASON.

If you have any questions regarding the operation of your gas heating system or gas appliances in your home, or require any explanation of your monthly gas utility bill, contact your local gas company agent.

A lively housing programme has been in effect for the last few years under supervision of Saddle Lake Indian Agency — Indian Affairs Branch at St. Paul, Alberta. In charge of this branch is Stanley C. Knapp, assisted by H. A. Matthews, covering the reservations of Saddle Lake, Goodfish Lake, Cold Lake, Long Lake, Frog Lake and Kehewin, so the agency is kept extremely busy at all times. Hired by Indian Affairs Branch, Saddle Lake Indian Agency in charge of housing construction is Reg Lugg of Mannville, Alberta. He is asked to employ Indian help who are paid top wages by the Government for their carpenter work. Many of these boys have attended a carpentry tradesman's school during the winter months and are apprenticing for that trade in the future.

Each separate reservation is supervised by an Indian Agent who acts under orders from Saddle Lake Indian Affairs Agency, the agent at Saddle Lake being Mr. Fred Kjenner, who has a charming wife and three children, Bobby, Raymond and Linda, the latter being my constant companion and guide, and a most interesting one at that.

HOUSE MATERIAL SUPPLIED AND DELIVERED BY GOVT.

The project at Saddle Lake has been to build houses for the Indians chosen by the band council for those who merit one. $650. to $750. is allowed for each house, and they boast five rooms — kitchen, living room, and three bedrooms. There is a sink in the kitchen and an outdoor toilet is built with the house. It was interesting to note that many Indians had taken particular pains to paint and improve the appearance of houses built last year. Each Indian getting a new house is expected to [illegible] free for that privilege but is not forced to do so.

Saddle Lake was apparently so named because as the name suggests, its shape is similar to that of a saddle, and I understand the same applies to the other reserves such as Frog Lake, Goodfish Lake and Cold Lake, all having been thought out by the Indians, with simple [illegible].

I arrived at Saddle Lake with two dogs in tow, Trixie and Taffy, neither of which were mine and who shared a 14 x 7 foot trailer with Reg and myself. The trailer also contained built-in cupboards, a coal and wood heater, a card table, 3 chairs, a single bed and at night my inflated air mattress, for which there was just enough room after everyone else was settled. I wouldn't have traded places with the Queen of England and was grateful to Indian Affairs for lending us the bunkhouse.

On this reserve the Roman Catholic church has a small convent and church school having a fully qualified Roman Catholic lay teacher as well as the nuns. I was graciously shown through all these buildings by Sister [illegible] in residence there. The Mother Superior is Sister Jean and Sister Monique manages the kitchen and does most of the cooking. The priest has his private home, and takes his meals at the convent alone. He is always present with the school children at recess, when he joins in with their games thus establishing a recreational as well as spiritual contact with them.

Indeed it was with reluctance that I parted with my newfound friends, Linda Kjenner and her fluffy wee dog Sandy who was an imp of mischief, the Kjenner family, their old dog Butch and Pee-wee the cat, and last but certainly not least, the Sisters of Saddle Lake.

One thing I noted with amusement was that no matter how humble the dwelling nearly all the Indians own cars, buggies and wagons. Many also own horses, cattle, chickens, etc., one-third of the returns going to the band council.

Everybody Needs A Hobby

Whether it's knitting, sewing, photography or one of the other many and varied pastimes that can be pursued today, everyone needs a hobby, says Mrs. Joan Vanterpool, Alberta's Extension Clothing Specialist. Besides being a form of relaxation, handicrafts can satisfy the desire for new experiences and is also a means of self gratification through creation.

Choosing a hobby may pose a few problems but if these questions are answered before starting a project they will make the task of choosing much more simple. Is it really useful, is it practical, will the skills learned be of value for many years to come, are materials readily available, what is the cost, is it interesting creatively, will it give a sense of pride and achievement and does it allow for originality? These points should be considered if you are to be completely satisfied with a new hobby.

But most important of all says Mrs. Vanterpool, remember before embarking on any new project handicraft is an art requiring the faculty of "good taste" which employs simplicity and harmony. Colors, shapes, textures and ideas should all be kept simple, so choose your materials and hobbies with great care.

FIRE

If fire starts in your house or in a neighborhood house, give the alarm promptly. Close doors, windows, and transoms to prevent a draft. If a fire extinguisher is handy, use it. If not, and the blaze is small, try smothering it with sand, a coat, rug or blanket or use water unless the fire is in oil, grease or gasoline. The latter type of fire can only be smothered. To extinguish blazing grease in a frying pan, use a broom handle to maneuver a pot cover into position over the pan and then throw a wet towel over the whole.

In escaping a smoke-filled building, remember that the purest air is to be found near the floor and it is safest to crawl. Cover the mouth and nose with a damp cloth to filter out some of the fumes and reduce the danger of inhaling flame. Remember, however, that this is not a protection against carbon monoxide poisoning. In case persons rescued from a burning building have stopped breathing administer artificial respiration at once.

BURNS AND SCALDS

The purpose of the first aid treatment of burns is 1. to relieve pain, 2. to prevent infection in all burns in which the skin is broken and 3. to prevent loss of tissue fluid in extensive burns. Shock nearly always develops when large areas of skin are burned.

For small minor burns characterized by reddened unbroken skin or surface blisters apply sterile petrolatum, burn [illegible] olive oil or mineral oil and cover the burned area with a sterile gauze dressing. Individual gauze dressings which have been specially treated are now put up in packages and can be bought at drug stores.

For severe burns -- deep burns and all extensive burns -- get medical aid promptly. Contamination with germs from the mouth and nose is responsible for most serious burn infections. In giving emergency treatment, tie a piece of gauze or any clean cloth over the mouth and nose to serve as a mask. If material for a cloth mask is not available, keep the mouth closed. Cover the burned area with a thick layer of sterile gauze and bandage firmly in place. Keep the victim quiet and comfortably warm until the doctor arrives.

CHEMICAL BURNS

Chemical burns are caused by chemicals such as strong acids and alkalis. Immediately strip off all clothing which has come in contact with the chemical and flood the skin with large quantities of clean water. Then give first aid according to the depth and extent of the burn. If there has been any delay in giving first aid do not use water. Get medical aid at once.

If acid, lime or any other chemical enters the eye, immediately wash out the chemical then and there with great quantities of clean water. Do not use water if there has been any delay in giving first aid. Get medical aid at once.

FROSTBITE

Frostbite occurs when a part of the body is frozen. Signs of frostbite are dead whiteness, [illegible] and numbness of the flesh.

The victim should be taken indoors into a warm room if available and given a warm drink. Warm the frozen part as rapidly as possible by placing in a basin or tub of lukewarm (not hot) water or by wrapping it in blankets until thawing occurs. Avoid exposure to heat from a stove, hot-water bottle, or hot lamp. Handle the frozen part very gently to prevent further injury. Do not rub the area, since tissues are easily torn or [illegible].

If it is impossible to bring the victim indoors, cover the frozen part carefully with wool or other clothing or with a warm hand or some other part of the body until circulation is restored.

Hallowe'en is children's time and it is the time to take pictures of the young ones at play and make-believe.

Picturing Fun at Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en offers a special opportunity to snap the young ones in their weird and fancy costumes before, after and during the Hallowe'en party they have been looking forward to for so long. Your Hallowe'en snapshots can be the most exciting of any you take all year. So get ready now and make the very best of the occasion.

What fun the children will have touring the neighborhood. Think of the fun they will have trying to [illegible] people by their fancy costumes, the frightening noises, the loud horns, the cry of "shell out, shell out, the witches are out!" or "Hallowe'en apples" or "trick or treat" or any of the shouting traditional in various parts of Canada.

With today's flash equipment and modern films, you can take snapshots any time under all conditions, day or night. Be sure, however, not to get too close to your subjects. If you are too close with a box type camera — less than five feet — the picture will be blurred. Be sure to remember the fundamental principles you learned when you first began taking pictures, holding the camera steady with [illegible] and pressing the shutter release slowly and evenly. With all the excitement of a Hallowe'en evening it's easy to forget this prime requisite of taking good pictures.

If you're shooting with daylight type color film, use blue flash bulbs for your after dark pictures. If it's indoor type color film, use white bulbs. One of the most popular color films today comes in rolls you can use outdoors in sunlight or indoors with flash. In either case you only need white bulbs.

You [illegible] either in color or black and white, using the simplified box camera or one with adjustable openings and shutter speeds. Hallowe'en is certainly an occasion for happy carefree pictures. Let's make the most of it!

Visit of the President, Dominion Command of Legion Marked by Banquet, Meeting, Smoker

The visit to Vermilion on Thursday of David L. Burgess, President of the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion was the occasion of the largest gathering of Legion members since the visit of Viscount Alexander Governor-General of Canada, who came here to officially open the new Legion hall a few years after the end of the war. Mr. Burgess, who comes from Ottawa, was accompanied by Wm. Williams, president of the Alberta provincial command, from Edmonton, and the secretary, Mr. Fraser of Calgary.

Special Legion functions arranged in honor of the visit of the distinguished party were a banquet served at the Brunswick hotel attended by visitors, members of the executive of the Legion Branch 11 and the Women's Auxiliary to the Legion, presidents from neighboring Posts, and a small number of guests. This was followed by a formal meeting of the Legion, which attracted a capacity attendance. The final function was an informal smoker.

All the speaking was done at the formal Legion meeting held in their own capacious hall. Legion president Thompson welcomed the distinguished visitors, and introduced those on the platform, Mr. Burgess, Mr. Williams, Mr. Fraser, His Worship Mayor Hill and Ashley Cooper, M. L. A.

Mayor Hill and Mr. Cooper spoke briefly as did Major Fane, M. P. for Battle River-Camrose. Mr. Williams and Mr. Fraser dealt with provincial legion matters, while the address of the evening was by the Dominion President, Mr. Burgess. The speaker, in the course of his remarks, told of the Dominion convention at Windsor, the Canadian Legion Youth Sports plan, the Legion curling championships which project has grown immensely; and the work on pensions. National membership was touched on. The speaker also told of his attendance at the unveiling of the well known Brookwood memorial near London, England.

PRESENTED PAST ZONE COMMANDER MEDAL

Mr. Burgess was called on to present a past zone commanders medal to Comrade Ralph Ruud of Mannville who has served for the past two years in that position. Mr. Victor Tillett of Vermilion branch is the new Zone commander.

At the conclusion of the meeting the very large crowd enjoyed the smoker where many impromptu numbers were given by those present uncovering an amazing amount of entertaining talent.

The formal meeting of the Legion was complete with pipers and the advancing and retiring of the colors.

The visit of the Dominion president was an outstanding event made all the more [illegible] by the well arranged functions carried out by the officials of Canadian Legion Post 11. It was a day that will go down in the annals of local legion history.

School for Retarded Children Opens Nov. 9th in Vermilion

The opening of the Vermilion school for retarded children has been arranged for November 9th, when the first class of six pupils will begin lessons in the Edward's estate house in [illegible] the south side of town.

Mrs. George Senz has been appointed to teach in the newly formed school and is now in Edmonton taking a short course in this specialized type of instruction at the Edmonton school for retarded children. The Edmonton school is recognized as having a fine curriculum and has developed some very successful teaching techniques. Mrs. Senz is a fully qualified teacher holding a permanent teaching certificate to teach in the regular schools.

There are several additional applications from eligible pupils but transportation allowances or lodging arrangements have yet to be made for them.

The pupils, the teacher, a building and a few school supplies have been arranged for but other articles are urgently needed. Contributions of such things as chairs, cots to rest on, a piano, a record player, tables, a refrigerator, kitchen utensils and cutlery and dishes, would be very much appreciated and could be put into useful service immediately. Anyone caring to donate any of these much needed articles could arrange for their transportation by contacting Percy E. Cooper at the Vermilion Standard. Members of the association would be most grateful for any such contributions.

Retarded Children's Schools To Be Topic of Talk

Mrs. Stewart will show a new and interesting film on retardation, and will have some very helpful suggestions to make on the subject, with which she is familiar from her long experience in this branch of special education. Discussion is invited.

Prior to the meeting Mrs. Stewart plans to spend the day visiting the new Vermilion school for retarded children and familiarizing herself with the local situation.

Badge Sec'y	Mrs. Gwyneth Clendenning

Mrs. C. Moore thanked the Guides for their assistance in serving at the Cub and Scout banquet the week previous.

The evening concluded with a very enjoyable film which was shown by Mrs. [illegible] entitled "Guides All Guides". The film told in detail of a recent Guide Jamboree held at Lake Simcoe and attended by Guides from all over the world.

Remembrance and The Poppy

Last November, six and a half million poppies bloomed in Canada. Dotting the lapels of almost one-third of Canada's population, the symbol of Remembrance made its 38th appearance in this country.

Although everybody knows what the poppy means, nobody is certain of how it all began, of how the poppy became so closely associated with remembrance of the war dead.

The association was certainly not new when the poppy was adopted in Canada in 1921. At least a hundred and ten years before that time a correspondent wrote of how thickly poppies grew over the graves of the dead. He was speaking of the Napoleonic War and its campaigns in Flanders.

But a Canadian medical officer was chiefly responsible for this association, more so than any other single known factor.

John McCrae was a tall, [illegible] 43-year-old member of the Canadian Medical Corps from Guelph, Ontario. An artillery veteran of the Boer War he had the eye of a gunner, the hand of a surgeon, and the soul of a poet when he went into the line at Ypres on April 22, 1915.

This was the afternoon the enemy first used poison gas.

The first attack failed. So did the next and the next. For 17 days and nights the allies repulsed wave after wave of attackers.

During this period McCrae wrote: "One can see the dead lying there on the front field. And in places where the enemy threw in an attack, they lie very thick on the slopes of the German trenches."

Working from a dressing station on the bank of the Yser Canal, Lt Col. McCrae dressed hundreds of wounded, never taking his clothes off for the entire 17 days. Sometimes the dead or wounded actually rolled down the bank from above into his dugout. Sometimes, while awaiting the arrival of batches of wounded, he would watch the men at work in the burial plots which were quickly filling up.

Then McCrae and his unit were relieved. "We are weary in body and wearier in mind. The general impression in my mind is one of a nightmare," he wrote.

But McCrae came out of Ypres with 13 lines scrawled on a scrap of paper. The lines were a poem which started "In Flanders fields the poppies blow . . ."

These were the lines which are enshrined in the hearts of all soldiers who heard them in their innermost thoughts. McCrae was their voice. The poem circulated as a folk song circulates, by living word of mouth. Men learned it with their hearts.

In the United States, the poem inspired the American Legion to adopt the poppy as the symbol of Remembrance.

In Canada, the poppy was officially adopted by the Great War Veterans Association in 1921 on the suggestion of a Mrs. E. Guerin of France. But there is little doubt that the impact of McCrae's poem influenced this decision.

The poem speaks of Flanders fields. But the subject is universal: the fear of the dead that they will be forgotten, that their death will have been in vain.

The spirit of true Remembrance, as symbolized by the poppy, must be our eternal answer which belies these fears.

Good Work of Canadian Red Cross Reaches Into Many Lands

"Help thy brother's boat across and lo!
Thine own has reached the shore."
—Hindu Proverb

Students in 35 Korean high schools now have the benefit of learning in chemistry, physics and other sciences because [illegible] have been provided for them by members of the Canadian Junior Red Cross.

Young people in Ecuador are learning to sew and print on machines supplied by the Junior Red Cross members in Canada.

A young Polish lad, who lost both legs in a train accident, is walking again — on artificial limbs provided by the Canadian members of the world's largest youth organization.

Through these and other accepted humanitarian projects the Canadian Junior Red Cross has demonstrated down through the years that it does care for the less fortunate of disaster or war and, in caring, it does something about it through its fund for international help and understanding.

This week, Nov 1 to 7 is Junior Red Cross Week in Canada. The Standard is proud of the 1,300,000 Canadian members who have done so much to help the less fortunate young people of other lands to help themselves — be it through sewing machines or printing presses — the Junior Red Cross also helps them to gain some measure of self-respect.

We commend the genesis of thought behind this kind of help for a continued limitation of assistance to "handouts" in the form of food, medicines and [illegible] are surely needed and surely provided at the time of disaster and beyond — can produce beggars out of people and nations.

Much more is needed. People, and most particularly the less fortunate people, must also have [illegible] things to occupy their thoughts and hands. The Canadian Junior Red Cross realizes well that "man does not live by bread alone."

Here in Alberta, 65,000 young people in elementary and high schools are members of the Canadian Junior Red Cross. They deserve and warrant our encouragement and support in their broad program to bring together the young people of the world in bonds of understanding and friendliness.

SORGHUM ALMUM TESTED

There was considerable interest in Alberta last spring in the forage grass, sorghum almum. This forage grass is believed to be a natural hybrid originating in Argentina and it has been used with some success in more southerly regions. There was doubt as to its suitability under our conditions, and farmers were cautioned accordingly. During the past year trials have been conducted at the Lacombe Experimental farm.

In a comparative hay test sorghum almum yielded only 0.74 tons of dry matter per acre. Oats yielded 2.74 tons, millet 2.66 tons and corn 1.77 tons. Brome grass from first year seeding yielded 0.99 tons per acre.

In this test, sorghum almum, oats, millet and corn were all seeded on May 15. The sorghum almum seedlings emerged two weeks later but growth was extremely slow until mid July. The stand was fairly dense composed of fine-stemmed plants with numerous leaves but when the first killing frost came on Sept. 6, the plants were not headed out and were only 18 inches high, whereas, by this time the corn was 40 inches high and both the oats and millet were 36 inches high. All were severely injured by frost.

Agronomist L. J. Anderson says claims made for sorghum almum were out of line with its potential for central Alberta. Since sorghum almum is considered a perennial it will be left over winter so that its degree of hardiness under our conditions may be determined.

CROSSBREEDING CATTLE

During the past few years there has been a trend toward more size in beef cattle. Accompanying this has been more widespread use of crossbreeding in commercial cattle production. There is no objection to crossbreeding cattle and, well applied, it can produce feeder cattle with good growth for age and with ability to put on good gain in the feedlot, says W. C. Gordon, Live Stock Supervisor, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

There is some concern that commercial cattlemen are beginning to neglect the fact that best results from crossbreeding are obtained where a pure bred sire of one breed and of good quality is mated to females of reasonably pure lineage of another breed.

A crossbred bull out of a cow of mixed ancestry and a pure bred sire is not going to express the hybrid vigor in his calves that he shows himself. Further more the uniformity of [illegible] conformation evident in [illegible] cross is going to break down (segregation takes place), giving a variation in size, conformation and color that is not desirable. In the past it has been the surest and quickest way to mongrelize a herd.

FARM MANAGEMENT

In farm and home planning, the family is the unit around which the decision making revolves. Agree? Disagree? Uncertain? The answer will appear in this column in the Standard next week.

WATCH FOR RATS

It was indicated that an increased number of rats took summer harborage in the fields and are now looking for winter quarters. If farmers are forced to leave grain unthreshed, more widespread infestations may be expected. One should take extra special precautions to inspect and bait possible rat harborage. Poison supplies are available, free of charge.

"ALBERTA FARM GUIDE"

It is here at last, the bulletin we've all been waiting for. This guide has been published to coordinate and consolidate a wealth of information for the use of farmers. It provides a brief reference on a wide range of topics, furthermore it is free for the asking from the D.A. office.

The Alberta Livery barn was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday night last. Hugh McIntosh, the night man, was asleep upstairs and had to jump into a blanket below to escape the flames. This makes the third Alberta livery to fall prey to flames and five livery barns in all in Vermilion to be burned.

Public school enrolment was 261 with 55 students attending high school.

A new special fire escape has been ordered for the public school.

The school board has engaged architects to draft plans for the proposed new high school.

Odorless Torontonians

Paris subway commuters now ride in an atmosphere of carnations and provence. A perfume spray mollifies the smell of garlic people and wet raincoats. Canada's only subway, in Toronto, says The Financial Post, won't be scented. Torontonians don't smell, say its operators.

U. S. Power Commission Approves Importation of Alberta Gas

TORONTO. — "We are extremely gratified by the decision of the Federal Power Commission approving the importing of Canadian natural gas into the United States at Emerson, Man. We still, of course, have to obtain permits from the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board and the National Energy Board and certain conditions in the Federal Power Commission approval must be acceptable to the Midwestern Gas Transmission Company", said James W. Kerr, president of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Limited.

Trans-Canada filed its application for a gas export permit last April with the Minister of Trade and Commerce in Ottawa and expects this application to go before the National Energy Board within the next few weeks. Application also has been made to the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board for additional gas requirements.

With the granting of the Canadian export licence, Mr. Kerr declared, Trans-Canada will build a 50-mile lateral of 30-inch diameter pipe from its main line near Winnipeg to Emerson, on the international border, and several additional compressor stations to help move the gas. Total cost of this work will be approximately $32,000,000 and more than 1200 men will be employed.

"We hope to be able to begin construction as soon as weather permits in the spring of 1960", Mr Kerr added.

"Our natural gas export program, which under the provision of our National Energy Board act must be surplus to reasonably foreseeable requirements for use in Canada, will benefit Canadians in many ways", Mr. Kerr declared.

"Export of Canadian gas at Emerson will be at a high load factor all year and thus the facilities of Trans-Canada will be more fully utilized, improving the over-all efficiency of our service to our Canadian customers. Production companies in the west will be assured of increased markets for the gas they have discovered; development of proven natural gas reserves will be stimulated and the search for further reserves will be stepped up. Our own policy is to encourage Canadian manufacturers and suppliers to provide our requirements and an export project will give added importance to that policy", said Mr. Kerr.

Increased activity will follow in associated industries, which will be felt all across Canada and this large volume sale to the U. S. also will be an important factor in strengthening Canada's balance of trade outlook.

Mannville C.G.I.T. Plans Handicraft

MANNVILLE — Meeting at the home of their leader, the G. A. group opened their afternoon session with a short worship service. All members were present on Tuesday, October 27, as dorcas study for that badge continued. This being a handicraft meeting work was started on bazaar project for December. Pledge, affiliation money and contribution towards missionary support have been sent to the provincial diocesan leader, Mrs. J. A. L. Smith, Edmonton, and study kit has been ordered. After adjournment of the meeting girls were given, as their game, paper plates, crepe paper, paper cake cups, pins and scotch tape, with which to create an attractive hat. Fifteen minutes later there were some very appealing creations.

Erva Sweet and Robert Turner Married in Islay Ceremony

Knox United church, Islay, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Helen Erva, daughter of Dr and Mrs. A. H. Sweet, became the daughter of Mr Robert John Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Turner of Ponoka.

The altar was decorated with baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums complemented with white shasta daisies.

Rev. J. Shortt, minister of Kitscoty Pastoral Charge, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride appeared in a traditional white floor-length gown of silk organza over satin and net featuring a garland of guipure lace medallions centered with brilliants at the neckline. The princess line bodice and the bouffant skirt were designed with wide folds and bow-knot trim. The slender sleeves tapered to lily point at the wrist. A coronet of pearls and iridescent sequins held the bride's veil of French illusion net trimmed with lace applique and iridescent sequins in place.

She carried a cascade bouquet of American beauty roses, stephanotis and fern. Her only jewelry was a tear-drop ruby pendant and earrings, gift of the groom.

Miss Elaine Sweet was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Gail Stanton bridesmaid. They were identical cocktail-length gowns of India blue silk organza over taffeta styled with full skirts and [illegible]. The bodices of their dresses featured [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] A reception for one hundred twenty-two guests was held in the Islay Community Hall.

Miss Sharon Stanton of Edmonton was in charge of the guest book.

Rev. Shortt was master of ceremonies and Mr James Allen proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded.

The bride's table was laid with a crocheted lace cloth, centred by a three-tiered wedding cake. The cake was made by the bride's mother, assisted by Mrs. Hutton. It was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Ulva McFayden. A heart shaped ornament containing three pink roses adorned the top of the cake.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother chose a wool crepe suit in aqua blue complemented with a velvet hat of dusky rose with matching gloves. Her corsage was of roses, stephanotis and fern.

The groom's mother wore a wool crepe suit in teal blue and a feather hat of matching shade. Her corsage was also of roses, stephanotis and fern tied with a silver ribbon.

For her wedding trip to the United States, the bride donned a teal blue suit, coral hat and gloves, with brown accessories. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

On their return, the happy couple will reside at Ponoka, Alberta.

Out-of-town guests were Mr and Mrs J. Turner, Mr and Mrs Leroy Jones, Mr and Mrs Melvin Jones, Mr Gary Turner, Mr George Archibald, Mrs. Gadd, Peter Jones, Mr and Mrs Lorne Pritchard, Mrs McMillar and Mr David Bartley, all of Ponoka; Mr J. Alberta Woman Is National Mother

When she places a wreath at the National War Memorial on November 11th, a 65-year-old mother from Craigmyle, Alberta, will bear the sorrow and the pride of all Canadian mothers who lost sons in war.

Mrs. W. B. Anderson, whose three sons were killed in the R.C.A.F., has been chosen to represent Canadian motherhood at the National Remembrance Day ceremony. Along with the Governor-General, the Prime Minister and the Legion's Dominion President, she will place one of the four official wreaths.

All of her sons were aircrew members of the R.C.A.F. Flight Sergeant James Sangster Anderson, an air-bomber, was killed in a plane crash in England in October, 1942. Three months later his brother, Flying Officer William Boyd Anderson, pilot, went missing on an operation over Germany. He has no known grave. Flight Sergeant Floyd George Anderson was an air gunner who also died over Germany. He is buried at Rheinberg.

This is the fifth year that the Canadian Legion has selected a Silver Cross Mother from outside the Ottawa district. Other mothers have been selected from Vibank, Saskatchewan, Chatham, Ontario; Truro, Nova Scotia and Cardston, Ontario. All have lost three sons and all sons were aircrew, part of the 17,101 Canadians who were killed in the R C A F.

NEWS from ISLAY

The W.A. met early this week, Monday, Nov. 2, and made final arrangements for the wedding of Miss Marion McFadyen and also completed plans for the bazaar on Dec. 4 in the afternoon in the church hall. At the tea tables pie, sandwiches, tea or coffee will be served.

Pleasant Valley

The weather is quite unsettled again making the grain very damp.

We were indeed sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Cambridge and deepest sympathy is extended to the family.

Mrs. Gillies spent the week end at the writer's home and on Sunday night Mrs. Cummings and Miss Mallow were supper guests.

News is certainly scarce these days, everybody trying to get some feed put up for the stock. Some are baling while others are cutting one way with the binder.

We were very glad people took advantage of the small potatoes we had left in the garden and dug them up before they got frozen too badly.

It was nice to hear you on the phone Mrs. Moore. We know how bad the roads are back there, but keep smiling.

On Tuesday night a number gathered at Betty Gould's home for supper to celebrate little Stanley's birthday. He had a cake with five candles lit up.

Thursday night we enjoyed a lovely chicken supper and concert at Kitscoty. It was a wonderful evening much appreciated by everyone. We noticed some folks from Vermilion and Islay.

On Sunday Jean, Keith and family were visitors down on the farm.

We noticed in the Standard that Mrs Fraser enjoyed a very happy birthday party.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Risdale was taken ill and hope to hear good news of her soon.

The W.A. members are preparing to pack parcels for overseas for the very needy. Donations do not need to be worn apparel only new goods will be gladly accepted, as there are those who have only scant rags to wear. Soap, combs, wash cloths, towels, tooth brushes are also needed. Just drop them inside the church, they will be taken care of.

Hi Walt, said a voice on the phone, come down to the C.N. track with your camera, looks like a deer jumping along the right of way! Some think it was a billy goat belonging to Mr. Leach.

Mrs. Norah Carey has accepted an office position in the Galahad hospital.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Turner (nee Erva Sweet) returned to Islay and spent a week end at her parents' home, Dr and Mrs Sweet, after holidaying in the southern U.S. They then went on to their new home at Ponoka.

Some real cute little Hallowe'eners were seen, but cutest was a wee one who called shell out, and on opening the door and bidding her enter, she scraped and scraped her tiny shoes on the mat before coming in, then very politely said thank you for the treat, before going out. Little one was named "Cathie".

U.F.A. CO-OP. PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES $700.00 IN PRIZES FOR F.U.A. DISTRICTS

Mr. George E. Church, President of U.F.A. Co-op has announced details of the U.F.A. Co-op cash awards for Farmers' Union membership week — November 9 - 14. $700.00 in prizes will be shared by the four F.U.A. Districts which show the largest percentage sign-up of farmers in the District.

For example a District with 6,000 resident farmers might sign up 3,000 of them as F.U.A. members. This would be 50%. Another District with 4,000 farmers might sign up 3,000 of them for 75%. The four Districts with highest percentages share in the cash awards. Prize money will be presented at the F.U.A. Annual Convention in December. District which win may use the prize money for any purpose they choose.

In announcing the cash prize program, Mr. Church said he felt it was vital to the welfare of Alberta farmers that an enthusiastic sign-up be made when canvassers call during the week. He expressed optimism that the farmers of Alberta would rally to the support of their Union. Mr. Church urged all farmers, particularly members of the U.F.A. Co-op to take an active part in F.U.A. Week.

In concluding his announcement Mr. Church said "Join the Farmers Union. Get your neighbors to join. Volunteer as a canvasser. Make your District a winner."

"...wherever you go"

One of the happy things about owning a Volkswagen is that wherever you go, efficient service is always close at hand. To serve you, as a Volkswagen owner, Volkswagen maintains a network of 280 authorized service-centres from the Atlantic to the Pacific . . . a dealer-service organization which is backed by a central [illegible]-million dollar Spare Parts Depot.

A Factory-Training School at Toronto as well as Mobile Schools in the various provinces, assure the consistently high standard for which Volkswagen mechanics have become known.

And when you think of it, isn't this the kind of service you would naturally expect from the company that was recently awarded the coveted Sperry Award "for advancing the art of transportation."

After all, it was Volkswagen that first mass-produced a car with the engine in the rear . . . air cooling . . . torsion bars front and rear for independent suspension.

The basic design has been maintained over the years and so has the superb workmanship . . . just two good reasons why Volkswagen enjoys such a high resale value.

"Service wherever you go" . . . go your way with peace of mind in a Volkswagen.

WASH AND WEAR FABRICS

There is a difference between "wash and wear" and automatic "wash and wear." The former should be washed by hand, or, if a machine is used, removed before the final spin-drying cycle. If the "automatic" tag is added, it means that the garment can be put through the full cycle of a modern automatic washer and dryer at a temperature of around 150 degrees.

DRIP-DRY FABRICS

If a garment is labled "drip-dry" it means just that. It should be washed by hand and hung up dripping wet. When it dries, it should require little or no ironing. If you have smoothed the seams and collar with your fingers while it is still wet.

KNOW THE FABRIC

Clothes which can be washed by machine and worn without ironing should have a high percentage of either dacron, orlon, nylon or of the other new synthetics. A safe percentage is 65 percent dacron, orlon or other synthetic with 35 percent natural fibre such as cotton.

Good insurance is to buy a garment made by a reliable manufacturer.

TRIM

Fabric alone does not make a garment wash and wear. For example, a woman's dress or suit might be from a fabric which has wash and wear characteristics, yet the trim, pockets or shoulder pads might be made from fabrics which do not have wash and wear characteristics.

DETAILS TO LOOK FOR IN WASH AND WEAR FABRICS

Seams should be sewn securely with mercerized cotton, nylon or dacron thread. Be sure there is no puckering as it won't iron out. Flat seams should be loosely over cast in fabrics that fray readily. In jackets, there should be a minimum of lining. When used, it should be a synthetic fabric and stitched under to prevent fraying. Hems should have evenly distributed fullness.

Build Your Own

Do it yourself has gone pretty far, thinks The Financial Post, which reports that now you can buy a kit to build your own solar furnace. Cost: under $3000. Or you can get a kit to make an organ, and at a saving of more than 50%, the maker claims.

"All in a day's work" would be plenty of work on the moon. A day there last about two weeks, or 336 hours, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

In spite of still adverse weather conditions, the farmers are still trying to get a little grain combined and to put up some much-needed feed. This ought to be a harvest season for the books!

Since the last Buffalo Coulee news report, another old timer of the community, Mr. Wm. Elward passed away in the Vermilion hospital after a short illness. Though of a quiet and retiring nature, Mr. Elward was keenly interested in all that was going on and was quite active until entering hospital. The sincere sympathy of their many friends is extended to Mrs. Elward and Jerrold. Funeral services conducted by Rev. C. W. MacKay of Vermilion were held in the Auburndale church with interment in the Mount Auburn cemetery.

The C. G. I. T. are again organized for the coming season. Helen Phassey is the new president, Katherine Barlow is vice-president and Alayne Stone, the secretary-treasurer. A short introduction was taken up last meeting on the study of Africa. This should prove very timely and interesting.

Last Friday night a farewell party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Alf Green who are leaving to make their home in Edmonton. The large crowd in attendance showed the high esteem in which this couple has been held in the community. After an evening of games and dancing, Alf and Agnes were asked to come up on the stage where Mr. Brenton Macnab, on behalf of their many friends, extended [illegible] wishes for their future and presented them with a step-up end table and a table lamp. Both Alf and Agnes very graciously thanked everyone for the party and gifts. We were sorry that their daughters, Barbara and Clara, who are [illegible] in the city were unable to be present. While all regret the departure of the Green family from our midst, they will be close enough to come back for visits and will always have a welcome for their friends when they are in Edmonton. They left on Sunday and will be back in the spring to hold their sale of machinery.

APPRECIATION

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Green wish to sincerely thank their friends for the enjoyable party and presentations tendered to them at Buffalo Coulee school.

The junior rooms of the school held a Hallowe'en party on Friday afternoon with lots of fun and plenty of treats.

On Hallowe'en night the older boys and girls were out having fun with no serious damage being reported.

The Willowby group of the W. A. held their meeting a week earlier this month at the home of Mary Arthur in order to have Agnes Green in attendance. Following the meeting Agnes was presented with a lovely cup and saucer and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

[illegible] companions of the Vancouver Canucks enjoyed a little duck shooting at home before the game in Edmonton against the Flyers. The Macnab family then went up to the city for the game. [illegible] now left for Vancouver for the [illegible]

[illegible] at the Vermilion Agricultural College.

Service will be held at the Auburndale church again next Sunday, November 8 at 3 p.m. conducted by Rev. C. W. Mackay of Vermilion.

Farm Forums got underway again on Monday night with Auburndale meeting at Lloyd Everett's and Edenvale at Buddy Olsen's.

Letters to the Editor

NO CARS . . . BUT HAPPY

Dewberry, Alta.,
October 30, 1959.

The Editor
Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

Was very interested in an article in your issue of Oct. 29, by Joan Lugg, especially in the last paragraph.

It could be true of the Saddle Lake reserve but certainly isn't of the two or three reserves that I know most about.

In the spring of '43 I had an all-Indian threshing crew and since '47 I have had Indian stookers and threshing crews nearly every year (and I must say they are usually good workers).

This fall I had six different Indian men working for me. Of the six, one had two or three horses, the rest had no livestock of any kind, and no cars of any kind. I was at perhaps a dozen different houses. I didn't see any buggies, cars that would run, or cattle, chickens or pigs, except at one place there were a few chickens. I would say about half have two or three horses, and one in ten has a car, one in forty have cattle.

They seem happy just the same.

Yours sincerely,
H. B. Craige

Matched Deer Horns A Rarity

MANNVILLE — According to word received here the perfectly matched deer horns found by Leslie Torrance (it was previously reported) are indeed rare, according to Charlie Meece who is a hunter of great renown in the Mannville area. Deers rarely shed both horns at the same time, and do so in February. While horns may look alike, very few are as perfectly matched as the ones now in possession of the Torrance brothers. The boys intend to have them cleaned, shellacked and mounted.

Board of Trade Shows Wide Diversity of Interests at Meetings

The Vermilion Board of Trade continues to show a wide diversity of interests and activity at the regular weekly luncheon meetings held every Wednesday noon. In order to catch up, a resume of the past several meetings follows.

Dr King presented a detailed written report of the summer promotion of the Vermilion provincial park. It was generally agreed by the members that this summer's park activities were by far the best of any year to date. It was the concensus of opinion that the publicity in this connection was also excellent. Dr. King suggested that the park should also be publicized in all tourist and publicity publications and suggested that the Provincial Department dealing with tourist information should be contacted very early in the year as this department prints folders, cards, streamers, and distributes same providing Vermilion supplies the information.

Mr. Cooper reported in connection with the park that two cabinet ministers, the Hon. Alfred Hooke and the Hon. Norman Willmore had visited the park at different times and were very impressed with the fine appearance, the facilities and the large crowds present each time.

DISCUSS DAIRY PROSPECTS IN EDMONTON

Mr. R. Renaud, who attended in Edmonton as the representative of the Board to interview the management of the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool regarding the Vermilion business of the pool, reported on his interview with Mr. Art Potter manager of the company in Edmonton. Mr. Potter assured him that the company was going ahead with a homogenized milk plant in connection with their creamery here. Mr. Renaud stated that he had invited Mr. Potter to come to one of the Board of Trade meetings to give an address and Mr. Potter would be glad of the opportunity. The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Potter and invite him to attend a specific meeting.

BRING NEW MEMBER

In order to interest the many new business men in the Board, each member was asked to endeavor to bring a new member or a non-attending member to the luncheon meetings.

Mr. Graham Skinner suggested that something be done to restrict Hallowe'en activities resulting in damage, and in this connection thought that the existing curfew bylaw should be enforced.

WELL ATTENDED CIVIC MEETING

At the Oct. 14th meeting Mr. F. Scherman reported a very well attended civic meeting addressed by the candidates for council. This was arranged by the civic committee of the Board and apparently met a need as the electors attended to the number of 55.

PLAN XMAS PROMOTION

Roger Rowe, chairman of the retail committee, recommended that the Board sponsor a Christmas promotion to the effect that youngsters 12 and under be given a free show in the theatre on the afternoon of December 5th, two shows during the afternoon and that each child under 12 be given a chocolate bar.

EVAPORATED MILK PLANT

Mr. McCormick reported that to date 87 persons had answered the questionnaire sent out by the Board re evaporated milk. The number of dairy cows in the [illegible] a 20% increase in the past three years.

Mr. Morley Douglas, D. A., volunteered to write to the Dairy commissioner of the province to endeavor to obtain figures on the necessary milk production required for the establishment of a milk evaporation plant.

RAILWAY CROSSING SIGNS NEEDED

It was thought that signs at the railway crossing were desirable and the C. N. R. officials are to be approached in this matter.

E. A. Lorke, D. R. Mitchell and A. H. Cooper attended the fall banquet of the Kitscoty chamber and reported a very interesting and well arranged event.

STREET LIGHTING

Graham Skinner introduced the matter of lighter streets in the residential sections of the town, as they were in marked contrast with the very well illuminated business area. Mayor Hill who was present stated that a gradual extension of the new lights will be made each year, as it was an expensive undertaking.

NEW CITIZENS INTRODUCED

At the meeting held last Wednesday, October 28th, two men who have become new citizens of Canada, Mr. Nick Zaborowski and Mr. Mike Warawa were introduced by Mr. G. W. Sutherland, and welcomed by the president.

A report on the excellent welcome to the new transcontinental train was made.

TOWN & COUNTRY BANQUET

Arrangements have been made to hold the annual town and country banquet on November 20th with Judge L. Y. Cairns as the guest speaker.

Car Smashed In Hallowe'en "Fun"

MANNVILLE — Hallowe'en was observed at Mannville with the usual shelled program, over 100 calling at some homes. When one neighbor handed out bags to two small folks, they seemed loath to leave [illegible] remarked pointedly, "[illegible] you, that's all", whereupon they replied promptly, "You're welcome!" to his great [illegible]

Other situations were not so funny. The Anglican church light globes from the porch were found on Torrance's lawn and entry had been attempted to the bell tower, with muddy tracks [illegible] left inside the entrance. [illegible] the would-be prankster who moved a car from Proudfoot and Coxford's garage into the main line of traffic must have no coltscience, as the said car had the side bashed in by another vehicle. This is fun?

Worked on First Railway Here

One of the early pioneers of this part of Alberta, Edgar Ernest Hallam, was found dead in his home at Ranfurly by one of the neighbors. He had apparently passed away very suddenly on Oct. 27. Funeral services were conducted on Oct. 30.

The late Mr. Hallam, aged 84 years, had first come to Canada from Burton-on-Trent, England, in 1904. In the early days he helped to put in the grade for the railway at Vermilion. Later he took up a homestead near Ranfurly where he lived until he sold the farm early this year and moved to the home of a neighbor. In October he moved into the village of Ranfurly, and it was at his home there that he so suddenly passed away.

Vermilion River Council Deals With Many Matters in Busy Two-day Session

At a meeting held Oct. 14 and 15, the council of the M. D. of Vermilion River No. 71, after passing the minutes of the previous meeting, the financial statement for September and approving the finance committee's accounts, dealt in the first place with the municipal inspector's report covering his inspection of the affairs and accounts of the municipality up to the end of August, 1959. This report covers the inspection of all the affairs of the municipality and is conducted annually by a Department of Municipal Affairs inspector. It is mandatory that this report which is sent to the reeve of the M.D. be dealt with at the next council meeting after its reception and read aloud at the annual ratepayer's meeting held in the early part of each year. This report was officially received by the council of the Municipal District of Vermilion River and the reeve signed an undertaking to supervise its presentation to the ratepayers at the next annual meeting.

CHANGES IN MUNICIPAL ROAD STATUS

Correspondence was received from the Department of Highways dealing with the change of status of certain municipal roads which were raised to district highway classification and the cancellation of certain roads which had reverted from district highway classification to a local road classification. In connection with roads throughout the municipality it had been brought to the attention of the council that farm buildings were still being constructed in the municipality in locations which were considerably removed from high-graded gravelled roads and it was anticipated by the council that this could lead to difficulties in the future in servicing these farm homes with school buses. Instructions were given to have some type of publicity prepared concerning this matter for consideration at some future council meeting. The Department of Highways advised the municipality that they are taking over the maintenance of access roads from highways 16 and 45 into the hamlets and villages along their course. The council expressed appreciation of this action by the Department of Highways.

The Department of Municipal Affairs forwarded correspondence to the municipality concerning municipal winter works incentive program and instructions were given to procure forms for which application could be made for grant in the assistance of certain work which may be undertaken by the municipality during the coming winter.

Approval of the establishment for good. It may be that is a on road allowances. The latter little ways off yet as a robin was seen a few days ago at Inver Belsheim's and several recently new bluebirds. of the following improvements were given by the council at the meeting: A building on Parcel 'K' being part of Parcel 'G', plan 3732 by Dr. G. K. Weir to be used as an animal clinic, to the making of an addition to the dwelling situated on Lot 2, Blk. 4 Plan 4288HW by Wm. Kutay, to establishment of a dwelling on part NE 33-49-1 by Donald Fifield, to the establishment of a dwelling on part SE 26-49-1 by John MacKay, to establishment of a dwelling on part NE 22-50-3 by W. R. Stark, to establishment of pumps comprising a retail gas outlet on Lot 9, Plan 4242HW by J. A. Block.

FARM PURCHASE BOARD

The activities of the Vermilion River Farm Purchase Board were reviewed and the matter of making the municipal secretary's services available to the Farm Purchase board were considered briefly by the council. It was decided that if suitable arrangements could be made the council had no objection to the municipal secretary acting as secretary of the board. The resources of the municipality so far as office facilities were concerned would be put at the disposal of the board.

A committee comprised of Crs. Wheat and McGuigan, Road Supt. Conarroe and Road Foreman Bootsman was appointed to examine the site west of Sec. 6-34-3 with a view to determining the advisability of installing a large culvert at that location this fall.

TELEPHONE LINES ON ROAD ALLOWANCES

A letter containing useful and interesting information was received from the chief engineer's office of the Alberta Government Telephones concerning the position of rural telephone lines contained the information that each rural telephone company has the right, subject to regulations, to enter upon any highway, road, street or land within the rural telephone area of the company, to erect and maintain pole lines along and over the same. The position of the line with reference to property line may be at two feet from the property line for side-block line and at five feet from the property line if a 10-foot crossarm is used and if the crossarm is fitted. The information was also given that no provision is made in the Act for wires overhanging private property although this occurrence is provided for in the Telephone Act pertaining to lines of the A.G.T.

R.E.A.L. EXTENSION AT CLAYSMORE

Approval was given to the extension of the Claysmore R.E.A.L. and to the provision of water services to the hamlet of Blackfoot under the auspices of the Blackfoot Water Co-operative.

DISCUSS MINUTES OF A.S.B. MEETING

The minutes of the Agricultural Service Board meeting of Oct. 8, were made available to the Council and instructions were given to forward an endorsation of the representation which was made to the minister of agriculture for the province of Alberta and the minister of agriculture of the Dominion of Canada by the Agricultural Service Board concerning an appraisal on the agricultural situation in this area as a result of the extreme weather conditions which have been experienced here during the past two months. The dividing of the territory of the municipal district for the purpose of Bangs' vaccination was considered by council and instructions were given to prepare the necessary contracts for signatures of veterinarians and it was urged that the preparation of these documents and their signing should be accomplished at the very earliest opportunity so that work could commence along this line in the very near future.

RESOLUTION RE WILDLIFE DAMAGE TO CROPS

It was instructed that the following resolution be forwarded to the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts for inclusion in the agenda of the 1959 convention:

"Whereas damage to crops by wildfowl has caused the agricultural industry an increasingly large financial loss, and

Whereas interest has been expressed by the farmers in having an adequate type of insurance against such loss made available.

Therefore be it resolved the Alberta Provincial Government investigate the feasibility of making available to those engaged in farming insurance coverage for loss suffered by wild life damage on a basis similar to that provided by the Alberta Hail Insurance Board."

The gas inspector's report and the road superintendent's report covering their activities for the month of September, were made available to the council and passed by them.

USE OF TEXAS GATES

The matter of the use of Texas gates on road allowances was discussed by the council and certain correspondence was made available to them. It was noted that these gates of approved manufacture cost some $230 to $340 each which does not include the cost of mounting of these gates on treated timber sub-bases. It was established also that Texas Gates could be installed on public roads as the department of highways permits such installations. It was pointed out that property owners must approve such installations as their cattle are involved in the [illegible] and it was noted that the installations must be properly maintained and kept cleaned out, otherwise their function would deteriorate and that any Texas Gate installation must also have a wire gate adjoining for the use of extremely heavy or extra width vehicles or equipment or for moving stock. Instructions were given to file the correspondence for use by any one who is interested in installing such gates.

REVIEW ROAD CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Mr Bootsman and Mr Conarroe attended the council meeting and a review of the road construction program to date took place. It was found that the program was running considerably behind schedule because of the very poor weather which had been encountered during the past two months. In fact the construction program was so far behind schedule that serious consideration was given to winding up the affairs insofar as construction was concerned this year and transferring grants to gravelling projects. It was given as information that the Department of Highways would agree to such transfers being made in view of the fact that condition of the ground would not likely permit any further construction this year, however it was decided that the matter could be held in abeyance for a short time to see if any marked improvement would take place in the weather and in the meantime it was decided to contact the bridge branch re installation of a culvert at File No. 7725 north of Hazeldine, considering the fact that this location was very sandy and that some work could be done at that spot.

WELFARE ASSISTANCE

Various public welfare assistance cases were reviewed by the council and information was supplied to them as requested. One case in particular drew attention of council as it consisted mainly of attempted rehabilitation. The council is particularly interested in this form of welfare assistance.

The budget of the Tulliby Lake municipal nursing service was considered by the council and as information was not complete at the date of the meeting it was decided to set aside the approval of the budget until the November council meeting.

Bride-Elect Feted

Complimenting Miss Marion Fedoruk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund McFadyen of Islay, whose marriage to Mr Clarence Flood is an event of November 7, Mrs. L. A. Cynowe entertained at her Edmonton home. The hostess was assisted by Miss Doris Benger.

TULLIBY LAKE

It was shocking to learn that Mr and Mrs. Erwin Pynton of Edmonton had both passed away within a period of six weeks. The district's condolences are extended to their many friends and relations in their bereavement. The two boys are now making their home with Mr and Mrs. Willard Larson at Marwayne.

Mrs. Mollie Dobrowo and Juvenile, Mrs. Ray Morris and George and Mr and Mrs. Ray [illegible] all attended the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses which was recently held in the Canadian Legion hall at Lloydminster.

Condolences are extended to Mrs. Ruth Ferris and Leslie and Bill Newcomb who were informed by a long distance telephone call that their 89-year-old mother had passed away down at Comstock, Nebraska.

Arthur Fortin and family have now settled down in their house recently moved here from the Greenvale district.

Stanley Parks injured his foot in a fall and was taken to the municipal nurse who advised that X rays be taken by a doctor.

Mrs. Mollie Dobrowo learned recently that her oldest brother Richard has moved to an old folks' home near Moorehead, Minn.

Everyone is certainly taking advantage of the sunny, dry weather to accomplish some threshing before winter sets in.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Provincial Government Puts End To Trading Stamp Gimmicks

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — A host of department and food store merchandising gimmicks may disappear if the provincial government goes ahead with regulations now under consideration.

The proposed regulations are aimed mainly at putting an end to the trading stamp scheme introduced into Alberta by one food chain, but in the process a number of other giveaway dodges may be eliminated.

That was the word late last week as the government continued to keep an eye on court action brought in other provinces against the "Lucky Green Stamp" offer of Loblaw Groceteria Co. Ltd.

At the same time, though, there was word from Justice Minister Fulton in Ottawa that the federal government plans no special action against trading stamps. He made it clear that if the provinces want to do away with the stamps, they'll have to take their own action.

The Alberta cabinet has been considering action for several weeks, and personnel of the industry and development department are at work preparing a draft of the proposed regulations.

Details of the proposed regulations are anyone's guess, but it is understood they will attack not only the trading stamp scheme but a number of other attractions used by food and department stores to attract customers.

The government is reported to have made this clear to representatives of Alberta merchants, and according to one spokesman, the merchants say they'll be happy to see government intervention to rid them of the fierce competition for the customer's shopping dollar.

Government ministers want all the public support they can get before they step in with arbitrary controls in merchandising and that is one of the reasons nothing has been done.

The wheels may turn faster after Monday of this week when officials of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce held their annual meeting with the cabinet. The chamber, representing 130 local chambers and boards, is opposed to trading stamps.

Now that it has the support of the chamber, which represents the majority of Alberta businessmen, the government may waste no time in going ahead. Certainly it's clear the cabinet is dead against the trading stamp idea.

ATOMIC BLAST OFF AGAIN—ON AGAIN

It looks like the off-again-on-again plan to touch off an atomic bomb underneath the Athabaska oil sands is on again.

Last month, with a warm-up in the cold war and talk of banning nuclear tests, it appeared the experiment would have to be dropped. Now word comes from the U. S. that Russia is changing its attitude toward nuclear blasts used for peaceful experiments.

There won't be anything definite until the question is tackled at test-ban talks in Geneva and even then the blast would be delayed. It had been scheduled for the coming winter. In the meantime preparations will continue at the site 173 miles northeast of Edmonton.

HOMES FOR THE AGED

Contracts were awarded last week for another 14 homes for the aged, bringing to 32 the number awarded so far in the first phase for the government's five year development program. The contracts are worth more than $2,500,000 and cover construction of homes at Fort Macleod, Pincher Creek, Edson, Medicine Hat, Raymond, Brooks, St Paul, Olds, Mayerthorpe, Lacombe, Vermilion, High Prairie and Stettler.

REFUND ON GAS & OIL ROYALTY DIVIDENDS

You'll be getting a cheque from the federal government soon — if you're among those who remembered to declare 1957 and 1958 oil and gas royalty dividends on your income tax return. The income tax branch last week confirmed reports that refunds will be made automatically. It won't be necessary to apply in writing.

The action follows an income tax appeal board ruling that the dividends — $20 in 1957 and $17.50 in 1958 — are not taxable. For employees of the income tax branch it means plowing through thousands of tax returns filed by Albertans. Dividends went to some 500,000 Albertans in each of the two years.

Assist. Leader Speaks To J. A.'s

MANNVILLE — Meeting on Thursday afternoon, October 29 in the Anglican Church hall, the J. A. had all members present. Worship service was held in the church prior to the business part of the meeting. Ruth Hughes, the assistant leader gave a talk on "What the church expects of a J. A. girl". For handicraft, the girls made more Aluminum beads, which will be ready for varnishing at the next meeting. Decision was made to hold a supper meeting two weeks from the above date, and everyone is to bring something towards the meal. Games were enjoyed following the adoption of all reports and the closing prayer was sung.

Appointment of Eugene Hallman as boss of all English-language TV and radio production should help dispel a recent notion that the CBC may be moving away from its ideals and principles toward greater commercialism. Hallman, a 46-year-old former meteorologist who got into the CBC in 1950 as a writer and idea man, is the very kind of liberal intellectual that has come to epitomize the corporation's role in the cultural life of the country.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

Hi Square Dancers! Our new square dance season is off to a fine start. The first regular dance saw almost all our club members, and visitors from Clandonald and Mannville, out to Bowtell dancing to Johnny Maxwell. Membership and season's tickets were on sale for $5 for a guaranteed twelve dances. If you didn't get in on this big saving, you may purchase a ticket from our secretary at any time and she will have them at our next dance.

Dances will be held on the second and fourth Friday of every month, so the next one will be Friday, Nov. 13 with Ken Waring of Rivercourse as guest caller. This too will be at the Bowtell Community hall and visitors are cordially invited to come and join in the fun.

With almost all of our neighboring clubs getting back into the swing of things, competition for the square dance trophy should be keen on Nov. 13. To determine which visiting club shall take the trophy home we simply multiply the visitors by the number of miles travelled. The club with the greatest number of points takes the trophy home but must only retain it for two weeks and then put it up for competition at a dance. The aim of this trophy is to encourage more inter-club visiting and thus promote better square dancing in this area.

To our many former square dancers who would like to brush up and get back into the swing, we suggest you do so immediately. Lessons are going ahead very quickly and already the beginners have mastered the do-paso, alamande whee, dixie chain, square thru, etc. The lesson days vary from week to week so simply phone Johnny Maxwell immediately if you care to brush up or simply would like to have an extra evening of dancing and he will keep you posted ahead of time. A special invitation goes out to the new residents of town who are former square dancers, to join in the fun now!

24 Whoopers Make It To Refuge

Twenty four of the world's 38 known whooping cranes have landed at the Aransas Wildlife refuge in Texas. H. J. Johnson, refuge manager announced last Thursday.

"We completed an aerial census of the refuge last night during which we counted 22 adults and two young birds," Johnson said.

Thirty-two whoopers left the winter refuge last spring for the hazardous 2,000 mile flight to summer nesting grounds near Great Slave Lake in the North west Territories.

Johnson said he had received no reports of how many whoopers were counted in Canada before the southward migration began.

The 32 birds at Aransas last year plus six now in zoos were the largest whooper population since records were started 20 years ago. At one time the number dwindled to 15 birds.

FIRST AID FOR COMMON AILMENTS AND CONDITIONS

BOILS

Boils result from an infection within the hair follicles or pores of the skin. The infection causes redness, swelling, and pain. The germs responsible are especially apt to get a foothold on a skin surface constantly irritated by the rubbing of clothing — the neck, armpits, and buttocks, for example. Do not squeeze a boil or pimple as this may spread the infection. Hot salt water applications may be used to relieve pain and to help in bringing the boil to a head. A doctor should always be consulted for a severe boil. Successive outcroppings of boils may accompany a systemic disease, particularly diabetes.

EARS

A doctor should be consulted as soon as possible for earache or for a discharging ear. Loss of hearing or mastoid infection may result if you neglect this. If there is delay in getting a doctor, the pain may be relieved by applying an ice bag or hot-water bottle.

Children sometimes put small objects into their ears. Do not put water or other liquid into the ear since it causes some objects such as beans to swell, making their removal difficult. Occasionally an insect enters the ear. To stop stop its buzzing it can be killed by putting a drop or two of castor oil or sweet oil into the ear. Plugs of wax formed within the ear canal may also give trouble.

In every case have the object removed by a doctor. Do not try to remove it — even wax — by using sharp instruments such as matches, toothpicks or hair pins.

EYES

Foreign body in the eye. A cinder, particle of dirt, or other foreign body lodged in the eye may cause great distress. Do not try to remove the speck if it is on the surface of the eye ball. This should be done by a physician. First aid is confined to removing particles on the surface of the membrane lining the eyelids. The greatest care should be used in doing this.

Instruct the victim not to rub the eye. Pull the lower lid down gently and look for the speck. If it can be seen, remove it with the corner of a clean handkerchief or a twist of cotton moistened with water. If the speck is on the lining of the upper eyelid, grasp the lashes of the upper eyelid gently and have the victim look upward, and pull the eyelid forward and downward over the lower lid. This may dislodge the particle so that the tears can wash it out. If this does not work, use an eye dropper containing sterile water or a solution of baking soda. If these measures fail have the victim see a physician promptly. A little sterile olive oil, mineral oil or castor oil dropped into the eye after a speck has been removed is soothing.

Styes. A stye is an infection of one of the small glands opening at the edge of the eyelid. Irritating the eyelids by frequent rubbing as a person suffering from eye fatigue may do, paves the way for the development of styes.

Compresses with hot water will help to bring a stye to a head. Continue the hot applications until the stye opens and discharges spontaneously. Do not squeeze. If styes occur in crops, a doctor should be consulted.

Wounds of the eye. If the eye is wounded by a foreign body like a splinter of glass, metal or wood, or a particle blown into it with great force, loosely bandage both eyes and get medical aid at once. Keep the victim lying down until the doctor gets there.

Foreign body swallowed. If a person has swallowed some sharp article like a piece of broken glass or a pin, consult the doctor. Do not give a laxative. If the object lodges in the wind pipe and causes choking, slap the victim vigorously on the back between the shoulder blades. While you are doing this, the victim can assist by bending forward or by lying crosswise on a bed on his abdomen with his head and shoulders hanging over the side.

Insect bites: The bite or sting of such insects as bees, mosquitoes, flies, or spiders often causes swelling and inflammation. To relieve the discomfort, apply weak ammonia water or a paste of baking soda and water.

Tick bites. The tick is a blood sucking insect prevalent in the spring and summer. It is responsible for the spread of several serious diseases, one of which is Rocky Mountain spotted fever. The danger of infection is somewhat lessened by the early removal of the tick.

The tick has a small toothed probe on the head with which it pierces the skin and fastens upon the flesh of its victim. In removing the tick, make sure that the probe does not break off and remain embedded in the tissues. The insect may be induced to withdraw its probe by holding a hot needle or a lighted cigarette near its rear end, or with cotton or cleansing tissue moistened with alcohol. Then pick up the tick with forceps, tweezers, or a bit of cotton held between the fingers and destroy it. Do not crush the tick between your bare fingers. After the removal of the tick, paint the wound with iodine.

NOSE

Foreign body in the nose. Children may poke small objects up the nose as well as into the ears. If the object is one likely to swell, for example a bean or a grain of corn, a few drops of olive oil or mineral oil will relieve swelling and irritation. Take the child to a physician soon. The nose may be blown, but not forcibly and not with one nostril closed.

Nosebleed. Slight nosebleed does no harm and usually stops by itself. If bleeding continues, put the victim in a chair and loosen his collar. Apply cloths wrung out in cold water over his nose. Pressing the nostril on the bleeding side against the central side of the nose for four or five minutes may help. It may also help to plug the nostril with a [illegible] of cotton or gauze.

[illegible] bleeding does not stop in a few minutes, call a doctor. Do not blow the nose for a while after a nose bleed.

WILDMERE NEWS

Hallowe'en has come and gone with not too many pranks heard of around this neck of the woods. A few practical jokes never hurt anyone. The nicest part, to us, was a call from a few small children, all very appropriately dressed. The first time in twenty years. Some of the district's small children enjoyed visiting some houses in town and were treated royally. A couple of ladies were even noticed carrying some suspicious looking bags.

Mr. Fred Slocum of Tolland called for a short visit and had supper at the Gibson home on Friday evening.

The variety show at Union was really good and was very well managed. It was certainly an enjoyable evening and well worth anyone's money. Lots of coffee and lunch was provided for a packed hall.

Jack McFayden, manager of Wainwright seed cleaning plant, was renewing acquaintances around the district over the week end.

There will be a Wheat Pool discussion meeting in Preston Central school on Friday, Nov. 13 at 8 p.m. Keep this in mind all you Wheat Pool members.

The three rooms at Preston school all enjoyed their own individual Hallowe'en parties on Friday. The next term beginners enjoyed their first day at school, guests of Mrs. Sweet's room.

Betty and Marie Smith spent their days off at home this week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Sheppard of Edmonton visited at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Crothers on Wednesday last.

RESCUE WOUNDED DUCK

A duck wounded by some hunters and rescued by the Albert Smith children, was found to be wearing a band and when information came back regarding the band it was found that the duck had been banded in Missouri, U.S.A. in 1957.

Mrs. Hardy Wear has been spending a few days with her daughter Mrs. Dave Hughes.

Mrs. Roy Dibben spent Wednesday in Edmonton attending a one-day citizenship course as a delegate of Wildmere W.I.

Handicraft discussion meeting held annually by the Women's Institute was a decided success. Wildmere was represented by Mrs. Wallington.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallington were visitors Sunday at the Fadden home, also visiting there were Bertie Fadden and June Lumley. Mr. and Mrs. Wallington called at the Bob Smith home too the same day.

30% OF RADIOS IMPORTED

Over 30 per cent of radios sold in Canada in 1958 were imported sets. It is estimated that 50% of sales in 1959 will be of imported sets.

Vermilion Grade V Observes Junior Red Cross Week

The Grade V (a) classroom of the Vermilion Elementary school observed Junior Red Cross week, November 1-7, with the production of a play, "The Case of the Stolen Tarts." The proceeds from a silver collection, $5.50, are to be given to the Junior Red Cross.

In 1958 more than 63,000 Alberta students participated in the Junior Red Cross program, and through money-raising projects contributed more than $8,200 for overseas relief supplies; and over $12,000 to aid in the treatment of handicapped children in Alberta. Health kits, clothing, and afghan quilts were sent to needy children in other lands.

Juniors have done many other worthwhile projects. Last year the Vermilion classrooms held candy and popcorn sales, a doll show, sold calendars and magazines, and also sent Health kits for Korean children.

Lloydminster TV On Air Late in May

Call letters for the television station now under construction in Lloydminster have now been assigned by the Department of Transport in Ottawa. The new television station will be known as CHSA-TV.

The additional required local programming studio and building facilities are now being added to the new radio and television building at 5026 - 50th street, Lloydminster. The wet weather conditions have delayed the steel and masonry construction, but this work is now well underway.

Construction of the facilities at the transmitter and tower site eight miles north of the city have also been delayed by wet weather. Completion of the roadway on the property has made it possible to again proceed with transmitter buildings. Every effort is being made to construct the tower base and guy anchors in order that the tower erection will commence on the scheduled date of April 10, 1960.

Present plans call for television broadcasting to commence in late May of 1960. CHSA-TV will be on channel 2 with a initial power of 14,630 watts. The antenna height of 730 feet above average terrain will contribute greatly to the signal coverage, especially in the signal fringe areas.

CHSA-TV will provide complete community television broadcasting service as well as being affiliated with the CBC Micro-Wave programming facilities.

A. R. Kent Named As Director Of Alberta Bottlers

A Vermilion business man, Aldous R. Kent was chosen as a director-at-large of the Alberta Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages at a recent annual meeting of the group in Edmonton.

At the convention the bottlers discussed problems in the industry, advertising methods, the competition from non-carbonated drinks, and the sales tax on [illegible].

Vermilion Stockman To Judge at Royal Fair

Another honor has come to W. L. Robinson, an outstanding cattleman of the Vermilion district, an addition to the long list of achievements attained by the well-known Shorthorn breeder.

Lyle has been invited to judge the Shorthorn classes at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair being held from November 14 to 21st. Accompanied by Mrs. Robinson, he is en route this week for Toronto.

It has been the custom to invite well-known stockmen of the British Isles to be judges for the Toronto Royal, with an occasional one from Eastern Canada. It is not for many years, if at all, that one of the Western Canadian breeders has been invited to officiate in the stock ring at Toronto. This makes it a matter of great satisfaction that a stockman from the Vermilion district has been singled out for an invitation to judge at this world famous stock show.

Lyle is by no means new to the show ring, for he has often been called upon to judge, as well as having shown his prize Shorthorns for so many years, and has officiated at Toronto before, in the Canadian National Exhibition in the summer show of 1956.

The Robinson family were chosen as the subject of an article entitled "The Robinsons of Vermilion," written by Chas. Schille for the September issue of the "Canadian Cattlemen" this year. By kind permission of the magazine editor, and the author, we reprint the article in full as follows:

"In the 1927 year book of the Vermilion School of Agriculture graduate Lyle Robinson's biography stated that his ambition was to become "one of the best Shorthorn breeders in Alberta." How right was that prediction! Today the tall, graying Vermilion district farmer is known in livestock circles throughout Canada as a top-flight stockman and an equally competent show ring judge.

Behind Lyle Robinson's rise to successful prominence lies the story of his own determination and the indomitable spirit of his widowed mother. Born at Van Kleek Hill, Ont., in 1906, Lyle came west with his parents in 1910 to settle on a three-quarter section mixed farm 8 miles west of Vermilion. In the three succeeding years the family returned each winter to Ontario. They closed out their dairy farm there shipping horses and lumber for their new home in the West.

The elder Robinson turned to beef cattle raising, choosing the Shorthorn breed. With a keen eye to quality he bought some of the best breeding stock available in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. A section of choice grazing land was leased, lying north of the farm and bordering the Vermilion River.

Premature death claimed the head of the family in the spring of 1918. That fall Lyle and his mother sold the herd, keeping only a bull and two cows of "Miss Ramsden" lineage. For a few years they concentrated on commercial cattle on a small scale. Then in 1921, when Lyle was 15 and an uncommonly husky lad, more female foundation stock was bought. Prices for the best 2-year-old heifers ranged up to $300.

Through the years, mother and son had regularly entered a few head of stock at exhibitions and shows in northern Alberta. In 1922 Lyle decided to try things entirely on his own hook, entering a fat calf in the Edmonton Spring Show and Sale. Competition was stiff, but Lyle's choice of animal, his fitting and showmanship won for him the silver cup in the 16 years-and-under class.

The award raised a furor from two exhibitors whose children were competing in the same class. "That strapping young Robinson had slid into an age group well below his years and should be disqualified," they maintained. To settle the dispute, Lyle's mother eventually sent to Ontario for her son's birth certificate. The award stood.

"I prize that cup above anything I've won for I really had to scrap for it from start to finish," he whimsically reflects now.

An assortment of cups and shields and hundreds of ribbons which decorate Lyle's trophy room depict the continuing success of the Robinson herd since those early years. Lyle's mother once made a quilt out of championship [illegible]. It remains in the family as a prized possession to this day.

Not all the championship tokens are in the trophy room. "During the lean years we exhibitors decided to return our ribbons to the donors," explains Lyle. A small gesture but it saved the sponsors the cost of having new ones made up each season.

The Robinsons have never missed a year of exhibiting in the Lloydminster Agricultural Fair since their first entry in 1913. They have shown stock at the Vermilion Agricultural Fair for almost as many years. Robinson Shorthorns have also been consistent winners on the Western Canada fair circuit and have placed near the top at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair and the Canadian National Exhibition.

The rewards of the show and fair trails, however, do not show entirely a successful farmer in the making. After his father's death in 1918, a heavy work load fell on Lyle's shoulders. He drove to school each day in Vermilion doing the chores before and after classes. His farm duties kept him back scholastically and he left school on completion of Grade IX, devoting full time to the farm until 1925.

That year circumstances enabled him to enrol at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. His mother was as jubilant as he. How she had worked and schemed that her only child might have a higher education!

An avid student, Lyle spent two winters wading through English and mathematics, farm management and economics, livestock nutrition, field husbandry, carpentry, blacksmithing and animal science. More than anything, he enjoyed the livestock classes. His pet subject was cattle judging where he rang up consecutive end-of-term averages of 96 per cent and won two scholarships.

The Robinsons—father and son—both graduates of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, look over their purebred Shorthorn cow herd.

Much of the school theory he put to practice on the farm. Neighbors raised their eyebrows when he began growing a few acres of flax, an almost unknown crop in the district. But when those neighbors observed what a difference the added flax ration made in winter feeding, down came the eyebrows and they, too, grew flax.

A major decision in early years was prompted by his grounding in farm management at the agricultural school. The section of leased land held by the family for some years was put up for sale. Some careful figuring brought the conclusion that, without this land the Robinson farm would be out of the cattle business in a few years. By scraping and borrowing, the Robinsons raised sufficient money to buy the land. It has remained a key factor in the cattle enterprise.

The experience gained in debating and other extracurricular activities stood him in good stead when he began judging livestock classes at local field days and later at regional fairs and exhibitions. He found that cattle judging required not only technical evaluation but the ability to interpret clearly his decision to exhibitors and the public.

Lyle's judging ability has been recognized across the country. He has judged 4 years at the [illegible] the Saskatoon Exhibition, and in [illegible]

Art Tovell Suffers Heavy Loss When Big Barn and Feed Burn

Fire destroyed a large barn, 84 feet by 24 feet, 50 tons of hay and a considerable quantity of feed grain on the farm of Art Tovell, some 12 miles northwest of Vermilion on Monday evening. Nineteen head of cattle, 14 milk cows and five calves, were in the barn when the fire was discovered and were led to safety. Loss is estimated at more than $4,000.00.

The fire broke out at 7 p.m. and completely destroyed the frame barn and the hay. Some 800 bushels of feed grain was also stored in the barn. Of this amount one truck load was salvaged the next day.

The blaze also endangered the adjacent farm buildings and the Vermilion fire brigade took their fire truck to the scene and stood watch that the flames did not spread.

Origin of the fire is unknown as hay was being hauled to the barn that day, the last being unloaded at six o'clock, only an hour before the fire was discovered.

Second year students, members of the staff and town [illegible] joined together in a program of events extending over the past week designed to welcome new students to the School of Agriculture for the current winter term.

Greetings and best wishes on behalf of the Town of Vermilion and its businessmen were extended by Mayor Hill and Mr. J. V. Kneale, President of the Board of Trade. Mary Anne Smith Wins Legion Rug

MANNVILLE — Lucky little Miss Mary Anne Smith held the winning ticket on the rug made by a disabled war veteran and drawn for at the recent Poppy Day tea sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion. Mary Anne recently won a dressed doll and quilt. The Poppy Day tea was well patronized despite harvesting operations being still in full swing.

A delicious lunch was served by attractive ladies of the Legion dressed in navy blue matching jackets and berets with white dresses and shoes. The bake table was well laden with a good variety of home cooking which [illegible] moved very quickly. Poppies were sold from house to house in the village while people from the country were tagged on the streets. Poppies were also sold at the tea. One of the Legion ladies came up with a bright idea as Saturday was the birthday of her young daughter, and being unable to hold a party and serve at the tea too, she brought the party to the tea. The table at which the young guests sat even boasted a resplendent birthday cake while the youngsters all wore novelty hats.

In the first half of 1959 labour income rose to $8,773 million, a gain of eight per cent over the same period of 1958.

Rotarians Hear Remembrance Day Talk By Lieut. D. Moore of The Salvation Army

Lieut. Doug Moore, officer in charge of the Salvation Army detachment in Vermilion, spoke at last Friday's Rotary club meeting. The subject of Lieut. Moore's address was "Armistice Day." This was very appropriate as the meeting was held just before the national remembrance day.

Mr. Moore said we had won two world wars but the horrors of war did not end when the war was over. We got freedom but it was at great expense. We should think of freedom as sacred and very, very precious considering the price it cost. At this time of the year we remember those who died to bring us that freedom.

Mark Norton introduced the speaker and Gus Mirault thanked him for his remarks which he said were very excellent and very fitting for this time of the year.

Two Legion members were present as guests of the club, namely Tommy Thompson and Lawrence Webb, chairman of the poppy fund campaign. The two men were introduced by Ernie Buckingham and George Webb Sr. respectively.

Lawrence Webb told the meeting that all donations through the tag day or in purchase of wreaths were used for the relief of veterans or veteran's families where sickness or other misfortune strikes.

Next Wednesday the Vermilion Rotary club will have dinner at Dewberry where each member has invited a business man or a farmer to be his guest for the evening. These rural-urban get-togethers have been held annually for the past four years. They have been of great value in giving Rotary club members an opportunity to meet people in surrounding districts in a friendly way.

F.U.A. Asks Direct Subsidy Harvest Aid

EDMONTON — Mr. Ed Nelson, President of the Farmers Union of Alberta, Gordon Harrold, president of the Alberta Wheat Pool and J. Bentley, President of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture met yesterday afternoon to discuss the crop situation in Alberta.

Following the meeting the telegram below was sent to Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

"The Farmers' Union of Alberta, Alberta Federation of Agriculture and Alberta Wheat Pool feel the situation in Alberta regarding harvest conditions is such that a delay in announcing the action the Federal Government is prepared to take to deal with the situation can mean a serious liquidation of livestock. The F.U.A. would ask that serious consideration be given to a direct subsidy in some form to farmers with less than 50% of their crop harvested."

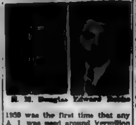
Great improvements have been made in commercial grain dryers, resulting in faster operation by recirculation of grain, direct firing and automatic firing and emptying. Dryers handle from 100-125 bushels per hour reducing moisture from 20 to 14½%. Burner and tractor fuel costs run from two-thirds of a cent to 2 cents per bushel to operate. Commercial dryers are wonderful except their initial price which runs from $3500 to $5500. The only way a home constructed dryer outshines a commercial machine is on the initial price. Buying a fan-heater unit and building a new building may run from $1200 up depending on the material used. Plans for home constructed dryers are available at the D.A. office.

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION

There is a considerable upswing in the interest shown among local farmers in the use of A.I. It has now been proven beyond any doubt that A.I. can be used on the range cattle, small beef herds as well as dairy



H. M. Douglas Edward Dobko

1959 was the first time that any A.I. was used around Vermilion and that was on dairy cows. Because of the limited number of cows involved costs were high. These costs can only be lowered if enough farmers are prepared to form an association and set up a local unit. Alberta's Live Stock Branch sets 1200 as the minimum number of cows to set up a successful unit. Last spring a unit was set up in southern Alberta where eighty per cent of the cattle were range cows. If you are interested in breeding your cows to Canada's best bulls leave your name and address at the D.A.'s office.

PERFORMANCE TESTING

Mr. Bill Mead, Alberta's Live Stock Commissioner, will speak to beef breeders in the basement of the Vermilion River M.D. office in Kitscoty, November 25th at 1:30 p.m. regarding Performance Testing. In view of the progress shown amongst the Saskatchewan breeders a large turnout is expected. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

FARM MANAGEMENT

FROM FLOUR BAG TO BREAD BOX

Is there anyone who doesn't love the pleasant aroma and "taste-like-more" flavor of freshly baked bread? Those of you who bake your own bread must certainly feel gratified at the enjoyment it provides for your family. Yeast breads obtain their unique characteristics through use of the right ingredients in the correct proportions. These must go through the fascinating changes caused by mixing, kneading, fermentation and baking.

YEAST

Yeast is a living plant that causes dough to raise into fine, fluffy rounded loaves. In growing, it gives off a gas which puffs out the dough to about twice its original size. The yeast as you buy it from the grocery store is in a sleeping state. It is up to the cook to wake them into active life. Sugar and water are used to assist this process. Always be careful not to use more sugar than called for in the recipe in dissolving the yeast. Too much sugar can retard the action of the yeast.

FLOUR

The flour used for bread baking in the home is enriched all-purpose flour, sometimes called bread flour. Other types of flour such as cake or pastry flour cannot produce the same results.

LIQUID

Milk and water are the liquids ordinarily used in making yeast breads. Whole or skim milk should be scalded to obtain best results.

SUGAR & SALT

Yeast and sugar work together to form the gas which causes the dough to raise. Salt helps control the rate of this rising. The correct amounts of sugar and salt contribute to flavor of the product. In addition, sugar helps give a golden brown color to the crust.

SHORTENING

Shortening helps make a dough that stretches easily as the bubbles of gas expand. Fat also adds flavor and contributes to a tender crust and attractive sheen.

Mannville Bingo Draws Good Crowd

MANNVILLE — The bingo held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, sponsored by St. Joseph's Altar Society drew a fairly good crowd. As each patron entered he was asked to write his name on a slip of paper, thus giving a free chance on a lovely dressed turkey, won by Mrs. Lee Dunsmoworth. Ten cent standard games of bingo were played for the greater part of the evening with some special 25 cent ones. Lunch was served at separate tables by charming young waitresses and was most delicious. According to all reports, the evening was a financial success.

Vermilion Alliance Chapel Is Scene of Pretty Fall Wedding

The Alliance Chapel, Vermilion, was the scene of a pretty candlelight wedding on Saturday, Oct. 24, when Mavis Bottorff, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bottorff of Vermilion, became the bride of William Borden Kaminsky, second son of Mrs. Mary Kaminsky of Innisfree. Rev. J. Schroeder officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding, a cocktail-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and the slender sleeves tapered to lily points at the wrists. A crown dotted with sequins held in place the bride's chapel length veil of lace trimmed nylon. She carried a bouquet of red rose buds.

The bride was attended by her sister, Donna Bottorff, and the twin sisters of the groom, Joan and Judy Kaminsky. The three attendants wore identical street-length dresses of white Chantilly lace over pink taffeta. They wore matching headpieces and carried bouquets of white and pink wild roses.

The groom was attended by his two cousins, John Kitz and Terry Kaminsky and Campbell Dickson. Mr. Kitz and Mr. Dickson also acted as ushers.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Schroeder, who also accompanied Mr. Albert Mix who sang "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

A reception was held later in the Elks hall, Vermilion, where the ladies of the O.O.R.P. supplied a very tasty banquet. Rev. Victor Lindgren, uncle of the bride proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom ably responded.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bottorff chose an aljean suit of deep rust with avocado green accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Kaminsky wore a figured dress of navy blue rayon with white accessories. She wore pink roses en corsage.

During the reception, telegrams were read from Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Powell of Victoria, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dewson of Palm Springs, Calif., uncles and aunts of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kaminsky of Reno, Nevada, brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

The wedding cake was cut and served to the guests by the bride and groom, with each lady present receiving a red rose bud.

For travelling, the bride changed to a blue wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Following their honeymoon trip to Banff, the happy young couple will make their home on the groom's farm north of Innisfree.

and have from six to a dozen farmers co-operate together in operating a dryer. By arranging a dryer club the farmers can all take off their crop as fast as it is fit to go through the combine and the drying can be done for each member of the club during the fall or winter months. All the members of the club can rest assured that they are safe to get their crop off as fast as possible without spoilage of grain by heating.

Only one hundred dollars investment by each member of the club will finance the dryer and the balance can be carried over a period of three years. It is quite possible for the dryer to earn enough in one season to fully pay the bill by doing custom drying.

Showers Held For Frances Pockett

Miss Frances Pockett, bride-elect of Keith King whose wedding will take place this Saturday, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Mitchell Taylor in Edmonton on Wednesday Oct. 21st. As well as some of Frances' nurse classmates there were several ex-Vermilionites in attendance including Mrs. Hilda English, Mrs. M. Smeltzer, Mrs. Ford Davidson, Mrs. Bert Mockford (Kay Simonson), Mrs. Bob Hite (Esther Simonson), Mrs. Del Lee (Ena Barlow) and Mrs. C. V. Hudson.

After coming home to Vermilion to stay for awhile with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Pockett, Frances was the recipient of many good wishes and gifts at a shower held in the home of Mrs. Mac Simonsen on Monday, Nov. 2. Other hostesses on this occasion were Mrs. Gib Stephens, Mrs. Bob Rowe and Mrs. Willy Sabados. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage and presently a doctor (Miss Eleanor Evans) entered the room carrying a black bag labelled "operation shower gift" called for Nurse Pockett. Frances was delighted to respond to the call and to open the bag which was packed full of lovely shower gifts and expressions of good wishes.

Mrs. Ted Edey, Mrs. Bill Fooks, Mrs. Carman Long and Mrs. Jim Thompson were co-hostesses at a party for Frances on Thursday Nov. 5 at the Edey home, when her friends gathered to wish her well and present her with miscellaneous shower gifts. Mrs. Pockett and the mother of the groom-to-be, Mrs. Cecil King, were recipients of corsages presented to them by the hostesses. During the evening a stretcher was brought in to Frances but the only operation necessary was to open the many gifts thus presented to her.

Former V. S. A. Staff Member Dies

Miss Mary Pauline Shaw died at the age of 75 on November 1st in the Aberhart Memorial Sanatorium. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, November 4, in Edmonton. Rev J. W. Bainbridge, assistant minister [illegible] and Dr J F Woodsworth, retired president of the Indian Residential school at St. Albert, officiated. Burial took place in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Miss Shaw joined the staff of the Vermilion School of Agriculture in 1927 as an instructress in sewing, a position that she held, except for one period of sick leave until 1940. She was a graduate of [illegible] Institute, Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph, and took special courses in home economics at Columbia University in New York. She taught household science in Ontario before coming to Alberta, where she spent three years as dietitian at the YWCA in Edmonton, and then accepted the position on the V. S. A. staff.

Born in Victoria Corner, Carleton County, New Brunswick, Miss Shaw received her early education and high school in New Brunswick. She is survived by two brothers, Dr R. M. Shaw of Edmonton, and E. B. Shaw of Royal Oak, B. C.

In 1941 Miss Shaw entered the University hospital as a patient, and remained there until the Aberhart Memorial Sanatorium opened, at which time she was transferred to the new hospital, where she remained until her death. In spite of almost 19 years as a hospital patient, Miss Shaw retained a lively interest in matters of local and national importance, with a special fondness for the Vermilion school. More than once it was said that visitors went to see Miss Shaw, intending to cheer her up, but finding that it was she who encouraged and helped them.

Britain and America are in great danger. The Bible warns that Divine Deliverance alone will save our Race. If you have been blessed with the knowledge that the Anglo-Saxon Race is latter-day Israel then help to make known the Bible Way of Deliverance.

The W. M. S. of the Church of God will hold their annual bazaar and tea in the church basement on Thursday, Nov. 26 at 2 o'clock p.m.

Mrs. C. Doty, who has been visiting at Erwood, Saskatchewan for the past few weeks, has returned home.

Regular winter weather has been handed out to us during the past week. Still, the absence of snow has helped the farmers to get up a lot more feed.

A very interesting afternoon was enjoyed in the United church when Mrs. N. N. Bentley of Vermilion showed slides of Egypt, where she and her husband spent a year. People were present from Kitscoty, Edgerton, Lloydminster, Rivercourse, McLaughlin and Rosedale and all enjoyed the talk very much. Thank you Mrs. Bentley.

Mrs. William Teasdale and Mrs. W. Hall have left for White Rock, B. C. to spend November and December with Mrs. Teasdale's daughter, Mrs. Seddon.

Lorraine Murphy Becomes Bride of Const. D. Coker in Pretty Ceremony

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on September 16 in the [illegible] United Church when Lorraine Ruth Murphy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Murphy, was united in marriage with Constable Alvin David Coker, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coker of Huntsville, Ontario. Rev. F. Andrews performed the ceremony before an altar beautifully decorated with baskets of mixed flowers. Guest pews were marked with lily of the valley tied with satin bows.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. L. Murphy, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon and nylon net over a satin skirt styled with lily point sleeves and bateau neckline. The fitted bodice was of embroidered lace and iridescent sequins. Her chapel-length veil was held in place by a crown trimmed with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white trailing leaves.

Miss Maralyn Murphy, sister of the bride, and Miss Berneda Leland, were the bride's attendants. They were identical cocktail-length gowns in a shade of pale yellow with white accessories. Each carried a bouquet of white mums. Also attending the bride was her cousin, [illegible] Weder, as flower girl. She wore a dainty dress of white over blue, and carried a basket of white mums.

Attending the groom were Constables D. Davies of Vegreville and T. Heach of Innisfree. Constable R. McDowell of Vermilion and Constable D. Norton of Edmonton were ushers. The groom and his attendants were all attired in the full dress red serge uniforms of the R. C. M. P.

During the signing of the register Mr. John Webb of Vermilion sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Peden of Minburn at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for approximately 100 guests. The bride's table was laid in white satin and centred with a lovely three-tiered wedding cake. Mr. A. Hildreth of Vermilion proposed the toast to the bride, which brought forth an appropriate response from the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Murphy chose a dark blue sheath dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white [illegible].

For their honeymoon trip to Ontario to visit the groom's parents, who were unable to attend the wedding, the bride changed to a beige suit with contrasting accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The happy couple are now residing in Red Deer.

Ken Rowe Outlines Garage Services At Rotary

Ken Rowe gave a talk on the automobile business at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting last Friday. The speaker told about the continual [illegible] on in equipment and devices for servicing and repairing of cars and trucks. He said that stocking repairs for both old and new models of cars is a big undertaking in every garage.

Cust Alfke introduced the speaker and Warren Rosenquist thanked Mr. Rowe for his very fine talk.

The Rotary club decided to hold the annual Rural-Urban meeting at Dewberry this year. Each member of the club will invite a business man or farmer in that district to be his guest at a dinner meeting which will be held at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 18.

Guests at last Friday's meeting were Dr. Jack Dickout, Carl Hansen, McLeod, Ken Fisher and Ted Lott all of Lloydminster, Bill [illegible] of Edmonton and Roy Walker of Vermilion also attended. President Ross Hoshe welcomed the visitors and guests.

The Bible states that the holy annointing oil was made by the apothecary using his special skill. The compounding of medicines is a special art learned after years of study and apprenticeship in a pharmacy.

Some of the medicines we dispense now-a-days are prepared in the laboratories of pharmaceutical firms, but we still must exercise our art by making certain they are potent when dispensed and exactly the ones specified. We compound many special mixtures, ointments, pills, suppositories and eye drops. We welcome your bringing us these important prescriptions requiring skill, knowledge and compounding time.

A great many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions . . May we compound yours?

NEWS from ALLANDALE

(Held over from last week)

Despite the inclement weather farmers are threshing and combining as many are in need of feed for their stock.

Sorry to hear of the recent death of Mrs. Ada McPherson (Ada Butz). The evening of the fiftieth anniversary for the school she developed a very severe headache, the start of her illness which led to a stroke. Deepest sympathy is extended to family and relatives.

To Mr and Mrs. Cusack of Clandonald: "The echo of your wedding bells, resounds with golden chimes and promise through the years ahead, serene and happytimes". Again accept our wishes for many more happy anniversaries. It was indeed a pleasure to attend this golden anniversary and to offer our congratulations at the afternoon reception. Time has been good to the bride and groom of fifty years. A delicious lunch and visit was enjoyed very much.

Noticed on our way to Clandonald that the phone has been installed at the Joe Parchewsky home. A new line from Ralph Strome's.

On Oct. 25th Mr and Mrs. Rufus Omness from New Serepta, their daughter Lurlene and son Randy from town, and Mrs. Nora Ronaghan from Isley, were visitors in the district. Mr and Mrs. Omness had been visiting their son Gerald and Jeanne and family at Kindersley, Sask. Mrs. Omness' brother David and Velda Bury and family at Lloydminster and the Johnny Nelsons, and daughter Lurlene and Jack Hobbs and family in Vermilion. The next day Mabel Lee of town accompanied Mr and Mrs. Omness to Elk Point to visit Gertie Swanson. At 6 o'clock that evening they met another sister Mrs. Nora Ronaghan at the Boston cafe for supper and attended the show after.

Visitors at the Wm. Armstrong home on Oct. 25th were daughters Myrtle and Norman Anderson and family, May and Warren Edwards and family and Thelma Armstrong and family.

An interesting evening was spent at Isley at their 'brush up' on square dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker of Dewberry were the efficient instructors. They will be at Clandonald on Nov 9 and 16.

A delicious supper and enjoyable evening was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hagen on Oct 29 in honor of Mr and Mrs. Ronnie Johnson and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson before their departure. Miss Frances Ziomek was also a supper guest. Ronnie and Doreen will be leaving shortly for Edmonton. Mrs. Johnson for the time being, will be with her daughters, Joyce and Eddie Lyons and son in Vermilion and June and Allan Russell and son in Stettler.

Mrs. Bessie Moore of Deer Lake returned home Oct. 23 after spending some time in the Elk Point hospital where she underwent surgery. A speedy recovery to good health is our wish.

Our roads were maintained on Oct. 30 and it did them a lot of good after all the moisture we have had of late.

Mr and Mrs. Woody Wilson and family spent last week end with Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Pouln and family at Rabbit Lake, Sask. They went from Vermilion on the Dayliner and John met them at North Battleford. Rabbit Lake is around fifty miles north.

On Oct. 30 a most enjoyable evening was spent at the United Church hall when the Couples club met. A very good devotional was held. Mr and Mrs. Bentley showed pictures taken in Egypt. Their talk on this country and pictures were intensely interesting and educational.

Church service in Clandonald on Nov 1 was well attended. Rev MacKay spoke on "The One Talent Man". Really a grand sermon.

Closing thought: "Persons live and die, nations rise and fall, new inventions and discoveries change the expression of life about us. But God never changes. He is the same yesterday, today and forever."

FOREIGN RADIO INDUSTRY WAGE RATES LOW

In one foreign country the wage rate paid to radio factory operators is as low as one-tenth of the Canadian rate. Last year this particular country sent 155,000 transistor radios to Canada, worth $1,844,000. Canadian radio factory operators have been laid off as a result.

Birch Creek W. I. Notes

MANNVILLE. Birch Creek W.I. met at the home of Mrs. L. Colborne for the November meeting. Following repeating of the Creed minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, and the treasurer's report accepted. Correspondence was read and all bills ordered paid. Mrs. [illegible] read out the Handicraft list for 1960. Names were handed in for Christmas Cheer parcels. It was decided to endorse some other W.I. projects.

All business was cleaned up in preparation for the annual meeting on Dec. 2 which will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Brydon.

The roll call proved very popular each expressing their viewpoint on the radio program [redacted]. Lunch was served by [redacted] assisted by Mrs. E. [redacted]. The white elephant was won by Mrs. R. Whitson.

Mannville Writer Studies Conditions On Goodfish Lake Indian Reserve

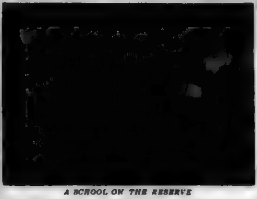
by JOAN C. LUGG

Having left the Saddle Lake Reserve, we proceeded to the reserve of Goodfish which has a population of 800, and again with Cree Indians. It would [redacted] as far as one can gather, that the name Goodfish Lake is derived from the fact that the fish there are good fish. As one enters [redacted] the same style houses are found, which are being built for the Indians and designed by the government, with the exception of Chief Bull's house, which is the only two-storey one, and is very nice indeed. William Bull is the chief of this reserve and he heads the Council of Indian Affairs for the reservation. Harry Matthews of the Saddle Lake Indian Agency carries out the duties of Indian Agent.

The lake after which the reserve is named is a most beautiful one, and as one drives in, he may see the spire and belfry of [redacted] in the distance, then the Roman Catholic church to the left, and the school on the right hand side of the road opposite the church. Below the Roman Catholic church and the Priest's residence is seen a homemade wharf amid a profusion of extremely tall bullrushes, where two small boats are anchored. On the way up from the wharf, in the densely wooded area, are to be found luscious and very large saskatoons. These appear to be all over in great number throughout the country.

The new protestant school is situated back in the woods, after reaching the United church, from a road angling in majestic birch and spruce trees, and the common poplar and balm of gileads. Upon first glancing at the school, which is newly constructed and opened this fall it appears to be a veritable jewel set off in God's wilderness. Picturesque Birch trees have been left in various places and have been surrounded by soil and planted with colorful flowers by the school principal, Archie Ruggles. Grass of the fairy green type has been planted around the school and is cared for by the Indians in the summer holidays. The school is situated on a raised plateau, almost on the lake's edge and derives it's water from that source. It is fully modern, as is the semi-detached bungalow for the three [redacted] family of the principal. Built by an Edmonton contractor, [redacted] and Dutton, the school boasts three lovely classrooms, a domestic science room and boys' workshop, the latter two being the most recent advances in school training here. In the bungalow, each unit has a large sitting room, kitchen, bathroom, three bedrooms and a full size basement under the entire building. An attractive nursing station is to be seen a short distance to right of the school, and is a picture with graceful hollyhocks climbing up the station's exterior. Here the district nurse examines her patients [redacted] is able to help. Her living quarters are much the same as the enrollment. We understand that this building will be used as the teacher's residency.

Prior to the building of the new protestant school, a school quite new and with living quarters included, [redacted] to the Roman Catholic school, with electricity, and bathroom with modern plumbing, was situated in the old schoolyard, east of the old building. My husband and I were permitted to live in the old school teacherage which is attached to the school. This school, as well as the living quarters, was used for school classes last year, so large was the enrollment that a band hall with a few alterations, for entertainment. It will be an ideal place for such, and no waste will be felt then. The Roman Catholic school, taught by sisters, and laymen, is also swelling in number and last year they used part of the church for classes.



A SCHOOL ON THE RESERVE

News from Dewberry

Mr. and Mrs. D Lowrie are now living in the former teacherage in Dewberry. Mr. Lowrie works in the Dennil garage.

Postmaster Dave Munro is a [redacted] in an Edmonton hospital where he has undergone surgery. He has not been any too well. The writer and his many friends wish him a speedy recovery. Mrs. Munro is ably carrying on in his absence, assisted by 'Pinkie' (Mr Bill Wilkinson).

The mission held in the St. Anthony Roman Catholic church during the last week of October was very well attended. The church was filled every evening. Morning devotions were also well attended. A remark heard passed by one who is not an adherent of the church, that the missionary, Rev. Fr. A. Ratowski, was a dynamic speaker, was shared by all who heard him.

Hallowe'en passed quite sanely and quietly. Some mischief was done but mostly of a minor nature.

Rain has again halted harvesting operations. Some had been done but the drying by sun and wind was offset by these further showers. It is actually lovely fall weather but more sunshine and wind is what is needed to benefit the farmers.

Several TV aerials are popping up around town. It is said that on some evenings, reception, oddly enough, is quite good.

Sympathy is extended to those left to mourn the loss of Mr Albert Dupuit, and Mrs. Rosetta Cambridge, who passed away recently.

Rural Policemen Take Six Weeks' Training Course

Twenty-six constables from rural points in northern Alberta are undertaking a six weeks' training course in police practices in Edmonton. The Alberta Government's Department of the Attorney General initiated the course to familiarize the policemen with the latest methods of law enforcement. A similar school was conducted last year from which forty-one constables graduated. Included in the curriculum will be instruction in traffic control, care and handling of prisoners, drill and weapons training. Lectures on liquor and traffic laws will also be given. Instructors for the course have been supplied by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Edmonton City police. The type of instruction supplied at the school is not readily available to law enforcement officers in rural districts. Prior to the commencement of the course municipalities were circularized to obtain the names of candidates for the training. Each applicant required a recommendation by the mayor or reeve in his jurisdiction. The constables were then given a thorough medical examination before starting the training.

Citizens Honor War Dead in Solemn Remembrance Day Services

Vermilion and district residents once again paid tribute to their honored war dead in the Remembrance Day services conducted at the Cenotaph and in the Columbia theatre on Wednesday last, November 11th. Citizens in every walk of life and in every age group paid their respects to those who have paid the supreme sacrifice. The services were arranged and carried out by Canadian Legion Post 11. Despite the very cold day the attendance at the outside service of Laying of the Wreaths was good, while the Remembrance Day service in the Columbia attracted a very full theatre.

The parade formed at the Legion hall under the direction of parade marshall Bob Allan. Led by the pipe band of "A" Co. L. E. R., followed by the color party of the Legion, the R. C. M. P. and a long column prominent in which were the veterans, the Legion W.A., the Army Cadets making their first public appearance in Vermilion and a very smart one too, the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs, C. G. I. T., V. S. A., high school, I. O. D. E., and many citizens with wreaths to lay.

LAY WREATHS

The Remembrance Day service was held in the Columbia theatre with the address on this solemn occasion being given by Rev. Wm. Champness, Rector of the Anglican church and padre of the Legion. Taking part in the service were Rev. J. Schroeder, Rev. C. W. MacKay, Lieut. D. Moore, and Legion president Tom Thompson. Accompanist for the hymns was Dr. C. W. Stephens.

To complete the service the Roll of Honor was shown on the screen with appropriate sound effects.

Great Satisfaction in Helping Others

When Gus Ryder brings home a winner or when 'Boom Boom' Geoffrion of the Canadiens slams in a goal from 'way out on the ice, the applause can be heard right across Canada.

Yet even more rewarding to these two sportsmen than this tribute is the satisfaction they both get from helping Canada's muscular dystrophy victims.

Neither of these men are scientists. They will never handle the microscope or test tube that holds the clue to the cure of muscular dystrophy. Both Gus and Boom-Boom are honorary chairmen of this year's campaign for funds, scheduled for November 22 to 28. They believe their job is to keep reminding the rest of us that 'MD' is a tough opponent and that the will to win must be backed up by money — money to buy equipment and supplies, money to pay brilliant research workers.

In the case of muscular dystrophy the finishing line or the whistle that stops the game may be a long way off.

Gus and Boom-Boom are two good sports who are on the same team as thousands of firemen and voluntary workers — a team that is determined to win for the sake of our children, helplessly facing an adversary too big for their little bodies to handle.

Danger Lurks Near Thin Ice

Every winter ice accidents bring tragedy into the life of some Alberta family. Every winter these tragedies could be avoided if the rules of ice safety were observed. A knowledge of safety rules not only helps to prevent accidents but also aids rescue operations if accidents do occur.

Red Cross Water Safety officials stress the following safety measures to ensure "Fun without Fatalities" when participating in outdoor winter recreation:

1. Make sure the ice on rivers, sloughs and lakes is at least two inches thick before you skate.

2. Have a ladder, pole, plank or tree branch available in case of break through.

3. Stay close to shore. Do not gather in groups unless ice is thick.

4. Remember thin ice bends and will trip skaters who frequently fall and break through.

5. Small bodies of water such as pools, ponds, lakes and slow flowing streams offer the safest conditions for outdoor skating. Large bodies of water do not freeze as fast and ice formed over swiftly - moving water is hazardous.

6. Testing ice with a hockey stick or ski pole is a foolish practice. Neither of these objects has sufficient weight to be of any use. Throwing stones is also worthless as a test for ice and creates an additional hazard when stones freeze into the surface.

7. Skaters should remember that new ice weakens with any rise in temperature. It is unsafe to go on hazardous areas of newly frozen surface when alone.

8. Skating, ice boating or skiing and tobogganing behind cars after dark is dangerous.

9. The beginning of spring marks the season of rotten ice. At this time of the year no one should venture on frozen rivers, lakes or ponds. Two feet of firm looking ice may be saturated with water and the slightest pressure will cause it to crumble.

IS COMMUNISM A DEAD ISSUE?

A few years ago everybody was talking about Communists in Canada, and the dangers of infiltration. Today (perhaps because nobody wants to be called a witch hunter) you seldom hear too about them. Does this mean Communism is a dead issue now?

Not according to J. H. Moore, of Hamilton, Ont. In a speech to the Traffic Club of Hamilton recently he warned us not to scoff at the notion that Communists could take over here. [illegible] made his point by showing [illegible] at V-J Day the Communists controlled eight million square miles and 10% of the world population, whereas now, without any major war they hold control over thirteen million square miles and about 33% of the world's population.

Mr. Moore then went on to show that many things are happening in Canada today that will pave the way to Communism unless we are watchful. He referred to all sorts of legislation which [illegible] profitable to some, has restrictive results on all. We are too inclined, he said, to give up individual freedoms in order to make a small financial gain or to please one pressure group or another.

Another fact used by Mr. Moore to prove his point was that today there are 300,000 people working for the Dominion government alone - whereas at the very peak of the war it took only 101,785 to administer our affairs. Mr. Moore says, "Our two older parties are socializing the country as quickly as the voters will accept it."

How does the individual help stop this drift?

Mr. Moore has some suggestions. First vote every chance you get, after studying the issues. Then be sure to know the name and address of your representative in Ottawa, or your provincial capital, and let him have your views. On top of that Moore would have us all adopt the following four freedoms:

1. The freedom to gripe and criticize, particularly at governments.

2. The freedom to change jobs.

3. The freedom to choose how to spend your own income.

4. Freedom to be right, even when what we know to be right is unpopular.

He feels that if we maintain these four freedoms, we'll have gone a long way toward maintaining the four freedoms enunciated by President Roosevelt.

I think he has something there!

PROPER TATTOOING

Cattle breeders have been urged to use care in tattooing calves so that these animals will not be rejected at bull sales and export inspections. There has been a considerable number of rejects in the past due to indistinct and mixed-up tattoos.

A tattoo is always read from left to right and top to bottom when facing the animal from the front. This rule applies no matter what ear the owner has been allotted by the Live Stock Records.

The animal's ear should be clean and free of wax before it is tattooed. The tattoo should be placed parallel to and in between the heavy ear ribs. It should also be well inside the hair line. The puncture marks should be rubbed with a fine bristled brush which has been dipped in tattooing ink or paste. The ink or paste should be of good quality, furthermore frozen material should not be used.

It is a good idea to try the tattoo on a piece of cardboard before tattooing the calf so that you can be sure that it reads correctly.

WINTER CULTURE FOR HOUSE PLANTS

Healthy house plants will be the result this winter if the advice of P. D. McCalla, Alberta's Supervisor of Horticulture is followed. Extra care and attention will ensure success. Plants get their food from the air as well as from the soil so put them where they can draw enough sunlight for chlorophyll manufacture during the short winter days. A southern exposure is best. Temperature and humidity will have to be watched too. Plants favor a temperature of 60 to 65 degrees which is too low for most households in the winter. However, if temperatures are lowered at night plants will not suffer too much. Filled radiator trays, evaporator cans, etc., will take care of the humidity.

Water thoroughly once or twice a week until the water drains from the outlet provided. Removal of old leaves, seed pods and wilted flowers will help to keep insects and disease away. For additional food, especially needed during flowering, use a monthly application of fertilizer or other plant food in quantities specified on the container.

FARM MANAGEMENT

Answer: Due to the number of farmers involved it is impossible to carry on farm management with the individual farmer. The principles are taught in a group with the benefit of group thinking and the individual farmer applies these principles to his farm.

A LOAF OF GOOD BREAD

A loaf of good bread will have good volume. A too-compact loaf will be heavy for its size indicating that the dough was not given a long enough rising period. Poor volume may also result from too much heat applied in some stage of the rising. The original yeast solution may have been too warm or the dough was set to rise under conditions which were too warm.

COLOR OF THE LOAF

The top crust should go golden brown in color. The side and bottom crusts should be slightly lighter in color but still an even golden brown. The crust should be of medium thickness.

The appearance of the interior of the loaf will vary depending on the kind of flour, liquid, sugar and other ingredients used. There should be no light or dark streaks.

TEXTURE

When the loaf is cut, rub your fingers over the interior. It should feel soft and elastic, with no crumbling taking place. The small cells which form the body of the loaf should be small, thin-walled and elongated in shape.

FLAVOR

Just as proof of the pudding is in the eating, so is the proof of a good loaf of bread in the melt in the mouth quality for those [illegible] it. A sweet, nutty flavor is characteristic of most properly baked products.

CAUSES OF FAILURE

A dry textured loaf of poor volume results from too much flour. Excessive salt prevents the development of the yeast.

Too much sugar is not desirable for the same reason. A flat-tened loaf, with [illegible] may result from too lengthy a rising period. The [illegible] not be allowed to [illegible] than double its original [illegible]

In Search of Physical Fitness

By Becky Jankeville,
Supervisor of Recreation, Vermilion School of Agriculture

Are we content to be merely free of sickness — or do we wish to be truly healthy? Instead of answering "Not so bad," when someone asks how we feel, wouldn't we like to reply with an enthusiastic "Great!"?

ON RECREATION

Most of us are well acquainted with the toll of sickness; the serious, sometimes tragic consequences of neglect of physical care, the dreariness of being only half well. Let us try to think in terms of being positively completely fit.

Business men are among the world's worst, in the neglect of personal fitness. They may be able administrators, men well informed concerning the operations of their companies, but they tend to be careless in regard to their own fitness.

We no longer believe that disease comes as the result of angering pagan gods, or that it is carried on the night wind, or that it can be cured by blood-letting. However, in spite of our advanced science and knowledge, what are we doing to stay well?

Certainly we pay taxes which contribute to the services of public health safety guards. But this cannot do everything for us. We have to do a little bit ourselves.

A SHOCKING REPORT

The art of healthful living is not being practised by people in North America today.

Dr. Hans Kraus, of the Institute of Rehabilitation, New York University, and Miss Ruth Prudden, of the Institute of Physical Fitness, of White Plains, New York, recently stated that the United States and Canada are rapidly becoming the softest nations in the world.

Here are some facts revealed by Dr. Kraus:

Fifty-eight per cent of Canadian and American children tested for muscular strength and flexibility failed, while only 9% of the European children tested failed.

It need not startle us that the [illegible] continent, boasting the highest standard of living in the world, measure up so unfavorably against children of poorer countries, in a simple test of muscular efficiency, stamina and endurance. What is to blame?

Every time we turn around some mechanical contrivance is doing our work for us.

Transportation deprives us of important exercises. Our children are driven everywhere — to school, to shops, to recreation areas, and even their week ends are spent driving around in cars.

We cannot as a group go off on cross-country hikes without finding the majority exhausted. On the other hand, in Switzerland, Italy and Austria, for example, "girls" go on cross country races, they folk dance, and can "work" all day without losing their breath.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

No one suggests that we turn back the clock, so as to provide the exercises [illegible] by chores no longer necessary. Getting water, carrying wood, or running all over the pasture to bring home the cows for milking, or running errands (now attended to by telephone) or a hundred other chores that were done as a matter of course by young people. Certainly we should recognize the new inventions as modern advancement. But we should also recognize the need and the importance of other more practical means of deriving beneficial exercise toward body development and fitness.

In the small communities and schools we have occasion to see spectator sports aplenty, but only a few participate. Only the players, their replacements, and the cheerleaders are getting any muscular exercise — the rest are admirers exercising nothing but their vocal cords.

A well planned recreation program would include a wide variety of popular and proven activities and skills.

Just because we have playgrounds and other types and forms of equipment that is not enough. Participation should be required of every child and adult, just as strictly as attendance in academic classes.

It is fine to have a group picked out of a thousand to represent their locality in a championship match, but it is more important to have 90% of that locality participating in some kind of activity beneficial to themselves as well as to the others.

LET'S GET OUT OF OUR SEATS!

We Canadians are a nation of riders and spectators, not walkers or active physical participants.

We sit at our desks all day, in schools or offices. We sit on the bus or train to and from those schools or offices, if it be a mile or a hundred yards. We sit and watch TV all evening. We sit in the stadium at hockey [illegible], we sit in the bleachers [illegible] games, we even sit on the beaches watching other people swim.

At this rate I feel that in another twenty years there won't be any more beds manufactured. We may as well sleep like that too.

INDIVIDUAL FITNESS

All of us can increase our physical fitness if we just aim at a worthwhile target.

In the everyday work field, such a state of well-being would have better effects on our job opportunities. It would give us emotional stability and social adequacy.

THE CHALLENGE OF A LIFETIME

This is an individual challenge to today's adult people — to adjust their bodies to the changing conditions of modern living, to keep themselves in the reasonably good condition necessary to handle peak loads.

Those of us who push on, constantly trying to better our physical condition, gain a rich reward. Instead of raising gravestones to mark the spot where noble enterprises and great hopes perished, for the lack of physical vigor to embody them in deeds, the wise person will rejoice in the strength to do his work and achieve happiness.

On a per capita basis Canadians produce one-quarter fewer goods and services than do U.S. citizens. With things in this state there can be no equality of Canadian and American wages.

Rev. Andrews Gives Armistice Address at Mannville Observance

MANNVILLE. — Meeting at the Legion hall members of the Canadian Legion and their Auxiliary paraded to the cenotaph where an impressive wreath-laying ceremony took place. Despite the cold day many braved the elements to attend. Suitable sentences were spoken by members of the Legion, the Last Post sounded and two minutes' silence observed.

Those laying wreaths at the cenotaph were: Lloyd Bee for Canadian Legion, Branch No. 38; Nancy Coxford, Ladies' Auxiliary; Mrs. E. J. Lugg, Motherhood of Canada; Ralph Rudd, Provincial Command; Phyllis Jackson, Provincial Auxiliary; Chas. Blackford, Province of Alberta; A. Minter, Village of Minburn; A. E. Williams, Village of Mannville.

Following this ceremony all proceeded to the Alta [illegible] for the service where Rev. Harry Shell read the scripture sentences and call to worship, and Rev. Frank Andrews delivered a stirring address.

Taking as his text "What Mean Ye By These Stones?" from the 4th chapter of Joshua, Mr. Andrews said we, as a people, have a right to look back in Remembrance, on the war dead, saying, "Greater love hath no man than they who lay down their lives for their country . . . but, we should learn how to remember. Remembrance must mean consecration . . . their sacrifice is as nothing so long as there are men who keep anger kindled against one another".

Referring to the recent situation in Little Rock, Mr. Andrews reminded the congregation that while people spoke freely of blood pouring down those streets, they had forgotten men lying in graves marked only by white crosses were black as well as white - side by side. "We shall remember them, in Christ's presence", said Mr. Andrews. Choirs of the United and Anglican churches were in attendance.

Floodlights over the cenotaph at night added a solemn touch to Remembrance day.

SQUARE NOTES
From Circle 8

Hi Square Dancers, new and old! We are proud to say that our newest members are mastering the technique very quickly and will be finished their twelve lessons before the end of the month.

On Nov. 7, fourteen of our club members attended the Jamboree at the Cold Lake air base. We were all guests at private homes so we made a whole week end of it. Lunch was served at 11:30 p.m. for the unfortunate ones who were unable to remain over night and then dancing continued until 4 a.m. Many were 'square up' again at 10 a.m. and it was 4 p.m. before the last 'Die Hard' ones had had their fill of square dancing. Those coming from the greatest distance some 265 miles, were from Saskatchewan. Those who had the time enjoyed a personally conducted tour around the base before departing.

Ken Waring did a very fine job calling at our dance on Friday, Nov. 13. Although it was [illegible] we had visitors from Albert and Islay. Vance Shippy took our friendship plaque home to Albert and it will be offered at their next dance, Nov. 20.

Our next regular dance will be on Friday, Nov. 27 at Dewtell with Johnny Maxwell calling. As a special treat, Herb Hannah from Lloydminster has agreed to show us the whole square dance film which he took at a local jamboree in May. If you've never seen your friends or yourself in the movies turn out on Nov. 27 and you surely will.

Derwent Farmer Sentenced Ten Years For Manslaughter

Mike Kwasnycia, 50-year-old Derwent district farmer charged with murdering his neighbor during a dispute over a line fence, was found guilty of manslaughter Thursday.

A six-man jury deliberated for 40 minutes in Supreme Court here before bringing in its verdict. Mr. Justice J. V. H. Milvain sentenced Kwasnycia to 10 years in the penitentiary.

"Thank you sir," were the only words the accused spoke at the end of the trial which had lasted four days.

Kwasnycia was convicted in the killing of Steven Jacula, a neighbor with whom he had argued for many years over fencing between their properties. In the shooting near Derwent May 11, Jacula's son Marshal was wounded in the left shoulder. Kwasnycia pleaded guilty to attempted murder in that shooting and was given a three-year concurrent sentence.

Mr. Justice Milvain, in his 90 minute charge, told the jury they could bring in a verdict of guilty of murder, guilty of manslaughter or not guilty. When the foreman pronounced the manslaughter verdict, Mr. Justice Milvain said: "I agree with the verdict. You are to be thanked for the time you have given in this difficult case."

Evidence showed that for many years the two families have lived side by side. In 1952 a power line was built in the area through fields, and did not follow fences which up to this time had been used to divide the various farms.

This spring, after Kwasycia had purchased a quarter of land directly north of Jacula's farm, Marshal Jacula began moving his fence 130 feet north into the land acquired by Kwasnycia. It was Jacula's contention that the power line survey showed the correct location of the fence.

Kwasnycia disagreed. When Jacula built the fence, it cut off Kwasnycia's access to the new land forcing him to travel three miles on the road to reach the quarter only a short distance from his home. Another point of dispute was a north-south fence which did not meet, leaving a 22-foot gap which Kwasnycia used to reach his field.

On the day of the shooting the Jaculas were building fences when Kwasnycia and his son Bennie went to the scene. Bennie Kwasnycia claimed that during a heated discussion, Marshal began threatening his father with a hammer and was egged on by Mr. Jacula who told Marshal to chase them away. Bennie said his father shot Marshal in the shoulder and then shot Jacula as he ran away.

EVIDENCE CONFLICTED

Marshal's evidence conflicted with Bennie's. He claimed he did not have a hammer and did not threaten Kwasnycia. He said that after he was shot he saw Kwasnycia chase his father into a field, fire his rifle once causing his father to fall, and then, standing almost over him, shoot Jacula through the head.

Following the shooting, Kwasnycia went to the RCMP detachment in Derwent and surrendered.

Defence counsel were Frank Dunne and Terry Nugent. In his address to the jury, Mr. Nugent said they should seriously consider self defence and provocation in the case. He pointed out that for many years the fences were left alone, then when Kwasnycia bought new land from John Jacula, a brother of the deceased, Marshal began moving fences.

"It wasn't until this sale of land that the real trouble started," Mr. Nugent said. "Marshal was determined he was going to take possession of what was really never regarded as his."

CHASED BY BULLY

Mr. Nugent said provocation and self defence entered into the case when Kwasnycia ". . . didn't like being chased by a bully with a hammer. He was a peaceable citizen standing up for his rights against a man used to pushing people around."

Mr. Nugent said that Kwasnycia was pushed beyond his limit and the shooting was the culmination of the trouble. "Kwasnycia doesn't say his actions were right, he says they are understandable," said Mr. Nugent.

Jack Shortreed, crown prosecutor told the jury that Kwasnycia's story to the police about Marshal threatening him with a hammer and the deceased "coming at him," was a "hoped for" [illegible].

Mr. Shortreed said the Jaculas went to the police and a lawyer to have the trouble settled. "That's the way it should be in democracy. Not the accused, he takes the law into his own hands and shoots. Democracy has gone a long way when a man can shoot a fellow human being over a fence dispute."

SEEKING ADVANTAGES

Mr. Justice Milvain said that ". . . there are too many people seeking the advantages and benefits of our society without being ready to perform their duties," as he addressed the jury about jury duty.

He warned them that the fact that the accused was in the prisoner's box throughout the trial and in custody was in no way indicative of his guilt or innocence. "Our whole legal system is based on the theory he is innocent until proven guilty. There is, in fact, a legal presumption of innocence."

He further informed the jury that ". . . whatever penalty follows the verdict you bring is not your concern."

During the trial Thursday Mr. Justice Milvain paused momentarily to extend best wishes to a juror whose birthday it was.

He and Mr. Shortreed also praised court clerk and sheriff Harry Sakaluk for his work during the trial.

Jehovah's Witnesses Plan Assembly In Vermilion Nov. 27th to 29th

Mr. Don Strong, a full-time minister in the Vermilion congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been named one of the speakers on the program for the semi-annual circuit assembly to be held in the Elk's Hall, Vermilion, the week end of November 27-29.

Mr. Strong, who with his wife moved to Vermilion from Edmonton just a few weeks ago, will speak for 15 minutes on Friday evening, considering the theme, "Being Trained for Your Upbuilding — By Spending More Time in the Ministry."

"Approximately 250 ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses from congregations located at Andrew, Ashmont, Clandonald, Grand Centre, Newbrook, Star, Vegreville, Vermilion and Wainwright will attend the three day meeting," local presiding and convention manager Abe Friesen announced.

Other features of the conference will include a baptism ceremony Saturday afternoon for newly dedicated ministers. According to Mr. Friesen, this is a regular feature of each circuit assembly. "Water immersion, as in the case of Jesus," explained Mr. Friesen, "is a symbol of a personal dedication to the service of God."

On Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, a special feature will be the showing of an hour and a quarter long colored film, "Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses." In commenting on this film which was produced by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society the local minister stated, "The public press, television and other news channels gave world wide attention to this assembly during the summer of 1958, acclaiming it as the world's largest Christian convention. For eight days it packed out both Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City. A quarter of a million delegates from 123 lands were present at the climax of the event to hear Nathan H. Knorr, Watch Tower president, speak on the subject, 'God's Kingdom Rules — Is the World's End Near?'"

Highlight of the Vermilion convention takes place Sunday afternoon when Charles Hepworth, District Supervisor from Toronto, speaks on the topic, "When Is God's Will To Be Done On Earth?" The public is especially invited to attend the film showing Saturday night and the public address on Sunday.

The theme of the assembly is "Do the Divine Will." In keeping with this, "affirmed Mr. Friesen, "all ministers attending the gathering will be encouraged to share in the door-to-door ministry during the assembly."

"One thing we want to emphasize," stressed Mr. Friesen, "is that every session from Friday evening until the concluding discourse Sunday afternoon, is open to the public. We warmly welcome all people to be our guests for there is no admission charge and no collections are taken."

Meeting Cancelled

The meeting to hear Mrs. Winnifred Stewart, head of public relations work for the provincial association for Retarded Children scheduled for this Friday evening has been cancelled due to unforeseen circumstances.

Conscience Clear: 36-year Debt Paid

WINNIPEG — A former resident of McCreary, Man. is now living with a clear conscience, assured that her long-standing debt with the CNR has been paid and the wish of her deceased husband fulfilled.

The lady paid $28.00 to the CNR agent at McCreary to cover a rail trip made in 1923 by her eight year-old child from an Eastern Ontario town to Winnipeg. The parents at the time did not have enough money to pay for the child's passage but they agreed to pay the CNR when they could afford to do so.

The deceased husband, unable to make the payment before his death, requested his wife to keep the trust.

NEWS from ISLAY

On Sunday at 9:30 a.m. the commissioning service for the visitation teams was conducted by Rev. Geo. Young of Alberta College, who is field secretary of Christian Education in Alberta. There was a good attendance.

Are there any men who would like to join the choir of the United Church? Mrs. Lila Waterfield is leader and has held the first meeting. Men, just come, you'll enjoy the singing. The choir is preparing for Christmas.

CN Bookings Heavy For Grey Cup Game

WINNIPEG — Hundreds of western football fans, who would like nothing better than to keep the Grey Cup in the west for another year have already made their reservations to be at the big game in Toronto on November 28, F. N. McKenzie, passenger traffic manager for the CNR has reported.

Mr. McKenzie said the heavy number of advance reservations was largely due to the special Grey Cup fares as well as the CNR's new low-cost economy fares which will be in effect from November 23 to 27 from any western point. These special tickets will be valid up to 30 days for the return trip.

The CNR's all-inclusive plans for individual and group travel also will be applicable for this major sports event, Mr. McKenzie concluded.

Two Football Teams Feted By Checker Transport, Elbrond Elec.

Two Vermilion business firms, Checker Transport and Elbrond and Son, were hosts on Tuesday evening to the members of Vermilion's two quite famous fastball teams, the Cardinals and the Ghosts. Both teams had run up commendable records during the ball season and the enjoyable banquet and social evening recognized the fact. In attendance were the members of the two teams, along with husbands and wives, and girl or boy friends depending on whether you were a Card or a Ghost.

Emceeing the event was Murray Miller of the Ghosts who thanked the two sponsors, Stan Jones and Arne Elbrond and son for their kindness in arranging such a wonderful evening. Murray introduced the head table guests, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Jones, Mr. Elbrond and son Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper and the umpire for the season, Mr. Irvin Gordon and Mrs. Gordon.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mr. Cooper, M.L.A. who congratulated the Cardinals on winning the zone play-off and advancing to the provincial intermediate B finals where they lost out under adverse weather conditions. The Ghosts, too, had won the eastern Alberta league title, and had annexed several large prizes at tournaments during the year. Mr. Cooper told of the importance of recreation and of the many short courses for coaches and community leaders now being sponsored by the provincial government, showing that recreation did indeed occupy a prominent place in the thoughts of provincial officials.

Speaking briefly were Mr. Stan Jones, Mr. Arne Elbrond, team manager Chas. Cawthorpe, umpire Irvin Gordon.

Edna Martin introduced the members of the Cardinals team, with Ken Brown doing the honors for the Ghosts.

Films were shown of the fair parade in Vermilion in July, also movies of some of the baseball games both teams played during the season.

Herman Reimer, coach of the Cardinals, who has been ill in Edmonton for the past three weeks, was given a warm welcome home, and was included in the list of speakers.

Checker Transport sponsors the Ghosts and supplied them with new uniforms this season. Elbrond and Son likewise add their support to the Cardinals.

The evening was a very enjoyable one and a fitting climax to active seasons by both teams.

The turkey banquet was served by the order of the Royal Purple, and received the thanks of the gathering as voiced by toastmaster Murray Miller.

Sweeping Changes In Alberta Education Are Urged By Cameron Report Filed Monday

Greatly increased emphasis on mathematics, science, reading, writing and spelling, half an hour more instruction per day, formation of a Master Teacher group, permanent certification only of teachers holding degrees, higher teacher salaries, institution of community colleges, and more local autonomy — these are only a few of the suggestions contained in the Cameron Commission on Education, filed Monday with the Government of Alberta.

In all, 28 recommendations were made for the improvement of education in Alberta by the members of the commission, who spent something in excess of 300 days in its preparation, over a period of the last 22 months.

Termed by Premier Manning as the most comprehensive survey of education ever made in this country the report embraces 310 pages, with a minority report filed by one member of 200 pages.

Six copies were released by Premier Manning on Thursday morning, one copy of which was received by a special committee of the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association. The manuscript is in the process of being printed and copies will be released to the general public in probably three weeks, Mr. Manning said.

The Premier said there would probably not be time to give the report sufficient study to introduce any legislation from it at the next session. He announced the session would open Feb. 11th.

One of the chief recommendations of the report is the upgrading of teacher qualifications to a minimum of four years of training for permanent certification. According to Dr. Mowat, deputy chairman of the Commission, this was the focal point of the report. Dr. Mowat pointed out that the quality of the entire education system was based on the capabilities and training of the teachers involved.

Up to four increments could also be paid for meritorious service.

The upgrading suggested would range over a period to 1971, progressing in steps, and would see teachers reach maximum salary in six increments. Provision was suggested for the inclusion of a new Master Teacher group, comprising from one to five per cent of the entire teacher force. Extra salary of $2,000 per year would be paid to such teachers.

The suggested upgrading would not affect permanent certificates already in force, the Commission pointed out. In an interview, but the salary emphasis on increased qualifications would encourage more teachers to qualify they felt.

Mrs. Taylor however, felt that the recommendation for community colleges was a major break-through for rural youth. The development of present-day agricultural colleges into centres offering vocational, agricultural, and trades training offered a new horizon for farm young people. During later questioning it was suggested there should be at least half a dozen such centres, designed to fill the gap after leaving high school, for students who are technically inclined.

The report contains several recommendations urging increased attention and time for reading at all grades, spelling, mathematics generally, legible handwriting, sciences, and physical fitness. It goes on to urge the adoption of an achievement test for students leaving school at any level before Grade 12, based on communication and computation skills.

ACCREDITED SCHOOLS

A central feature of the suggestion is for accredited schools. These would be accredited by the Department of Education, and come up to certain staff and equipment standards. Such schools would be allowed wide latitude in the handling of the course of studies, though, of course at least the basic curriculum would be covered.

EXAMS FOR GRADES 10 & 11

The report recommends the continuance of Departmental Examinations in Grades 9 and 12 and the re-instatement of such examinations in Grades 10 and 11 in schools not accredited. Accredited schools would handle the tests themselves.

LOCAL AUTHORITY

Wider local authority is urged in the report including the appointment of superintendents by the local governing board, rather than by the Department as at present. It is suggested the superintendent is often placed in in the position of trying to serve two masters, which would be avoided if he were locally appointed.

EMPHASIS ON GUIDANCE

Greatly increased emphasis on guidance and remedial instruction is urged in the report, which suggests the adoption of regional offices in rural areas, to extend these services to districts which could not afford their own. Such zones might be similar to the areas now covered by high school inspectors or the zones of the Alberta School Trustees Association.

The committee suggested that students in Grade 11 and 12 be urged to adopt one major area of study, on which they should spend at least 40 per cent of their time. It was also recommended that achievement at the Grade 9 level should be used more rigorously to determine the courses to be undertaken in Senior High School.

LONGER SCHOOL HOURS

Junior High School hours would be increased from 300 minutes to 330 minutes per day, and Senior High School to a minimum of 360 minutes per day, under Commission suggestions. Additionally, it is suggested that the time for 5-credit courses be increased from 175 minutes per week to 225 minutes per week.

Final suggestion of the group is that the Legislature establish an Alberta Educational Planning Commission at the earliest possibility.

The commission was headed by Senator Donald Cameron, Dr. G. L. Mowat, Mrs. D. A. Hanson, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, John S. Cormack and Norman W. Douglas. Secretary was Dr. R. E. Rees.

Missionary From Africa At W.M.S.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of First United church was held on Nov. 12. Mrs. M. Hill presided, assisted by Mrs. C. Barr, convener of the Devotional committee. Routine business was conducted and committees were appointed. The meeting was closed early in order that all members present might have the opportunity to hear Mrs. Johnson, a United Church missionary from the Copperbelt of Northern Rhodesia, address the afternoon meeting of the W.M.S. Presbytery.

Mrs. Johnson organized a centre in Mindola at which African women are trained for Christian home life, and she has worked with African churches in the Copperbelt since 1954.

Following her most interesting address, Mrs. Johnson showed slides taken in the missionary fields of Northern Rhodesia and also beautiful pictures of the countryside. The meeting was very well attended, members coming from all outside points. Following the address tea was served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Honor Road Foreman on Retirement

Department of Highways, Provincial Government employees from Vermilion, Viking, Minburn, Derwent and Marwayne, gathered to honor Hiram Astley on November 4th on the occasion of his retirement.

The evening party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Len Noonan was a complete surprise for Hiram and his wife. An enjoyable time was spent in sing-songs, visiting and taking pictures.

The climax of the evening's entertainment was the entry of a model of a Government truck, wheeled in by Hiram's co-workers, complete with a license, truck number and realistic signs. Actually the vehicle contained a lazy-boy rocking chair to be presented as a retirement gift to Hiram. Toasts were proposed to the Astleys, and they were wished a long and happy life. It was felt that farewell was being said to a kind, honest, hard-working foreman. Both Mr. and Mrs. Astley fittingly thanked their friends for their good wishes, and for the party in their honor.

Confused Coyote Prefers the Open To Town Life

A coyote, often described as a sorry-looking spectacle, and this one answered that description, took in the town sites on Remembrance day, apparently having been flushed away from his usual haunts. He was observed by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baddock as he raced south to the Brunswick hotel. There he paused, surveyed possible routes and made haste to the C.N.R. depot then ran along the railroad track. He stopped again, took stock of surrounding territory, spied the open areas of the Athletic park and Fair grounds and headed for them . . . . apparently glad to leave the hard-surfaced streets of Vermilion behind. His appearance is just a gentle reminder that we aren't too far removed from pioneer days.

Many are being helped in the services and are being encouraged to go on in the greatest of all experiences, that of living Christ in the heart, which is the guarantee of victory, over circumstances, and all downward drags and complexes.

Quote from church officials: "Come and you will go away feeling it was good to have been here, and you will also come again, to hear more of the inspiring music, singing and preaching".

Rev. and Mrs. Greenway will be at the Alliance Tabernacle in Mannville on Nov. 20 through Nov. 29, every night, except Saturday at 8 p.m. with the Sunday services held at 3 p.m.

All I could do was just stand by God took your hand, we had to part

He eased your pain and broke my heart

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Your car will stay smart-looking lots longer if you keep the upholstery immaculate. Here is how to cope with stains that mar a well-groomed look.

Stains on rayon, wool or nylon upholstery: Sponge first with cold water. Use it sparingly, blotting with a clean cloth as you work so you don't soak the cushion. If the spot remains, try warm water with soap suds. This will usually clean nylon. If stains are stubborn on wool or rayon, rub gently with a good foaming-type cleaning fluid such as that used for rugs.

Special stains: For grease, a petroleum based cleaning fluid usually does the trick. For ice cream first use cold water and then warm soapy water. Chewing gum can be rubbed with ice until it hardens, then scraped off. All stains are easiest to remove when new.

If you have leather-type upholstery, use warm water and soap suds for stain removal and for general cleaning. Shampoo the upholstery in small areas, wiping it dry with a clean cloth as you work. Never use harsh cleaners or bleaches, which are hard on leather.

Vacuuming and brushing fabric upholstery once a month will help to protect [illegible] aging effects of road dust.

That "silvery moon" is really an unimaginative dark brown, says World Book Encyclopedia. Brown is the color of the cooled lava, volcanic glass and rocks that make up the surface of the moon.

Stay Skinny and Live.

If you want to live to a healthy, irascible old age, advises The Financial Post, the best thing to do is stay 15 to 20 pounds underweight — if you can!

It quotes from the recent findings of a U.S. actuarial study:

The death rate is 10% higher for men who tip the scales 20 pounds above average for their height and age. It shoots up to 25% for 25 pound excess and up to 75% for those carrying around an extra 50 pounds.

Sylvia Ludwig Becomes Bride Of Ostop Woyewitka

The Holy Name Roman Catholic church in Vermilion was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, October 14th, when Miss Sylvia Henriette Ludwig, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Ludwig of Vermilion, became the bride of Mr Ostap Bohdan Woyewitka, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Woyewitka of [illegible].

The Rev. Father Patsula performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar decorated with vases of white and yellow mums. He said a lovely prayer for the young couple.

White bows trimmed with silver leaves and lily-of-the-valley blossoms marked the guest pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin, featuring a bodice of Chantilly lace trimmed with sequins, styled with a sabrina neckline and lily point sleeves. Alternate tiers of Chantilly lace and tiny nylon pleated net made up the front of her skirt, while the back was of Chantilly lace fashioned from the mid-front waistline and cut away to the sides. She carried a Prayer Book decorated with roses, rosebuds and sprays of lily-of-the-valley with six white streamers cascading to tips of tiny rosebuds. Her only jewelry was a gift of the groom, pearl drop earrings.

Mrs John Wasylik, matron of honor, and three bridesmaids, Miss Lillian [illegible], Miss Lillian Woyewitka and Miss Lillian Charchun, as bridal attendants were dressed alike in colors of maize, coral, yellow and blue, each with headpieces and gloves of matching color and carrying a bouquet of carnations and lily of the valley. The little flower girl, Miss Malanda Woyewitka, wore a blue nylon dress with a blue headpiece and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations. Master Clifford Woyewitka, dressed in a white sports coat complete with white carnation boutonniere and with black trousers, carried the ring on a heart-shaped satin cushion with lace trim.

The groom was attended by Orest Woyewitka, Pete [illegible] and Frank Pidruchney. Steve Ludwig and [illegible] Woyewitka, brothers of the bride and groom, acted as ushers.

During the signing of the register, Miss Helen [illegible] played the hymn "Ave Maria." All the bride's flowers and arrangements were made by Mrs Steve Jacula of Vermilion.

[illegible] bridal procession there were three decorated cars, Orest Woyewitka driving the bride and groom, Steve [illegible] the bridesmaids and the groom's attendants and David Towell driving the parents.

A wedding reception for more than 300 guests was held in the Elks Hall in Vermilion. To receive their guests the bride's mother and the groom's mother wore identically styled dresses in pink and blue Chantilly lace over taffeta with white boleros and feather hats and gloves. Their corsages were of white and pink roses.

Master of ceremonies at the reception was Joseph Morleg, godfather of the bride. Rev. Father Patsula asked the blessing and proposed the toast to the bride.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace table cloth, centred with a large three-tiered wedding cake set between flower-decorated candles. The mothers of the bride and groom baked the cake.

Mrs John Wasylik was in charge of the guest book and served the wedding cake during the presentation. The Country Kings orchestra of Derwent supplied the dance music.

The newlyweds are making their home at the Mike Woyewitka farm, one mile east of Clayshore, occupying a new house on the farmstead.

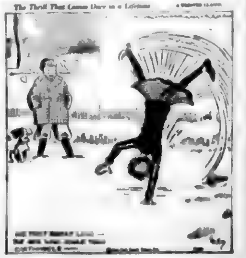
Girls Decide On Bazaar Fish Pond

MANNVILLE — The J. A. girls of the Anglican church met at the Parish Hall with their two leaders on Thursday, Nov. 12th with all but one member present. Following a worship service conducted by the president, Leslie Kreller, another chapter was read from the study book on Africa after which a short business meeting was held.

It was decided once again to have a fish pond at the annual W. A. bazaar with all donations to same gratefully accepted. Games were played and an African song was learned and enjoyed. A potluck supper was then served, each member having brought a suitable supper dish.



The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

Bazaar Projects by G. A. Completed

MANNVILLE — Girls of the Anglican G. A. met at the home of their leader on Thursday, Nov. 10th with all members present, beginning with a worship service conducted by president, Janet Laidler. Completed bazaar work was handed in, and more given out. Work on the dorcas badge was continued, and review held on previous assignment, with further work assigned by their leader. The group agreed in their business meeting to assist the church in their programme on Nov. 27 when their play is presented. Work on the new study book will commence next meeting.

Two of the girls, Gail Mercer and Dawn Kreller, during the recreation, executed a stunt which required considerable skill.

Bowtell Bulletin

Despite the bitterly cold weather last week, farmers were bravely trying to thresh and combine their crops.

The last meeting of the Leader's club was held at the home of Mrs Harrison. Betty [illegible] couldn't give a full report as she was cooking for threshers. The December meeting will be held at Mrs Robinson's. Xmas gifts will be exchanged.

Best of luck is extended to wee Shirley [illegible] who is at present in an Edmonton hospital waiting to undergo a serious heart operation this week.

Before returning to her hospital duties, Miss Maybelle Knutson enjoyed a week's vacation in Calgary.

Mr and Mrs Carr and Jack spent a few days visiting their daughter and family Mr and Mrs F Williams last week.

Mr and Mrs J Firth of Marshall spent a few days visiting the latter's sister and family Mr and Mrs Robinson before departing for their new home in Calgary. Mr and Mrs Firth sold their farm recently.

Mr and Mrs O Repp celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on November 15th.

Charlie Pierman was an Edmonton visitor on Monday.

The moon may inspire romance, but it's no place for a honeymoon. World Book Encyclopedia reports that the temperature climbs to 212 degrees, hot enough to boil water during the day, and drops to 240 below at night.

Break-In At Greenlawn Hall

Some time during the week of Oct. 18 to 24 thieves entered the Greenlawn Community hall and stole the public address system, a propane tank and a stove. Elsewhere in the columns of the Standard a reward of $50 is offered for information leading to the recovery of these articles and the apprehension of [illegible].

In a district where the community is active enough to form an association which maintains and furnishes a community hall it is discouraging to say the least that such property may be damaged or stolen by criminal marauders who seem to have no sense of property or community spirit. There are other community enterprises which have suffered similarly in the past, such as the Claysmore community hall, the buildings at the Vermilion agriculture grounds and buildings and equipment at the Vermilion provincial park.

Anyone providing information leading to the apprehension of these culprits is performing a public service, and to mention the $50 which would come in very handy at this particular time of the year.

The hardest job of all is that of finding a soft job.

Poppy Sales Success At Mannville

MANNVILLE — Mannville Legion and its auxiliary report a successful poppy campaign, and wish it to be made known they sincerely appreciate the whole-hearted response. The proceeds from the sale of poppies and wreaths are used by the Legion to assist needy veterans and their dependents and survivors of those who died in the first and second world wars and the Korean war. The poppy fund was also used extensively to help transient veterans who were seeking employment last year and this happened right here in Mannville when a number of transient veterans, strangers to this part, obtained aid here.

Dewberry Ladies' Aid Cater To Vermilion Rotary

Mrs. Alf Parsons very kindly invited the Dewberry Ladies' Aid to her home for their November meeting. There were six members, one visitor and the hostess present. The opening hymn, "Take Time to be Holy" was followed by reading from the Bible and from the Upper Room by Mrs. E. Brett.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. A report was given on the chicken supper and the Aid wishes to thank all who helped in any way either by donations or by helping. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Romanchuk for a donation of turkey for the supper.

Plans were made for the Vermilion Rotary Club dinner to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 18th, this event being catered to by the Ladies Aid. A motion was made to have the executive make up the food lists for each member.

Those who still have pie plates or other dishes not returned may get them at the church or inquire about them from Aid members.

The meeting closed with the benediction after which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held on December 3rd at the home of Mrs. E. Brett.

Vermilion W. I.

Vermilion Women's Institute held the annual pot luck supper and meeting in the kitchen of the Legion hall on Tuesday, Nov 10. Nine members and two visitors answered the roll call. Nine get well cards and 24 sick and shut-in calls were made. $5 was donated to the local Boy Scouts Association.

The 1960 list of handicrafts was read. Notice of a cancer meeting was sent to the nine other Institutes in District No. 2. It is hoped to have all the members and anyone else interested in cancer at the workshop to be held in the Legion hall at 2 p.m. Nov 26. Slides will be shown. Dinner is to follow at the United church hall at 6.30.

Plans were completed for the afternoon tea and bake sale to be held in the Legion hall Saturday Nov. 21. Draw will be made at that time for blanket and chair set.

THE FOUR ROBINSONS: BETTY, LYLE, ANNABEL AND BILLY.

Vermilion Stockman Judging At Toronto Royal Winter Fair

(Concluded from last week)

In 1932 Lyle Robinson married Miss Annabel Maxwell, a Vermilion [illegible] school teacher who was born and raised on a Nova Scotia farm. Their enthusiasm for community activities matched their capacity for farm work. They played a leading part in organizing the Claysmore Community Club. Before long the club was the focal point for district social life.

"Now, with all these cars on the farm, people go farther afield for their fun," Lyle wistfully explains the disappearance of the Claysmore Community Club.

Mrs. Robinson has been active in church circles for many years, and her husband just recently resigned as an elder of Vermilion United Church after 19 years in office. In addition to local leadership, Lyle has been president of the Alberta Shorthorn Breeders' Association and a director of the Canadian Shorthorn Breeders' Association.

The Robinson children, Billy, 19, and Betty, 17, take an active part in farming operations. Both came up through the ranks of local 4-H and conducted numerous farm projects. Their fat calf entries in open livestock shows have frequently won class and show championships.

Billy Robinson has the same mettle as his father, recently taking over the farm's management while Lyle was laid up in bed with leg trouble. The responsibility was not a small one, coming during midsummer with its full work schedule. However Lyle had no doubts that Billy could handle the job. "He is a natural on the farm, and even more so around livestock."

The father-and-son team think along common lines. Billy, too, attended the Vermilion School of Agriculture. He graduated in 1959, winning the same scholarship in livestock judging that his father won on graduation in 1927. "Naturally the course has been changed since my days, and that boy is just full of new ideas," comments Lyle.

An innovation on the farm this year is an arc welder, whose use Billy learned in his winters in the Vermilion School of Agriculture. New uses are constantly found for electricity, born of Billy's experimenting.

"When I poke around the country, I notice that community leaders are invariably those kids who have been to (agricultural) college," is the way Lyle Robinson stresses his faith in vocational training.

A trim farmstead, well treed and well cared for, bespeaks the good husbandry practiced on the Robinson lands and cattle. Small pastures and paddocks surrounding the farmstead blend into gently waving fields of grain over the rolling acres. Barley and oats grown for grain feed are the principal crops. An average of 80 acres of wheat is grown each year as a cash crop. Most of the farm's fodder supplies come from the home-grown brome and alfalfa. As a rule, one winter's supply of hay and grain is kept in reserve.

The Shorthorn herd usually numbers about 80 head. One animal in the herd still carries the "Miss Ramsden" blood line established by Lyle's father. Some 25 to 30 head are descended from the Belle line, based on a heifer purchased from a neighbor, Jack Tucker, in 1922. Rigid culling is practiced, backed by years of observation on the mating qualities of certain blood lines. Feeding trials begun last year on the farm are hoped to be expanded into record-performance scale in coming years.

With an average calf crop, the farm sells about 10 breeding bulls and up to a dozen heifers a year. Most of the bulls fetch a price in the 4-figure bracket, a sound bulwark against crop failure.

"I guess that in a small way I've fulfilled the predictions made by my classmates in 1927," is the modest way Lyle Robinson sums up his career as an outstanding cattle breeder.

Agriculture School Students Win United Grain Growers' Bursaries

Anthony G. Nichols of Castor and David R. Keith of Bon Accord, have been named winners of United Grain Growers bursaries, it has been announced by J. E. Hawker, Superintendent of Schools of Agriculture for the Province of Alberta, following a meeting of the awards committee.

The award for attendance at the Olds School of Agriculture goes to 18-year-old Anthony, son of Mr and Mrs Charles Nichols, who will take a two-in-one course in agriculture.

David Keith, 17, has been named to receive the U. G. G. bursary to attend the Vermilion School of Agriculture. For the past three years David has taken an active part in 4-H Club work and as a member of the St. Albert Namao Calf club last year showed the Reserve Champion calf. He also won awards for efficiency, judging and feeding records. This year he had the best groomed calf. David also has been active in the Air Force cadets.

Both boys live on farms and intend to make agriculture their life occupation. They have commenced the course for the current year.

— (Author's Name Below) —

About fifty years after the birth of Christ, Pliny, the elder, warned of the danger of obtaining medicines from unreliable sources or people whose only interest in their sale was the profit to be made. He explained that physicians trust druggists who have a professional reputation to cherish, preserve.

There have always been some thoughtless or money hungry people attempting to sell medicines — even though they have no knowledge of the problems involved. The simplest medicine requires proper cautions against possible dangerous misuse. We pharmacists have the knowledge to protect you.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Is First Province To Outlaw Trading Stamps

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — It didn't take long for things to start happening last week once the provincial government decided to go ahead with regulations to outlaw trading stamps and retail store "bonus gimmicks."

The regulations were approved by cabinet Tuesday and the ministerial order went out Wednesday under the signature of Industry and Development Minister Russell Patrick.

Initial reaction from the grocery store chains giving stamps and bonuses indicated they would go right ahead with the schemes and test the government's regulations if necessary.

But by week's end after talks with Mr Patrick four grocery chains had decided to abandon their premium offers. Loblaw Groceteria Co Ltd., Independent Grocers Alliance, Jenkins Groceterias Ltd. and Tom Boy Stores Ltd. announced that stamps and premium offers would be discontinued at the close of business Saturday, Nov. 6.

It amounts to a major victory for the Alberta government, which, incidentally, became the first provincial administration to act independently to stamp out trading stamps. The story of the new regulations got big play in newspapers across Canada.

There were several factors which led the retail stores to decide against defying government regulations.

Probably the main consideration was the risk of losing their licences if they continued to offer premiums. As soon as the regulations came out they underwent study by legal counsel for the stores and the lawyers have apparently decided the government action is airtight.

There is suspicion that the re[illegible] caught unprepared for action under a provincial statute. Before they introduced stamp schemes, the stores had their lawyers check the legality under the Criminal Code. But it's quite possible they didn't know the Alberta government had power to act independently under provisions of the Licensing of Trades and Businesses Act. So far as is known here no other provinces have similar power.

The store chain management may also have been surprised at public reaction to the government move. Russ Patrick says the letters and telegrams which poured in were overwhelming in their support of the government action.

He said he received numerous letters from independent grocers in the smaller towns and cities who want no part of stamp schemes. Support also came from the Farm Women's Union of Alberta and the Farmers' Union of Alberta.

With the passage of the new regulations, merchants once again are on an equal footing when it comes to competition. In addition to banning stamps, the regulations outlaw all retail giveaway gimmicks. The only exception is the giveaway promotion held in connection with the opening of a new store, and that is restricted to seven days.

So if retailers want to compete to attract customers they'll be restricted to cutting prices to help keep down the high cost of living and the average consumer isn't very likely to complain about that.

GRANT ANOTHER INCREASE

The Alberta board of public utilities last week granted a natural gas rates increase to Northwestern Utilities Ltd.

The immediate effect will be an increase of about $5 a year for thousands of consumers not only in Edmonton but in many other parts of Alberta served by Northwestern. But even more significant was the reason behind the rate increase and what it means to gas rates in future.

CLAIM COMPETITION CAUSE OF INCREASE

Northwestern claimed it needed the increase to meet extra expenses involved in buying oilfield residue gas to resell to its customers. Bruce F Willson Northwestern executive vice-president, indicated in his testimony that the company will be buying more oilfield gas in time to come.

And, he warned that Northwestern probably will have to pay higher prices for it because the gas company will be in competition with firms bidding for gas to export from the province. "We're going to have to compete," he said.

So it would seem fairly clear that large-scale export of natural gas will have the effect of increasing domestic prices as well. Opponents of gas export have [illegible] the case. The provincial government on the other hand, claimed when gas export was first proposed that it would have no effect on domestic prices. So, as it has been for the past several years, gas export and domestic rates probably will be a major issue during the coming session of the Legislature.

FARM DRYING OF GRAIN
The drying of damp grain calls for extreme care and a full understanding of all the factors involved. Improper drying of wheat can seriously affect the breadmaking potentialities of the grain. Those operating grain driers are urged to submit samples, taken before and after drying, for testing by the Grain Research Laboratory, Winnipeg. SLOW DOWN AND LIVE—THIS WINTER

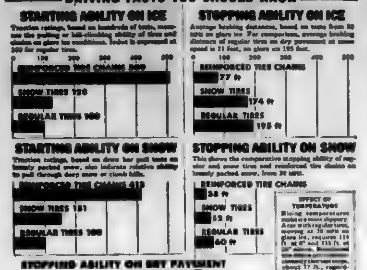
DRIVING FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW



STARTING ABILITY ON ICE

Traction ratings, based on hundreds of tests, measure the pulling or hill-climbing ability of tires and chains on glare ice conditions. Index is expressed at 100 for regular tires.

STOPPING ABILITY ON ICE

Average braking distances, based on tests from 20 mph on glare ice. For comparison, average braking distance of regular tires on dry pavement at same speed is 21 feet, on glare ice 195 feet.

STARTING ABILITY ON SNOW

Traction ratings, based on draw bar pull tests on loosely packed snow, also indicate relative ability to pull through deep snow or climb hills.

STOPPING ABILITY ON SNOW

This shows the comparative stopping ability of regular and snow tires and reinforced tire chains on loosely packed snow, from 20 mph.

EFFECT OF TEMPERATURE

Rising temperatures make ice more slippery. A car with regular tires, moving at 20 mph on glare ice, requires 114 ft at 0° and 235 ft. at [illegible] ... [illegible] distinctly shortest stops, about 77 ft., regardless of temperatures.

STOPPING ABILITY ON DRY PAVEMENT

Above charts, provided by THE ALBERTA SAFETY COUNCIL, illustrate test results by National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. For each "braking distance" above you must add 22 feet, which is distance traveled during average "reaction time" needed to think and get your foot on brake after seeing a reason to stop. Skidding and reduced visibility are the major added hazards of winter. Can you see and stop in time? Are your windshield wiper blades giving clear, streak-free visibility? Does your defroster work?

The Real Secret Of SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGE

Advice on how to be happily married was never so freely available as it is today.
Marriage problems are openly discussed in newspaper columns and on the radio. Marriage advice is available from the man next door who speaks from experience . . . and from the psychologist, whose views come from study and research. There is no topic . . . from etiquette to fidelity . . . on which advice and counsel are not available.
Yet with all this marriage education, the modern divorce rate continues at an appalling high!
This condition obviously is not due to ignorance of the so-called "facts of life." It cannot be attributed to economic problems, for good times have been repeatedly marked by a high divorce rate. Nor can it be blamed on the excuse of personal "incompatibility," which so often appears in divorce petitions.
These and other practical problems undoubtedly contribute to marriage conflicts. But the basic, fundamental cause of marriage failures goes deeper. It is the failure of many people to realize the true meaning of marriage . . . to recognize that it is a life-long union of a man and a woman . . . to see that its main purpose is the begetting and rearing of children.
In Catholic eyes, marriage is, first of all, a contract which . . . as with all contracts . . . must be governed by justice. A purely sentimental and physical attraction between a man and a woman, which is not permeated by a sense of duty to each other and to God, is not the love upon which enduring homes are built.
But the Catholic Church teaches that marriage must be what God meant it to be . . . and He made it not only a contract — but a Sacrament.
When the marriage of a man and woman is a Sacrament, they receive title to all the divine helps necessary to overcome the disappointments and difficulties of domestic life. They are thus better able to overcome personality differences . . . better able to deal justly with each other . . . better able to understand the many practical problems of living together.
Marriage is not a strictly private affair. It is the concern of the whole community. It is the special concern of the Church, which is charged with safeguarding this Sacrament. That is why the Catholic Church strives to impress the true nature of marriage upon all who [illegible]

FACTS ABOUT MENTAL ILLNESS

By G A Roberts, M. D., McGill University

For many years the Health League of Canada has been primarily concerned with the preservation of health and the prevention of disease rather than its treatment. It is hoped that this article will help to bring about an increased understanding of mental illness and the steps necessary for the development of programs leading to its prevention.

It is, unfortunately, much easier to recognize mental illness and to gain an understanding of its treatment than to appreciate the factors which may contribute to its cause and which may be modified so as to prevent its occurrence. It is quite possible particularly as our knowledge of [illegible] to develop a picture of the signs and symptoms of a physical illness the presence of which in an individual indicates the existence of a pathological process.

Even in the physical field however the standards of good health are much less well established although it is possible to say that the physical signs and symptoms of an illness are absent and that the person's height, weight and exercise tolerance are within what we consider to be normal limits.

To gain an appreciation of mental illness and its prevention and treatment one must first of all realize that much of the symptom picture can only be understood in terms of the individual's family, social and cultural background. In other words, what is healthy in one society may be quite unhealthy in another, and behaviour which can be tolerated in one family would be considered quite unusual and an indication of mental illness if it occurred in another family.

While there are certain gains resulting from the tendency to refer to mental illness as though it was a single disease, this tendency has probably [illegible] a great deal of confusion in the minds of the public insofar as a proper understanding of treatment, cause and prevention are concerned. While not attempting to clarify this statement in detail, it is necessary to emphasize that the term "mental illness" covers a wide variety of disease entities which are not closely related so far as etiology is concerned.

For example, there are the organic conditions, the functional psychoses, the neuroses, personality disorders, epilepsy and mental deficiency. The treatment measures required vary widely and if progress is to be made in the prevention of these conditions many specific measures will have to be undertaken.

For many years syphilis of the central nervous system which when it affects the brain is known as general paresis accounted for 5% of the patients in mental hospitals. The introduction of more adequate treatment for syphilis, particularly penicillin therapy, has produced a dramatic reduction in the occurrence of this disease and it is now almost impossible to find new cases of general paresis being admitted to hospital. This is an example of how the effective treatment of a physical disease can produce a change in the occurrence of a severe progressive mental illness. There are other similar examples, such as mental illness associated with pellagra and other dietary deficiency diseases. At the present time, however, there are no such specific measures available for the prevention of functional psychoses and the neuroses.

LONG NEGLECTED

The mentally retarded have long been a neglected group; very little has been done to provide adequate services for their care and relatively nothing in the way of research to gain an understanding of the causes of or effective treatment for these conditions. It is now quite apparent that mental deficiency can have many causes, and there are reasons to hope for measures which will prevent mental deficiency in many cases if present research efforts are expanded and carried forward. There are also indications that properly supported programs for the training of persons with mental retardation will enable many of them to find a satisfactory role for themselves in life and that they will be able to have a considerable degree of independence thereby reducing the suffering of their families and the costs to the community of their care. We will not dwell on this subject at length but it does seem desirable to indicate a need for the community to support these programs for the mentally retarded and particularly to provide funds for expanded research activities. It is generally held that at least three persons in every two thousand of the population are so severely retarded as to be completely dependent and even though sufficient institutional services for their care might be provided, this would be a most unsatisfactory solution unless these services were supported by adequate research programs with the hope of ultimate prevention of these conditions.

Foresters Advised Of Important Meet

The members of the Vermilion Foresters are extremely grateful to all who in any way contributed to the success of the raffle benefit fund for their polio stricken member, Newt Cooper.

The sum of $319 was realized, and a cheque for $294 was handed to Mrs. Cooper at the K. of C. bingo Saturday night. The draw for the hamper was won by the Vermilion Standard Ltd., which firm generously turned this amount over to Mrs. Cooper.

All Foresters are advised that there is an important meeting this coming Tuesday, Dec. 1, and that nomination and election of officers for the coming year will take place at that time. Be sure and attend. Let your voice be heard, nominating your choice for court officers. Remember, you are an important part of your organization.

Plan Deep Tests In Vermilion Area

The Crusade Petroleum Corporation Limited has acquired a one-third interest in nearly 80,000 acres of the Vermilion area, 120 miles east of Edmonton, covering oil and natural gas reservations.

Two deep test wells will be drilled on each side of the block. Calstan-Vermilion, a 3,300 foot Cambrian test is now drilling and another well, a 4,000-foot Cambrian test will be drilled.

As well as the discovery of the natural gas reserves in the two reservations, there are good prospects of light crude oil in the Basal quartz and crude oil and natural gas in one or more Devonian formations.

Council Hears Plans For Chronic Hospital At Lloydminster

The regular meeting of the council, town of Vermilion, was held on Monday, November 16th, with Mayor Hill and councillors C. T. Heckbert, R. J. Ireland, A. R. Kent and A. Ben King in attendance. Councillor Ken Rowe was absent through illness and C. J. McCormick is away in the east.

Most important discussion took place regarding a chronic hospital to serve this area and which will be built at Lloydminster. Messrs. R. Noyes, E. Sturges, G. King and Dr. Hemstock of Lloydminster met with the council and discussed the project. The chronic hospital district would be encompassed within the boundaries of the municipal district of Vermilion River, and to include that part of the city of Lloydminster in Alberta, the town of Vermilion, and the villages of Kitscoty, Marwayne and Dewberry.

After hearing the delegation the council moved that the matter of the proposed chronic hospital at Lloydminster be tabled until the next regular meeting to allow for further study.

Polish Carols Will Be Sung By Vermilion Mixed Chorus

With the approach once more of the Christmas season, we draw your attention to the many countries represented in song through Christmas carols. Each country has its traditional carols and customs. In Poland for instance there are many quaint and beautiful customs connected with Christmas. The food for the Christmas festivities is specially blessed by the priest. As soon as the stars appear, the feasting begins. After the meal a small wafer called Opiatek is shared. This wafer, which is decorated with scenes of the Nativity, has been blessed by the priest and brought from the church. Sharing signifies friendship and is for good luck. Hay or straw is placed under the tablecloth at the feast in commemoration of the birth of Jesus in the stable. In many homes a chair is provided at the table for the Holy Child. Later in the evening young men, representing the Wise Men, bring gifts. Carols are sung.

In some sections people dressed as characters in the Nativity scene, go from house to house and portray stories from the Bible. Pasterka or Shepherds' Mass, also called "Festival of the Star", is celebrated in church at midnight on Christmas eve.

The mixed chorus will present three Polish carols at their concert on Sunday evening Dec. 13: "Gdy Sie Chrystus Rodzi" (On the Night When Jesus Came), "Wsrod Nocnej Ciszy" (Midst the Deep Silence) and "Lulajze Jezuniu" (Lullaby Jesu).

The program is varied and many countries will be represented.

There will be a 33-voice choir of youngsters ranging in age from 9 to 16 years singing a 30 minute program of carols.

Your support is requested for this night of Christmas music, all of the proceeds of which goes to charity. So try to be there; there is at least one carol that

Rotary Club Entertains At Dewberry Rural-Urban Meeting

Last Wednesday evening the Vermilion Rotary club entertained a group of business men and farmers at Dewberry. 51 guests and Rotarians sat down to a turkey dinner at 6:30 p.m.

In greeting the guests President Ross Boake said that the rural-urban meeting is an annual affair. Each year an area not too far distant from Vermilion is chosen. During the past three years the club has visited Derwent, Buffalo Coulee and Marwayne.

Mr. Boake said that the purpose behind these visits is to promote good will and fellowship between town and country people.

The guest speaker was F. W. Stutchbury of Barrhead. Mr. Stutchbury spoke of the good life in the rural areas. His remarks were very thought-provoking. There was no doubt that most of the gathering would agree that the country is the best place to live.

Bill Sutherland introduced the speaker and Ernie Buckingham thanked him for a very informative and humorous address.

Lieut. Doug Moore, Salvation Army officer at Vermilion discussed the Rotary four-way test. Lieut. Moore made this excellent code of Rotary so very personal to everyone present.

President Boake thanked the Dewberry ladies for preparing a fine turkey dinner and the rural-urban committee, Gordon Ross and Cliff McCormick for doing such a good job in making the arrangements.

Safe-Driving Week Dec. 1 to 7

At one time, December was Canada's most dangerous month, traffic-wise. Over the years, Canadian motorists and pedestrians have come to realize its dangers and December is now seventh on the list of the year's highway-dangerous months.

The Canadian Highway Safety Council believes part of this improvement is due to the nation-wide Safe-Driving Week which it sponsors between Dec. 1 and 7 inclusive, and has decided to again in 1959 sponsor the campaign. Co-operation has been assured from governments, police, safety groups on federal, provincial and community levels as well as public service groups, the public information media, insurance companies, the oil, rubber and automotive industries, the clergy, women's organizations and many more.

The attack this year will be on the apathetic driver and walker, the person who refuses to recognize that he, as an individual, can kill other human beings and be killed by others in traffic. Through a campaign concentrated on a single week of the year the Council hopes to eliminate much of the indifference, the lack of comprehension of so many who drive and walk on the nation's streets and roads, to the danger of death, injury and serious economic loss on the highway.

COYOTES – Control or Protect?

This year farmers are faced with the problem of whether or not they should control coyotes, says J. B. Gurba, Supervisor of Crop Protection and Pest Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture. In many districts the farmers are starting their winter campaign for coyote control. This year thousands of acres of unharvested crop will remain over the winter in many districts. Under these conditions, mouse populations are sure to increase and very likely they will do considerable damage to swaths and stooks.

Rabbits, mice and other rodents are natural food for coyotes. Particularly where considerable crop will remain over winter, the coyote may prove a useful predator. For farms where coyotes are a definite menace to livestock or poultry, approved poisons are available through the co-operative Municipal Department of Agriculture program.

Anti-Apathy Drive Opens Dec. 1

From coast to coast in Canada, motorists and pedestrians will be called on to shake off the apathy that makes them easy targets for death on the highways when the nation-wide 'Safe-Driving Week' campaign opens on Tuesday, Dec. 1. The drive against motoring and walking apathy will last for a week, to Dec. 7, sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council with active co-operation of many federal, provincial and community organizations.

[illegible] issued by both the prime minister and the governor general for the people of Canada to shake off the indifference so many hold against the dangers of highway travel. It is pointed out that the great highway toll of past years has been largely the result of apathy of drivers and pedestrians who refuse to realize the imminence of death, injury and serious economic loss through traffic mishaps.

Of Many Things . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

THE IMPORTANCE OF HOME

I have had occasion to spend a good deal of time with older people lately, and in my dealings with them I have found one thing that [illegible] to come up. They [illegible], without exception, that [illegible] they look back over their lives the most important memories are of home . . . the homes they lived in as children, and the homes they provided for their own families. One old man told me sadly that, "I guess I put less effort into my home than anything, but got more out of it." He said that if he had to do it over again, he would work just as hard at being a good member of the family circle as he did at being a successful provider.

That made me think of Maurice Chevalier who, at 70, is creating new and fabulous successes. Chevalier has been smart; he has made several fortunes, but he kept his life very simple. "My life has always centered in my home," he said recently. He spends his money carefully and most of it goes into his home. None of it goes to bluff others about his wealth. He doesn't gad around. He spends many nights just watching television, and he goes to bed early. "I want to live the kind of life I believe in," he said, "and not the phony kind."

It seems to me Chevalier has the right idea. I am pleased that TV seems to be helping to make home a central part of our lives these days, although I wish it could be done without too much TV watching. A nation of citizens raised in good homes is going to be a good nation and strong.

I read that in China the communists are taking children away from the family as soon as possible and raising them [illegible] in communes. I grieve for those children, and for China itself. When millions of fine memories are being destroyed! And worst of all those who are perpetrating this terrible thing are doing it in the name of humanity. They are convinced they are being virtuous, because they believe that in the long run China will profit from it.

That, to my mind, is the curse of these "isms." They all claim great virtue. They all seem able to commit the most heinous crimes while mouthing pious platitudes about the systems they are building!

Let's hope Canada continues to make home a sacred place.

FREIGHT ASSISTANCE

Freight assistance is now available for those farmers who have to buy and move winter fodder, hay, straw or bundles. Applications are made at the M. D. office.

WEED INSPECTORS

Weed inspectors are possibly the most unpopular individuals in farming communities. Those farmers receiving notices to destroy weeds think the inspector too hard and those who do the reporting think he is too easy. In recent years many reported weed infestations are definitely linked to long time feuds. For many years some of our best farmers have kept their farms productive and free of weeds while their neighbors have let weeds go relatively unchecked. These same successful farmers find no difficulty in controlling the worst weeds with chemicals and good timely cultivation. The problem of the weed inspector will be taken up at the annual ratepayers' meeting in February. Should the ratepayers' money be spent on weed inspectors to force poor farmers to farm better – or should the poor farmers be left to the weeds? If a weed inspector is necessary shouldn't the people who need him pay for him?

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION

Artificial insemination is not the cheapest way to breed cows but it is the cheapest way to get really outstanding breeding. It is not necessarily the tool of the big operator but gives the small farmer (10 cows or less) an opportunity to use a bull similar in quality to that used by the biggest operator. Large farmers and ranchers are finding A.I. a boon in cross-breeding programs. Artificial insemination prominents claim it is dangerous to no one except the reproducers of pedigreed scrubs. Those interested in receiving A.I. services at reasonable rates, are urged to talk it up with their neighbors. At Vegreville three years ago it wasn't the Department of Agriculture who got it going, but a local of the Farmers' Union.

RED MEAT

A famous Arctic explorer, Wilhjalmur Stefanson, has been on a diet of fat and lean meat for four years. Mr. Stefanson remarked, "After all, the cave men lived on it for 1,000,000 years. Now, hale and hearty and extremely active, he celebrated his 80th year Nov. 3.

FARMER INEFFICIENT?

Recently the United States Department of Agriculture reported that the productivity of the nations' farm workers had nearly doubled in the last ten years. The index of production for each man hour of farm labor had risen 94% during the period.

MANAGEMENT

The three main tools of sound farm business are farm records, farm business analysis, and budgeting.

ANSWER: The success of 'Farm and Home Planning' as an Extension method does not depend upon whether or not we can get the family to follow Extension recommendations. Extension methods are quite flexible, henceforth, these are applicable to the existing situation.

CLOTHES DRYERS

This current cold spell must make many homemakers long for a dryer. With it you have freedom from weather worries. Every day is a good wash day. Tests show that the clothes dryer saves the average woman 20 eight-hour working days and 40 miles of walking a year.

DRYER ADVANTAGES

Clothes dried in a dryer wear as well, if not better than those dried outside. Dryers do not create lint — they just remove it. Such items as corduroys, bedspreads and bath towels are softer and fluffier than with line drying. White clothes dried in a dryer are as white as those dried in the sun. There is less fading of colors in a dryer than outdoors.

DRYER DISADVANTAGES

There is a tendency for knitted garments and loosely woven fabrics to shrink in a dryer. To offset shrinking, cotton knits such as T shirts can be bought a size or two larger and washed before wearing. They might also be removed from the dryer while slightly damp and then stretched or blocked into shape.

CONSIDER IN BUYING?

Is the brand an established one? It is wise to check the current consumer buying magazines for their ratings. Can the dryer be serviced locally? Check the features which are most important to you, in relation to cost.

GAS OR ELECTRIC?

Comparative costs for the purchase of the dryer itself, for installation in your home and for operation will be factors in your choice and should be checked.

OPERATING COSTS

These depend on the amount of use and cost of utilities. In general an electric dryer will use about 2.7 kilowatt hours per load. The average family dries 16 loads per month. Gas dryers use about 9.6 cu. ft. of 1000 B.T.U. gas per load. Use local rates to determine cost of operation.

Junior Red Cross Program Progresses

Inauguration of a teacher's workshop, the first ever held in Canada, was a highlight of the Junior Red Cross program in Alberta last year according to information revealed in the annual report of Mr. A. A. Aldridge of Edmonton, Chairman of the Provincial Advisory Committee of the Junior Red Cross.

Aimed at providing information on the scope and educational value of the Junior Red Cross program, the two-day workshop attracted more than 40 teachers from Alberta points. Mr. Aldridge noted this experiment was in line with a new trend away from classroom visits and toward a more personal contact with teachers through conferences and staff meetings.

[illegible] ENROLLED

More than [illegible] Alberta students participated in the Junior Red Cross program in 1959 and through varied money-raising projects contributed more than $8,200 for overseas relief supplies and raised over $12,000 to aid in treatment of handicapped children in this province. Included in overseas shipments from Junior [illegible] health kits, clothing, afghans and quilts valued at $2,495 for children in Haiti and Tunisia and science equipment worth $500 provided for a high school in Korea. In the past Juniors also contributed over $3,000 to the International Junior Red Cross Fund for Help and Understanding, paid more than $1,500 toward cost of heart surgery for a six-year-old girl in University Hospital, Edmonton, and contributed over $400 to assist with travelling expenses of a foreign delegate to the International Junior Red Cross [illegible] in Toronto in 1959.

Local service [illegible] by Junior Red Cross [illegible] in 1959 included [illegible] visits to [illegible] and assistance given to needy families.

Juniors also [illegible] to provide canned goods, fresh fruits and vegetables for hospitals, sent 40 cases of toys, warm clothing and books to Eskimo and Indian school children in the North West Territories and through a coupon exchange project purchased over $700 worth of toys, clothing and household items for use in the Alberta Crippled Children's Hospital and to aid needy families.

Promotion of international friendship with classmates all around the world was achieved through exchange of correspondence albums and art work.

Amateur Program Draws Full House at Buffalo Coulee

Once again a full house greeted the amateur hour show last Friday night sponsored by the Students' Union to raise funds for the Christmas tree treats. The number of entries was down this year as compared to previous years. [illegible] very capably acted as M.C. The winners in various classes were as follows:

Novelty — 1, Play by Mr. Boyle's room, grades 5, 6 and 7; 2, tap dance, Bonnie and Wendy Arthur.

Sr. Instrumental — 1, Helen Pheasey; 2, Miss Feidler; 3, Barbara Haverslew.

Jr. Instrumental — 1, David Johnson; 2, Wendy Cameron; 3, Wendy Arthur.

Sr. Vocal — 1, Joan Hughes; 2, Feidler Trio.

Jr. Vocal — Wendy Cameron.

Following the program lunch was served by the Students' Union. Then the floor was cleared for dancing to music by the [illegible] orchestra. A[illegible] were sold by the Junior Red Cross to raise money to help pay for the Gestetner. Lucky door prize was won by Morris Cooper.

With prevailing nice weather which has been enjoyed for the past while the men are still trying to finish up some combining, baling, putting up feed, etc. Makes it hard to realize Xmas is only a month away.

The regular Home & School meeting was held last Wednesday night with a most encouraging number in attendance. The awarding of crests again came up for considerable discussion and since the present method of including outside activities, as well as academic work, has not proved too satisfactory, it was decided that it should be based solely on academic standing with a special award being given to the one showing the most improvement in scholastic standing. Miss Finlay, Mrs. Pheasey and Mr. Boyle gave a most interesting talk, coupled with a fine display of material, on the reading course in their respective grades. The meeting closed with lunch and social half hour.

Monday of this week Mrs. Finlay, Mr. Boyle, Mrs. Wyn Kennedy and Mrs. Ruth Haverslew attended the Mannville Home & School meeting.

Last Thursday night the Boy Scout leader and directors and their wives attended the district Scout meeting and dinner at Wainwright. The Scout directors in Buffalo Coulee this year are [illegible] Kennedy, [illegible] Kennedy, Arthur [illegible] and [illegible] with [illegible] Haverslew as leader to be assisted by Allan Cunningham.

Ladies of Auburndale W.A. are asked to please note that the meeting on Dec. 2 is to be held at the B.C. school at 8 p.m. The Wildmere W.A. as well as the [illegible] people of the district are [illegible] to attend as Miss Dorothy Jean Stewart of Vermilion will be guest speaker showing slides of her trip to the U. N. in New York last summer.

Rev. Powell, Superintendent of Missions, who had been guest speaker at the Vermilion United church Sunday morning on the occasion of their anniversary, was the speaker at the service in Auburndale church in the afternoon. Attendance was not large but those who were there were given much to think about on the power of the minority.

Culture, like custard, curdles when it's overdone.

WINDSOR NUN DESIGNS MOSAICS

Sister Antonia, a member of the Sisters of Our Lady order in Toronto and the nun who designed St. Michael's Roman Catholic church in Windsor, Ontario, is now busy making giant mosaics to adorn the outside of the church and the walls inside the main door. Sister Antonia did the architectural work for the church when it was completed in 1954. Sister Antonia is shown above beside the seven-foot-high mosaic, a representation of St. Michael, which she considers her best work.

NEWS from ISLAY

December 4 will soon be here. It is the date of the W.A. bazaar and tea.

Fishermen are still on the go. Some went north Sunday, some got some fish and some didn't get to a lake — were towed back home!

According to recent reports the bridge over the Vermilion River north of Islay is about finished. In the matter of a few days traffic may be resumed over it.

Harvesting is still going on. Dave Martin is combining. Mr. Walter Carlson threshing a field of stooked wheat and others getting in their crops one way or another.

Noticed Barbara Golby in town minus her crutches, and getting along fairly well. Also in town were Mr. and Mrs. Syd Webndale of Dewberry.

Sloughs are now well frozen over, even the Saskatchewan River is frozen solid enough to allow traffic over it, but no heavy loads have as yet attempted the crossing.

Noticed Dalt Torrance passing through the village with a load of hogs in his huge liner.

Trucks were busy last week hauling in grain to the elevators, some are still going strong.

Mrs. Betty Shaw leaves by plane from Edmonton for England on Friday. She will spend Christmas with her parents.

Noticed Donald Maddex of Dewberry in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Palin were callers at the Misses Stone home Sunday afternoon.

Christmas is drawing near once again. Do your shopping now, and don't pass up your hometown merchants, they deserve your patronage.

Shirley Mathison Becomes Bride Of Edward West

The United church in Vermilion was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday, November 20th, when Miss Shirley Mathison, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mathison of Dewberry, became the bride of Edward West of Hinton, Alberta.

The Rev. C. W. MacKay performed the ceremony. The bride looked radiant in a floor-length gown of rayon lace and nylon net over satin bouffant skirt with veil to match. She carried a spray of red roses.

The bride was attended by her sister Edna and [illegible] Lunden, [illegible] of the groom. The groomsmen were [illegible] Benson of Hinton and Jim Mathison of Dewberry.

A reception was held at the bride's parents home. A four tiered wedding cake beautifully [illegible] by Mrs. Spicer graced the bride's table.

[illegible] Skinner proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom suitably responded. The reception was followed by a dance in the Dewberry hall filled to capacity. Tom West was in excellent form singing and playing during the dance, which added much to the enjoyment of all present.

NEWS from KITSCOTY

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil V. Conarroe spent last week in Edmonton where Cecil attended a municipal convention.

Miss Neta Trask returned to her studies at the U. of A. on Sunday after spending the past week at her home here.

Mrs. James Kent and baby daughter Donna from Hazeldine are staying with Mrs. Trask at present.

Mr. Bob Tyler spent last week in Saskatoon where he was a delegate at the U. G. G. convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Kheun and baby son of Edmonton spent the week end here with Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Manson.

L. A. C. Conarroe from the R. C. A. F. base at Cold Lake, and Ronnie Conarroe from Grand Centre spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Conarroe.

Mrs. C. K. Miller is in Edmonton this week having a medical check up.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cook left here recently to spend the winter in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dous spent the week end at Edgerton visiting with Mrs. Dous' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. Tomeck.

Eighteen members of the Furrows joined forces one day last week hauling and stacking bales and sheaves for feed on the farm of Mr. Alex Johnston who was at that time ill in the Lloydminster hospital.

Cars Move Fast

There's a strong seller's market in new automobiles across Canada, says Ralph Young in The Financial Post.

Some dealers are so short of new cars that they call the situation "critical."

Others say they have cars to sell — if the buyer will forget some of his preferences in extra equipment and colors, and take what's in stock.

One result: Discounts are smaller — prices of new cars have firmed.

Rotary Club Scholarships Are Explained By Bill Cross

Bill Cross Chairman of Rotary Foundation committee in the Vermilion Rotary club, addressed the club on this subject last Friday.

Mr. Cross said that the plan provides for university students in their senior year to obtain a scholarship whereby they may continue their studies at some other university in another country. Over 800 students have already taken advantage of this great opportunity.

As the speaker said, "Students under this plan go all over the world and they have an excellent chance to act as ambassadors of good will among students at some foreign university."

Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., thanked the speaker for his very able report on Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

Bill Sutherland reported that ticket sales for the Camrose Northernairres concert on Nov. 27 are going along very well. Everyone who has heard this great aggregation of artists is loud in their praise of the ability of the singers. A visitor to Vermilion last week said that he considers the Camrose chorus as the best concert performers in Western Canada and that went for the North-Western U.S. as well. Mr. Sutherland said that the whole town ought to take in this excellent concert which is only available to the larger places. The price is quite reasonable and the whole family should attend. The date is Nov. 27 at the high school auditorium. All proceeds are used for community projects sponsored by the Rotary club.

GREENLAWN Goodwill Club

The Greenlawn Goodwill club met at the home of Mrs. Nellie Walker on Thursday, November 19th, with 23 ladies present — some of whom were visitors. The club was happy and privileged to have Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Graham Gardiner of Hazeldine in attendance. Mrs. Gardiner showed films of Hawaii, giving the club a beautiful and interesting view of that lovely spot.

Several quilt patterns were brought to the meeting, and a committee of three was chosen to decide on which pattern to make after Christmas. Mrs. Gardiner, knowing that the club was "quilt-minded", brought along a beautiful pieced quilt top, all hand sewn, and asked if the ladies would quilt it for her. This was agreed upon.

Ladies please note the next meeting at Boyce's a week early on December 10th. This is the Christmas party, with gifts for secret pals, no gift over $1.00 please.

The door prize was won by Marie Brett. Anyone wishing a "soup recipe", please contact the Greenlawn ladies. This one is new and different and very substantial for cold weather. The meeting was adjourned, and a social hour was enjoyed during the lunch period.

The Twenty-Eighth Annual Meeting of U.F.A. Co-op concluded today in Calgary and the Delegates and Board of Directors have approved the following:

1. A patronage dividend rate of 9% has been declared on petroleum purchases for the fiscal year ended July 31, 1959. This rate will represent a distribution of $835,000.00 to our farm members.
2. Dividends deferred in 1952 and 1953 will be paid in cash in December. This payment will total approximately $102,000.00. As you know, the dividends earned on each year's operation are deferred and placed in the Revolving Door Plan. The payment at this time of two years' deferment will reduce the Revolving Door Plan to a six year cycle.

A patronage dividend of 9% means that a farmer who purchased $1,000.00 of fuel requirements received a dividend allocation of $90.00, which you will agree, is a story that is well worth telling to both present and prospective customers.

We know you were enthusiastic in telling the story in your community last year of the Co-op's progress, and believe that with the increase in the patronage dividend rate this year, plus the fact that the Revolving Door Plan has been reduced to a six year cycle, that you will certainly be eager to pass this information on to farm people in your district.

1960 GMC TRUCKS

The closest thing to a passenger car ride ever built into a truck is offered this year by General Motors of Canada with its restyled 1960 GMC truck lines. Front wheels of the 1960 GMCs have independent suspension with torsion springing on all but two models. The new suspension design, under development for the past six years, sets new standards for truck stability, durability, driver comfort and load cushioning. Cabs are lower and roomier and easier to get into. Above is the new GMC Wideside pickup.

"Lest We Forget" — Remembrance Day At Marwayne

On Remembrance Day, Marwayne and district paid tribute to their honored war dead. Gathering at the Legion hall, a parade led by Parade Marshall Charles Swan, color party of B. Young and R. Laboy, the veterans, the Legion W.A., Scouts, Cubs and others marched in formation to the community hall where a service conducted by Mr. E. Preston of Clandonald was held.

Mr. W. Protach sounded the "Last Post" and "Reveille" after the two minutes silence was observed. Due to the inclement weather, wreaths were laid on the small cenotaph in the community hall. Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Parker placed a wreath there for the Silver Mothers. Others who laid wreaths on the cenotaph were: the Legion, Ladies' Auxiliary, F. W. U. A., Scouts, Cubs, Royal Purple, the Elks, and Mr. Curtis who placed one for the village of Marwayne. Despite the cold day about sixty marched in the parade.

It is well to remember on Remembrance Day that "they died that we might live".

Close to one hundred attended the banquet held in the basement of the Elks hall in the evening. This was the first banquet to be held in the basement of the hall. A fully equipped kitchen recently built there enabled the ladies of the F.W.U.A., who catered and served the banquet, to keep everything real piping hot. The ladies deserve praise and congratulations for the very delightful turkey supper with all the trimmings, which they served so efficiently and cheerfully.

Before sitting down "O Canada" was sung by all. After justice had been done to the food, Mr. Espetveidt, M.C., proposed a toast to "The Queen". [illegible] Auxiliary was toasted by Mr. Lavoy and replied to by Mrs. Carpenter. The Legion president, Mr. Carpenter, proposed a toast "To Marwayne". Mayor Curtis in replying, said he was honored to be invited to the banquet and remarked that the Legion had done much good in the village which was deeply appreciated.

President Carpenter called on Mr. Quist to say a few words, which he did in a humorous vein. Mr. Graham Skinner was asked by special request to speak. Mr. Skinner who was recently married had his bride with him. After remarking that he had just finished brushing the confetti out of his hair, he said he [illegible] very pleased to be present and that he was glad to see so many from Marwayne at the Smoker in Vermilion. Cars Move Fast

Some dealers are so short of new cars that they call the situation "critical."

Others say they have cars to sell if the buyer will forget some of his preferences in extra equipment and colors, and take what's in stock.

One result Discounts are smaller prices of new cars have firmed.

There's MAGIC in that moment...

Rings of romance and always lovely for a lifetime. There's a ring for you at whatever price you plan to pay.

The Twenty-Eighth Annual Meeting of U.F.A. Co-op concluded today in Calgary and the Delegates and Board of Directors have approved the following:

1. A patronage dividend rate of 9% has been declared on petroleum purchases for the fiscal year ended July 31, 1959. This rate will represent a distribution of $625,000.00 to our farm members
2. Dividends deferred in 1952 and 1953 will be paid in cash in December This payment will total approximately $102,000.00 As you know the dividends earned on each year's operation are deferred and placed in the Revolving Door Plan. The payment at this time of two years' deferment will reduce the Revolving Door Plan to a six year cycle.

A patronage dividend of 9% means that a farmer who purchased $1,000.00 of fuel requirements received a dividend allocation of $90.00, which you will agree, is a story that is well worth telling to both present and prospective customers.

We know you were enthusiastic in telling the story in your community last year of the Co-op's program, and believe that with the increase in the patronage dividend rate this year, plus the fact that the Revolving Door Plan has been reduced to a six year cycle, that you will certainly be eager to pass this information on to farm people in your district.

Rotary Club Scholarships Are Explained By Bill Cross

Bill Cross Chairman of Rotary Foundation committee in the Vermilion Rotary club, addressed the club on this subject last Friday.

Mr Cross said that the plan provides for university students in their senior year to obtain a scholarship whereby they may continue their studies at some other university in another country. Over 650 students have already taken advantage of this great opportunity.

As the speaker said, "Students under this plan go all over the world and they have an excellent chance to act as ambassadors of good will among students at some foreign university."

Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., thanked the speaker for his very able report on Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

Bill Sutherland reported that ticket sales for the Camrose Northernairres concert on Nov 27 are going along very well. Everyone who has heard this great aggregation of artists is loud in their praise of the ability of the singers. A visitor to Vermilion last week said that he considers the Camrose chorus as the best concert performers in Western Canada and that went for the North-Western U.S. as well. Mr Sutherland said that the whole town ought to take in this excellent concert which is only available to the larger places. The price is quite reasonable and the whole family should attend. The date is Nov. 27 at the high school auditorium. All proceeds are used for community projects sponsored by the Rotary club.

Mrs. Gardiner showed films of Hawaii, giving the club a delightful and interesting view of that lovely spot.

Several quilt patterns were brought to the meeting, and a committee of three was chosen to decide on which pattern to make after Christmas. Mrs. Gardiner, knowing that the club was "quilt-minded", brought along a beautiful pieced quilt top, all hand sewn, and asked if the ladies would quilt it for her This was agreed upon.

Ladies please note: the next meeting at Boyce's a week early on December 10th. This is the Christmas party, with gifts for secret pals, no gift over $1.00 [redacted]

The door prize was won by Marie Brett. Anyone wishing a "soup recipe", please contact the Greenlawn ladies. This one is new and different and very substantial for cold weather The meeting was adjourned, and a social hour was enjoyed during the lunch period.

1960 GMC TRUCKS

The closest thing to a passenger car ride ever built into a truck is offered this year by General Motors of Canada with its restyled 1960 GMC truck lines. Front wheels of the 1960 GMCs have independent suspension with torsion springing on all but two models. The new suspension design, under development for the past six years, sets new standards for truck stability, durability, driver comfort and load cushioning. Cabs are lower and roomier and easier to get into. Above is the new GMC Wideside pickup.

"Lest We Forget" — Remembrance Day At Marwayne

On Remembrance Day, Mar[redacted] and district paid tribute to [redacted] honored war dead. Gathering at the Legion hall, a parade led by Parade Marshall Charles Swan, color party of B. Young and B. Lafoy, the veterans, the Legion W.A., Scouts, Cubs and others marched in formation to the community hall where a service conducted by Mr. E. [redacted]ton of Clandonald was held.

Mr. W. [redacted] sounded the "Last Post" and "Reveille" after the two minutes silence was observed. Due to the inclement weather, wreaths were laid on the small cenotaph in the community hall. Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Parker placed a wreath there for the Silver Mothers. Others who laid wreaths on the cenotaph were: the Legion, Ladies' Auxiliary, F. W. U. A., Scouts, Cubs, Royal Purple, the Elks, and Mr Curtis who placed one for the village of Marwayne. Despite the cold day about sixty marched in the parade.

It is well to remember on Remembrance Day that "they died that we might live"

Close to one hundred attended the banquet held in the basement of the Elks hall in the evening This was the first banquet to be held in the basement of the hall. A fully equipped kitchen recently built there enabled the ladies of the F.W.U.A., who catered and served the banquet, to keep everything real piping hot. The ladies deserve praise and congratulations for the very delightful turkey supper with all the trimmings, which they served so efficiently and cheerfully.

Before sitting down "O Canada" was sung by all. After justice had been done to the food, Mr Espetveidt, M.C., proposed a toast to "The Queen". Ladies' Auxiliary was toasted by Mr. Lavoy and replied to by Mrs. Carpenter. The Legion [redacted]dent, Mr. Carpenter, proposed a toast "To Marwayne". Mayor Curtis in replying, said he was honored to be invited to the banquet and remarked that the Legion had done much good in the village which was deeply appreciated.

President Carpenter [redacted] Mr Quist to say a few [redacted] which he did in a [redacted] vein. Mr. Graham Skinner was asked by [redacted] request to speak. Mr. Skinner who was recently married had his bride with him. After remarking that he had just finished brushing the confetti out of his hair, he said he was very pleased to be [redacted] and that he was glad to see so many from Marwayne at the Smoker in Vermilion. Mr. Elliott proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies of the F.W.U.A. of Marwayne for their bountiful supper which was served so well and which gave evidence of a lot of work on their part.

The singing of "God Save the Queen" brought a very [redacted]able evening to a close.

Mr Tupper was in charge of the register. Mr. Bob Young and Mr Bill Ashworth were in charge of the door.

Proceeding upstairs to the hall, fine entertainment was provided with songs by Mrs McDonald who accompanied herself on the piano, Miss Jerry Kade and Miss Patsy Thomson of Clandonald who sang several duets. Dancing to music by the Western Aces was then much enjoyed until the wee small hours.

Russell Whitson New President Of Mannville Old Timers

MANNVILLE — The Mannville Oldtimers banquet and social evening was held on Wednesday, Nov. 18th and was generally declared as one of the most successful evenings in a good number of years. 154 guests sat down to a "scrumptious" turkey dinner served by the United Church W. A. ladies. Mr Roy Hay asked the blessing.

Toast to the Queen was proposed by the president, Ed Summers, after which a two minute silence was observed in honor of departed members, especially mentioning Mrs. W. Thompson, one of the early pioneers, who was laid to rest that day.

Mayor A. E. Williams welcomed the guests on behalf of the village, and spoke briefly on pioneer families, stating the association meant a great deal to him personally, and that he would not care to see it disbanded. He thanked the executive for their efforts towards the evening, appreciating the difficulties of this unseasonable year, and wished all present a happy evening.

Mr. Charles Finlay proposed the toast to the oldtimers, giving a brief history of the original settlers before Alberta was a province, being an adventure to bachelors, in those days, but a serious business to married men with families. In reply to this toast, Roy Hay spoke to the oldtimers, as well as on behalf of them, reminiscing about the early days as he remembered them when living south of Mannville, especially threshing time with it many experiences. He then paid tribute to all oldtimers who, despite hardships of hail and drought established a way of life in Alberta.

Mr W. R. Cornish, in proposing the toast to the ladies, singled out the ones of pioneer days speaking of the early modes of conveyance, often a stoneboat pulled by oxen, yet everyone was happy. He paid special tribute to the women of the Ukraine and Germany who came to this country in the early days and lived in homes with sod roofs and dirt floors, at the same time stressing the old-time spirit of comradeship in the early days.

Mrs. Muriel Lugg in an impromptu reply, spoke humorously, with reference to an amusing anecdote by Mr. Cornish. In a more serious vein, she expressed the wish that the "young" oldtimers might continue in the footsteps of those who had blazed the trail before. President Summers thanked the United Church W. A. for the lovely banquet, and expressed sincere gratitude to his executive, particularly the secretary Edith Johnstone, for the splendid co-operation during the past year. Following the clearing of the tables, a short business meeting was held, with minutes of the 1958 round-up read and adopted. The financial statement as of Nov. 18th showed a bank balance of $142.73 and was accepted. A telegram was read from Red Deer, from former oldtimers of Mannville, Bill and Elsie Colborne. There being no new business, Charles Finlay gave a report on the history of oldtimers, with nearly all district histories completed. He hoped it would all be compiled and completed in the near future.

For the election of officers A. E. Williams took the chair. Officers for 1960 are: Pres. — Russell Whitson; Vice. Pres. — Maurice Smith; Sec. Treas. — Edith Johnstone; new executive members are Mrs. Myrtle Sargent, Merle Johnson and Andy Clark. On the short programme which followed were: vocal solo — Jim Scott; Reading (written by Mrs. Cundal) Early Settlers — Nellie Whitson; vocal trio — Mrs. Neil MacKinnon, Mrs. Ed Symington and Mrs. Alex Ross; solo — Jim Johnstone; recitation — Mrs. Ruth Hughes; humorous skit — Mrs. Joan Lugg, Mrs. Kay Cockle and Chris Hamilton; Jim Scott and his guitar; vocal solo — Jim Clark "The End of the Road" and "Tail of My Coat."

Sin has many tools, but a lie is the handle which fits them all.

Engine in the rear? Why, of course!

American and European automobile manufacturers have now adopted the sound principle of the rear-mounted engine. Something once considered unorthodox is now recognized as plain engineering common sense.

You see, Volkswagen's rear engine gives direct drive to the wheels, saving weight and power. It is the most efficient and economical design. And the rear engine gives your rear wheels better traction. In mud, sand, ice, snow, where other cars skid, you go.

What is more, the Volkswagen engine is air-cooled, a decided advantage when you think about it. No water to boil over in summer, or to freeze in winter. No anti-freeze needed. No radiator problems.

The engine is ingeniously cast of aluminum and magnesium alloys and is very light and powerful; undoubtedly the toughest 198 lbs. going.

It is beautifully machined for minimum friction; you will probably never need oil between changes. And so efficient that top and cruising speeds are the same. Your Volkswagen will run at 70 m.p.h. all day without strain. You get an honest 39 miles to the gallon (regular gas—regular driving).

C. G. I. T. Girls and Leaders Attend Lloydminster Rally

On Tuesday, November 17th, 60 C.G.I.T. girls and five of their leaders, Mrs. W. Pool, Mrs. R. Samuelson, Miss Merle Marshall, Miss Laurian Edey and Miss T. Mahan journeyed to Lloydminster to attend a C.G.I.T. rally in the United church hall there. There were other groups of girls from such widely divergent points as Lashburn, Dewberry, Marwayne, Kitscoty and Neilburg.

Following registration, the girls were served a bountiful supper. At the conclusion of the meal the visitors were introduced and a welcome extended to them by their hostesses, the Lloydminster C.G.I.T. A member of the Kitscoty C.G.I.T. replied to the speech of welcome on behalf of the visitors.

Mrs. J. S. Shene led a singsong, and then Cheryl Jones of Dewberry, vice president of the C.G.I.T. conference, gave a report of Camp Council. A short variety program of entertainment followed.

Mrs. R. R. Smith, Presbyterial secretary for affiliated C.G.I.T. groups, introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Dr. Pearl Prior of Edmonton. Dr. Prior spoke on "Africa", and told of some of her experiences during her 20 years in that part of the world.

The Marwayne girls led the group in a worship service.

The Vermilion girls were particularly grateful to those who provided transportation on the trip to Lloydminster: Mrs. John David, Mr. Milo Fleming, Mrs. Fred Stewart and Mr. Allan Jones.

The executive members of the Vermilion C.G.I.T. are: Margaret Rooks, president; Dorothy Jean Stewart, vice president; Sharon Martin, secretary-treasurer; and Myrna McPhee, press representative.

Jehovah Witnesses Show Free Film Saturday, Nov. 28

The principle speakers to serve on the program of Jehovah's witnesses arrived in Vermilion this week to care for the assembly arrangements. Mr. C. E. Hepworth of Toronto, district supervisor, has just recently returned from [illegible] and the Northwest Territories where he has been showing the much acclaimed colored film, "Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses".

This film will be shown on Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Elks hall, Vermilion. This is free to the public and no collections will be taken.

Mr. [illegible] Ludar, circuit supervisor, will be assisting Mr. Hepworth with the assembly program and will also appear several times during the three-day assembly. In an interview Mr. Ludar had stated that presently Jehovah's witnesses are preaching in over 170 lands and over [illegible] active ministers are now engaged in this work. When asked whether any of the witnesses are active in the Communistic lands he replied, "we have [illegible] of our people actively engaged in preaching underground behind the iron curtain. In many places where the persecution had been very severe the witnesses had doubled their number."

During the week the local witnesses will be engaged in the [illegible] accompanied by their special visiting representatives. The activity schedule is also designed to encourage more Bible discussion by people of all faiths [illegible].

Over 200 visiting delegates will be accommodated in the town. J. P. Jacula, caring for this department, stated that the house holders in Vermilion have been most co-operative and we feel that all of our visiting people will be well cared for."

The program commences on Friday evening at 6.45 p.m. to be climaxed by the public talk on Sunday, "When Is God's Will To Be Done On Earth?" at 3 p.m. in the Elks hall. Over 300 are expected for this session.

Kitscoty-Islay Teachers Elect Mrs. Lang

Teachers of the Kitscoty-Islay sub local held their September meeting in the Kitscoty school. Following is the slate of officers elected for the year: President, Mrs. Lang; Vice President, Mrs. Cundliffe; Secretary, Miss Eglauer; Councillor, Miss Dunsmore; Policy, Mr. Moncrieff and Mr. Verance. Time was given to consideration of material to be presented at a convention; those elected to committee duty were: Resolutions, Mrs. Sheppard; Finance, Mrs. M. Jack; Nominations, Mrs. Austin.

Seventeen of the twenty members attended the meeting of October 22nd in Islay school. In the course of discussion general satisfaction with the more practical nature of this year's convention programme was expressed. It was decided that suggestions from the sub local for further improvement be submitted to Mr. Robson in November to enable the convention planning group to study them early in the year.

Mr. Reghelini gave a nicely detailed and absorbing talk on education in India. Something of the enormity of the problem of instruction is suggested by the fact that there are fourteen major languages and a total of forty two tongues spoken. The situation is further compounded by differences in religion and culture, by the variety of types of schools, the extreme poverty of the people of the villages and by the high cost to parents of keeping a child in school long enough for even an eighth-grade education. The hope of India as a democracy rests with the Anglo-Indian and public schools, which are pro-western. However, as they have space to take only a fraction of those who can afford to attend, there are long waiting lists of prospective students.

Members please note that although the regular meeting will continue to fall on the fourth Thursday of each month, that which was scheduled for Nov. 26th has been changed to Wednesday, December 2nd in Blackfoot. It is hoped there will be a perfect attendance as plans will be completed for the Xmas dinner party to be held on Dec. 12th.

In 1957, most recent year of record, there were 4,070,463 Canadians who paid personal income tax and the average taxable income was $3,894.

Old Timers Of Greenlawn See Tullson Pictures

The annual get-together and banquet of the Greenlawn Old Timers' Association was held in the Greenlawn hall on Nov. 13. Approximately 140 people were present to enjoy a delicious turkey dinner complete with all the trimmings prepared by the female members of the Greenlawn Old Timers' Association. Of the one hundred and forty people present, 35 of them were invited guests, these being old timers of the Lloydminster, Vermilion, Clandonald, Dewberry, Marwayne and surrounding districts.

Entertainment for the enjoyable occasion was provided by Richard Tullson who showed an Abbott and Costello comic, a trip to Vancouver through the scenic Rockies, and of the Leo Park stampede. Following a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Tullson, some of the old timers related experiences of the early days which proved to be very interesting and at times, very amusing.

The able M.C. for the annual event was Cecil Grant, who extended an invitation to all those present to attend next year.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Emma Marklund and Cyril Lumley

On the afternoon of Nov. 6th, First United church, Vermilion, was the scene of a pretty wedding when Emma Rose, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Marklund became the bride of William Cyril Lumley, third son of Mrs. Ada Lumley, and the late Henry Lumley of Dewberry.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. W. MacKay.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a waltz-length gown of nylon net and lace over satin. The gown, simply styled, featured a bouffant skirt, fitted bodice embroidered with sequins and pearls, lily point sleeves and bateau neckline. The bride's veil of French illusion net was edged with lace and held in place with a tiara of sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Sweetheart roses, lily-of-the-valley and fern.

Miss Sonia Selte, first bridesmaid, wore a gown of aqua blue lace and net with headband and nosegay of yellow and white carnations. Miss June Lumley, sister of the groom, wore a yellow lace and net gown with pink and white carnation headband and nosegay. They both wore pearl necklaces with matching earrings, the gift of the bride.

The groom was attended by his brother Elmer Lumley and Bert Fadden. The ushers were Howard Lumley, brother of the groom, and Jack Bowman.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. A. M. West who also accompanied Miss Shirley McIntosh, the soloist who sang "The Wedding Prayer" while the couple knelt before the altar and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of two shades of blue with pink accessories and corsage of apple blossom pink rosebuds and fern.

The groom's mother wore an afternoon dress of black and white with dusky rose accessories and corsage of white rose buds and fern.

A reception for about one hundred guests was held in the church hall. Six former friends of the bride served.

Miss Sheila Stone of Dewberry, niece of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. Jack Bowman was master of ceremonies and Mr. Wm. Bowman proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom ably replied.

During the reception Miss McIntosh sang "I'll Walk Beside You", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wm. Roebuck. Mrs. Peter Jensen entertained the guests with two humorous readings.

The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth, centred by a beautifully decorated three tiered wedding cake. On each side of the cake was a vase of pink and white roses.

All flowers for the wedding were beautifully made by Mrs. Allen Anderson.

The happy young couple are making their home in the Kokner district.

W.A. Sends Clothing To Indian Mission

MANNVILLE — A very busy month was reported at the recent meeting of the United Church W.A. following a service of worship held in the social rooms of the church.

During the month previous a wedding had been catered to, supper served under the sector plan and a calendar tea held. To date the ladies have catered to the Old Timers banquet, sponsored their annual bazaar and served lunch to the sector visitors on Sunday. All sewing for bazaar work was requested handed in at this meeting and marked the Friday before the bazaar. Used clothing has been collected for the mission at Saddle Lake Reserve and sent away. Lunch hostesses were Mrs. William Gerhart and Mrs. Chester Gamble.

In the first six months of 1959 Canadian farm cash income totalled $1,319 million, up three per cent from one year earlier and highest first half on record.

No one but a physician has the knowledge to determine if a pain is the result of a minor or serious condition. Pain is just one of many other symptoms to be studied if a cure is to result. NEWS from ALLANDALE

(Intended for last week)

Weather cold to 15 below, with a wind chill of 30 below. Very little snow has fallen, although there is still snow in the ditches from the storm Sept. 30.

Some of the farmers are combining and threshing in below zero weather. Much harvesting will be delayed until spring with a drastic cut in yield and grade.

On Nov. 4th Mr Gus Throndson from town accompanied Melvin Hill to Valleyview to visit his daughter Lucy and Enoch Lundblad and daughters. Mr Hill was on a business trip to Hythe.

Sorry to hear of recent accidents in the district. Valerie Armstrong fell on a pick up guard on the combine and injured the side of her face necessitating a trip in to the doctor in Vermilion. Mrs. Woody Wilson and wee son had come home. Mary was only going to be out of the car a second, left it running. In the meantime Sandy slipped it into drive and stepped on the gas. It's amazing the way the car went. East past a large post through a gate past the barn and ended up in a gully against a tree. Sandy injured his mouth in the sudden stop and the car was extensively damaged.

Mr and Mrs Joe Parchewsky attended a wedding in Edmonton on the 14th.

We were very pleased recently to receive a letter from Mrs. E. W. Turner (nee Kathleen Free), so well known in Clandonald, and whose parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Free now live in Vermilion. Mrs. Turner lives in Greenville, South Carolina at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains. What beautiful scenery there must be in those parts. Her letter in part quote: "I read your Allandale news in every Vermilion Standard and enjoy it immensely. I feel your local news column typifies rural Alberta living and a spirit you should well be proud of. I always enjoy your closing thoughts and believe it or not, some of these have been printed in our church bulletin 3000 miles away from you. And then some folks dare to say the written word does not go far. They do, and the seeds we sow do produce fruit' and when we intend to bless it is often further reaching than we realize."

TO [illegible] VET OF [illegible] YEARS

A [illegible] an Aylmer [illegible] served for 60 years as a member of the town's volunteer fire brigade, will receive recognition for his faithful service. Arthur Whelan, at the age of 76, dropped from active participation in the Aylmer Volunteer Fire [illegible] a few months ago due to failing health. A former chief of the brigade, Mr Whelan clearly remembers August 10th, when a fire raged through the community, killing one man and making more than 700 persons homeless. A fireman since he was sixteen, he has seen the town's brigade grow from a hand-drawn hose cart to a modern unit. The dinner honoring Mr Whelan will be held in the town's Agricultural hall when other members will also be honored: Sgt. Edward Cooper, Fireman O. Ladouceur, a former captain, and Alfred Leon, a former chief, who have served 44, 40 and 42 years as firemen respectively.

Mr Artur Whelan of Aylmer, Que., is Orlene Whelan's father-in-law.

Mr and Mrs Gus Throndson were very efficient caretakers at the Omneas farm from Nov. 9 to the 13th, while Mr and Mrs. Omneas were away. We went in our [illegible] wagon and enjoyed it very much. Spent the afternoon with daughter Della and Jimmy Walsh and family in the city. The next day dinner was enjoyed with sister Grace and Ed Magistad and son Morley at Ponoka. Ed is firing the boilers at the Institute. Morley is training for a nurse and likes his work very much. We all visited with Mr and Mrs Melvin Magistad and family. Melvin is a registered nurse at the Institute. Ed's brother Martin from Ardmore is doing carpenter work there. Granny Magistad lives at Ponoka in her own very comfortable home, over 80 but very active. Her son Earl is with her, he is in poor health. Then on to Calgary the same day to Lincoln Park, and visited with daughter Orlene and family. Paul Whelan is at Rivers, Man. but will be home Dec. 18 for Christmas until after the New Year. Mrs. Marian Bluck (Dack) former Allandale teacher, and son Johnny, called one evening. She wishes to be remembered to all her friends.

It was good to see and hear Gracie Fields, now 61, sing the old songs she sang to the boys "over there" in the first world war.

Nice to see our old friend Mr. Bill Pilkie, you look just the same. Greetings from us all.

Quite a snow fall was experienced in Calgary starting with a rain, making the road a sheet of ice half way to Red Deer.

Our deepest sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. L. Wilkinson, Clandonald, who passed away very suddenly. "In our hearts your memory will linger, sweetly, tender, fond and true."

The party at Island Hill hall was much enjoyed. A delicious lunch was served and a social time spent. We enjoyed having Norman Armstrong with us again. We welcome our Island Hill correspondent to our group of scribes.

There will be a dance at the centre on Dec. 4, music by the Melody Ranchers. Proceeds to go for Xmas treats for the children.

Mr and Mrs. Tommy Rachford's four year - old daughter Shirley was taken to the city to the University hospital on Nov. 12 for a week's observation before her serious heart operation. Best wishes go to Shirley for a speedy recovery.

On Nov. 4 Misses Myrna and Irene McPhee and Lorne McPhee, accompanied the girls' uncle and aunt, the Davids, to the city to see the football game.

Nov. 11 Mr and Mrs Jimmy Armstrong and Albert accompanied Mrs. Hilda Cross to the city to see the Esks-Lions game.

The Arnold house was moved on to the foundation Nov. 14 by Mitz the Mover. In the meantime the children were with their grandparents at the Arnold home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt of Lloydminster on the birth of a son Ronald Brent on Nov. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wilson took their son Sandy to the doctor on the 14th. It was discovered his nose had been broken in the car accident earlier.

A bitter taste of winter was experienced on Nov. 15, 20 below with wind chill of 40.

Congrats and best wishes to the newlyweds, Mr and Mrs. Keith King.

Church service on the 15th by Rev. Smith of Grace [illegible] over the radio was much enjoyed.

Closing thought: "No man is ever cheated out of an [illegible] career unless he cheats himself. Believe in yourself. Do your work the best you know how and you will not be cheated. Your efforts will bless all who come in touch with you."

TURKEY SHOOT

The Vermilion Cadet Corps will hold a turkey shoot at the armories on Saturday, Dec. 12, commencing at 2 p.m. Come and win your Xmas turkey. Rifles and ammunition will be supplied. 19-20

Island Hill News

The whist party held by the Princess Anne W. I. on Friday, Nov. 13 was well attended, with representatives of several districts participating. Sylvia Stewart won the prize for guessing the correct number of beans in a jar. Something new in the way of prizes for whist were the travelling prizes. These were won by Paul Mudryk and Gustie Armstrong.

Dick Arnold moved his house onto the basement on Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. Joe Parchewsky motored to the city on Saturday.

Mildred Searle braved the cold weather on Wednesday last, and attended the football game in Edmonton.

Take time to work — it is the price of success.

Canadian Car Race

All Canadian automobile manufacturers increased their total output during the 1959 model year August 1958 to July 1959.

Over-all increase was 12% over the 1958 model run, reports The Financial Post, which quotes Ward's Automotive Reports.

Ford and Studebaker increased their [illegible] of the market. General Motors and Chrysler while producing more cars dropped slightly in market percentage.

Although total passenger car production, 313,602, was substantially greater than the 281,[illegible] total in 1958, it fell short of the all-time record of 328,357 set in the 1957 model year.

Home Training For Prevention Of Juvenile Delinquency

In the light of modern knowledge, delinquency can no longer be considered as entirely a legal problem with punishment the only cure and preventative. Nor can we any longer blame heredity ("born crooked" - "a strong criminal instinct") and then illogically punish the offender for what his heredity has made him do. Instincts do predetermine actions but only in those forms of life where parental guidance and protection are lacking and each generation lives and dies without sight or knowledge of its offspring yet to be. For their protection and the perpetuation of their kind, their conduct follows the old ancestral patterns, stamped into their nervous systems by heredity.

In the human race, however, generations overlap. The young born helpless and immature, benefit from parental care and training. Through the written and spoken language, knowledge is cumulative, the experience of one generation is imparted to the next, and the wisdom of the ages is available for all. As a result of man's standards of living and conduct are changeable and do change from generation to generation. Heredity, it is true, provides certain vague tendencies such as the tendency to be angry if thwarted, to acquire what attracts, to seek what is immediately pleasurable and to satisfy such bodily needs and appetites as hunger and sex. But early training and subsequent choice determine what we shall hate, what we shall desire, whether we shall acquire by theft or by honest effort, whether we shall satisfy our appetites selfishly and without regard to the rights or comforts of others or whether the burden of our brother's need, and the need and the cross of sacrifice shall stand at the centre of unselfish and honorable lives.

Not all hereditary tendencies alone, then, but on our failure to turn them into socially acceptable channels during the formative years of life must be placed most of the blame for our problem children, our delinquents and our criminals.

FACTS ABOUT MENTAL ILLNESS

By G. A. Roberts, M. D., McGill University

Personality Disorder: It has been traditional to refer to epileptics as though they all suffered a particular type of personality disorder. Many epileptics do have behaviour problems but there are indications that these problems, to a large extent, result from the attitude of the family, schools and employers towards epileptics rather than from any intrinsic factor. With the surgical procedures and drugs now available, it is possible for many epileptics to live a normal life provided with an adequate opportunity to do so.

There are very few groups of disabled persons in our society who have to combat so much prejudice and misunderstanding as do the epileptics, and it is earnestly hoped that citizen groups will assist in bringing about a clearer community understanding of this illness.

A discussion of mental illness and its prevention requires an understanding of the current concepts of prevention. Leaders in the public health field more and more speak of prevention as taking place at three levels.

First, there is primary prevention, which means that the disease can be prevented by giving inoculations or by removing a causative factor from the environment. Primary prevention is clearly illustrated by the use of inoculations to prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox and many other infectious diseases.

Secondly, there is secondary prevention, which in essence means that the application of early effective treatment measures will overcome the condition or prevent it from becoming more serious. Secondary prevention is dramatically illustrated by the tuberculosis control programs in Canada. It is now rare to hear of the traditional "galloping consumption" and there is little reason for this disease to progress if adequate treatment measures are applied.

Tertiary prevention or rehabilitation, means that the patient's illness has been treated to the maximum extent possible, the disability reduced to a minimum and the patient restored to the community at the optimum level of function compatible with the residual disability. Tertiary prevention is illustrated by [illegible] grams for the blind, spastics, amputees and so on.

In the mental health field efforts are being made to introduce preventative programs at all three levels. Unfortunately, the resources available are extremely limited and many feel that the community is now receiving services and research from many dedicated people quite beyond the amount of funds made available by the community for these programs. It has recently been stated that heart disease is one of the greatest killers of this age — mental illness can produce no such statistics. The mortality indices, however, do not mention the tremendous increase in life expectancy which has taken place during the past half century, nor do they refer to the rapidly increasing numbers of people who are kept alive but are unable to live. In the natural course of events there is birth and death. It does seem important, while combating the various causes of death, to provide an adequate opportunity for people while alive to live an active, satisfying and worthwhile life.

It is generally held that about one in every sixteen persons in this country will be admitted to a mental hospital during their lifetime, and a much larger number will require psychiatric treatment. Admissions to mental hospitals and to psychiatric services are rapidly increasing, and in spite of rapid expansion during recent years, all of the psychiatric services are carrying an almost unbearable load.

It is estimated that from $500,000.00 to $700,000.00 a year is spent each year on mental health research in Canada. This amount is certainly not sufficient for the development of an adequate research program. A few years ago one of the most significant recent findings in the health field occurred when Dr. Salk developed polio vaccine. The amount of money spent on research having to do with [illegible] announced, but it is well known that the National Polio Foundation in the United States spend many millions of dollars in this area.

Few illnesses are as dramatic and striking as poliomyelitis and it is difficult to imagine any development which would provide more relief to parents than did the Salk vaccine. On the other hand, at least 15,000 persons a year develop schizophrenia, and it is quite apparent that at least a third of these, even with presently available treatment, have resultant symptoms and disabilities which will make them dependent persons in our communities for the rest of their lives. One can only speculate on the progress which would ensue from a research program directed to this disease of proportions comparable to that which led to the development of Salk Vaccine. This is what is required if adequate programs for the prevention of mental illness are to be developed, and major developments will not occur until millions of dollars are spent each year for research and rehabilitation of mentally ill persons. There are many conditions, such as reactive depressions, which if recognized early can now be adequately treated. There are many other conditions where effective treatment leads to recovery and proper rehabilitation efforts will return many more patients to effective lives in our community. As more people in the community and more employers gain an understanding of mental illness it is clear that the number of patients now resident in our mental hospital can be reduced and those remaining as dependent persons with families can be assisted to lead useful and satisfactory lives.

While there is very little statistical evidence to support our impressions, there is reason to believe that a great deal could be done to prevent behaviour and personality disorders if more people were given an adequate understanding of child development and the factors which influence behaviour. There is not space to dwell on this topic at this point, but the need for a considerable expansion of present efforts in our high schools, our universities and the community to meet the educational needs of those who will be the parents of tomorrow must be stressed. It is to be hoped that today's children will be more adequately trained for their responsibilities as parents than were most of us in the past.

In conclusion, it must be emphasized that there are good reasons to believe that an adequate research program in the mental health field could produce a wider understanding of the causes and treatment of mental illness and of the factors that lead to good mental health. However, [illegible] will [illegible] Well qualified, dedicated personnel are now becoming available in this field and future developments depend entirely on the extent to which Canadians are prepared to support these efforts.

Claysmore W.I. Plans Christmas Concert

The Claysmore W.I. met at the home of Mrs. M. Pawlow on the afternoon of Nov. 18 at 2 p.m. with 11 members and five visitors present. The visitors were Mrs. Adamson and Mrs. I. Nelson from Vermilion, Mrs. McCardy, Mrs. Stebner and Mrs. Myrna Williamson from Claysmore.

The president, Mrs. Ella Bauer, was in the chair and after welcoming the visitors proceeded with the business.

After the Creed, the roll call was answered with donation of clothing for the Bethany parcel. The minutes were read and declared approved. The treasurer's report was adopted as read. It was moved that all outstanding bills be paid.

Mrs. J. Willes and Mrs. M. Pawlow attended the two-day convention at Edmonton where the leadership course was held, Mrs. Pawlow giving the report later in the afternoon of the branch meeting. Correspondence was attended to. A letter from the Vermilion W.I. inviting us to attend the showing of the cancer film in the Legion hall, Thursday, Nov. 26 from 2 to 5 p.m., a letter from Mrs. O. Willes, convener of the Claysmore branch of the Mannville library board asking for donation. News letters were distributed to members relating to TV and radio survey. Discussion on this was tabled until after Christmas.

The handicraft list was read to the members as compiled at the Vermilion meeting in the Legion hall.

The treasurer was advised to order a birthday pin for the new member Mrs. M. Pawlow. There was some discussion re the program books for next year, the projects to be undertaken, roll calls, etc.

The date for the annual Xmas concert was decided on and committees appointed. Mrs. A. Olstad is taking charge of the program and anyone caring to contribute to the program with music, recitations or other numbers, is asked to phone her at 2916, and she will be pleased to put your name down on the list.

It was pleasing to see so many ladies present and an enjoyable hour followed the meeting when all partook of the nice lunch provided by the hostess Mrs. Pawlow.

Muscle age of flight approaches reports The Financial Post. Who cares about jet runways and sound barriers, it asks, when a U. Shower For Marwayne Bride

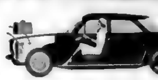
The Marwayne United Church hall, beautifully decorated, was the scene of a shower on Friday evening, October 30th to honor Darlene Kvill.

Darlene was presented with a corsage and seated in a chair with an arch of flowers. Mrs. Kvill and Mrs. Meunier were also given corsages. Contests were greatly enjoyed by all. Following this the gifts were unwrapped by Darlene assisted by the two mothers and her twin sister, Arlene. Darlene then thanked everyone in a very gracious manner.

The evening came to a close with a delightful lunch served by the hostesses, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Kostecky and Mrs. Doell.

HERE'S Corvair BY CHEVROLET
WITH ENGINE IN THE REAR



WHERE IT BELONGS IN A COMPACT CAR

We knew Corvair's engine had to go in the rear if we wanted a compact car with big car ride, big car room, big car performance — and maximum efficiency. And that called for the most drastic revolution in auto design and manufacturing Canada has ever seen. What does a rear engine mean to you as driver or passenger?

MORE SPACE — The floor is virtually flat. The short "opposed six" engine takes up less space, leaves more for passengers.

FAR BETTER RIDE—Every wheel can step up a bump without affecting any other. So the ride is far softer—and the wheels cling to the pavement better.

GREATER TRACTION—Try a Corvair on mud, or snow, you'll be astounded by the difference in road-grip and control.

BETTER BRAKING — Corvair is designed to put an almost equal brake load on every wheel, the rear end maintains solid, sure traction for smooth, straightline stops in virtually any situation.

LESS NOISE, LESS HEAT — Engine noise, heat, fumes are behind the passengers; carried away by the wind stream as you drive.

LESS MAINTENANCE—Corvair's air-cooled engine never needs antifreeze, never boils in the hottest weather. It warms up quicker in cold weather, so there's much less cold-start wear.

BETTER HANDLING—Corvair's "flat" engine and lower floor gets the centre of gravity 'way down; it rides rock-solid through the tightest turns. Steering is light as a feather, will never need power assistance.

LESS NEEDLESS WEIGHT — Corvair's power plant is mostly aluminum. And it's air-cooled — no need for a radiator, water pump, hoses or even the weight of the water itself. And there's an added plus here; we designed a gas-fired car heater* that gives warmth almost instantly.

Engine, transmission, and rear axle are all bolted together into one solid power unit. We save literally hundreds of pounds, and that makes a whopping big difference in performance and in gasoline economy.

THE RIGHT ANSWER — It took a terrific amount of engineering and Chevrolet's tremendous resources to design, test and set up production on a precedent-shattering car like Corvair. But the first time you get behind the wheel—you'll agree it was worth every penny and every hour!

*Optional at extra cost.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Charges High Prices At Banff During Tourist Season

by KEN MAROW

EDMONTON — Deputy Provincial Secretary Elmore R. Hughes last week found himself in an embarrassing spot, and through no fault of his own.

Someone in Ottawa — he doesn't know who — released to the press a confidential report Mr Hughes had prepared for discussion during closed sessions of the annual federal-provincial tourist conference in Ottawa this week.

In his report Mr Hughes notes increasing numbers of tourists are complaining about merchants in Banff National Park charging exorbitant prices. He suggests an undercover investigation to determine if the charges are correct.

Thousands of Albertans who have visited Banff probably will go along with Mr. Hughes' contention that prices should be investigated, but it won't do anything to put him in good with the tourist industry which his department has administered since the economic affairs department was disbanded in September.

What gripes the deputy provincial secretary is that he thought the report was confidential. He sent it to Allan Field, director of the Canadian government travel bureau in answer to a request for suggestions on furthering travel in the national parks.

He was "shocked and surprised" when the story of his report appeared in newspapers last week, and looking back on 30-odd years as a civil servant said: "Nothing like this has ever happened to me before."

You can be sure he'll have something to say to federal travel officials this week when he attends the travel conference as Alberta's representative.

FOUR LANE HIGHWAYS REDUCE ACCIDENTS

Highways Minister Gordon Taylor has issued his second report on the accident rate on four-lane highways where the daytime speed limit was raised to 65 m.p.h. last summer.

For the most part, he says, surveys have shown the accident rate is down from last year. But one short stretch of undivided four-lane road immediately south of Red Deer is causing some concern.

There were only two accidents on that stretch of road last year, but there have been six this year. Mr. Taylor said the highways department will post acceleration and deceleration signs on the road in an effort to cut the accident rate.

The overall accident rate on the four-lane roads has dropped to 1.345 per million vehicle miles from 2.73, the minister said.

ALBERTA BUDGET DEFICIT FADES—SURPLUS FORECAST

Last year when Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman delivered his budget speech in the Legislature, he forecast a deficit of $45,300,000.

It was the first deficit budget in Alberta in years and amounted to a sharp reversal of Social Credit's almost sacred "pay-as-you-go" fiscal policies. The opposition naturally jumped on the projected deficit as a good election issue but didn't get far with it.

Last week Provincial auditor [illegible] K. Huckvale released an interim financial statement covering operations for the first six months of the fiscal year. What it showed, among other things, was that Mr. Hinman needn't have cried the financial blues so loudly last February.

For instead of running in the red the province chalked up a whopping $14,775,655 surplus after all the bills had been paid. And Mr. Hinman said he could see no chance of a deficit occurring between now and the end of the year.

What happened? Mainly, Mr. Hinman underestimated revenue from natural resources. Instead of spending less on crown reserve oil and gas leases, the major oil companies spent more.

Lease sales brought in more than $50,000,000 compared with $25,000,000 the year before. It helped push cash receipts to $173,000,000 against $130,000,000 for the same period last year.

Economic conditions are better all around now, says Hinman, and for the next year he's thinking in terms of "at least a balanced budget."

Re: Northeastern Livestock Sales Association

Having been inactive for the past five years, this association now considers it advisable to wind up its affairs. Assets consist of $220.00 cash. Present A. M. West With Testimonial Plaque at Town and Country Banquet

In receiving a testimonial plaque from the Board of Trade at the Town and Country banquet held on Monday, November 30, Albert M. West was told that his record as an outstanding member of the business community of Vermilion was very much appreciated by the Board of Trade and the citizens of the town. Jack K[illegible], president of the Board of Trade, and chairman of the banquet went on to say that Mr. West had been in business in Vermilion for 50 years and during that time had spared no effort or time in helping in all worthwhile projects in the community. He expressed an appreciation of Mr. West's services to the Board during those years, particularly while he was president, and as an executive member. Mrs. West was also acclaimed for her contributions of talent, time and effort to many organizations and individuals during the years that the Wests have been in Vermilion.

In reply Mr. West said that he and Mrs. West had enjoyed living in Vermilion, and had tried to enter into the business and social life of the community, being pleased to help wherever they could. They appreciated the friendly associations they had formed through the years, and hoped to continue them. He commended the Board of Trade for a good job well done. He presented Mrs. West as a great help to him in his endeavors.

Immediately following the banquet Tom Watts, with accompaniment by Dr. C. W. Stephens, led the gathering in a community sing-song. The chairman welcomed the gathering to the annual Board of Trade dinner, with a special mention of the farmer members and guests who were present. Following an introduction of head table guests, Mr. Kneale called on Ralph Wilson, a Director of the F. U. A., to introduce the farmers who had attended as representatives of their F. U. A. locals. He spoke of the farmers' organization telling of its history and its present activities.

V. S. A. STUDENT RECEIVES AWARD

N. N. Bentley, Principal of the Vermilion School of Agriculture introduced Miss Laurie Anne Campbell, the winner of the Board of Trade scholarship and the accompanying shield. Miss Campbell is a second year student, and the only girl in the agriculture course. She had achieved the award on the basis of outstanding contribution to the school in all phases of student life.

JUDGE L. Y. CAIRNS, GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker of the evening, L. Y. Cairns, Judge of the District Court and Chancellor of the University of Alberta was introduced as a long-time friend by F. J. Richardson. He mentioned that Judge Cairns had been one of the first students at the University of Alberta, and had continued to have a keen interest in the affairs of the University ever since. He told the audience that Judge Cairns had been a successful practising lawyer, and that he was now a highly respected Judge of the District Court.

The speaker chose as his topic for the evening, tales of a trip made to Japan by himself and his wife three years ago. He said that he had always been interested in Japan, and that he was not disappointed when he actually had the opportunity to see it. It was the most wonderful trip that he had ever had. His presentation of his impressions of Japan was not in the usual style of a travelogue, but was a series of vignettes told with humour and an enjoyment of unusual situations. The Japanese are a polite and hospitable people, and he illustrated this remark with small "silhouettes", stories with much human interest. In closing he recommended that anyone having the opportunity to do so, should take the trip to Japan for they would never regret it.

J. W. G. Morrison thanked Judge Cairns for his humourous travelogue, and mentioned that he had known him for many years in the law profession. He went on to speak of the history of Board of Trade annual meetings and the large contribution made by such an organization to the life of the town.

In extending greetings on behalf of the Town of Vermilion, Mayor Melvin Hill also thanked the speaker for a witty address, saying that a good laugh was good for all of us. He then congratulated the Board of Trade on a lengthy and successful history and said that the good fellowship enjoyed at the regular meetings was of importance in the progress of the town.

On behalf of the farmer guests, Fred Haines, president of the [illegible] F. U. A. local, thanked the Board of Trade for their hospitality.

Dr. Bob Anderson was a very capable moderator. Other members of the panel were Mr. Ross Taylor, Mrs. [illegible], Mr. Rudy Renaud, Mr. J. Levitt and Roger Renaud.

There will be no Home and School meeting in December. The next meeting will be on Jan. 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Maire, Islay, Celebrate Golden Anniversary

A golden wedding of great interest was celebrated on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Maire in honor of John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maire. They came down from Edmonton, where they now reside and the family followed the next day from Camrose. This was to be, they thought, a family reunion, but much to their surprise during the day about ninety guests arrived to wish them health and happiness for many years to come.

Among the guests were five old timers who attended their wedding [illegible] years ago at Pleasant Valley: Mme. Maire, the groom's [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Evans, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. Plante, her brother-in-law, and Mr. [illegible]. Many [illegible] from near and far. Mrs. Maire wore a lovely corsage of small yellow chrysanthemums, and Mr. Maire wore a white carnation boutonniere.

The bride and groom of fifty years ago received some lovely gifts. The family presented their mother with a set of black diamond earrings and necklace and their father with a set of gold cuff links. They also received from their friends some beautiful flowers which consisted of yellow, white and bronze chrysanthemums which looked lovely decorating the rooms. A very bountiful lunch was served including the wedding cake which was made by their daughter. It was a very happy occasion, a day full of pleasant surprises for them both.

Come Now, Wainwright, Let's Not Be Selfish!

The Wainwright Chamber of Commerce has recently commenced action which would lead one to believe that they hope to have the transcontinental train which has been using this line since [illegible] 25th, transferred back to the Wainwright line of the C N R. The only [illegible] of this [illegible] Canadian National officials didn't [illegible] the continental to the Vermilion route years ago instead of [illegible] service on the much less populated Wainwright line. Vermilion area is now served by a transcontinental and a daily railiner. Wainwright has the super-continental and a local train. Seems things are about even so let's not be selfish Wainwright. Canadian National employees are greatly pleased with the business the switch has brought them and the Standard believes that the present equable arrangement will last for a long long time.

Anti-Apathy Drive Opened Tuesday

From coast to coast in Canada, motorists and pedestrians have been called on to shake off the apathy that makes them easy targets for death on the highway since the nation-wide Safe Driving Week campaign opened Tuesday, Dec. 1st. The drive against motoring and walking apathy will last for a week to Dec. 7 sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council with active co-operation of many federal, provincial and community organizations.

Calls have been issued by both the Prime Minister and the Governor-General for the people of Canada to shake off the indifference so many hold against the dangers of highway travel. It is pointed out that the great highway toll of past years has been largely the result of apathy of drivers and pedestrians who refuse to realize the imminence of death, injury and serious economic loss through traffic mishaps.

In Alberta, Government and civic officials have joined in the campaign which is being directed by The Alberta Safety Council.

The objective is to cut in half the normal toll at this time of 70 deaths per week in Canada.

Praise for Alberta 4H Club Members

Alberta entries cut 4 of the top twelve awards in the 4H wheat section at the Royal Winter Fair. This included Douglas Mackintosh who went on to win the world championship. Congratulating 4H winners, A. M. Wilson, Field Crop Commissioner of the Alberta Department of Agriculture said: "The impressive list of winners particularly in wheat speaks well for the quality of grain grown in Alberta, but it speaks even better for the quality of the boys and girls who prepare the exhibits. They appreciate the challenge and for many years have been a credit to the province and their [illegible]."

Beware of Carbon Monoxide — The Silent Killer

Carbon monoxide causes more deaths than any other poison. Every year it reaps a deadly toll among Alberta farm families. During Safe Driving Week, Dec. 1 to 7, it takes its place among safety hazards to be guarded against during the winter months.

Mr. W. J. Perkins, Farm Safety Council, warns against this insidious, almost odorless gas. Open the door before starting a motor in a garage or implement shed. Leave one of the car windows open an inch even in the coldest weather. If your car is stuck in deep snow be sure the exhaust is clear and keep the window partially open if the motor is running. It is most important at this time of year to check the exhaust system of your car and the heating facilities of your home.

Carbon monoxide can kill within minutes, depending on the concentration breathed into the lungs. Symptoms of poisoning are tightness across the forehead followed or accompanied by throbbing in the temples, headache, weakness, dizziness, nausea, loss of muscular control and increased pulse and respiration. Anyone feeling any of these symptoms should get into the fresh air at once. A supposed victim should be taken to the hospital immediately.

The Bible Today

Celebrating the 150th year of its life in 1959, the National Bible Society of Scotland reviewed its work all over the world. A story of the work of this society in Indonesia tells how some German missionaries obtained permission, grudgingly given, to teach a remote tribe. Two years were spent teaching the principles of right and wrong largely from the Old Testament. The chief of the tribe ordered the missionaries to depart as they had not taught the people anything they did not already know. They were thunderstruck and pleaded to be allowed to stay another six months. They concentrated entirely on the New [illegible] and the stories of [illegible] and his love. The chief of [illegible] at the end of the six months told them that they could stay as long as they liked because this really was new. So the Gospels distributed by the Society speak new truth to all people.

BEES FOR BREAKFAST?

Dr. Brian Hocking, professor of Entomology at the University of Alberta, recently addressed Alberta beekeepers with some interesting facts about our friend the honey bee. He stated that baby honey bees have the protein content of beefsteak and the vitamin A and D content of cod liver oil. Furthermore, he said that the larvae and pupae of the honey bee is one of the most nutritious foods there is. Food experts have long known that honey is a very high energy food but have overlooked the food value of the young bees themselves, which is even greater. Fried in deep fat, they have a flavor comparable to shrimp.

In the early stages of its life the larva is fed Royal Jelly, the substance which transforms a worker larva into a queen. Bees are among the cleanest living creatures. Imported from Japan, baby bees are regarded as an exotic novelty. Dr. Hocking wondered if Alberta beekeepers are throwing a potential source of income in the garbage when they destroy bee broods. There are many people in the world who would appreciate such a good source of protein and vitamins.

As a boy Sir Wilfred Laurier was sent by his father, who hoped his son would one day enter politics, to live for two years with an English family in order to become truly bilingual.

Canada has more than 400 golf clubs with more than 60,000 women members and, at Thornhill, Ontario, the world's only golf club exclusively for ladies.

ON STORING DAMP GRAIN

Owing to the prolonged period of unfavorable harvesting weather, many western farmers will be faced this year with the serious problem of storing a considerable amount of "tough" and "damp" grain on the farm.

"Tough" Grain. If proper precautions are taken it should not be too difficult to store "tough" grain safely on the farm. Here are a few suggestions. (1) Aim to reduce the moisture content and the temperature of tough grain as much as possible before putting it in storage. (2) A thorough cleaning of tough grain is essential. (3) Store your tough grain in small bins, which are easy to get at for frequent examination, and for turning, if necessary. (4) Keep a close check on the condition of your "Tough" grain this Fall and Winter.

"Damp" Grain. The safe storage of damp grain presents a more serious problem. Cleaning is a "must" for damp grain. Every means should be employed to reduce its moisture content, and to keep it cool. Providing space is available, the simplest way of drying damp grain is to mix the "damp" grain with "dry" grain of the same grade. Grain [illegible] over 18 per cent [illegible] must, however, be dried [illegible] it is put in storage. Grain [illegible] on farms is now possible and practical if a well-designed dryer is [illegible] and operated by a competent operator who has a thorough knowledge of the requirements and dangers of grain drying.

Seek Advice. Detailed information on farm grain-drying equipment and procedures can be obtained from the Agricultural Engineer of your Extension Service, or of your provincial University. If you operate a grain dryer be sure and send in one-pound samples of the grain, taken before and after drying, to the Board of Grain Commissioners, Winnipeg, for quality tests. Your local elevator Agent will be glad to forward the samples from your grain dryer to the Board for testing.

DAMAGED FEED A HAZARD

There have been a few reports from across the province that cattle have died as a result of being fed frozen fodder. Occasionally animals are poisoned when fed oat hay which has a high nitrate content. Frost, drought and certain weed sprays may cause nitrates to accumulate in growing plants. Common flax can also cause livestock poisoning. Flax that has been frozen, hailed or otherwise damaged before maturity may contain toxic amounts of prussic acid. In general, the highest concentration of prussic acid is found in frozen, immature bolls.

FARM MANAGEMENT

Farm management involves a different type of study from other fields of agricultural science. First, it is a practical study in a way in which the other fields are not. Instead of simply dealing with the facts of agricultural science it shows how to put these facts to work on the farm. In short, farm management alone is interested in profitability.

A PROBLEM IN THE FUTURE

Further increases in human and livestock population will create increasing demands upon water supplies which will be an ever increasing critical factor in agriculture. In Los Angeles city the level of underground water has dropped 280 feet in 15 years.

THE Homemaker
NANCY HOOPER
District Home Economist
Wainwright, Alta.

Last week some of the points to consider in purchasing a clothes dryer were discussed. This column is meant to bring out various factors in dryer installation and operation.

DRYER INSTALLATION

Dryers should be grounded when installed.

Placing the dryer on a platform will help eliminate stooping and lifting. Be sure to read the instruction book before you start to use the dryer. Keep it for reference when necessary.

USING THE DRYER

Sort loads according to drying time. When you mix heavy and light clothes, the dryer must run long enough to dry the heavy ones and the light ones will be overdried.

Starched clothes should not be loaded with unstarched ones. Unstarched clothes will take on starch. Many homemakers use a "heavier-than-starch" solution if clothes are to be dryer dried.

Use buffers (6 or 7 terry towels) when drying woolens and delicate fabrics.

It is best not to dry clothes till "bone dry". Overdrying may damage the fibres, make fabrics limp, less absorbent and more difficult to iron.

OVERLOADING AND UNDERLOADING

Overloading your dryer is false economy. Besides slowing drying time, overloading is hard on the motor.

Underloading is not recommended either. If there is less than half a load, add a dry towel or two to give good tumbling action. Underloading may also result in yellowing or scorching.

REMOVING CLOTHES FROM THE DRYER

Take clothes from the dryer as soon as it stops. Otherwise wrinkles and creases will "set" and be hard to iron out. Some dryers have a signal light or sound warning.

CARE FOR YOUR DRYER

Like all household equipment, dryers require proper care. Clean the lint screen following each use of the dryer. About once a month, clean the inside of the drum with a vacuum cleaner. Remove the lint trap, then direct the blower of the cleaner over the inside of the drum, blowing the lint into the space below. If not cleaned periodically, lint may become a fire hazard.

4-H Club Holds Annual Luncheon

MANNVILLE — The Mannville 4-H members held their annual buffet luncheon in the high school auditorium on November 20th.

The evening was opened by the group of 4-H'ers singing the 4-H grace. Supper started with the parents helping themselves first. Approximately 85 people were served in this manner. After supper when the cleaning up was finished, Josie McDonald led the group in a sing-song. Mr. Gamble, the club leader, introduced Emil Fedechko as chairman and each member recited the 4-H pledge led by Arleen McLaughlin.

Emil called on Mr. Douglas, the District Agriculturist, first. Mr. Douglas stated that Mannville had a very active club. Mr. E. Dobko, the assistant D. A. was called upon. He mentioned that Emil Fedechko received first and Loraine second for their club plots and David Clennett had the best [illegible] of oats at the achievement day. He also mentioned that Betty McLaughlin was first for her red-row plot, her display board and her records.

Emil then called on Mr. Williams, mayor of Mannville. He thanked the 4-H members on behalf of Mannville for the invitation. He also expressed their wishes that in the future they would consider having their 4-H achievement days in Mannville.

Mr. Gamble then explained to the group how every year one of the 4-H club is selected for their efforts in club work and this year Arleen McLaughlin was the winner. Mr. Ralph [illegible] on behalf of the Bank of [illegible] presented her with a [illegible] Bulova watch with her [illegible] engraved on it.

Josie McDonald, who was chosen to go to the Toronto Royal Winter Fair, told of the highlights of her trip. Gordon McLaughlin expressed the club's thanks to Josie for her interesting talk.

The guest speaker, Mr. J. E. Hawker, [illegible] of [illegible] of agriculture in Alberta was [illegible] introduced by Mr. Gamble. Mr. Hawker spoke on the experience of people, problems people have and how they solve them. Barry McDonald thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Mr. Dunsworth provided music for a short dance to end the evening.

Since 1930 the annual death rate in Canada has declined from 1,310 to 874 per 100,000 persons. Nearly half of today's deaths are caused by accidents.

Dewberry Home and School Plan For Christmas Concert

There was only a fair attendance at the November meeting of the Dewberry Home and School which was held in the school on the 12th of November. President Mr. Bob Gray opened the meeting with the singing of "O Canada." The secretary, Mrs. Purser, read the minutes of the October meeting.

Mrs. Kruger's grade ten room was the winner of the banner and book for October.

It was decided to ask the C. G. I. T. to provide the entertainment for the December meeting. This will be something to look forward to.

A new lunch committee was formed to serve for the next three months.

A discussion was held about the children being prepared for an emergency in the cold weather. A motion was made that the parents have their children prepared for same, as the weather quite often changes after the children leave for school.

The parents were again reminded to mark the children's suits, boots etc., clearly as much confusion would be spared if articles of clothing were so marked.

Mrs. Doris Jones, the delegate to the Banff workshop in October, gave a very interesting report on the conference.

It was decided to have a Christmas concert on Dec. 22nd with admission to be 75 cents per family. The Home and School Association will look after treats for the children, the committee for this being Mrs. Oxton, Mrs. Bacala, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Purser.

Several items of business were left on the agenda for the next meeting which will be on Dec. 10th at 8:30 p.m.

We hope to have a record turnout for this meeting. It would certainly be nice to see more [illegible] join as members and [illegible] an active interest in their [illegible] dren's school activities.

A contest put on by the entertainment committee was very much enjoyed, as was the bountiful lunch.

Remember the date of the next meeting on December 10th. Hope to see you all then.

E. A. H. L. Teams Appoint Coaches

New hockey coaches will make their appearance around the E. A. H. L. circuit this season. St. Paul Hornets have announced that John Maddock of Edmonton has been appointed to the coaching position with their club and has moved his family to St. Paul. The Hornets still intend to operate with as much local talent as possible.

Up at Bonnyville, Elmer Gase, a native of Coronation, takes over the training of the Pontiacs. He brings a wealth of hockey lore and will also take his regular turn on the ice.

Vermilion Tigers have signed up energetic Bruce Anderson, who has played with them for the past two seasons. The Tigers are now skating and practising under his direction.

The first Liberal Prime Minister of Canada was Alexander Mackenzie who was born in Scotland and was a building contractor and also a newspaper editor.

Pioneers of Vermilion Area Pictured on Bank Calendar

A scene once familiar in this West of ours homesteaders on a trek to their farms, comes to life again on next year's Canadian Bank of Commerce wall calendar thanks to the astute judgment of the late Sir Edmund Walker.

In 1906, Sir Edmund (who was then Mr B E Walker and general manager of the bank toured the newly established prairie provinces in order to get a first-hand look at the possibilities of development. In the course of his tour he collected photographs of the pioneering days which are now of great historical value. Many of the photographs were taken by Sir Edmund himself or members of his party.

One of the photographs shows settlers in the Vermilion area moving their goods by horse or ox drawn wagons along a prairie trail. It seemed to fit in with the transportation theme which the bank has been illustrating on its wall calendars in recent years. Lucy Robertson, a member of the personnel, who paints in her spare time, did an oil painting based on the old photograph, and although she had never been west of the Great Lakes, her prairie coloring impressed those Westerners who saw the finished job.

It was decided that Miss Robertson's painting should be used on the bank's 1960 wall calendar, to be distributed early in December, as a tribute to the hardy pioneers who homesteaded in Alberta more than half a century ago.

Alberta Wheat Pool Experiences Best Year In Its History

The Alberta Wheat Pool has experienced its best year in history and ended the 1958-59 season with net earnings of $2,[illegible]. This was reported to Alberta Wheat Pool delegates at their annual meeting in Calgary this week by A. T. Baker, general manager.

During the course of the meeting which will likely last about ten days, delegates will deal with the disposition of these earnings. It is expected that nearly all will be returned to members as patronage dividends.

While at the meeting, the 70 delegates from all parts of the province will attend the dedication of the Pool's new 8-storey head office building now nearing completion in Calgary.

Though the organization has experienced a most successful year, the directors in their report expressed growing concern [illegible] declining net farm income. They [illegible] that farm organizations [illegible] be prepared to pursue, with [illegible] and resources, marketing methods which will ensure a healthy and productive agriculture.

In his report to the delegates, Mr. Baker stated that in the past year the farmers delivered 61.5 million bushels of grain to Pool elevators or 28.7% of the total marketed in the province. This is an increase of [illegible] 5 million bushels over the previous year and the highest percentage on record.

Handlings of the Seed Division amounted to nearly 15 million pounds of clean forage seed. This was 45% of all forage seed marketed in Alberta and the Peace River area of B.C., compared with only 12% handled in the previous year.

In 1958-59, the Alberta Wheat Pool reported a membership of 49,164 farmers. It operated 536 country elevators (568 at present) and terminals at Vancouver and Port Arthur. Six new elevators were built during the year, at Botha, Fort St. John, Irma, Lac La Biche, Lomond and Milk River.

Final Services With Evangelist Greenway

Final services with Evangelist and Mrs. Reginald Greenway were held at the Alliance Tabernacle, Mannville and the Alliance Chapel, Vermilion on Sunday, Nov. 29th.

The musical abilities of the Greenways were shown to best advantage as they played the violin, harp, Hammond organ and theremin, each night of the campaign. The singing of Gospel songs and the preaching of Mr Greenway were much appreciated and were a definite challenge to all who heard.

From Vermilion the Greenways continue to Cold Lake where they will be guests at the Youth for Christ rally this Saturday night, Dec. 5th.

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL MEMBERS ACHIEVE A NEW MILESTONE OF PROGRESS

On November 30th, the Alberta Wheat Pool's new office building in Calgary was officially dedicated. It will be occupied before the end of December.

The completion of this modern 8-storey building is a tribute to the farm people of Alberta, whose loyalty and faith in the co-operative principles have made the Alberta Wheat Pool the province's largest home-owned business.

Today the facilities of the Alberta Wheat Pool — all farmer-owned — include 568 country elevators, huge terminal elevators at Vancouver and Port Arthur, a seed handling division and now Calgary's most modern office building.

Alberta Wheat Pool members have reason to be proud of their achievements.

The weather we have with us always, but this week's weather is the kind we'd most like to keep. However .02 inches of rain on Sunday Nov. 29 made the roads and walks very slippery, especially the blacktop.

Mixed Chorus to Sing French Carols

A French legend of the Christmas tree dates from the thirteenth century. Bouclgovaller discovered a gigantic tree covered with candles in the forest. Some of the candles were upside down and some erect, at the top of the tree was a child with a halo around his head. When asked to explain this, the Pope said the child represented the Saviour, the tree, mankind, and the candle, good and bad humans. History says that the French borrowed the custom of decorating the tree from Germany late in the nineteenth century. Usually the tree is planted in a tub before bringing it into the house.

The Creche is of great importance in the French home at Christmas. Candles are lighted before it on Christmas Eve and are kept burning until Epiphany. Holly and ivy are used to decorate the Creche as well as the home. Additional decorations in the home are Christmas hoops. These are made of foliage, apples, nuts and colored egg shells.

Caroling is of very early origin in France. French carols are known as Noels.

There are many beautiful French carols, some of which will be sung at the Carol Concert on December 13th. "Angels We Have Heard On High," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Bring a Torch, Jeanette, Isabella," "The First Noel." The first named, will be sung by the 33-voiced junior choir along with "O Holy Night" and many more. Nothing is more pleasing to the heart and ear than to hear children's voices raised in song, so give yourself a treat and attend the carol concert. You will be helping others not as fortunate as you, by your attendance and donation. The complete program will be in the Standard next week, cut it out and bring it to the concert with you.

INDIAN CHIEFS HAVE NO BEEF WITH DIEFENBAKER

Clean Grain and Select Seed Now

Measures should be taken now to set aside the most satisfactory grain for use as seed, says A. M. Wilson, Field Crop Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture. In the process of harvesting damp and tough grain, farmers should be mindful that every effort should be made to save grain that will be suitable for planting the 1960 crop.

It is not just a matter of selecting the best grain to be held for planting. It is also a matter of putting it into safe storage and in such a place that it can be shovelled over or moved periodically should it be damp or tough. Some farmers may be unfortunate enough not to have grain that will be satisfactory for planting. In such a case one should not overlook the possibility of exchanging feed grain for grain that will be satisfactory for seed. Frequently grain harvested under the present conditions contains weed seeds or plant material that contain even more moisture than the grain. If such is the case, early cleaning would be desirable so this wetter material can be removed.

Whatever storage is used, the bins should be well cleaned in as much as grain beetles of one kind or another or mites, survive under adverse storage conditions. The cleaning will also make the grain less liable to insect damage, particularly from grain mites, because they build up more in areas where grain dust accumulates. Mr. Wilson recommends that cleaning now will avoid problems that may arise later.

All truly enjoyed the 'trip to Mexico'.

On Saturday evening some of the club members went to Blackfoot to dance to Jimmie Lindsay and the same evening a representation was at Vegreville where Harold Schacher was calling.

Sociological note from the taxicab industry:

"Give me retarded children every time," a Toronto cabdriver said. "I drive six of them to school every morning all in the cab at once. They're no trouble, good as gold.

"I drive a lot of normal kids too," he went on, "but you have to watch them like a hawk or they'll have the meter and the radio and the windshield wiper out of order in no time. The retarded have much better manners."

The third fall social of the Golden Age Friendship club was held in the Legion hall on Nov. 18 with 48 members attending. Whist was the featured game of the evening. After four hands had been played, a recess was called for the election of officers. Mr. Loyal Amos was in the chair.

After some lively discussions Mr. Roy Walker moved that the same officers be returned for another year. This was seconded by Mrs. Carroll, and carried unanimously. Officers thus returned were:

Pres. — Mr. W. Waldenberger
Vice-Pres. — Mrs. Simonette
Secretary — Mr. P. Cross
Treasurer — Mrs. M. Waldenberger
Social — Chairman Mr. C. Johnson, Mrs. Hugh Mitchell, Mr. Roy Jory, Mr. H. Simmons
Kitchen Convenors — Mrs. C. Johnson, Mrs. Geo. Whyte, Mrs. M. Lee
Press Reporter — Mrs. W. Fisk
Sick Conv. — Mrs. E. Rivetts
Property Conv's. — Mrs. W. Waldenberger, Mrs. P. A. Cross
Registrar & Keeper of the Tin Box — Mr. Geo. Whyte

The treasurer's report was read by the secretary P. Cross in the absence of Mrs. Waldenberger who is in hospital. The report was adopted on motion of Mr. Walker, seconded by Mr. Jory. All the members wish to take this opportunity to wish Mrs. Waldenberger a speedy recovery and able to attend the December meeting.

Following the installation of officers a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Amos for the very efficient manner in which he conducted the election. Prior to the resumption of whist Mr. Roy Walker made a few remarks regarding the amount of work done by the various committees, also of the wonderful club, and emphasized the hope that more of the senior citizens would enroll and take advantage of the good times everyone enjoys so much.

Anyone fifty years of age or over, please feel free to drop in and have fun.

A hearty round of applause was given Mrs. Simonet, also Mr. Jory for donation of whist prizes the winners of which were Mrs. Kehoe, Mrs. A. Cameron and Mrs. M. Lee, Mr. G. Gerry, Mrs. Elsie Cross and Mr. Bill Wirtz.

The club thanks the ladies of the lunch committee and the gentlemen who poured tea and coffee. When lunch was over Mr. Waldenberger spoke of the next social to be held in the Legion hall on Wednesday, Dec. 16 at 2 p.m. sharp. This will be our Christmas get-together and Mr. Heckbert has kindly offered to show pictures of his trip to the Old Country and Europe. These should prove very interesting.

All members are asked to please bring a gift of not less than 35 cents value and to mark it lady or gent. It is necessary for each one to bring something to assure that nobody will be left out. Lunch will be served as usual and the cake will be a birthday and Christmas combination, so please make a very special effort to attend, as the theme song goes "The more we get together, the happier we'll be."

The social came to an end with the singing of the club's theme song followed by "The Queen".

Scientists predict the recently perfected "miracle drugs" are just the beginning of the many new discoveries time will reveal to us.

Up to 10% of the sales of prescription medicines is set aside by the pharmaceutical manufacturers for research to create better drugs. Every prescription you get is helping in the discovery of future drugs. How wonderful that modern prescriptions, which already save so many lives, lessen sickness-time and cost so little for what they accomplish, are also helping future generations. Your children will live longer, healthier lives because of today's research.

A great many people entrust us with the responsibility of filling their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Crofts Surprised on Silver Anniversary

MANNVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Croft, now of Elk Point, were pleasantly surprised on Saturday evening, when a number of old friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. [illegible] to honor them on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Both former Mannville citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Croft were presented with a coffee table and lamp, for which they expressed sincere thanks to all. A delicious lunch was then served, complete with wedding cake.

Curb Company Gifts

"It smells of bribery and corruption." "It is not bribery. It is a way of expressing our good will to our customers." "It's a darn nuisance."

These comments of business executives to The Financial Post were on the practice of companies giving gifts to customers and other contacts at Christmas time.

A Post spot-check of 21 firms certainly showed a dislike of the practice and possibly a trend away from it.

WINNIPEG FANS BEAT THE FREEZE

Winnipeg fans didn't mind the eight degree temperature as they watched the Bombers beat Edmonton, 16-8, and represent the West in the Grey Cup game. Terry Roy, 12, was snug as a bug in a sleeping bag and his dad in a fur jacket was cosy, too. They travelled 38 miles to see the game.

NEWS from KITSCOTY

Mr. and Mrs. E. Ferris accompanied by Mrs. A. W. Gavler, were recent week end guests in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Franko received the sad news last week, that their brother, Mr. Robert A. Wright, had passed away suddenly, while working at Fort Nelson. Mrs. Franko attended the funeral which was held in Edmonton. Sincere sympathy is extended to the family in their bereavement.

Michael and Duane Batty spent the week end in Lloydminster visiting with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Skoreyko.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLean were Edmonton visitors during the latter part of the week.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Carpenter who are the very proud parents of a daughter, born Saturday, November 28th in the Lloydminster hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Batty of Beverley were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Franko last Sunday.

Mr. Peter Dmo of Edmonton was a week end visitor here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dmo.

Mr. Thomas Alton spent several days last week visiting with his son Carl, Mrs. Alton and family at Loon Lake, Sask.

Best wishes for a complete recovery are extended to Mr. Jas. Crewe of the Earlie district who is a patient in the Lloydminster hospital and to Mr. Jack Butterfield who is a patient in Islay hospital. We regret to report that Mrs. J. Crewe and Mr. G. McTaggart are still in hospital at Lloydminster.

A farewell party in the form of a social evening was held for Mr. and Mrs. A. Stan Byrt and family in the Tracy [illegible] hall recently. Rev. A. [illegible] in his capable manner, presented [illegible] with a purse of money and many good wishes to take with them to their new home in Lloydminster. Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

The most annoying driver on the nation's streets and highways today is the fellow I call the "get-ahead-at-any-cost" character. He operates at his best (or worst) in heavy traffic when cars are bumper to bumper and moving slowly. He has but one simple thought, worthy of a simple mind, and that is to get ahead at any cost.

You know how he operates: he rides his horn viciously, takes pressing advantage of even the slightest opening to wedge and force his way in, cuts dangerously and sharply in front of cars, and weaves in and out of traffic lanes with utter and reckless abandon. Some of the more demented drivers of this type even falsely signal left or right turns to prevent cars behind from moving up to their regular places.

The get-ahead-at-any-cost driver is not only a totally unprincipled driver — he is a downright dangerous one. Your best method of dealing with him is to hold your rightful place in heavy traffic fairly and firmly, refusing to be intimidated. [illegible] way so he can force [illegible] another ten feet or so.

Sooner or later every get-ahead-at-any-cost driver pays the bill, and it's usually an expensive one for getting ahead in traffic — all of a single car's length.

Safe Driving Week 1959 runs from December 1 to 7 inclusive.

Rustler Comeback

Cattlemen in Manitoba ain't aiming to string anyone up to a tree — or gun him down at high noon at Portage and Main, reports The Financial Post. But they say three months in the hoosegow is too easy a fate for that mean, ornery varmint, the rustler.

Nobody can exactly recollect if rustlers ever were legally hanged in the Canadian west. In any case, they feel that penalty may be a mite severe.

But the Manitoba Stock Growers Association, at its fourth annual convention in Brandon, has called on Attorney-General Sterling Lyon to crack down on modern-day rustlers.

Football in the United States was a form of soccer until McGill University showed Harvard University a game in which carrying the ball was permitted. That was in 1874 and Harvard won the game, three to four.

Girls Plan For Pot Luck Supper

MANNVILLE — Meeting at the home of their leader on Nov. 26th, the girls of the G. A. of the Anglican church held a short business meeting preceded by a worship service and mission study. Reading the foreword by the Bishop of Ottawa in the new study book "As Large As Life", the Bishop states, "one may serve God in any occupation that fills a legitimate need." The book deals with Christian vocation and appears most interesting.

Decision was made to hold a pot luck supper on Tuesday of this week, Dec. 1st.

A handicraft table is being sponsored at the bazaar on Dec. 5th.

In 1958 Canadian motorists paid $480 million in registration fees and gasoline taxes, plus $124 million in sales and excise taxes on new vehicles.

Health Unit Notes

VENEREAL DISEASE

CATCHING! Venereal diseases (VD) are highly contagious. "Venereal" means "spread through sexual contact." This is how these infections are almost always caught — through sexual relations with someone who is infected. The two venereal diseases which are serious family problems in this country are syphilis and gonorrhea.

Syphilis is caused by a germ called Spirochaeta pallida. The germs from the infected person enter the body of the other person through breaks in the mucous membrane or skin surfaces, usually of the sex organs. Once in a while syphilis may be picked up through kissing, or through open wounds or abrasions of the skin. On rare occasions it may be caught through using such articles as towels or cups just used by a person in the infectious stages of the disease.

Gonorrhea is another venereal disease, caused by an entirely different germ called the gonococcus. Like syphilis, it is usually spread by sexual contact. However, gonorrhea may occasionally be caught — especially by little girls — through sharing towels or other articles with a person who has the disease.

DANGEROUS!

If untreated, both syphilis and gonorrhea usually end in tragedy — not only for the victim but for his family and friends.

Syphilis, for example, can be passed on by a mother to her unborn child. It can cause miscarriages and stillbirths. In its late stages it may affect the heart and arteries or cause blindness, deafness, insanity, and many other serious and painful conditions. These crippling effects often destroy wage-earning ability and family unity. For centuries, the end result in thousands of cases every year has been death.

When gonorrhea [illegible] the [illegible] organs, serious trouble may result, particularly in women. If untreated, this infection may cause sterility in both men and women. Gonorrhea used to be the chief cause of blindness in newborn babies because the germ, if present in the birth canal, could enter the baby's eyes during birth and cause violent inflammation. Most provinces have practically eliminated this cause of blindness by a law which requires that drops of an approved disinfecting solution be placed in a baby's eyes immediately after birth.

CURABLE!

Syphilis can usually be arrested or cured if it is recognized and treated promptly by a physician in the early stages. The disease is not easy to detect. There are few outward signs of infection. The physician must make a thorough examination, including blood and microscopic tests, before he can be sure.

Untreated syphilis will run through several stages. The first stage is usually marked by the appearance of a small sore, called a chancre, at the point of infection, which is usually on the sex organs but may be anywhere on the body. The chancre appears from 10 days to 10 weeks after exposure and, as a rule, is hard and painless. Ordinarily it disappears after a while, even without treatment. In this stage the disease is highly contagious. If treatment is begun at this time, prompt cure is almost certain.

In the second stage, from the 6th to 12th week or longer after infection, there may be a skin rash and perhaps a sore throat, fever, headache, mouth sores, loss of hair, and a general run-down feeling. These are signs that the infection has spread through the blood stream to all parts of the body. The mouth sores are highly contagious, and the skin rash may also be contagious. After a time the symptoms of the second stage also disappear, even without treatment, and the disease becomes latent — that is, it produces no noticeable symptoms. Treatment may take longer if it is delayed until this stage.

Like syphilis, gonorrhea can be cured if it is treated early by a skilled physician. Itching and burning particularly when urinating, are usually the first signs of the disease. They occur a few days after infection. Soon a discharge begins to come from the inflamed organs. The disease is particularly dangerous in women because they may not notice the early symptoms, and the infection then gets a chance to spread upward into the internal reproductive organs, where it is hard to find and cure.

Both syphilis and gonorrhea are now being successfully treated with penicillin. If treatment is begun in the early stages, it is usually possible to cure syphilis in about 10 days, whereas it used to take 12 to 18 months. Gonorrhea treated in the early stages with penicillin can be cured quickly. In long-standing cases, however, a much longer period of treatment may be required.

A patient under the doctor's care can usually stay on the job. His family and co-workers are safe from infection because both diseases become non-infectious soon after treatment is begun. The fact that symptoms disappear, however, is no sign of a definite cure. It is vital to come back as often as the physician requests, because only by repeated examinations and blood tests can he determine when the patient is cured.

Self treatment and remedies sold by advertising quacks are utterly useless. In many communities throughout the country free clinics are open to those who cannot afford to pay private physicians. Information about these clinics can be obtained from the local or Provincial health Departments, medical societies, or general hospitals.

PREVENTABLE!

The best way to avoid getting VD is to keep away from all possible sources of infection. Promiscuous people are likely to have syphilis or gonorrhea or both. One exposure can cause infection.

The tragedy of carrying unsuspected syphilis to a husband or wife after marriage can be prevented by taking premarital blood tests and obtaining treatment if necessary. Several provinces now have a law requiring such tests.

The further tragedy of infected mothers passing syphilis on to their unborn children can be prevented by a blood test for syphilis early in pregnancy, with prompt treatment if the disease is present. Some provinces offer such a test free through the family physician.

VD can be conquered when people know the truth and use their knowledge to protect themselves and others.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Industrial Taxes To Be Removed From Municipal Tax Rolls; To Share Equally Over Province

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Industrial taxation shaped up as one of the hottest topics for discussion among Social Credit members of the Legislature attending their annual fall caucus in the capital city this week.

The week before, delegates attending the silver jubilee convention of the Social Credit league in Calgary, gave the support the government wanted to Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke's plan to bring in a provincial industrial tax.

Now presumably it will be up to Mr Hooke and his department to bring in a workable plan for study and discussion during the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

Briefly what Mr Hooke proposes to do is take industry off municipal tax rolls and substitute a provincial industrial tax. The revenue collected would be distributed among the municipalities.

Outlining his proposal to the convention, Mr Hooke said industrial taxes, like natural resources, should belong to all the people of the province so they can share equally in the prosperity industry has brought during the past ten years.

The proposal has been under study off and on for about the past five years, but Mr Hooke says there are still problems to be ironed out. One of them is to find a suitable definition of "industry". Another is to come up with a distribution formula which will make [illegible] happy.

Don't be surprised if the plan Mr Hooke finally submits is accompanied by a proposal to ease municipalities of some of their current [illegible]. For example, the government may be [illegible] taking full responsibilities for [illegible] highways which pass through towns and cities.

No matter what plan is finally adopted it will be a bone of contention. Some of the bigger municipalities are strongly opposed to losing their taxing authority. What it will probably boil down to is this: Communities with industry to tax will oppose the plan, those without industry will endorse it.

If there was a theme for last week's Socred convention, it was revival of the national party.

Premier Manning told the convention the time is ripe for Social Credit to present a five-[illegible] plan on a national level. He [illegible] Socreds must be prepared to [illegible] a political vacuum [illegible] created by dissatisfaction [illegible] Conservative and Liberal parties.

Support for this view came from an independent observer, Prof John A Irving of the University of Toronto, author of a recently published book on the [illegible] in Alberta.

Prof Irving, in Calgary to address the convention, said Social Credit could make big gains nationally during the next few years. But one of the prime requisites would be a national leader of great calibre. Ideally Premier E C Manning of Alberta.

The professor may [illegible] the nail on the head. If it is to become a national force, Social Credit needs a strong leader. Premier Manning probably is the only man in the party with the stature to swing it. [illegible] not discussed the prospect lately but he's gone on record before as saying he isn't [illegible] in the national leadership.

Incidentally word has it that Social Credit is about to unveil a new propaganda medium designed to gain wider acceptance for the party. It will be a publication called "Focus". Few details are available as yet, but it is understood "Focus" will aim for more popular appeal than the Canadian Social Crediter, will stay away from Socred [illegible]phies and stress the party's accomplishments in Alberta.

The Liberals also held a convention in Calgary just before the Socreds and talked about rebuilding the party from its virtual annihilation in the general election last June.

Freshman leader Grant MacEwan told the party to start looking for a new leader. He said he'd lead the party for another year then resign. There has been little or no speculation about a successor but one [illegible] likely is Richard Hall, former MLA for Athabasca who was elected president of the Alberta Liberal Association at the convention.

LONE [illegible] CHEERED

There was cheering and applause at the convention for Michael Maccagno of Lac La Biche, the lone Liberal who made it back into the Legislature last June 18. Mike entered politics with no pretensions of grandeur, now has suddenly found himself one of the most important [illegible] in the province.

Good thing he was re-elected, too, because in addition to being a hard-working MLA he's the best Italian chef around, as any member of the Legislative press gallery will attest.

News from Tulliby Lake

The Peter Bawden Oil Drilling Co. is presently engaged in drilling for oil on the Joe Pratt place a couple of miles north of Ray Wagner's.

Deanna Adamson, July Carmichael and Johnny Marsh were all home from school to spend the week end with their respective families.

Jimmie Lee spent a week up in Edmonton attending a special series of evangelistic services.

Mr Wesley Hayes will spend the winter trapping at various [illegible] in southern Alberta.

The annual meeting of the Tulliby Lake Nursing station was held in the central school on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 21.

Bill Roberton is now living in the Austin Smith house southeast across the road from the Lea Park cattle auction corrals.

When John Kay was out in his yard chopping wood one day recently, rifle bullets suddenly began to whine around him. For protection he dove behind the woodpile. Several instances of this nature are brought to our attention every fall and adds weight to our conviction that stricter laws should be enforced re firearms. A disciplinary word of warning from proper authorities is in order for all people who display such a spirit of carelessness with these dangerous weapons.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

First, the weather: a welcome change came on Nov. 17, giving some of the farmers a chance to do some harvesting. Grain is testing tough and damp.

Mr and Mrs. Wm Armstrong accompanied their son Albert to the city on Nov. 14.

The Clandonald Promenaders square dance "brush up" on Nov. 16 was well attended. Walter Parker did the calling. A class will be starting shortly for the beginners.

Mr and Mrs. Peter Lacusta of Lloydminster arrived on Nov. 17 at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Nelson. Peter is helping with brother Arnold Ockerman and a friend from Ferguson Flats are also helping and son-in-law Frank Schmidt of Lloydminster helped over the week end.

On the afternoon of Nov. 18 Mr Bill Delainey, John Deere dealer, brought a J D grain dryer to the Alvin Throndson farm to be demonstrated. It was operated by two experts from Edmonton, Messrs Kingston and McCarther. This machine holds about 360 bushels of wheat, going in at around 20% moisture and coming out dry two hours later.

Farmers of this and surrounding districts watched the demonstration with interest. Present [illegible] Wheat Pool [illegible] Mr Milo Fleming and Mr Peterson from Vermilion and grain elevator agents. It was good to see many retired farmers at the gathering. This machine would be a wonderful asset to any community. Through the kindness of Mr and Mrs. Alvin Throndson and Mr Delainey, coffee and doughnuts were served bringing an interesting afternoon to a close.

Mr John Arnold underwent a hernia operation in the Vermilion hospital on Nov. 20. A speedy recovery is wished him from all his friends.

First party at the centre was held on Nov. 20 for the winter season with a good attendance, eight tables. Prizes went to Helen Doiman, Mary Wilson and Debie Strome, Leo McCambridge, Fred Dougan and Fred Fry.

For those unable [illegible] church service and Sunday school a splendid program [illegible] over Watrous every Sunday at 9:30 a.m., "Sunday school on the air".

Enjoyed being in attendance at the United Church in Vermilion on the 53rd anniversary of the church [illegible] was filled to capacity. Guest speaker was the Superintendent of Home Missions for Northern Alberta, the Rev. Dwight Powell of Edmonton. He had a very interesting sermon in "How long is a year?". It was a pleasure to meet Mrs. Powell and daughter and renew acquaintances with Mr Powell. We have vivid recollections of May 14, 1930 when the late Rev. Thos. Powell as Superintendent of Home Missions was guest speaker in the North Vermilion United church. Mr Fred Guy from Nova Scotia was our student. In part Mr Powell told of his experiences on mission fields. He was very interesting and humorous, and was loved by all who knew him, as Mr MacKay stated when introducing his son Dwight. Home made ice cream cake and coffee were served after and a visit enjoyed. Mr Dave McPhee and the late Mrs. McPhee were ardent workers at that point.

[illegible] 14 Mrs. James Martin [illegible] was taken to the Vermilion hospital, a lingering case of the flu. A speedy recovery is wished her.

On Tuesday morning Nov. 24 Mrs Milo Fleming of town accompanied Mr and Mrs. John Peterson to Calgary to join her husband [illegible] is attending the Wheat Pool [illegible] and Mrs. Peterson also attended. Mrs. [illegible] stayed at the Fleming home while they were away.

It was nice meeting Mrs. Bert Searle in Vermilion last Monday Nov. 23, however we missed seeing her.

Enjoyed a visit with Mrs. [illegible] while in town Friday. She is recuperating nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Moore from Deer Lake call for daughter Edna on Fridays and they spend the week end together on the farm during favorable weather for travel.

Closing thought: "It is neither idle nor morbid to consider what we should be sorry for, and to sort out those regrets which can be carried through remorse and amendments. It is one way to discover and continually to rediscover, for regrets are a perennial crop ... the kind of person you are. Discarding what is vain or false, facing the facts that should truly disturb your conscience, is worth whatever time it takes or pain it may cause. It can pay to the future what you owe to the past. For every evil under the sun, there is a remedy or there is none. If there is one, try and find it. If there is none, never mind it."

Virginia was an honors graduate in grade 9 last year, and is enrolled in the grade 10 class in Kitscoty High school this year. The award is for the amount of $25 and will be presented by Mrs. Elsie Batty, president of the Local Chapter, at the Kitscoty Christmas concert on Dec. 18.

Andrew Potter, rector of St. John's Anglican church, will make the presentation of the $50 scholarship at the annual Christmas concert on Dec. 18 in the school auditorium.

Carol Concert On Sunday

The time has come once again for the annual carol concert. The program, which you will find in this issue of the Standard, is quite lengthy and varied. A good deal of work goes into a program such as this and there is a carol to suit every taste, from the rollicking "Deck the Hall", to the tender "Lullaby Jesu". Your attention is drawn to the Junior choir which is appearing with the mixed chorus. It consists of 33 girls and boys, ranging in age from 9 to 16 years. This is their initial appearance in public and they will present seven numbers.

The entire proceeds from this efforts go to help make Christmas a little fuller for some who are not as fortunate as you.

A collection will be taken at the concert and you are asked to be generous with your donation.

Everyone taking part is donating time and talent, so your attendance will surely be appreciated. If you find you cannot attend this concert your donation will be gratefully accepted and acknowledged by Mr Thos. Watts at the Northern Hardware.

How To Survive Year-end Festivities

Do you want to outlive this year? Well, then, you should drive as though you were making a bid for the title of "Best Driver of the Year."

This advice is given all Canadian motorists by W. Arch Bryce, executive director of the Canadian Highway Safety council.

Here are some of the specific recommendations Mr. Bryce issues to drivers at this time of the year:

1. Be sure your car is in good running condition and ready for winter.

2. Don't let your year-end festivities endanger your own life or the lives of your friends. Whenever you drive stick to coffee and other non-alcoholic stimulants.

3. Leave earlier to get there on time and drive slowly. Allow yourself plenty of time to come to a stop. Avoid skidding by pumping your brakes.

4. Don't drive during a snow or sleet storm. If you do, you may never reach your destination.

5. When a considerate hostess offers you a cup of coffee at the end of an evening, accept it gratefully. It will help you to keep alert on the way home.

Mr. Bryce also warned pedestrians against distractions of all sorts. "The simplest of all rules is to always cross with the green light and always at intersections," he said. [illegible]

The maple tree was named Acer, from a Celtic word meaning hard. This tough wood is used for everything that calls for wear from rolling pins to furniture and floors.

COMMERCIAL SEED

Commercial seed grain must have a control certificate before it is advertised for sale. The certificate states the weed seeds, grade etc. of the sample of grain submitted. Usually a germination report is included which is done on a room dried sample. If the seed in the bin is damp the germination report may mean next to nothing. Anyone acquiring commercial seed is well advised to run a moisture test on a sample before buying. If the grain in question is below 14% moisture the germination report may be comparatively accurate. Registered and certified seed is all below 14% moisture.

Damp grain has been germinating very well to date but heating or mould may adversely affect germination. To avoid heating damp seed grain must be moved from time to time and checked constantly. Run a home germination test before sowing damp grain.

SICKNESS IN FEEDLOTS

Dr. J. G. O'Donoghue Alberta's Extension veterinarian reports a considerable number of dead and sick cattle on feed lots this fall. To date all are cases of a digestive overload or Toxemia. Toxemia develops quickly with animals showing discomfort, stiffness, diarrhoea, helplessness and death. Reports come in from feed lot operators feeding old and new grain. The sudden outbreak seems to stem from operators switching from a poor quality feed to a high quality feed. In many cases palatability was improved causing the cattle to eat more. In other cases the same volume of feed was consumed but the weight of feed was increased. Cattle must be eased into new feeds gradually. If the symptoms are recognized early a laxative and exercise help but treatment in the later stages is very disappointing.

H. M. Douglas Edward Dobko

CORRALS AND CHUTES

Every fall at round up time farmers burn up a great deal of energy on a few head of cattle. [illegible] by constructing a simple low priced corral and chute. Plans are available at the D.A. office. The cost of materials may be saved from one doctor bill that corral and chute prevented.

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION

There seems to be more than the annual outbreak of interest in artificial insemination this fall. A.I. has proved to be a great tool in cattle improvement and is most successful where the community gets together forming an association. Those people who want A.I. can have it if they organize and demand it. A successful organization meeting is one where all the people that want A.I. attend. If you want A.I. leave your name and the number of cows you would like to breed at the D.A. office.

EXTRA MONEY

Many people sell cream to pay for the groceries and get some extra money. A lot of these same people miss extra money by not keeping the cream clean, cold and free of foreign flavors.

PLUMBING CLINIC

Plumbing clinic will be held in Kitscoty on Dec. 16 and 17 in the basement of the M.D. office

Frances Pockett Weds Keith King In Afternoon Ceremony

At an attractive afternoon ceremony in St. Saviour's Anglican church on November 14, Frances Leigh Pockett and Keith Ewen King pledged wedding vows. Rev. W. A. Champness officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne H. Pockett and the groom is the son of Mrs. Cecil M. King and the late Mr. King, all of Vermilion.

Yellow shasta chrysanthemums were arranged on the altar and pews were marked with nosegays of lily-of-the-valley.

Wearing a floor-length gown of white peau de soi, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was cut with rounded neckline trimmed with appliqued lace flowers. Short sleeves were modified with matching mittens and similar lace flowers accented the V-pointed waist line and the very full skirt. The bride's heirloom veil clouded from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid and red sweetheart roses.

Bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Miss Margaret Pockett, and the groom's sister, Miss Joy King. Junior bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Miss Yvonne Pockett and the groom's niece, Miss Kathleen King. The senior attendants were identical waltz-length gowns of red velvet with matching velvet bow bandeaus and elbow-length gloves. They carried cascades of white shaggy shasta chrysanthemums. Blue velvet dresses and matching bow bandeaus were worn by the junior attendants, who carried posies of white baby chrysanthemums.

John King, brother of the groom was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Wynne Pockett and Roger Rowe.

The bridal party was preceded up the aisle by the church choir, who sang "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. During the signing of the register the choir sang "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Mrs. A. Sutherland at the organ.

At the reception which followed in the parish hall, Mr. E. H. Buckingham proposed the toast to the bride, bringing forth a suitable reply from the groom.

Pouring tea were Mrs. Cecil Alexander, aunt of the bride, Mrs. M. Simonson, Mrs. Roger Rowe, Mrs. Bill Fooks, Mrs. T. Edey and Mrs. Carman Long.

For her wedding trip, the bride donned a travelling ensemble of brown sealskin fabric with blue accessories. Her corsage was of bronze chrysanthemums.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alexander of Oliver, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kussowan of Rochester, Alberta; Mrs. Geo Leschka of Steelman, Sask.; Archdeacon and Mrs. T. W. Teape, Roland and Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Smeltzer, Sheila and Gerry; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Hudson; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burke; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wilson; Mrs. J. B. Dewberry C.G.I.T.

The Dewberry C.G.I.T. has been active the last two months. On Nov. 4 we helped at the chicken supper, the senior girls served and the junior girls washed the dishes. We also sold home made candy at the door. The community supported our two projects of selling cards and United Church calendars to make them successful. We attended a rally at Lloydminster on Nov. 17. Also present were the Kitscoty, Vermilion, Lashburn and Marwayne C.G.I.T. Dr. Prior gave an interesting talk concerning her life in Africa.

This Thursday (Dec. 10) we are putting on part of the Home and School program. On the Sunday of Dec. 20 at 7:30 we will hold our Vesper Service. This is one of the highlights of our C. G. I. T. year. A cordial invitation is extended to all people to join with us at this time.

NEWS from ISLAY

Mrs. King, Mrs. McCaughan, Mrs. Van Dendolder and Mrs. Purser were co-hostesses at a very pretty shower held in the United Church hall for Miss Marion McFadyen whose wedding took place recently in Vermilion to Mr. Clarence Flood of Prince Edward Island. As the guests arrived each signed a telegram. Bingo was played and much enjoyed, several winning small prizes. Mrs. King and Mrs. Purser pinned corsages on Marion and her mother and asked Marion if she would accept a truckload of freight; on replying yes, Kenny Horricks towed in a C.N.R. truck loaded with parcels and presented them to Marion. Mrs. King read the telegram of good wishes to Marion from her many friends. Then, assisted by her mother and a cousin, Dorothy Axley, Marion opened the gifts, following which she thanked all and extended an invitation to visit her and Clarence when in Edmonton. Mrs. McFadyen added her thanks also to the friends gathered there. A tasty lunch was then served by the hostesses and assistants to close an enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lidden Buchanan have been to visit their daughter and family at Athabasca. While they were away Shirley stayed with Grace Schaffer.

Mr. Fred Gould is having a few days rest in Islay hospital.

The members of the W.A. of the United Church are very grateful to the people who patronized the bazaar on Friday. It was a real success financially as well as socially. All seemed to enjoy a good visit at the tea tables and just sitting around chatting. The tables looked very pretty in their Christmas decorations thanks to the committee in charge. The sewing table was entirely covered with articles and on the [illegible] very nicely arranged. Many obtained Christmas presents there from the large [illegible] offered. Mr. and Mrs. Milt Farrell Honored On 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Farrell were honored at a surprise party at their home in the Pelican Lake district recently on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Present at the happy event were members of their family, relatives, and many of their friends.

A corsage of pink and white carnations arranged with a silver bow and a boutonniere made by Mrs. W. A. Anderson were presented to the Farrells. A lovely wedding cake baked by the groom's sister, Mrs. Florence Hagen, and decorated by Mrs. Ellen Omness graced the centre of the table which was laid with a white lace-edged table cloth. While the cake was being cut many flash pictures were taken by Miss Anne Hagen and Mrs. Glenda Anderson (nee Farrell). Mrs. Anderson was also in charge of the guest book which was signed by seventy-three guests.

Capable toastmaster for the event was Mr. John David who wished the couple every happiness in the future and a long life with the best of health. To the young couples present he expressed hope for many such happy anniversaries and to the confirmed bachelors he expressed his sympathy and regret. Following this toast, Mr. David, on behalf of the relatives and other guests, presented Mr. and Mrs. Farrell with a lovely silver service for eight in the Lady Hamilton pattern. They also received a berry spoon to match from Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Anderson Sr.

Following a delicious lunch served by the ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell expressed sincere thanks to all for their good wishes and the very lovely gifts, and all present then enjoyed visiting and reminiscing for the rest of the evening.

During the course of the evening a phone call came from Mrs. Farrell's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fry of Regina, Saskatchewan, and among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Ken Redington (nee Irene Armstrong) of Victoria, B.C.

WILDMERE WINKS

We are glad to hear that Ernie Bland is recovering from his recent accident and has returned home. Take it easy Ernie. Wayne Isley is also up and about following the accident he was in. Keep going Wayne, everyone hopes to see you home for sister Florence's wedding.

Congratulations to Ernest Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney of the Rosewood district on [illegible] Queen Elizabeth Education [illegible] for his grade nine marks. Congratulations also to Mr Sweet, principal of Preston school who so faithfully guides the children through the year.

The Farmers' bonspiel has come and gone for another year. There weren't as many entries from this area owing to some farmers [illegible] to salvage some feed. Those that did go did quite well with the Fred McGrath rink skipped by Cliff Crothers along with Ralph Martinson and Clarence Lewis taking fourth in the challenge and the rink skipped by George Harrison with Bill Veitch, Forest Beale and Byron Fraser taking second in the 2nd event.

The Wildmere rink has the new look inside and out as many willing hands have been doing a good job of house cleaning and "de-mousing".

All the families are busy practising their parts for the annual district Christmas party sponsored by the Wildmere W.I. which will be held at the Rosewood Wildmere community centre on Friday Dec 11th.

Albert Holte, 4-H club supervisor was around Saturday Dec 5th inspecting calves. There are several new ones this year.

Mr and Mrs Floyd Sweet spent the week end in Edmonton.

George Symes was doing some wiring at Gibson's on Monday. It is nice to hear that Mrs. Symes is able to be up and around again. We were also glad to hear that Walden Westman's mother, Mrs. Davis of Vermilion is improving after her recent illness.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs Wm Elford on her recent bereavement. Mr Elford was a composer and music teacher for many years in Vermilion.

Mr and Mrs Ronnie Lake and family have been visiting at the home of the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs. Lindy Fadden while Ronnie's hand is healing from a recent oil well accident.

How about that gift, dad?

Northernaires Give Enjoyable Concert

Last Friday evening, Nov 27, the Northernaires, Camrose chapter of the SPEBSQSA (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America), entertained a Vermilion audience under the auspices of the Vermilion Rotary club.

Their own master of ceremonies, Ed Marken, principal of the Lutheran College of Camrose, was introduced by Rotarian Ben King. Mr Marken's comments set an amusing tone of entertainment, and the Northernaires chorus and quartet continued throughout the evening to share their enjoyment of singing with the appreciative listeners.

Two Vermilion artists were also part of the program. Louise Klashinsky played an accordian solo and Mavis MacCauley chose three selections, one of which was her own composition, for her piano solos.

Deer Killed And Car Damaged

When returning to his home north of town on Friday night last, Ort Streme had the misfortune to hit a deer which dashed practically into the car lights. The crash damaged the car to the extent of $330.00.

The deer ran off into the darkness but Mr. Streme notified Game Officer George Senz and a search was made the next morning. The deer was tracked to a point some three miles away. It had suffered a broken leg but had managed to travel the three miles before giving up. The animal was destroyed.

Jim and Margaret Burnett (nee Christie) are happy to announce the arrival of their son, James Alexander, at the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton, on November 28th. Weight 8 pounds, 1 ounce. A brother for Wendy and Heather.

BUTCHERING

A number of farm families choose November or early December as a time for butchering. Unless experienced at butchering it is often wise to use services of a butcher for slaughtering, cutting, wrapping and quick-freezing. This may save waste and spoilage.

[illegible]

If slaughtering at home, slaughter only healthy animals. Split the carcass down backbone and leave hanging by the side over night. Quarter carcass in the morning leaving 2 ribs on hind and 11 ribs on front quarter. Chill immediately at a temperature of 34 to 38 degrees F. This takes approximately 24 hours.

Aging the meat makes it more tender. At this time of year, care must be taken so that the meat is not allowed to freeze during chilling and aging. Don't over-age meat as this will hasten spoilage and reduce possible storage time. Do not age in a musty basement. The recommended aging time for beef is 5 to 6 days at 34 to 38 degrees F.

WRAPPING FOR FREEZING

Use moisture vapor proof wrapping material. Use one of the locker wraps available from your local store. Wax paper and plain butcher paper are not enough. Use the drugstore method of wrapping, followed by secure taping or tying. Steaks should be separated by layers of freezer paper for ease in separating when frozen.

ADDING SALT BEFORE FREEZING

Salt increases the spoilage rate so do not add to sausage or ground meat. Remember to keep meat cold when working with it.

FREEZING & STORAGE

Freeze limited amounts of meat at one time. Refer to your freezer bulletin. For recommended storage periods write to me for our free bulletin, "Preserve by Freezing."

Temperatures in the CNR refrigerator cars are being carefully regulated to maintain the fruit in top condition in transit.

Mannville C.G.I.T. Notes

Under the heading of old business, Xmas card sales were discussed, and under new business, a Xmas party was decided upon, two weeks from the meeting date. Names are to be drawn and presents are to be [illegible] 50-75 cent range. [illegible] be hot dogs, fruit [illegible] ice cream.

Take These 6 Steps To Home Safety!!!

A Check of Your Gas Appliances and Heating System May Avert an Accident.

Take time NOW to review the following SIX important points so you will KNOW that your home is SAFE. If you do not pay proper attention to the care and maintenance of your heating equipment, and home gas venting, tragedy can strike. Dangers increase during the cold weather — so make YOUR home safe . . . for the holiday season ahead . . . and for the rest of the winter!

A Word From Your Gas Company

This year some accidents resulting from carbon monoxide have been reported to our office. It is not natural gas that causes these accidents . . . it is the products of incomplete combustion. Normally the products of natural gas combustion are carbon dioxide, water vapor, oxygen and nitrogen, all harmless. But if the chimney, or a vent pipe to the chimney, is blocked or partially blocked, the heating equipment may produce poisonous carbon monoxide which is spilled into the occupied space with possible harmful effects to the occupants. It is important that left-over gases get a chance to escape to the outside atmosphere, and we urge you to make the above safety check in your own home so that you can continue to enjoy Natural Gas with Safety.

Don't Let Accidents Mar The Holiday Season Ahead!

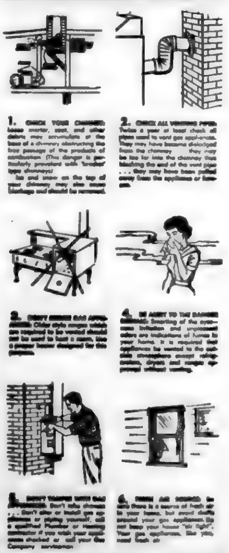
SIX STEPS TO SAFETY



1. CHECK YOUR CHIMNEY. Loose mortar, soot, and other debris may accumulate at the base of a chimney obstructing the free passage of the products of combustion. (This danger is particularly prevalent with "bracket" type chimneys.) Ice and snow on the top of your chimney may also cause blockage and should be removed.

2. CHECK ALL VENTING PIPES. Twice a year at least check all pipes used to vent gas appliances. They may have become dislodged from the chimney . . . they may be too far into the chimney thus blocking the end of the vent pipe . . . they may have been pulled away from the appliance or furnace.

3. [illegible]

4. BE ALERT TO THE DANGER SIGNALS. [illegible]

Happy Centre Women's Institute Observe 25th Anniversary

MANNVILLE — With approximately 36 members of Happy Centre W. I., their husbands and guests present, a most enjoyable pot luck supper took place on Nov. 28th in the Anglican parish hall.

[illegible] were suitably decorated with the 25-year motif, in the W. I. colors and a birthday cake complete with blue candles, made by Mrs. R. Scott, the first president of the group, gracing the [illegible] table.

Mrs. Archie Hubbard, president, was toastmistress and proposed the toast to the Queen.

W. I. constituency convener, Nellie Whitson in her speech, lauded the commendable efforts of the Happy Hour W. I. and spoke of many happy visits to this group who exemplified their name. Mrs. Whitson stressed the important work done towards Hobby Fairs, in sponsoring same and their part in scholarships. A poem composed by herself was read as a tribute to the group, and was very much appreciated.

Nancy Coxford, in her reply said it was definitely established that the W. I. group over the 25-year period had left a challenge to the group for the coming years.

Mrs. Archie Hubbard welcomed all visitors, and expressed regret at some members being unable to attend, and called upon charter members present to stand as introduced. They were Mrs. Pat Cotter, Mrs. H. Thomas Sr., Mrs. W. Cornish, Mrs. R. Scott, Mrs. D. Norman and Mrs. George to whom credit for naming the group goes, and who was unable to attend.

One of the most regular attendants to meetings is 96-year-old Mrs. Gardiner. Out of 279 meetings, Mrs. Harry Thomas has missed only 14 in 25 years. Mrs. R. Scott, who was the first president, deemed it an honor to have so served, saying they had always tried to live up to their creed. In a note of humor she told of the skeptical attitude adopted by their husbands when they first began. Mrs. Scott then lit candles on the cake and Mrs. Gardiner blew them out. Chas. Finlay also addressed the guests, and was loud in his praises of the group. Nellie Cotter, faithful secretary for some years in Happy Centre W. I. gave highlights of meetings covering the 25-year span. In conjunction with Mrs. Cotter's report, those present were asked to take a guess as to how much money was made over the 25 years and write the answer on a slip of paper. Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin came the closest with her guess of $6500.00, the amount being $6577.96.

W. Osborn thanked the ladies for a lovely supper, and cards and lunch climaxed the happy party.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

Square dances in this area were plentiful this week and as usual, circle eight members attended as many as possible. We heard of many who were at Islay on Wednesday. Friday night was one of the more difficult evenings, Harold Scacher was in Lloydminster, Henry Lien was at Union and Art Ziegler at Albert. We understand that the Circle Eight was represented at all three and it is pleasing to see the new square dance graduates so eager to travel. Saturday night saw many members attending the square dance which completed a full day for all Square enthusiasts and the same evening Vermilion squared up at Kitscoty.

Those who journeyed to Lloydminster last Friday were successful in securing [illegible] trophy. [illegible]

Wildmere Women's Institute Notes

The Wildmere W.I. meeting was held on Dec. 2 in the evening at the home of Mrs. F. H. Gibson with nine members in attendance and their husbands who were entertained at a sea-food supper. After the bountiful meal had been enjoyed and the dishes done the members got down to business.

President Mrs. L. H. Howard was in the chair. The usual preliminaries disposed of, the new program books for 1960 were given out. These books had been prepared and written by the directors. A vote of thanks was given for a job well done to Mesdames Gibson, Dibben and Holte.

The election of officers for the coming year was then called for. It was moved that the same slate of officers be returned for 1960. President — Mrs. L. H. Howard, Vice-Pres. — Mrs. R. Osterberg, Secretary — Mrs. A. Garnett, Treasurer — Mrs. A. M. Holte. As the directors had served two years, three new ones were elected: Mrs. F. C. Haines, Mrs. W. G. Smith and Mrs. W. D. Westman. Mrs. F. H. Gibson is the auditor and Mrs. W. J. Garnett looks after the publicity.

The garments donated by the members on their anniversaries this year are to be distributed to families in the vicinity at Christmas. Each member is to donate a toy of some kind to put in these parcels.

Members are to study their group members' guide, section 1, of "Ageing is Everybody's Business", for the meeting in January at the home of Mrs. C. Cruthers.

Golden Age Club Plans Xmas Party

All members of the Golden Age Friendship club are reminded of the exchange of gifts at their Christmas party which is planned for Wednesday afternoon, Dec 16 at 2.00 o'clock in the Legion hall. Gifts should be of a value between 35 and 50 cents.

Mr. S. C. Heckbert will be the guest speaker and will show pictures taken during his trip to Europe in the summer of 1959. Members are urged to be punctual in order that they won't miss any part of the interesting program planned for the afternoon.

The Canadian Lumbermans Association of Ottawa reports that at the last census in 1956 there was over 10 billion board feet of White Pine available in the accessible forests of Ontario.

"[illegible]" TREATMENT FOR 1960 PLYMOUTH

Using [illegible] all-new body, Chrysler of Canada stylists have created a remarkably sleek and lean appearance for Plymouth as dramatic sculpturing adds a new dimension to its low silhouette profile. There is exciting appeal in Plymouth's unique "thrust line" front fender treatment that flows into a new fin line for an overall impression of unity, strength and [illegible]. This pleasing new Plymouth design is attractively portrayed in this four-door sport sedan, one of the line of fine Plymouth passenger cars for 1960.

CNR Preparing For Heavy Yule Traffic

WINNIPEG— With Christmas and the New Year holiday extending into long week ends this year, Canadian National Railways is anticipating a very heavy movement of passengers throughout Western Canada. Reduced fares for travel in the West during this period already have been announced and the C. N. R. is now marshalling equipment in preparation for the traffic rush.

From December 15 to 31 when the special fares are effective, extra equipment will be available on all main line trains and extra sections to regular trains will be operated if necessary. The same equipment will be used to handle the return movement following the holidays.

Dr. Schrag Addresses Home & School

MANNVILLE — Monday, November 23rd marked the date of the Home and School meeting at Mannville. President Mrs. Geo. Younge was in the chair and over 100 people were present. A short business meeting preceded the talk and film by Dr. Schrag of the Child Guidance Clinic.

Miss Betty Prestlest, accompanied by Mrs. George Younge at the piano, offered two vocal numbers, "Bluebird of Happiness" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Dr. Schrag said it was a pleasure to have watched the growth of the Mannville school. Alberta, he claimed, was the second province to organize a Guidance Clinic in 1929. By 1947 a full time staff was working out of Calgary and by 1948 there was one in Edmonton, for the northern part of the province. There are six psychologists, five social workers and five others. Despite being short of psychiatrists they try to make routine visits to school districts or health units about five times a year. The purpose of the clinic is to pick up minor deviations of personalities and help children advance to their greatest capacity, and they are extremely grateful to school superintendents and health unit officials for their co-operation. Six to eight children are seen in one day; the social worker receives the child's history from parents, the psychologist does psychometric testing, and the psychiatrist examines the child. A film, "The Shy Child," brought out three degrees of symptoms, viz: the child who is shy but not worried about [illegible] with others, and can [illegible] himself indefinitely. The [illegible] type is shy and cannot [illegible] in public, or join in [illegible]. The third child is the one who has been sheltered all his life and never learned to accept the ordinary roughness of child play. With help from their doctor, parents and teachers, these children can be helped.

An extension of the Guidance School is to be found at Red Deer so that many who are out-patients may now become full-time residential patients and thus receive this wonderful, and vitally important care.

FRAUD — A MENACE TO HEALTH

Fraud may be defined as an act of deliberate deception. There are many ways you can be deceived or defrauded when you are buying foods and drugs. You can receive short weight, you can receive poor quality, you can be deceived as to the nutritional value of a food or the medicinal value of a drug; you can be led to believe that a product has merit or even safety that it does not possess.

[illegible] can be achieved by false advertising or labelling by the way a product is packaged or even by tampering with a product's natural appearance.

It is one purpose of the Food and Drugs Act and Regulations to prevent the consumer from being deceived as to what he is getting. It is an offence to label or package or advertise a food in a manner that is false or deceptive or likely to create an erroneous impression about it. There are also specific requirements for the labelling to provide essential information for the consumer. For instance the common name of a food or drug must be shown on what is termed the "main panel" of the label and so do the names of certain types of preservatives, food colours and flavour. The name of the manufacturer must appear together with his address, and it is unlawful to use fictitious names and addresses.

A list of ingredients, in descending order of quantity, must appear on the labels of all foods containing more than one ingredient and all foods for which there is no established standard. If the name of the product includes some of the ingredients, these must be stated in order of the amount present. For example, a meat specialty such as "Spaghetti and Meat Balls" should not be described as "Meat Balls and Spaghetti" since there is always more spaghetti than meat in such a preparation. In similar vein, the contents of a tin labelled "Veal, Ham and Chicken Spread" must be made up of more veal than ham and more ham than chicken.

In the case of drugs, only the medicinal ingredients need be declared and the regulations do not require that they be listed in descending order. When a food preparation is offered as an imitation of another food, the consumer must be able to tell from the label that he is in fact getting an imitation. Usually a coined name and list of ingredients achieve this, but if the name of the product imitated is used it must be clearly and conspicuously stated to be an imitation.

Proper labelling, it will be seen, protects the consumer against FRAUD and financial loss. It does more. It safely guards him against far more serious hazards—drug labels for instance, must bear detailed instructions for their safe use. Therefore it is quite plain that the label is of the utmost importance and that it should be read with care WHEN BUYING and WHEN USING.

The Bible Today

Protestants and Roman Catholic scholars have to a greater extent worked separately on the translations of the scriptures for their respective churches.

Biblical scholars now say that the time is ripe to eliminate this particular symbol of division. They believe it is quite feasible to get together on a joint translation of the scriptures.

The idea got a powerful boost from the respected Roman Catholic Journal, America. In an [illegible] "The Bible [illegible]" [illegible] Walter M. Abott S. J. said, a common translation of the Bible "would be a great achievement in the history of Christianity."

It is hoped that studies now being conducted by both groups of scholars may result in a meeting of minds on a joint translation of the Bible into English.

It would be hard to overestimate the importance of a universally recognized translation of the Bible as a unifying force among Christians.

Harvest Conditions Are Reflected in Lower Tax Collections In Vermilion River Municipality

The council of the M. D. of Vermilion River No. 71 conducted a meeting at the municipal office in Kitscoty on Nov. 10 and 11. Formalities disposed of, the meeting immediately launched into a discussion of the financial position of the M.D. at this date. In light of the effect that the poor harvest conditions which have existed in this area since the middle of August have had on tax collections, information revealed that collections are down over a similar period in 1958 and that tax collections to date represented about 70% of the 1959 levy.

Representations from two ratepayers were considered concerning the Tax Recovery Act proceedings of the municipality and reserve prices were set on the land that was to be offered for sale on Nov. 16, 1959.

MEMBERS APPOINTED

A brief report was given to the council by the committee which attended a meeting at Two Hills concerning representation to the Department of Highways, regarding black-topping of highway 45 from the meridian westward to a junction with highway 15 in the Bruderheim area. A motion which received the support of the committee was passed at this meeting, the essence of the motion was that those present were in favor of the government giving serious consideration to the black-topping of 45. Cr Anderson was delegated by council as a representative to attend the meeting to be held among the delegates from each village, town and M.D. interested in highway 45, and the Minister of Highways on Nov. 16 in the Highways building.

Insurance requirements of the municipality for the next three years were considered by council and after reviewing three submissions in this matter business was placed with the United Grain Growers Securities Co. Ltd.

Consideration was given to the municipal winter [illegible] incentive program sponsored by the federal and provincial governments and instructions were given to secure information as to the eligibility of surveys works to qualify for benefits under the terms of this program.

A report of the 16th Hudson convention and conference at Churchill, Man., Aug. 3 and 4, was presented to the council.

Correspondence was received from the Alberta Municipal Financing Corp. informing of the annual meeting to be held in the Highways building, Edmonton, and it was moved that J. H. Kelly represent the M.D. at that meeting.

FARM PURCHASE BOARD APPROVES APPLICATIONS

The minutes of the meeting of the Vermilion River Farm Purchase board of Oct. [illegible] made available to the council and the applications which were passed at that time were reviewed. As the result three of the [illegible] applications approved by the F.P.B. were approved by the [illegible]. Amount of money [illegible] the purchase of the land [illegible] was $39,500.

Correspondence from Northwestern Utilities Ltd. informing of a [illegible] of application for an increase in gas rates which has been filed with the Board of Public Utility Commissioners was made available to council. Particular note was made of the fact that the proposed increase in gas rates does not concern the hamlet of Islay.

Approval was given to the establishment of a subdivision in part SE 2-50-2.

The gas inspector's report covering his activities during October were presented to council as was the road superintendent's report covering a similar period.

The annual statement for the year ending July 3, 1959, of the Battle River Seed Cleaning Co-operative Ltd., at Paradise Valley was made available to the council. The report was examined by the councillors and it was felt that the Battle River Seed Cleaning Co-operative was doing a very useful and efficient job of operating the plant at Paradise Valley.

PLUMBING SCHOOL

Communication from the District Agriculturist requesting the facilities of the basement room of the office at Kitscoty to conduct a rural plumbing clinic in the month of December was presented to the council. Instructions were given to convey to Mr. Douglas, D.A., the agreement of the council for the use of the facilities at Kitscoty for the purpose stated above.

Notice was received by the council of the holding of a regional Service Board conference of municipal and county field supervisors at Two Hills on Dec. 1. It was felt that the field supervisor and all members of the Agricultural Service Board should attend if at all possible.

The attention of the council was drawn to the meeting sponsored by the Agricultural Service board concerning R.O.P. of beef cattle on Nov. 25 in the basement of the municipal office. Note was made of the fact that W. H. T. Mead, Livestock Commissioner for the province of Alberta, expected to attend the meeting.

A publication distributed by the Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture entitled "Alberta Farm Guide for 1959" was displayed for the benefit of the council. Further copies may be obtained from the Department of Agriculture. Some members of the council who had access to this publication had found it a very interesting document.

The water supply situation for the nurse's residence at Tulliby Lake was considered by council due to the fact that analysis showed the presence of a high [illegible] in the present [illegible]. Instructions were given [illegible] this matter to the [illegible] of the Tulliby Lake Nursing Service Association.

[illegible] HOSPITAL

A ministerial [illegible] establishing the Lloydminster Auxiliary Hospital District No. 2 was placed before the council. The purpose of establishing this auxiliary hospital district was to facilitate the establishment of a chronic hospital at Lloydminster. The establishment of such an institution in the municipality which would serve the ratepayers and residents of the M.D. has long been a desire of the council who look forward to participating in the affairs of such a district. Crs. Kelly and Wheat were appointed to serve as provisional board members in the formation of the district.

The master agreement covering the municipality's part in the establishment and operation of Senior Citizens' lodges to be constructed at Vermilion and Lloydminster, was presented to the council. It was noted that some work had been done on the site at the Vermilion lodge.

J. J. Brown, D.V.M., newly-established veterinarian in the Vermilion area with headquarters at Vermilion, attended the council meeting at request of council so that the members could be introduced to this valuable [illegible] the professional life of the district. Dr. Brown is participating in the Brucellosis vaccination program in the municipality this year.

Solid for '60...

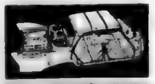
Announcing the new Plymouth

Solid comfort! Solid performance! Solid safety! Solid beauty! You'll find them all in this 1960 Plymouth, with rustproof and rattleproof Unibody, new inclined overhead-valve six-cylinder engine, and a whole car-full of other solid improvements new to the low-price field!

Here is a car with new Unibody construction that eliminates body bolts to give you a more solid, quieter ride than ever!

Here is a car that features the most complete rustproofing treatment in the entire automobile industry!

Here is a car that delivers up to 50 extra miles on every tank of gas, with a completely new kind of overhead-valve six-cylinder engine inclined like modern racing engines.

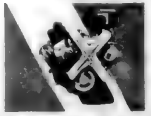


There's not a bolt in this Plymouth Unibody to spoil the solid quiet of your Plymouth ride. Body, frame, crossmembers and panels are all one solid piece of steel. Every Unibody is dipped seven times to prevent rust.

Not a bolt in the body
No car in Plymouth's class was ever built like this before. New "bridge-truss" Unibody makes the difference.
The Plymouth structure is all one piece—frame, body, crossmembers and exterior panels—without a body bolt in it to spoil the solid silence of your Plymouth ride.
Unibody is one and one half times stronger end to end than conventional types. It is four times as durable.

Most comprehensive rust-proofing of any car—ever
Not only is your Plymouth built to withstand wear and road punishment, it's designed to resist the ravages of weather too. For this year, Plymouth introduces a completely new rustproofing process, more comprehensive than any rust preventive treatment ever known to the auto industry.
Unibody is dipped a full seven times to protect it for years to come!

New Six . . . new savings!
Just lift the hood on a Plymouth 30-D Economy Six. You'll see a totally new kind of engine as revolutionary in the way it looks as it is in the way it saves and performs.
It's inclined to the side—just like modern racing engines—at an angle of 30 degrees. This permits a straight air intake with no elbows or angles to impede engine breathing. And even more important, inclining the engine allows Plymouth to introduce a straight-line, individual-cylinder manifold system that feeds the right diet of gas to each cylinder independently.



Plymouth's new overhead valve six cylinder engine inclined 30 degrees, delivers up to 50 extra miles per tankful! (Plymouth V-8's are money savers, too!)

Plymouth makes the big changes the others overlooked
You've only begun to learn about Plymouth for 1960. Here are automatic door locks that lock all doors at the flick of a switch. Here are automatic swivel seats and a high-back Command seat for the driver. And here are Plymouth's own Torsion-AIRE Ride, push-button drive, Total-Contact brakes—all improved for 1960.
But why not see for yourself? Your Plymouth dealer has a new Plymouth awaiting your trial and inspection right now. Visit him today.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Interest-Free Cash Advances Alberta Answer To Harvest Need

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Farmers wondering what to do about snowed-under grain crops could take little comfort last week from the spectacle of governments wrangling over possible courses of action to take over the agricultural industry.

Ottawa came out with a proposal to share with the provinces [illegible] the cost of making relief payments up to $3 per acre to a maximum of $200 per farmer to those who have been unable to harvest [illegible] or more of their grain.

The Alberta government rejected the offer and made a counter proposal — a federal-provincial program of interest free cash advances given on the basis of individual need, to be repaid in the spring when crops are harvested or to be written off in cases where grain can't be salvaged.

Agriculture Minister Leonard Halmrast, who released the provincial policy statement last week, had some very good points.

He said the federal scheme with its arbitrary cut-off at [illegible] of the crop makes no allowance for individual need. As he pointed out some farmers with most of their grain unthreshed might for various reasons be in good shape financially. Others with all or most of their grain harvested, might be in bad shape.

Mr Halmrast told of receiving a letter from one man who needed money so harvested all of his grain damp. He has been unable to sell it and chances are it will spoil by spring. But because he threshed it he would be ineligible for aid under the federal proposal.

At the week end Saskatchewan and Manitoba had accepted the federal offer grudgingly.

Mr Halmrast says he hopes Ottawa will share the cost of the interest free loan plan suggested by Alberta. If not he says Alberta may have to review its stand.

The Legislature was in session here in the capital city last week. Four members were absent but the rest got along fine without them. There was a fairly heavy agenda, but MLAs waded through it in two days by concentrated effort.

Far fetched? Not really. Actually the Social Credit caucus was in session last week. But when Social Credit holds 61 of the 65 House seats a caucus almost amounts to a session of the Legislature! All that's lacking is the formality of House procedure.

Caucus has always been the place where all the really important battles are fought. Safely behind closed doors government members are free to say what they really think and there is no danger of shattering party solidarity.

UNLIMITED TIME FOR OPPOSITION MEMBERS

In the past, there has been enough Opposition strength to guarantee adequate airing of contentious issues once they are trotted out by caucus and the government and submitted to the House. But in Alberta today the Opposition consists of a new [illegible] meagre four members.

MLA'S [illegible] GET BREAK

In a generous mood last week caucus did take one step to give the [illegible] Opposition a break. It decided that Opposition members should be given unlimited time to talk in all debates ... under normal House rules only the cabinet ministers and Opposition leader are allowed to talk all they want, private members are restricted to 30 minutes.

TO TEST ECONOMY OF NEW COMPACT CARS

The provincial government has decided to see if Detroit's new compact cars are all they're cracked up to be. Orders have gone out for sixty new compacts, 22 Ford Falcons, 21 Studebaker Larks, 14 Chevrolet Corvairs, 2 Ford Frontenacs and one Chrysler Valiant. Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman says the total cost of just over $118,000 represents a saving of around $300 per car. He hopes operation and main[illegible] been claimed too.

News from Tulliby Lake

Congratulations are extended to Mr and Mrs Ernie Ostrom (nee Kathleen Marsh) on the birth of a son.

Mrs. Louise Huntley will soon be leaving the hospital at Lloydminster. Her broken arm has healed quite fast for her advanced age. She plans on spending the winter with Mr and Mrs Amer Ricard in Lloydminster.

The district congratulates Mr. and Mrs. Herman Benson (nee [illegible]) on the birth of a son, Brian Herman.

Juvenile Behrens spent the greater portion of the week taking chiropractic treatments in [illegible].

It is reported that Henry Benson will spend the winter with [illegible].

Judy Carmichael, [illegible] spent the week end at their parental homes.

[illegible] carried the colors for Tulliby Lake district in the first CFRN-ACT Search for Talent show staged in Lloydminster. Accompanying himself on the guitar Juvenile sang the Johnny Cash composition "Give My Love to Rose".

Mrs. Johnnie Forbes was on a business trip to Edmonton.

The [illegible] Drilling Co. have now completed drilling on the Joe Pratt farm and have moved to a new site.

Due to the last fall of wet snow and the [illegible] freezing, the two hills south of the Behrens layout have become very slippery for those hauling greenfeed with tractors and rubber tired wagons. What we would like to see is [illegible] municipal salt sprinkled where it should be ... on these hills.

Piano Pupils of Donna Isley Present Recital

The piano pupils of Miss Donna Isley presented a highly enjoyable music recital Saturday, Dec. 5, in the Legion hall. Each of the pupils played selections from a program of folk tunes, classical music and Christmas carols.

During the first intermission the children of the age group 6 to 9 years, sang a short song "Around the Christmas", and at the conclusion of the evening's program the whole class sang "An Evening Prayer". The accompanist for the choral music was Billy Palin. Ross Marion played for the singing of "God Save the Queen" at the end of the program.

Miss Isley explained the contest that has been held during the last three months. A gold star was given for an excellent lesson, silver for a good lesson, red for an average lesson and blue for a poor lesson. There were no blue stars given and Brenda Schroeder and Bernie Shalka were the winners of the contest each having won all gold stars. They were presented with a prize for their good work. Bobby and Heather Haverslew were commended for having earned all gold stars except for one silver one.

Following the presentation of the gifts Miss Isley was herself presented with a gift of a china luncheon set in the "Cornflower" pattern, on behalf of the pupils, by Misses Linda Watt, Arvida Horpestad and Marlene Wilson. Miss Isley thanked the pupils for their lovely gift.

Rev Schroeder asked the blessing, and lunch supplied by the mothers, was served. Mr. Shalka, on behalf of the parents, expressed appreciation to Miss Isley for the successful progress in musical education shown by her pupils. To close the evening Miss Isley played "Passacaglia" by Handel.

Ladies' Groups To The Fore In Assisting Retarded Children

In recent weeks, the Vermilion School for Retarded Children has been the recipient of many cash and material donations.

To the many individual donors, too numerous to list, sincere thanks are expressed from the association.

The first group of ladies to make a cash donation were the Princess Anne W. I. Following this, the Mannville Lutheran Ladies Aid sent in a generous sum. Within 24 hours of this cash amounts were received from Landonville W. A. and Gaston-Watson Red Cross with two other inquiries as to assisting.

The Claysmore W. I. are presently selling raffle tickets on a Christmas turkey, proceeds for the school.

Proceeds from the Kinettes annual "pedal car" raffle are being donated to the school, with this sum being earmarked for a much needed record player.

The Vermilion W.I. made their presence known with a nice cash donation and a group of independent ladies "The Jolly Timers" donated a sum for Xmas treats for the kiddies attending.

With co-operation like the above, the school is well on its way to being a success and appreciation is expressed to the above groups.

At present there are 8 pupils attending with Vermilion, Derwent and Mannville children attending.

HELD OVER

A lengthy story of the RCAF-Tiger hockey game was crowded off the front page. Many other news items have also been held for the Christmas issue next week.

Full Theatre Greets Mixed Chorus at Annual Carol Concert

The Carol Concert, a much anticipated event of the Christmas season attracted a capacity crowd to the theatre on Sunday evening last. The carols were well rendered, there was a splendid choice of music so that the variety was pleasing indeed, and allowed full scope for the singers.

Another attractive feature, introduced for the first time, was the junior choir of the United church. The choir was composed of 28 girls and boys, all under 16 years of age. They have been trained and directed by Mr Jack Brown. The juniors sang seven carols, and received much praise by the hearty applause from the audience.

The introduction of the junior choir members to the carol concert was a very happy move and the large audience hopes that the young people will be a feature of the annual event from now on.

The adult chorus sang sixteen carols. It is hard to say which were the most popular selections. The group of three Polish carols pleased immensely, and were exceedingly well rendered.

The trio "We Three Kings" featured Tom Watts, William Fooks, old favorites, and a new singer Stanley Clarke, just out from Ireland this summer, who has a very pleasing lyric tenor. John Webb sang the solo parts in "Rise Up Shepherds" and really excelled himself.

The chorus and junior choir sang as if they loved to sing, and the audience too, caught the spirit. In two of the numbers the audience was asked to join and this was done whole-heartedly.

Mr Jack Brown, who originally founded the chorus in 1946, directed the singing. Dr. C. W. Stephens, the accompanist, has capably played for the carol concert since their inception.

Ashley Cooper acted as chairman, and announced that once again the net proceeds of the voluntary contribution would be used to purchase food hampers for less fortunate people in Vermilion and district at Christmas. This is being carried out by the local Salvation Army.

Mr Brown had words of thanks for Mr Nick Kowalchuk who had donated the use of his theatre, and to the Vermilion Standard for the valuable publicity given the concert and for the donation of the printed programs.

ADULT MEMBERS OF THE MIXED CHORUS

Singing in the very enjoyable and well rendered concert were Misses Jean Pus, Faye Wilson, Carol Goodwin, Margaret Rooks, May Kurher, Laurian Ediey, Mrs M Edey, Mrs L Fry, Mrs Ruby Bauer, Mrs M Keys, Mrs C W MacKay, Mrs Frank Gould, Mrs Nick Adams, Mrs Milo Flemming, Mrs George Barlow, Mrs Lila Waterfield, Mrs Gordon Dowsey, Albert Hildreth, John Webb, Tom Watts, Stanley Clarke, Wm. Fooks, Andrew Kirkbride and John Maxwell.

New Larger Turbine, Addition To Plant, Planned by Canadian Utilities

Rated At 30,000 K.W. — Largest of Canadian Utilities Plants

Canadian Utilities Ltd., who in 1954 installed Canada's first gas turbine at Vermilion, has scored another first. It has completed arrangements for the purchase of yet another and larger gas turbine ... the first to be made in Canada.

It will replace the present gas turbine at the Vermilion plant, to provide for increased future load requirements in the company's [illegible].

To accommodate the larger unit, a section will be added to the Vermilion plant. This will be done during the next year. Installation of the turbine will be made in 1961 and is expected to be commissioned by November 1st of the same year.

In the meantime the present 8500 kilowatt turbine at Vermilion will be shipped to the company's Sturgeon plant to strengthen the plant capacity in the Grande Prairie district.

Cost of the new unit to be installed in the Vermilion plant, including the necessary plant extensions, will be well over $[illegible],000,000. The new turbine will be rated at 28/30,000 kilowatts and will fluctuate in capacity according to temperature, thus making it desirable for the necessary peak load purposes.

Canadian Westinghouse Company, one of Canada's leading electrical equipment manufacturers, will build and install the new turbine. Embodying the latest technological features, the turbine will be designed to burn either gas or fuel oil.

As a result of the installations at Vermilion, generating capacity will be substantially increased. It will be 39,000 kilowatts at peak load conditions. Structural changes will be necessary to accommodate the larger unit.

When the changes are completed the Vermilion plant will be the largest operated by Canadian Utilities.

C. G. I. T. Candle Lighting Service Feature of the Christmas Season

Every year at Christmas all Canadian Girls in Training, their parents and their friends, have an opportunity to share in the National Christmas Vesper Service. This continues to be a means of strengthening, improving and extending the C. G. I. T. movement across Canada.

This beautiful and inspiring Candle Lighting service was carried out in the United Church on Sunday evening, December 13th, by the C. G. I. T. It is reverent and satisfying, wholly conducted by the girls and indicates the splendid training given in the organization.

Margaret Rooks, president of the C. G. I. T., was the leader and conducted the service. The C. G. I. T. choir led the congregational singing as well as rendering two carols. Five girls enacted the pageant "Christmas Thoughts in Kottayam", these being Ruth Stewart, Glenda Brennan, Rosemary Tillett, Patricia Stewart and Irene McPhee. Dorothy Jean Stewart read beautifully from the scripture I John 4. The candle lighters were Lois Cooper, Vivien Tillett and Judy Russell, while the Christmas scripture was led by Margaret Rooks and Karen Coulborne. Mrs Sutherland was the accompanist for the evening.

The service attracted a congregation which completely filled the church. Ushering was done by Pamela King, Avril Kneale, Evelyn Poole and Irene Walden.

Christmas Mail At Vermilion Post Office Reaching Towards A New High Record

From present indications the Vermilion postal staff will handle the largest quantity of Christmas mail ever to pass through the post office here. This has become apparent this week with 70 bags of outgoing mail on each of Monday and Tuesday evenings. The peak days followed a week of much larger than usual outgoing mails indicating that people were taking to heart the idea of mailing Christmas parcels and cards early.

[illegible] TWO-CENT STAMPS

By Tuesday afternoon [illegible] two cent stamps had been sold. This means that Vermilion and district people would send some [illegible] Xmas cards through the post office. Not only that but it is logical to assume that just as many cards would come into Vermilion, every one of which has to be sorted by the local office staff.

Along with the large sale of two cent stamps is an added demand for five centers meaning a considerable increase in the first class mail.

At [illegible] and at time of writing, there are still nine days to Christmas.

This is the first Christmas season in the new post office and the excellent facilities are being put to full use. Postmaster Don Taylor states that the handling of the huge volume of mail in the present quarters is quite a contrast to the many difficulties in contending with Xmas mails in the cramped quarters of the old post office when every Xmas season was a nightmare when it came to handling the tidal wave of yuletide mail.

Even with the mammoth Xmas mail only one full time extra helper has been added to the staff but in order to keep abreast of the flood of cards and parcels the regular staff work many overtime hours, both evening and early in the morning. They take coffee breaks right on the job in the building. The result is that every piece of first class mail, letter or parcel, gets off to its destination the day it is posted.

Any person taking a walk through the inner workings of the post office, seeing the thousands of cards and letters, and the hundreds of parcels, realizes the gigantic task faced by postal workers every Christmas season.

IN TRIBUTE

With the passing of William Blake Elford, and his being laid to rest last Wednesday, Dec. 9th, another page was filled and signed thirty, in the history of this town of Vermilion.

Bill Elford contributed much to the musical life of this community and it is fitting that the column "32 Years Ago Today", in last week's Standard, had reference to one of his productions "H.M.S. Pinafore." During his residence, this and "Mikado" were staged, from Gilbert and Sullivan works; also there were many of the better religious works rendered, mostly in the United church, which Mr. Elford sponsored, he being the organist and choirmaster for many years. "Elijah," "Messiah" and "Crucifixion" were the main ones. At that time Vermilion had the strongest choir it ever had there being a potential eight male voices in the soprano section, three tenors, 3 altos and four bass all soloists in their own right. This usually was supplemented by members of other choirs in the town, and there was a great deal of entertainment and enjoyment derived from this. In his chosen vocation he trained many young people both in piano and voice his effort will remain as a standing tribute as long as this generation survives. So we say to him, thanks for the job you did.

History of the Christmas Festival

The celebration of Christmas brought back the birthday party.

To the early Christians it was unthinkable to celebrate a birthday — much less the birthday of Christ. Birth meant the assumption of original sin and frequently the beginning of a life of persecution and perhaps martyrdom.

Birthday festivities moreover were a pagan custom. The Pharaoh of Egypt and Herod celebrated their birthdays, as the Bible relates. But it was sacrilege even to suggest that a divine being had a birthday.

In the 300's, however, "In a[illegible] these was beginning to change. World Book Encyclopedia reports that, in the year 354 the Bishop of Rome declared December 25 to be the anniversary of the birth of Christ.

But it took another pagan ritual to help establish Christmas. The ancient peoples of Europe had been accustomed to celebrating the winter solstice when the sun seems to return to the Northern Hemisphere, in late December. The pagan feast commemorating the victory of light over darkness was simply replaced by the Christian festival honoring the "Light of Life."

Moisture Content of Seed Grain

Growers of registered and certified seed grain should check the moisture content of their seed before asking for seed inspection, advises O. G. Bratvold, Supervisor, Crop Improvement Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The Plant Products Division, Canada Department of Agriculture has imposed a maximum limit of 16.5 per cent moisture for wheat, oats barley or rye and 12.5 for flax. Any seed containing moisture in excess of these limits will not be sealed by the Seed Inspection Branch. They point out grain with a high moisture content will usually give poor germination results because of a dormancy factor. Under field conditions such seed may tend to rot in the ground rather than germinate and if the spring should be cold and damp the situation would be considerably worse.

This is the first time it has been necessary to set maximum moisture limits since 1951-52 when Alberta experienced harvesting conditions similar to those of this year. During that winter over 30 per cent of the total crop remained in the fields until the spring.

December – The Deadliest Month

Four out of five drivers involved in fatal holiday accidents have been found to be speeding or driving too fast for weather conditions. Half the drivers involved have been drinking. More fatal holiday accidents happen in the early hours of dusk and darkness than any other part of the day. Don't let an accident spoil your holiday!

UNSEASONABLE CAPERS

This weather is so unseasonably mild that it has been hard to realize that Christmas is almost here. It even has the four-legged creatures confused. A gopher was seen running about a field on the farm of Joe Mistal, some 14 miles north of town. The little rodent was shot at — however he was not so confused that he couldn't make a quick get-away to the safety of his burrow. Perhaps, after the near miss, he will change his mind and sleep through Christmas after all!

Prior to Confederation the name of the province of Ontario was Canada West, officially given to it by the Act of Union of 1841.

BEEF VERSUS GRAIN PRODUCTION

Fattening of beef calves on pasture and hay with a minimum use of concentrates may result in considerable variability in rate of gain in different periods and different years. However assuming average yields at 2 tons of hay and 35 bushels of barley per acre, and average live weight yield of beef at 200 pounds per acre, one may roughly figure out two lines of production. The live weight yield figure multiplied by the price of beef may be used to estimate the possible gross returns per acre for cultivated forage crop land used in a beef poduction program of this type. Let's say at present price it would be about $35 per acre. now to produce barley on this land at 35 bushels per acre it would have to sell at $1 a bushel to have the same value as this type of beef production. With the present value of feed barley it means that this type of beef production is of greater value to the farmer.

AVIAN VIBRIONIC HEPATITIS

Avian Vibrionic Hepatitis is a poultry disease which has been giving considerable trouble in flocks in Eastern Canada and the Eastern U.S. for several years. It has now made its appearance in Alberta. The condition has been diagnosed in several flocks scattered throughout the province during the past three months by the Alberta Veterinary laboratory.

The symptoms are similar to those seen in many other poultry diseases and for a confirmation of the presence of the disease a laboratory diagnosis is required. The causative organism is a member of the group of bacteria called Vibrio and causes quite severe degenerative changes in the livers of the affected birds.

Students' Union Guests of Rotary

Seven officers of the Vermilion High School Students' Union were guests of the Rotary club at last Friday's luncheon meeting. These young people were Morley Marshall, president; Margaret Steele, Joan Stephens, Eleanor McGrath, Bob Roberts, Sharon Redmond and Edna Winters.

The speaker on this occasion was Rotarian Newcombe Bentley. Mr. Bentley was introduced by Gus Miresult and thanked by Dr. Ben King for his excellent and appropriate address.

Morley Marshall told the meeting of the duties of a students' union council.

It is not a touch of frost that causes trees to turn color in the fall. As winter approaches the trees stop replenishing the chlorophyl that keeps leaves green, and the reds and yellows always present in the leaves then predominate.

Wilson - Halvorson Wedding Held At Viking Lutheran Church

The Golden Valley Lutheran church, Viking, was the setting of a very pretty fall wedding on the afternoon of Saturday, Nov. 7 at 2:30 p.m. when Lillian Elizabeth Halvorson became the bride of Thomas H. Wilson of Vermilion.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Louise Halvorsen and the late Mr Olaf Halvorsen of Viking. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson of Vermilion.

Vases of fall-colored mums were arranged on the altar for the double - ring service performed by Rev. Pricht.

The bride looked lovely as she entered the church on the arm of her mother, wearing a full-length gown of white velvet styled in a princess line with a V-neck in front and back. A fingertip veil misted from a sequin and rhinestone trimmed crown and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a black Alaska diamond pendant, gift of the groom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Janet LaPorte of Calgary, sister of the groom. She wore an afternoon dress of blue satin also in princess line and carried a bouquet of white mums.

The groom's attendant was Mr. Leonard Jos of Vermilion and ushers were Edward McGinnis of Vermilion and Clifford Hammer of Viking.

Wedding music was played by Miss Irene Gilpin and Mrs. J. Leisrud sang "A Wedding Prayer".

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall for relatives and friends. The bride's table was centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake with a musical top holding a miniature bride and groom.

After a honeymoon trip to points in Saskatchewan and the U.S., Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are now making their home in Vermilion.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilson, Mrs. Irene Johnson, Joanne, Colleen, Pat, Linda and Mavis John, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. M. The weather is grand, let's hope for a week or two more of this. It will be nice for folks to get out and around during the holidays.

The little ones are all wishing for snow, they really do miss it.

All are busy getting ready for Christmas. It makes one wonder sometimes why all the extra baking, plum puddings, etc.? Do we all feel we should eat more on Christmas day?

It appears there will be lots of turkeys this year for everyone, as prices are very low all will be able to afford a nice turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
GEORGE LOVELL
who passed away Dec. 23, 1953.
"God saw in the pasture one evening,
One too weary to roam;
So He lifted him out of his suffering,
And carried him gently home.
Though on life's pathway the shadows fall
And though the light grows dim;
We know that God is over all,
And we can trust in Him.
And trusting in Him, we can say
'Whatever be Thy will';
Knowing that through each shadowed way,
His [illegible] love shineth still.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials [illegible]."
—Ever remembered by his loving wife and family.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of a dear husband and father,

Sweetest rest that follows pain.

But trust in God's to meet again."
Ever remembered by his loving wife, Ronald and Evelyn.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alta.

Dear Sir:

We would appreciate the use of valuable space in your paper to express the following views relative to the recent public notice published by the Town of Vermilion, in respect to the use of public address systems in our town.

It seems to us that the Board of Trade, from whom this action came, is engaging in pretty small politics, when, not being satisfied with the original by-law which prohibited the broadcasting of commercial advertising over such loud-speakers, went on to insist on a further amendment to the effect that all such broadcasting be prohibited. It being obviously impossible to use loud-speakers and keep the sound within the confines of the premises concerned, this is definitely an indication of the desire of certain persons to prohibit the broadcasting of Christmas music including carols, as we have been doing every year since being in Vermilion (as was threatened by one member).

Further, we think the town council is being easily led and influenced, to curtail the privileges and liberties of citizens to this extent, not getting any reaction at all from the public but rushing through three readings of the original motion and the subsequent amendment at one sitting of the council.

We intend to obey the law, but will expect others who break it to be prosecuted which includes anyone using loud-speakers for any purpose whatever, from any place of business or residence. We presume this refers to the advertising of ball games, etc. from sound cars, the ballyhoo emanating from our annual fair and any other similar activity. Otherwise discrimination is the result.

Many thanks for many evidences of co-operation through the years.

Yours sincerely,
E. W. G. Clendenning

Line Elevators Oppose Freight Rate Increase

Line elevators will appear before the McTague Royal Commission on Transportation at Ottawa to insist that the rights of their customers, numbering some 150,000 farmers, be preserved under the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, and will oppose any increase in freight rates on shipment of grain to market, Cecil Lamont, President of the North-West Line Elevators Association, stated. Mr. Lamont, accompanied by Mr. R. G. Brian Dickson, Q.C., who will act as Counsel for the Line Elevator Companies, and Mr. A. J. McKichan, Assistant Counsel, are now in Ottawa appearing at the Commission hearings on grain rates which commenced Dec. 4.

Mr. Lamont said that the Line Elevator Companies felt the farmer was now receiving an unreasonably low return for his grain and any increase in freight charges would make him less competitive in world markets. Counsel for the Association has been employed for several weeks in studying the case filed with the Commission by the Railways.

The Line Elevators' Association represents the owners of 2,550 line country elevators located throughout the prairie provinces and the operators of terminal elevators at the Lakehead and Vancouver with a capacity of 53,736,300 bushels.

First Physical Education Program Presented at Mannville School

MANNVILLE — The first physical education display presented by the P. T. staff of both junior and senior high schools, held in the Mannville school auditorium on Friday, Dec. 11th was an outstanding success, and a large turnout of parents and spectators was noted.

The evening's entertainment was capably M. C.'d by Gordon McLaughlin, vice-president, high school Students' Union. The grades 7 and 8 girls presented a short P. T. demonstration, and one on volley ball skills, under direction of Mr. Humenuik, after which running exercises were witnessed, as well as "push-ups" and volley ball skills by the grade 7 and 8 boys.

Next the grade X girls displayed their basketball ability in a short game.

Grade IX boys' calisthenics display was excellent — and the grade 10 boys' basketball game between the "Shirts" and the "Shirtless" was most entertaining. Good training was depicted in the girls of grade IX rhythmic exercises, and one could easily see how these were good for the figure, and muscle control.

The grade IX and X girls were directed by Mr. te Kampe and responded well to his commands. At the close of this display the chairman called on Joe Kufeldt divisional trustee to present honor awards given by the Vegreville School Division to last year's students meriting same. They were grade XI — Marion Yacak; gr. X — Kenneth Nash, Myrna Whitson, Eleanor Koenig, and Gordon McLaughlin; Grade IX — Lillian Hawley, Karen Bang, Brian Hasinoff. The Home and School Association had planned to present crests to the honor students in junior high, but unfortunately these did not arrive for the occasion, so each student was given a scroll, and are to receive crests later. In grade 7 honor crests went to: Janice Weaver; Dianne Gusevick; Beth Stewart; and Jean Crawford. Grade 8: Kenny Johnson, Karen Hubbard, Mark Anderson, Lorraine Younge, Dianne Whitson, Pat Thompson, Douglas Blackford, Edna Wagner, Bonnie Coulter, Maralyn Schroeder, Polly Sawchuk, Marian Schock and George Zaharia. Grade 9: Brian Hasinoff, Karen Bang and Lillian Hawley. Mrs. George Younge, Home and School president, in presenting the above awards, expressed hope that they would prove to be an incentive to the classes in junior high school this year.

Principal Angus Smith thanked the teachers preparing the display, Mrs. Olive Thompson, Nestor Bohaichuk and Orest Humeniuk and Mr. te Kampe for directing them during the evening. The chairman called for a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Humeniuk and Mr. te Kampe for putting the classes through their paces.

There is to be a similar display next spring when all those present will surely return, and those not able to attend this time may be fortunate enough to view this special educational demonstration.

Margery Pamela Beardsall Becomes Bride of George Logan Gow

In the Holy Name Catholic church, Vermilion on November 28th, the marriage was solemnized of Pamela Beardsall only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Beardsall of Yorkshire, England and George Gow, only son of Mr. Logan Gow and the late Mrs. Frances Gow of Borradaile. The Reverend Father Landrigan officiated at the double-ring ceremony and nuptial Mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. William Boulton, wore a white silk brocade dress styled on princess lines. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a double coronet of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses with trailing ivy. Miss Laurie Lovett was her only attendant and wore a dress of blue crystal charm with accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of white shasta mums. The groom's best man was Mr. Bob Barr and ushers were Mr. Ben Klatt and Mr. James Fisk. Mrs. Martin Shalka was soloist accompanied at the organ by Miss Helen Noonan.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Legion hall. Rev. Father Landrigan proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Miss Dorothy Gow, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Gow are spending their honeymoon in Calgary and Banff and on their return they will make their home in the Kokanee district.

THE CHRISTMAS TURKEY

For many of us, turkey has become part of the Christmas tradition. Properly cooked, your turkey could well be the high spot of your Christmas menu. Homemakers often ask questions similar to these.

Q. What size turkey will I need? A. Allow approximately one-half to three-quarters of a pound per serving and plan for extra servings and leftovers too.

Q. Should a covered pan be used for roasting turkey? A. No. A shallow pan with a rack which holds the turkey off the bottom of the pan ensures even circulation of heat. Use a moderately slow oven of 325 degrees. To avoid having to baste the bird frequently rub with soft fat. Also cover with a loose tent of aluminum foil or piece of clean, thin cloth or double thickness of cheesecloth moistened thoroughly with melted fat. Remove foil during last ½ to ¾ hour of cooking, basting occasionally to ensure even browning and crisping of skin. NOTE — If foil is used, tuck in at the ends but leave loose at the sides to allow circulation of heat. Place the foil with the dull side up. The shiny surface has a tendency to reflect the heat away from the turkey and slow down the cooking.

Q. What about cooking poultry closely wrapped in aluminum foil at a high temperature? A. This method is used where shorter cooking time is of more importance than appearance. The bird being completely enclosed, steams rather than roasts and the meat has a tendency to fall from the bones which makes carving more difficult. The skin does not usually brown as evenly as when cooked by dry heat even though the foil is opened during the last portion of cooking time.

Q. How long will it take the turkey to cook? A. Time tables are only approximate so it is recommended that one allow an extra half hour leeway in planning the dinner hour. The size and shape of the bird will affect its cooking time, also whether it is at room or refrigerator temperature when put in the oven. Frequent oven peeking lowers the temperature and prolongs cooking also.

TIME TABLE FOR WHOLE TURKEYS

6 to 10 lbs.	3¾ to 4½ hours
10 to 14 lbs. —	4½ to 5½ hours
14 to 18 lbs.	5½ to 6½ hours
18 to 24 lbs.	6½ to 9 hours

Preliminary Work On Citizens' Home

Preliminary work is being carried on at the site of the Sr. Citizens Lodge by the contractors, the Alexander Construction Company. Just how much will be done before winter clamps down and puts a stop to outside construction is a question.

In the meantime the east end of town is a whirl of construction activity. Three houses of a ten home building project are being rushed with the first due to be completed by Christmas. There is also considerable private building with several fine homes to be occupied in the immediate future.

To further augment the construction activity in the east end, crews are putting in water and sewer, gas lines and electrical services.

Vermilion is enjoying one of its best home building years and it is probable that the number of 32 completed homes in 1958 will be surpassed in 1959.

More than [illegible] new [illegible] are [illegible] for within the [illegible] next [illegible].

Mannville Girls Will Sing Christmas Carols At The Hospital

MANNVILLE — Members of the G.A. met at the home of their leader Tuesday last for a missionary meeting, with a good attendance, one member being reported sick. The study book was continued and found inspiring. It was decided that this was to be the last meeting until after Christmas. Results of the handicraft table at the recent bazaar were most encouraging. The president instructed those present to make sure all gifts for the Anglican school at Frog Lake arrived at the leader's home before Monday. Christmas carols will be sung to the aged and also to inmates of the local hospital during the festive season.

Canadians spent $542 million in 1958 on travel in other countries, compared to $349 million spent by visitors to Canada.

Address of Towel Firm Proves False

MANNVILLE. Circular letters, allegedly mailed by the Towel Import Co. of Medicine Hat, to homes throughout Alberta, are presently under investigation by that city's police department. The circulars offer to send fourteen towels upon the receipt of $2 by mail, or 24 towels upon receipt of $3.

Police investigations reveal that the company lists its Medicine Hat address as 443 2nd St. S.E. but is not located there. Letters of complaint have been received regarding the quality of the towels sold by the company. It is believed that the Towel Import Co. is in [illegible] [illegible], channeling its mail through the false address in Medicine Hat. Postal officials at the 'Hat' declined to comment on the matter. STANLEY MOTORS

Mrs. Bell Elected President Of Vermilion Women's Institute

The regular meeting of the Vermilion W. I. was held Nov 8 at the home of Mrs. E. Jones with 15 members answering the roll call. Since the last meeting, 43 sick calls were made, seven get well cards and two of sympathy were sent.

A report was given on the tea, bake sale and draw on the blanket and chair set. The W. I. wish to thank all who helped to make this the big success it was. The blanket was won by Master Jerry Chomo and the chair set by Master Harvey Fry.

A report was given on the results of the magazine subscription that the W. I. sponsored, which was most gratifying. Part of the proceeds will be used to purchase another wheel chair, two walkers and more crutches. This equipment, along with that bought last year is for loan to the public in this district. For particulars contact Mrs. W. J. Bell. The balance of the money will be held until the completion of the Senior Citizens' home.

The group also sponsored the Cancer Workshop held late in November which is felt to be very worthwhile.

A donation of $10.00 was made to the Vermilion Retarded Children's Association and $5.00 was donated to CARE.

Election of officers resulted in the following slate:

President Mrs. W. J. Bell, 1st Vice Pres. Mrs. J. D. Perkins, 2nd Vice Pres. Mrs. Mabel Lee, Secretary Mrs. Olive Clark, Treasurer Mrs. Joe Green Jr.

After the close of the meeting, a very happy Christmas party was enjoyed, with a gift exchange. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. E. Jones, Mrs. W. J. Bell and Mrs. J. Prill. The group was happy to have Mrs. Annie Cameron as a visitor. It is hoped that she will be at many more meetings.

Kitscoty Explorers Hold Enjoyable Family Night

Some sixty friends and relatives gathered in the church for the Explorer family night. Joan Walton, Chief Explorer, welcomed everyone after which Grace Parker led devotions.

A short program followed with a duet, recitations, choruses by the whole group and a story time when Rev. J. Shortt told the girls a story entitled "Secret Hiding Place."

Seven girls were initiated and received their first red stars and membership certificates. Twelve girls received their second red stars and the girls received their first blue stars.

Mrs. Shortt, Explorer Counsellor, introduced the two new girls, [illegible] Robertson and Mary Stenrud who recently moved to town and have now joined the group. Joan Walton, on behalf of the Explorers, presented the Counsellors with gifts.

Later lunch was served in the church hall for everyone by the Senior Explorers, the Junior Explorers being guests of the of the senior girls.

CANADIANS SHOULD BUILD FALLOUT SHELTERS FOR PROTECTION

Every "prudent" Canadian should provide his home with a fallout shelter. This was the essence of Canada's new atomic survival policy as outlined by Defence Minister Pearkes. The latest thing in fallout shelters is shown above. It is a variation of a U.S. civil defence plan and can be constructed by the householder. The only things that show above the hatch are intake and exhaust pipes. The shelter will accommodate a family of four to six. It is doubtful if the government will give aid to the shelter builders.

BY DOROTHY BARKER

The child's eyes were as blue as a May sky and she was not the least embarrassed when she repeated her question "What is that?" Alan Beddoe the man largely responsible for the beautiful hand illumination of the two Books of Remembrance in the Peace Tower of Canada's House of Parliament, tried not to look too incredulous.

He had been making a correction in the first book of names commemorating those who gave their lives in the cause of human rights in the first war. He was unmindful of the large group of students who stood behind him watching the operation, until this teenager spoke to him. To a man who has spent twelve years of his life designing and executing, or directing the execution of the beautiful pages, her question seemed almost sacrilegious.

But Alan Beddoe is a patient man. If he were not, the pages of vellum, with their unique heraldry and significant art, would not reflect the perfection they do.

Quietly he turned to the young girl and said in his modulated voice "This my dear is the Book of Remembrance." But the child was not satisfied. She tried his good humor further "Remembrance of what?"

"In this book and the second Book of Remembrance are the names of those who died in the two world wars," he informed her.

"Then my mummy and daddy must be there," said the girl.

After some questioning, Alan Beddoe and I found out the young girl had emigrated to Canada from her native Germany only two years earlier. Her mother and father were killed in a blitz of Germany during the war and she had been adopted by an uncle before he left to establish himself in Canada. She was reluctant to discuss her uncle too thoroughly and it took little effort on our part to picture him as an escapee from Russian tyranny.

I had stood in the Chapel of Remembrance only once before. On that occasion, the hushed reverence with which visitors to the parliament buildings viewed the stained glass windows about the bronze altar and the carvings in stone on the walls of the circular room was not broken by even a whisper. Yet, when the young girl broke the silence with her question, it did not sound irreverent.

It was with mingled pride and understanding that I listened and watched this member of the Red Chevron veterans who enlisted in 1914 and Lieutenant Commander in Canada's Navy during World War II explain to one of our newest Canadians why it is unlikely the names of her parents would be listed in the second book. He was gentle and sympathetic, not at all impatient as one could expect a man of his stature might be under similar circumstances.

Though it was my intention to relate this week the story of how these two [illegible] Books of Remembrance were created, I think it is more important that I tell you of this incident. It seems [illegible] to me that there was no sense of country or [illegible] in the mind of the young girl. The beauty of the chapel, the color and artistry of the books, the serenity of her surroundings seemed to appeal to her as a suitable place to have the memory of her parents perpetuated. The fact that the books memorialized a time in history when her country and ours were at war and that our aircraft had probably carried the bomb that had killed her parents apparently had not embittered her attitude toward her adopted homeland.

I suppose it is impossible for us adults to maintain the simplicity of the child mind, unencumbered by hatred and greed, resentment and suspicion. But it seemed to me that I had been privileged to witness this exhibition of [illegible] on the part of the girl, her interest in the tale the man Beddoe told and his very touching reply to her question. It proved a challenge to my own thinking. I was not sorry I had come many hundreds of miles by rail to revisit the chapel. Memory of this day would always remain a [illegible]

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Dental Care for Rural Residents; Large Recreational Grants To Towns, Villages and Municipal Districts

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — The provincial government had good news for rural Alberta last week.

Health Minister Dr. J. Donovan Ross announced plans to launch a rural dental health program which should bring preventive dental treatment to thousands of pre-school and school children in areas not served by dentists.

The scheme will involve the establishment of portable dental clinics to be operated by health units. Each portable clinic will be staffed by a trained dentist and one or more "dental auxiliaries."

According to the plan, the dental auxiliary will be a new category of public health worker. Legislation will be introduced to the next session of the legislature to set up a two-year university course for them. They will be recruited from among grade 12 graduates with university entrance requirements.

Here's how the program will work: The trained dentist will examine patients, diagnose their trouble and prepare teeth for filling. The auxiliary will do the filling and carry out other routine jobs such as cleaning teeth and applying fluoride solutions to prevent decay.

In addition to the preventative treatment work, the clinics will conduct a program of dental health education with the aim of developing good dental health habits among pre-school and school children.

The portable clinics may also fill a big cavity in the availability of dental care for adults. Dentists and auxiliaries will concentrate on free treatment for children during clinic hours. But after hours and on week ends the dentists would be permitted to work on adult patients and charge them for work done.

The Alberta Dental Association has endorsed the plan and is polling dentists in Edmonton and Calgary to secure volunteers to man the clinics on two-week shifts. So far about 150 dentists have volunteered.

Dr. Ross says the government has been studying dental care needs for some time, but was recently galvanized into action by W. G. Lewis, a U. S. missionary who has been in Alberta teaching elementary dentistry to missionary students. In the process, he and his students have given free treatment to thousands of citizens.

The Dental Association yelled blue murder, but the government couldn't stop Mr. Lewis because he did his work free of charge. In the process of investigating him, the health department discovered there was a great unfilled demand for dental care.

If all goes well, the first five or six portable clinics should be on the road next summer. There won't be any trained auxiliaries ready by then, but in the meantime dentistry students will be used.

GENEROUS GRANTS FOR RECREATIONAL FACILITIES

The government also announced last week that it will be giving away $3,653,000 next year to municipalities to help them buy recreational facilities. This will be one of the main features of next year's phase of the five-year plan.

Provincial Secretary Russ Patrick said grants will be available to municipalities with more than 100 population and will amount to $10 per capita. For a town or city with 10,000 residents, this would mean a grant of $100,000.

Edmonton and Calgary will miss out on recreation grants. The idea behind the program is to bring small town and rural recreation standards up to those of the two major cities.

FARM AID

It now appears clear that Alberta will go along with Ottawa's offer to share 50 per cent of the cost of providing relief payments up to $3 per acre to farmers who have 50 per cent or more of their grain still unthreshed. Details were to be released this week.

Thus Alberta appeared ready to fall in line with Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which have already accepted the federal offer in principle. The only thing left to decide is the distribution formula, which is expected to be a modification of the Ottawa plan.

Alberta decided to go along after Ottawa rejected the province's counter proposal — a program of interest-free cash advances to be granted on the basis of individual need.

F. U. A. PROPOSES BUYERS' STRIKE

While provincial cabinet ministers were busy discussing farm aid, so were delegates attending the annual convention of the Farmers' Union of Alberta here in the capital city.

The F. U. A. delegation passed a resolution calling for a buyers' strike among farmers as a means of drawing attention to their plight. The resolution passed almost unanimously, but the consensus was that there will be no strike. Some officials admitted it was done mostly for publicity purposes.

As explained to the convention, the strike action would require farmers to reduce their purchasing to absolute essentials in an effort to put pressure on the whole economy until their demands are met. As some delegates said privately, it would be tough for some farmers to reduce their purchases any more than they have already.

WILD OAT MEETS ITS DOOM!

Monsanto Chemical Company scientists examine a wild oat plant uprooted from an untreated check strip in a Morris, Man., flax field where the company tested its wild oat killer, Avadex. Dr. L. R. Hannah (left) is the Monsanto agronomist who supervised field tests of Avadex throughout the prairie provinces. With him is Dr. Oliver DeGarmo, assistant research director, who headed Monsanto's research program on the compound. Flax at right, treated with Avadex at a 1½ pound rate, is 98 per cent free of wild oat, while the check strip in which the scientists are standing contains more than 100 wild oat plants per square yard.

SIGMUND SAMUEL GIVES HOME FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

For the first time since 1937, Ontario now has an official lieutenant-governor's residence. Premier Frost announced one of his best kept secrets when he revealed philanthropist Dr. Sigmund Samuel, right, had three years ago given his Georgian white stone mansion as an official residence for future lieutenant-governors. The gift of the mansion, left, valued around $400,000, was made unconditional. One of the showplace houses of Toronto, the Samuel home has 30 rooms.

The net value of Canadian forest products industries in 1958 exceeds $2,500,000,000 equalled only by agricultural production; it outranks mining production by two to one.

The timber-line (the height above sea level that trees grow) varies according to climate. In the Canadian Rockies it is about 9,000 feet, in the Alps 6,000 feet; in the Himalayas about 11,500.

For the [illegible] 8 problem [illegible] two questions, the first prize is $35, second $20, third $10. In the grade 7 problem one question is asked and the first prize is $25, second $10 and third $5. In addition, the best student from each grade in every school division will receive a book to be chosen by himself from a selected list.

Both the Northern and the Southern Alberta Regions of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Mental Health Association are co-operating in the project. The teachers have been requested to select the three leading answers from their classes. In the northern region of Alberta, roughly north of a line drawn through Morningside, the answers are to be forwarded to the Edmonton office of the Canadian Mental Health Association, Room 614, the Civic Block.

The contest closes Jan. 31, 1960. Prize winners will be selected by a board of judges chaired by Dr Stanley C T Clarke, General Secretary of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

In addition to the prizes being offered to [illegible] students, the [illegible] [illegible] Health Association is also offering an additional prize to the library of the school in the province with the highest proportion of entrants from the total registration of grades 7, 8 and 9, of $25 worth of books to be chosen by the principal from a selected list. This list will include books for both staff and student use.

Additional copies of the contest problems may be secured by writing to the Edmonton office of the Canadian Mental Health Association, Room 614, Civic Block.

Getting Bigger

North Americans are growing taller. It's reported that, in the 20-29 age group, 20% of the men are now 6-footers and 18% of the women measure 5 feet 7 inches or more. Sixty years ago the corresponding figure was 4% for each sex.

There is one group of people who need no statistics to prove that the human frame is growing skyward, points out The Financial Post. These are the 6-foot men themselves.

They rejoice that it is far easier today than it was 20 or 30 years ago to buy size 12 shoes, 7½ hats, shirts with 36 arms, off-the-peg coats and suits they can put on without bursting the seams. Such outsize habiliments are actually advertised now. Back in the 1920's it took laborious shopping to find them.

How To Survive Year-end Festivities

Do you want to outlive this year? Well, then, you should drive as though you were making a bid for the title of "Best Driver of the Year".

This advice is given all Canadian motorists by W Arch Bryce, executive director of the Canadian Highway Safety council.

Here are some of the specific recommendations Mr Bryce issues to drivers at this time of the year:

1. Be sure your car is in good running condition and ready for winter.

2. Don't let your year-end festivities endanger your own life or the lives of your friends. Whenever you drive, stick to coffee and other non-alcoholic stimulants.

3. Leave earlier to get there on time and drive slowly. Allow yourself plenty of time to come to a stop. Avoid skidding by pumping your brakes.

4. Don't drive during a snow or sleet storm. If you do, you may never reach your destination.

5. When a considerate hostess offers you a cup of coffee at the end of an evening, accept it gratefully. It will help you to keep alert on the way home.

Mr Bryce also warned pedestrians against distractions of all sorts. "The simplest of all rules is to always cross with the green light and always at intersections," he said. 22-1

No Yearning To Go Back

Regardless of what she may think of trading stamps and premiums, the modern housewife has no intention of going back to bulk purchasing of foods in their natural state, declares The Financial Post. She has no yearning whatsoever for plucking and drawing chickens, slicing bacon, sawing steaks and roasts off a quarter of beef or buying breakfast food by the hundred pound sack. The nearer the food she purchases is ready to pop in the oven or go on the table, the better she likes it.

SQUARE PEAS?

Square peas with purple pods?, asks The Financial Post. It's possible, says A. W. S. Hunter, federal plant geneticist. In fact, purple pods have been bred to help growers locate pods among green leaves, but not square peas. "No practical advantage," he says. He's never chased the round kind across his plate.

On a south-of-England hillside stands a giant V-shaped fir forest, more than a half mile along each side. Planted in 1897 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Queen Victoria's reign, it is the largest "V for Victory" in the world.

FLUORIDATION MADE EASY

Watch for a boost in fluoridation of drinking water, advises The Financial Post. A new device fluoridates only the individuals water supply, attached to his cold water plumbing like a water softener.

Season's Greetings

Christmas joy is a fleeting thing if it encompasses only the present. The true Christmas must be brightened with past memories, the love of a family, the laughter of a child, the handshake of a friend and equally as much it must be lightened with hope for the future — for peace throughout the world for peace within our hearts. Then we can know the real happiness of Christmas, the "joy to the world" of which the angels sang.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

(Held over from last week)

With such nice weather prevailing it seems hard to realize it is almost Christmas.

The Auburndale W. A. held their quarterly central group meeting at the school last Wednesday evening conducted by the president, Mrs. Vera Brook, with Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham secretary. Mrs. Holte of the Wildmere W.A. gave a very fine devotional. Mrs. Muriel Harrison our regular devotional convener has been staying in town for a few weeks with her daughter so Mrs. Holte very kindly filled in for her. There was no election of officers as these are elected for a two-year term and all have another year to go. It was decided that each individual group collect the 15 cents per member for the furnishing of the new [illegible] nurses residence and [illegible] the money over to Mrs. Cunningham. Reports of the year's work were read by the secretaries of each of the small groups. The March meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. [illegible] the first Wednesday of the month. Following adjournment some men and students joined the ladies for the highlight of the evening which was a talk by Mrs. Dorothy Jean Stewart of Vermilion on her trip to the U.N. in New York last summer. It was certainly easy to understand why Dorothy Jean won the public speaking contest which enabled her to take this trip as she gave a most interesting and well presented account of her travels. This was followed by the showing of very fine slides which she had taken with suitable comments on each. Mrs. Brook on behalf of all present thanked Dorothy Jean for a most interesting evening. All were pleased to have Mrs. Stewart who accompanied her daughter and Miss Keith at the meeting. Lunch and a social hour followed with Battleview ladies as hostesses assisted by Heather Bell.

On Nov. 27 the Saltaux W.I. held a card party at the school with ten tables of whist. First prize for ladies went to Mrs. Carmen Kennedy, consolation to Mrs. Beryl Green. Men Arthur Thomas and Ted Marfleet. A lunch was served at the conclusion of the cards.

The same night Nov. 27 the Students [illegible] and their friends held a skating party on the lake just east of the [illegible] when a good time was had by all. Good ice, a huge bonfire, coffee and doughnuts and a lovely evening weatherwise all added to the enjoyment.

Autumn Leaf group held their December meeting at the home of Mrs. Alex Stone. New officers elected for the ensuing year are President, Mrs. Eleanor Cleland; Vice-President, Mrs. Theresa [illegible]; secretary, Mrs. Joey Faben.

At the Wilkerdo group meeting held at the home of Mrs. Beryl Green, Mrs. Green was elected president and Mary Arthur secretary.

Last Thursday night the Boy Scouts under Allan Cunningham, assistant Scoutmaster, held a hike down in the coulee and cooked their supper outdoors. A number of new boys have joined the Scouts this year replacing those who have gone to town to take their high school.

Several rinks from B.C. took in the Farmers' bonspiel in Vermilion with Bert Duncan capturing the Challenge.

The C.G.I.T. are holding a Christmas candlelight service in the gym on Sunday evening, Dec. 20 at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. In the afternoon of the same day Rev. MacKay will hold service in the church at 3 p.m. A nice crowd was out last Sunday and it is hoped everyone will try and attend one or both of these Christmas services and remember to keep Christ in our celebrations at this time of year.

The annual school Christmas concert is being held on Dec. 23 at 8 p.m. the last day of school.

Messrs. Lloyd Everett and George Harrison attended the meeting for elders held in the United church in Vermilion last week.

We are very pleased to see [illegible] again after being in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Green came down from the city last Thursday and stayed with relatives over night. They returned to Edmonton on [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Semeniuk were recent Edmonton visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ziegler of Vegreville visited at the Cunningham home recently.

Lester Wear and Willie Cleland are attending the F.U.A. convention in Edmonton from the Autumn Leaf F.U.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haverslew and family have moved into Vermilion for the winter months and are living in Bob Rowe's house in the west end. Henry is in charge of the men's wear department in Stephens Ltd.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Pass up that extra dumpling and piece of pie if you want to stay awake while driving at night. And do not count too heavily on coffee to keep you awake because while it may stimulate you for a short time, your physical return to normal is much quicker than is ordinarily thought.

The best way to stay out of trouble is to avoid driving when you feel sleepy — but if you must drive in spite of a tendency to drowsiness, follow these few rules:

1. Eat lightly and cut down on liquids. Eat just enough to avoid hunger.

2. [illegible] stimulants. Drugs help keep you awake but they also slow reaction time. If you really need a short lift try a whiff of smelling salts — good for about 15 minutes.

(3) Keep the car well ventilated even at the expense of slight discomfort due to the weather.

(4) Adjust the car seat carefully. There is more danger of dozing from fatigue caused by a bad seat than there is of being lulled to slumber by a good one.

(5) Give your eyes a break with an occasional glance to the side of the road.

A WORD TO THE WIVES

For a small family a half turkey is sufficient and economic. Your butcher may sell you a half turkey or if not ask him to cut a 12-pound bird in half and you can freeze the other half for later. Prepare half the quantity of stuffing and mound it in the bottom of the roasting pan. Place half turkey over it [illegible] and roast as for a whole bird.

About 20 North American trees are noted for their beauty and the fragrance of their flowers, but only six are valued for their timber as well. The latter are Ash, Mountain Ash, Locust, Catalpa, Yellow Poplar and the Tulip tree.

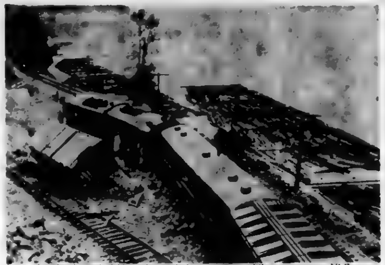
B.C. TRAIN SABOTAGED



A railroad switch deliberately smashed by a heavy instrument, has been pinpointed by CNR officials as the cause of a derailment in which a trans-continental passenger train collided with a boxcar loaded with dynamite near Chilliwack, B.C. recently. Two diesel units carrying 70 westbound passengers and three express cars hit the open switch at Matsqui, in the Fraser Valley, and crashed into a boxcar [illegible] of dynamite. Three passengers and one crew member were injured. There was no explosion. Investigators probing the derailment called it "deliberate sabotage."

The Bible Today

When the film "The Ten Commandments" was showing in Buenos Aires, Argentina, students of the Baptist International Theological Seminary sold Scriptures outside the cinema to those who were going to see the film.

The project, which gained the respect and admiration of the theatre owners, who granted the students extra ordinary facilities, proved to be a great success.

Bibles in various languages were sold to several soldiers and a Spaniard, a Jew bought a Hebrew Bible as well as one in Spanish; lawyers, engineers, doctors, professors and people from every walk of life stopped to talk and many bought Bibles.

Not only did the students have the opportunity of sharing their convictions with those who stopped to talk but the profits from their sales helped them to continue their theological studies for they sold [illegible] of Bibles.

Bert, Alf, Mildred Howard and Ardis Scarfe and Ivy Lind all motored to Dapp to spend the week end with sister and aunt May, and family.

Norman, Gusty and Allan Armstrong went to Vegreville to Lori's christening on Sunday Dec. 6. Both families enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner with all the trimmings later on in the day at Jim and Joyce's home. Some very icy roads were experienced on the way home.

Anne and Ronnie were home to help celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Maire a short time ago.

DUKE OF BEDFORD MAY BUY CASA LOMA

The Duke of Bedford in Toronto on a lecture tour inspected the famous Casa Loma from top to bottom. He would buy the castle provided the price was right, suitable financing could be arranged and the city of Toronto wanted to sell it. If he did buy it he would turn it into a tourist attraction as he did with his own castle in England. The Duke found the view from the castle's tower "incredible." The castle is presently run by the Kiwanis club as a tourist attraction.

W. I. President Issues Pre-Holiday Message to Women

"Just a few ounces of solid common sense can achieve greater happiness during the coming festive season than gallons of liquid entertainment," Mrs. F. J. Roylance, president of the Women's Institutes of Canada, stated recently in a pre-holiday message to Canadian women.

Common sense, Mrs. Roylance explained, means the dedication of Canadian women to the task of keeping their husbands, children and guests alive on Canadian roads.

As hostesses to their relatives and friends, Canadian housewives should be concerned with their safety, Mrs. Roylance added.

She suggested that Canadian mothers and housewives could make life safe for all by heeding the following road safety tips:

1. Keep children off the streets and highways.

2. Don't press anything stronger than coffee on your driving guests. Also, try serving milk, fruit and vegetable juices or hot soup, all of which are so popular among many.

3. Don't allow your guests to leave during a snow or sleet storm.

4. Make sure a substantial snack and plenty of stimulating, hot coffee is served before your party breaks up. This will help both pedestrians and drivers to stay alert and reach their homes safely.

"No Christmas or New Year's party can be successful unless everyone in attendance wakes up alive the next morning. This, to a very large extent, depends on the hostess," Mrs. Roylance concluded.

Health Unit Notes

FRAUD — A MENACE TO HEALTH

All fraud is deception, as deception is fraud. So many forms of deception have in the past been practised on the consumer that it would be impossible to list them all within this article.

The authorities, as well as reputable members of the industries concerned, work constantly to stamp out unsavory practices and bring the miscreants to justice. The twin sins of greed and dishonesty, however, continue to inspire an unscrupulous few who keep devising new "twists" to their nasty little game. It's a wise consumer who learns to outguess them and to expose their trickery with the best effect.

The device of enclosing a product in an over-sized package to mislead the customer as to the actual quantity he is getting is a tempting one to which some manufacturers still occasionally succumb. There may be justification for using a seemingly too-large container in some cases, but packaging is constantly under review and if a manufacturer fails to advance a valid reason for the practice, he is made to adopt a package more in keeping with the contents.

Bright red colour in meat is generally regarded as a sign of freshness and so red meat sells more readily than that of a darker hue. It follows then that if meat can be made to retain its red color although slightly "overage," there is less risk of loss to the dealer. This can be and often is done by adding sulphite, particularly in the chopped or "hamburg" variety. Severe penalties attend conviction [illegible].

The appeal of colour to the appetite is important to the food industry, and the addition of "safe" colours is permissible if there is no intent to deceive. Gelatine desserts and "hard" candy for instance, would be rather dull if uncoloured. However, when the purpose is clearly to misrepresent a product in order to step up profits, the addition of colour becomes illegal. Thus, ordinary white potatoes might be dyed red and so command the higher price of the "red" brand, but the dealer who resorts to this subterfuge inevitably comes to regret his tampering with nature.

When a commodity is in short supply, the price naturally goes up, and the world is full of "well meaning" characters who try to alleviate the shortage by the simple expedient of re-labelling or re-naming a plentiful substitute. So cocoa becomes "chocolate," vegetable fats become "butter fats," horsemeat appears under the guise of "beef", and what is sold at a fancy price as "olive oil" turns out to be almost wholly the much cheaper rape-seed oil. Another effective way of assuring that more people share in a scarce commodity is to cheat a little on each package. That way, more customers can be served, and of course it is only incidental that the profits of the "benefactor" rise appreciably. For a time, that is. Later, he can use these profits to pay part of his legal fines and fees!

Summons At Christmas

This is Christmas Eve. Christmas bells throughout all Christendom are ringing out the most joyous proclamation of the gospel message.

"Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord." (St. Luke 2:10-11)

Yes, 1,959 years ago, the angels sang "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men" and those that followed the star in the east found the Saviour Christ the Lord, lying in a manger in the city of David.

But the first Christmas was a trying and painful time, despite all the manifestations of glory. Was not Joseph summoned from sleep to take unto himself Mary who gave virgin birth to Christ Jesus? And were not Mary and Joseph summoned by decree from Caesar Augustus to go from Galilee to Bethlehem to be taxed? And were not all men of good will summoned by the angels to go to the manger in Bethlehem to find their King?

Mary and Joseph lived under a dictatorship in which life was cheap. Their income was more than likely in the lower third of the nation. When it came time for the Baby, they were summoned to make a trip to meet the demands of their government. Whether the Baby lived or died was of no concern to the society in which they existed. As far as their own people were concerned, Mary and Joseph could make out for themselves.

But because God reigned, they were not alone. The Wise Men brought gifts of great treasure. There was great rejoicing.

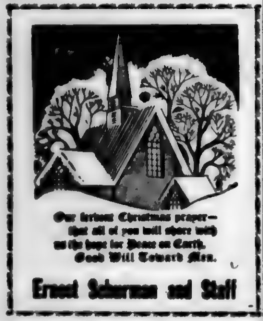
And so tonight there is rejoicing and there are visible tokens of Christmas. Most business sections have been bright with Christmas decorations for days past. Holly wreaths are found in many home windows, bells on doors and gaily lit Christmas trees, if not on the front lawn, visible in the living rooms from the street. Stores, in most centres will have closed for a three-day holiday. Everywhere about us, there seems to be a new spirit, a new life, a new hope, a new joy! Tonight children will go to bed assured that Santa Claus is on his way and will come down the chimney, in our respective homes, to deliver a portion of his heavy load. Most of us will banish all thoughts of external troubles and for the next few days concentrate on internal joys.

It is, indeed, a time of Merry Christmas.

Everyone Joins in Christmas Greeting Issue

The sure way for your Christmas greeting to reach all of your customers and friends is through the Christmas issue of the Standard. That this fact is generally recognized by the business men of Vermilion is clearly portrayed in the advertisements in this Yuletide issue. Practically every business in the town joins in extending wishes for a Merry Christmas to each and every reader, thus spreading goodwill far and wide and enhancing Vermilion's reputation as a friendly town.

Besides the regular type of ad [illegible] no less than 67 special greeting ads, each one necessitating time and work in displaying, mounting, producing and printing. To accommodate the advertising and news required twenty pages. The mammoth task was accomplished by a short-handed staff working very long hours but the completed product gave considerable cause for satisfaction. Read every line and every greeting — we hope that this Christmas issue pleases you too.



Our fervent Christmas prayer— that all of you will share with us the hope for Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men.

St. Paul Hornets To Play Here Wednesday, December 30th

The mighty St. Paul Hornets are the next team to appear on Vermilion ice. The date is Wed. next, Dec. 30th with game time at 8:30 sharp. The Hornets have found the going rather tough and at the week end had dropped two, one to Bonnyville and the other to the R.C.A.F. team.

The Tigers are set for a win and the game is bound to be a good one with the fast skating Hornets always providing plenty of action. Be on hand!

Bonnyville Pontiacs Score Overtime Win from Tigers

Bonnyville Pontiacs came from behind twice to tie the score at 6 all just one minute and 15 seconds from the end of regulation time, and then went on to overpower the tired Tigers by notching three counters in the overtime. It was a good game all the way with the Tigers coming from behind a 4-1 deficit to go ahead at 5-4. It was subsequently even at 4 all, 5 all and 6 all.

It took only 30 seconds to see the Pontiacs score the opening counter, G. Sylvestre from Serbu and at 1:14 minutes Serbu made it 2-0 on Belcourt's pass. The Tigers seemed to settle down and carried the play with Gerry Schmidt converting Murray Lowrie's assist. This was the signal for two more by the visitors, J. Damenko from P. Damenko, and G. Sylvestre from Serbu again. Not to be denied the Tigers raised the score to 4-3 at the end of the first with Dennill scoring on a three way play with Brown and Redford, and Redford from Dennill. One lone penalty was handed out to Legary of the Pontiacs for a trip.

The second was scoreless with a rush of penalties, five in all, two to Vermilion and three to the Pontiacs.

The third was featured by plenty of action and excitement. The Tigers went in front for the first time on goals by Ike Bronson and Hedley Dennill. Guse tied it for Bonnyville at 5 all. Ken Brown scored what everyone hoped would be the winner but a bare 1 minute and 15 seconds from the final gong Gerard scored the tieing marker.

The overtime was all Bonnyville with Krasnowski scoring from Serbu, Serbu from Belcourt and Belcourt from Serbu and G. Sylvestre.

The game was a good one, the hockey played was much superior to the opener. The Tigers apparently didn't have the staying powers of the Pontiacs but they were playing short some regulars as the college string was home for the holidays.

Vermilion was short Joe [illegible] as well as the V.S.A. trio, while Andy Redford who was playing a mighty game until he was hurt early in the second period and was out for the rest of the time. A young player who impressed was Machon from Dewberry, only 18 years old. He plays a steady and heady game on defence and can also handle that puck on a rush.

Refereeing was by Ralph Ruud of Mannville and Lloyd McLean of Bonnyville.

The ladies of the Greenlawn Goodwill Club met a week early this month in order to avoid the Christmas rush. The meeting was held at the home of Misses Verna and Gladys Boyce on Thursday, Dec. 10th. There was a good turnout of 31 members and one visitor. Two quilts are being quilted by the ladies in January. The club quilt which Mrs. Ada Lumley very kindly offered to sew up and [illegible] after is to be quilted at Mrs. Lumley's home and anyone wishing to quilt is very welcome.

Mrs. Gardner's heirloom quilt will be quilted at Mrs. Myrtle McMullen's home. Mrs. Alta Curtis, Mrs. D. Raines, Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. Dagmar Holmen and Miss Verna Boyce are in charge of this quilt.

The ladies have [illegible] to cater to Floyd Wood's wedding dance to be held at Greenlawn hall sometime in January.

Miss Hooper, the District Home Economist, will be holding a sewing class for some 14 ladies of the club the first week in February in the Greenlawn hall.

The ladies also decided to have the travelling library from the Department of Extension among them for three months.

Mrs. Heather Lumley won the door prize, a pair of pink pig salt and pepper shakers.

After jovial St. Nick distributed the lovely Christmas gifts from the various secret pals a very delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, also assisted by Miss [illegible] and Miss [illegible]. The next meeting will be on January 28th at Mrs. [illegible] home.

New [illegible] Edgar Randolph Parker legally adopted the name 'Painless' so he could practise dentistry under the name of Painless Parker.

Peak Reached in Outgoing Mail On Wednesday

Many people evinced interest in the news item last week regarding the very heavy Christmas mail. They were a bit puzzled as to why 65,000 two cent stamps only mailed 32,500 Christmas cards. The Editor always was poor at mathematics which is why the business always ends up in the red each year. The point that was supposed to be emphasized was that if 65,000 stamps were sold here it was reasonable to expect that number of letters were mailed out and a somewhat similar number would be received and would have to be handled by the postal staff, making a total of 130,000. Instead of multiplying by two the number was divided which didn't make a too impressive figure, but start thinking of handling 130,000 letters and you get a rather different opinion of the mammoth Christmas mails. The mail climbed to a new peak on Wednesday 16th with 75 bags shipped out on the trains that night. It appears now that having survived to this stage the postal staff will weather out the storm and enjoy Christmas with the rest of us.

Of Many Thing . . .

By AMBROSE HILLS

My young nephew married a lovely Ukrainian girl last week, and I attended the wedding and learned a lot.

Of course, I had known many Ukrainians before. I taught school once in a district that was almost entirely Ukrainian, and I [illegible] them very much. They [illegible] so alive, they work hard, [illegible] hard, love hard and hate hard. I always think of [illegible] as the European Irish. I [illegible] to read translations of their poetry, sitting in my small room above the school house, when I was lonesome for home. It was truly an experience. One could see the wheatfields and sense the [illegible] of a people in bondage passionately yearning for freedom — and reading it, I'd forget being lonesome, and go visiting.

On those visits, I would consume great quantities of holubche and pyrogies, so I guess that's why the food at the wedding last week tasted so good to me. And why the singing of Ukrainian songs sounded so good to my ears.

Ukrainian weddings are wonderful. The bride and groom were given just about everything that a young couple could possibly need for their home and on top of that, the guests shelled out in hard cash a sum that [illegible] mighty big to us Anglo-Saxons who are relatively niggardly in that regard.

I confess that I had been somewhat cynical about all the fuss and planning and endless arrangements that seemed to be required for a wedding, but when it was over, I was impressed.

The boy and girl who marry in Ukrainian style have a good start. They know for sure that the knot has been tied and pulled tight. They know that relatives and friends wish them well — for that is proved in the generosity of the giving and in the gaiety of the celebration, and in the tears that are shed so copiously.

When I first knew Ukrainians they were mostly very short on cash. Today, they are prosperous, but they know how to spend their money for the big important things. If they have a fault, it is in their pride — but that was a quality developed by necessity in a race plagued by oppressors.

Here, in an atmosphere of freedom, they have prospered. They have made their own way and on top of that have contributed tremendously towards the development of Canada. Further, they are likely to help keep Canada free — for they have known oppression and they hate it fervently.

Three Wise Men Historical Puzzle; Relics at Cologne

Biblically we know very little about the Wise Men who came from the East bearing gifts to the Christ Child and, having adored Him as the King of the Jews, returned to their own country.

It is generally accepted that there were three Wise Men because of the three specifically mentioned gifts; church tradition has identified them as Melchior, Caspar, and Balthasar: Melchior, king of Arabia, brought a casket of gold; Caspar, king of Tarsus, brought myrrh; and Balthasar, king of [illegible], brought frankincense. These gifts are considered symbolic of what Jesus was to become—gold for a king, frankincense for a high priest, and myrrh for a great physician. Collectively, the Wise Men received the gifts of charity and spiritual wealth, perfect faith, truth and meekness.

When they returned to their own country, the three Kings reputedly [illegible] their possessions and went about preaching the Christ-King. Legend continues, that they were martyred in India for their faith.

The bodies of the Wise Men, transferred to Constantinople in the fourth century—by the Empress Helena, mother of Constantine—were enshrined at Milan for a while after the first Crusade. Frederick Barbarossa authorized removal of the relics to Cologne where they remain to this day deposited within the magnificent Cathedral of Cologne.

Rich and Poor Mingled During English Yule

During the 14th and 15th before the Puritans got the upper hand, the golden age of English hospitality reigned. At Christmas time castles and manor houses were filled with guests by the score and the hundred.

Kinsmen and neighbors were there and on certain days the tradesmen and tenants, for all were equal at this season. The 'cotter could dance with the mistress if he had the nerve to ask her. And he usually had—after the wassail.

The great halls were a din of geniality. There was light—almost enough to pierce the wood smoke. And there were the savory aromas. Roasting beef, roasting mutton, fowl and brawn (the flesh of the wild pig, which had been caught and fed good grain to the point of arousing his suspicions, too late, of course).

The dark ale flowed and added its cere—by proxy—to heighten the noise. At the peak of all this there was brought in the Yule log—a relic, incidentally, of the Scandinavians' pagan worship of Thor. With a brand from last year's log the new [illegible] was fired.

The light from those roaring flames would shine out through portals opened to the knocks of caroling and wassailing bands who, more often than not, were brought into the hall to eat of nutmeg cakes and brawn and mustard.

Red and Green Decorations

The use of green at Christmas time is understandable when it is recalled that the idea of decking churches, houses, shops, etc., centers around the use of evergreens. This custom antedates the Christian era and apparently is a survival of the Roman Saturnalia when inhabitants of Rome ornamented their temples and dwellings with green boughs.

Red, which is regarded as the most cheerful of all colors, is said to react most quickly on the optic nerve. Decorations available at the winter solstice include holly, the berries of which are red.

Hunting the Wren In Old Ireland

Once upon a time in Ireland, the wren was hunted and killed on Christmas morning; a branch of holly and bright ribbons were attached to its body which was carried from house to house by small boys who sang songs and expected to receive a dole from each household.

The story goes that during the Danish-Irish war, the Danes were resting after an arduous march and the Irish were creeping up quietly. All of a sudden a wren, spying a few crumbs which the drowsy Danish drummer had dropped on the drumhead, swooped down and began to peck at the crumbs. The pecking awakened the boy, who aroused the camp; the Irish, driven off and defeated, blamed the wren.

Modern Irish, ashamed of the once-honored tradition, say the guilty bird may have been a starling or a sparrow anyway, and now welcome the wren to their farms and homes.

Mexico Did Away With Santa Claus

In 1930 the authorities in Mexico decided to [illegible] Santa Claus during the Christmas festival as they considered him out of place in a country where snow is seldom seen.

The well-known bearded figure was ousted by Quetzalcoatl, the Indian god, half bird, half snake, who was worshipped by the Aztecs before the Spanish invasion.

In its new Christmas program, the southern country has made a feature of the distribution of presents to thousands of needy children by the plumed serpent, and every [illegible] the legendary present-giving [illegible] place on December 25.

Superstitions Told About New Year's In Many Lands

Good Luck Offered in Many Ways to 'Believers.'

New Year's Day affords everyone the opportunity to bring himself good luck throughout the year. At least that is supposed to be true according to several old superstitions concerning the beginning of a new year.

The "First Foot"—the first person to enter the house on New Year's morning — plays a significant role in the family's future fortunes. He must be a dark man to bring good luck, and if he also brings a gift and "carries in" more than he "takes out," then the house is assured peace and plenty for a whole year. The most auspicious gifts as luck-bringers are a lump of coal and a red herring.

Unmarried persons are advised to look out of the window on New Year's morning. If you see a man, it is a sign that you will be wed before the year is out. Should you see a horse, you can have a wish, and it will be realized within the year. To see a dog is lucky, but a cat foretells worry.

A little care will make it possible to bring oneself good luck for the entire year. Wear something new, if possible, on New Year's Day, but the garment must be put on when you first dress in the morning. Receipt of a gift is certain to carry luck. Wish everyone you meet "A Happy New Year," but remember when the greeting is given to cross your fingers for luck. Be sure to say "rabbits" as the first word when you wake before anyone has had a chance to speak to you.

Love's progress will be aided on New Year's Day if you are careful to put on the left stocking before the right. The potency of this charm is supposed to be increased if you do all things as far as possible left-handedly during the day.

To open a bank account on New Year's Day was considered lucky in Old England, the custom growing probably from the belief of many centuries that whatever you do on the first day of the year will be an indication of what will happen during the months that will follow.

In some parts of England and Scotland it is supposed to be unlucky to leave a house until some outsider has first entered it.

New Year's Blessings an Ancient Swiss Legend

According to Swiss legend, the Holy Family is abroad during the hour of midnight mass on Christmas Eve.

Therefore, a bowl of fresh milk is placed upon the dining table and each member of the household carefully lays his spoon upon the table cloth.

The person who, returning from church, finds his spoon has been moved may anticipate special blessings during the coming year: for surely Mary and Joseph have rested within the abode during their Flight into Egypt and the Virgin used that spoon to feed the Infant Jesus.

CHRISTMAS EVE IN OLDTIME FINLAND

The Christmas Eve bath was quite a tradition in Finland before the advent of modern plumbing.

The oldtime Finnish bath-room was usually a three-room hut; one room was used for steaming and scrubbing, one for rubbing, and one for dressing.

The hut was warmed by a stone oven, heated for hours before the scheduled bath, and the "bath-room" was really steaming. After bathing came the rub-down and the switching of the body with birch twigs to increase the circulation, topped off by a roll in the snow, supposedly to whet the appetite for Christmas Eve supper.

For supper there was usually stockfish and prune tarts to be enjoyed, plus the traditional barley porridge in which cream and [illegible] and almonds were mixed.

[illegible] supper the boys and men [illegible] their strength while the [illegible] in the men's work [illegible] their faces and [illegible] away to visit other homes in [illegible] and "see Christmas." The [illegible] never spoke for [illegible] but went from house to [illegible] merely to watch the festivities.

And when the evening's festivities were over, the smaller children made their beds in the straw [illegible] spread on the floor in commemoration of the Christ Child.

[illegible]

The flame-thrower and atomic energy — lethal instruments borrowed from modern warfare—are out to kill that ancient symbol of peacemaking and love, the Christmas mistletoe.

The unusual battle front is Australia where too many valuable trees each year have been meeting the kiss of death from the harmless looking shrub. Despite mistletoe's popular reputation as the Yuletide promoter of romance, it is a public-enemy parasite in the woodlands, killing off the trees that play it host.

Australian foresters have finally resorted to the flame-thrower as a quick executioner for the plant and are using radio-active tracers, furnished by the U.S. atomic energy commission, to study how the mistletoe saps the water and mineral salts from the trees, starving them to death.

Old Timers Centre Open Two Years — Filling A Great Need

On December 13th the old timers centre in Vermilion celebrated its second anniversary.

It still continues to be the favourite haunt of many of our old timers, about an average of 15 registering daily. Many are the tales told and friendships renewed around its friendly tables.

Its fame begins to spread; we understand that a similar centre is in the process of being started at Mannville and that other towns are interested in such a project.

The sponsors [illegible] men I. Schurman and E. Clendenning very much appreciate the many indications of interest and help which have been forthcoming during the past two years. These men underwrite all expenses with the exception of the taxes for which provision is made by the town of Vermilion and to whom sincere thanks are extended.

We trust that the centre will continue for years to come, as a friendly meeting place for our old timers and to all of them we send the greeting of a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

SPELLING BEE

By Dorothy [illegible]

IT WAS about eight o'clock on New Year's Eve when Jane Walters turned to stare out the kitchen window into the wintry darkness. She didn't want Don to see the tears in her eyes, but she hadn't been quick enough.

"It's a raw deal all right, honey," he said from the chair where he sat with one leg, in a cast, propped up on a stool. I [illegible] you away from all your city friends and bring you back to Brantville to live, and then what do I do? Break my stupid leg during our first holidays together and leave you high and dry without an escort for the New Year's Eve party."

"You couldn't help it, Don."

She tried to sound bright, but the truth was it did matter. She had found herself more homesick than ever with the coming of the holidays. This little town to which Don had come back as operator of the grain elevator was like a foreign country to her. And, with the furnace acting up, here they were sitting in the kitchen of all places on New Year's Eve.

Jane sighed and turned slowly away from the window. "What kind of a party will Grandma Jenner be having?"

Don chuckled. "Oh, it'll be corny, all right—no blaring trumpets. And yet, Janie," Don leaned forward and went on earnestly, "I really think you'd enjoy those people if you'd, well, kind of let yourself go."

"Maybe so, Don. But I just have the feeling that they consider me an outsider. I—did you hear that scuffling noise? Sounds like somebody's in our back yard."

"It's a raw deal all right, honey," he said.

"Lots of somebodys, I'd say," Don replied.

There was a resounding thump on the back door. Jane opened it and stepped back, bewildered.

"Surprise, surprise!" a chorus of voices shouted, as a couple of dozen people trooped in, Grandma Jenner in the lead, swinging a huge granite coffee pot.

"You do look floored, my dear," she said, planting a peck briskly on Jane's cheek. "But it's an old custom around here—when you can't come to a party, the party comes to you. Look at Don there, he doesn't seem too surprised."

Don grinned. "I was kind of hoping this would happen," he said. "But Jane hasn't gotten too well acquainted yet."

"I know," Grandma said quickly. "And it's mostly our fault. To tell you the truth, honey,"—she turned to Jane—"We were kind of afraid of you, you seemed sort of distant. But when you learned that you and Don couldn't make the party, I heard the [illegible] in your voice, I suddenly realized that you're just as human as the rest of us. So here we are. Now let's get on with the fun."

It seemed no time at all before Grandma called out, "We've just time for a spelling bee before midnight and refreshments. Get yourselves lined up folks while I put the coffee on to boil."

The crowd laughingly divided into two lines on either side of the big kitchen. As Jane hesitated, someone pulled her into position.

"[illegible] the words, Mac," Grandma said to the school principal. "You're used to this kind of thing."

Mr MacKay began giving out words. Amid shouts of praise for the successful spellers and hoots of derision for those who stumbled over a word, the game progressed until only Jane and Mr Nichols were left.

The caller cleared his throat and, turning towards Jane, pronounced the word, 'hospitable'.

Jane hesitated and looked slowly around the room. She saw Grandma Jenner hovering over the coffee pot at the stove, Mr Appleton gently adjusting the cushion under Don's outstretched leg, and Mrs. Amos just coming in from the pantry with a tray of apple pies.

"Yes, I can spell 'hospitable'," she said. "B-R-A-N-T-V-I-L-L-E."

There was a moment of silence. "Bravo!" several voices called out, and just then the kitchen clock began to strike twelve.

"Happy New Year!" Jane echoed with the rest as she looked around at her new friends and finally met the eyes of her beaming husband. It was indeed going to be a good year.

Golden Age Friendship Club Hears S. C. Heckbert Speak At Christmas Social

The Christmas social of the Golden Age Friendship club, held in the Legion hall on the afternoon of Dec 16th, was unparalleled in the history of the club with 102 members attending to hear Mr. Carl Heckbert give a resume of his trip to Europe, followed by a delightful showing of slides of the various places visited on the trip. This part of the programme was immensely enjoyed by all present and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Heckbert for his time and trouble. All the members of the club extend a very sincere wish that Mrs. Heckbert make a speedy recovery and all hope she will be home for Christmas.

After the showing of pictures, carol singing took place with Mrs. W. Roebuck at the piano, Mr. G. Stewart, violin, and Mrs Mary Walker, guitar. The singing was led by secretary Percy Cross and a very hearty vote of thanks to all for the very generous co-operation. Everyone present will remember those carols for a long time to come.

During the intermission, Mr. Stewart and Mrs. Walker played some real old-time music, which was much appreciated. Then came the exchange of gifts, and many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Waldenberger, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. P. Cross, Mr. R. Walker and Mr. Hugh Mitchell for the splendid way in which everything connected with the distribution of the gifts was carried out. While the gifts were being untied and admired, (one would think Santa himself had been there) the ladies of the kitchen committee took over, and the lunch was served buffett style. The very beautiful birthday cake was generously donated by Mrs S. H. Carroll and tastefully decorated by the Vermilion Bakery.

There were seven birthdays in December and after the usual ceremony of candle blowing and the singing of "happy birthday" the ages of the seven members were taken with the amazing total of 503 years. After lunch, Mrs. Walker, sang two delightful songs, accompanying herself. Mr Waldenberger then spoke of the next social to be held Jan 20 in the afternoon, with a sincere wish that the club have an equally large turn-out. He also spoke of the great pleasure it has given the officers of the club to greet such an enthusiastic gathering. It certainly makes it really worthwhile.

The club wishes to extend season's greetings to all members who are sick and to those who are away, trusting they will be present in January. To all the friends in Victoria, B. C. a merry Christmas and happy New Year, we are always pleased to hear from you. And to the Editor and staff of the Vermilion Standard, season's greetings and many thanks from the club for the splendid publicity given this past year.

To please sightseers the daytime flow of water over Niagra Falls is doubled from April to October by reduction of water diversion above the falls.

HANDY GIFTS

How often at Christmas time have you experienced that panicky feeling that comes when you discover you've forgotten someone? It happens nearly every year

You can, however, save yourself a good deal of embarrassment by having gifts wrapped and on hand in case someone drops by with a gift for you—someone accidently omitted from your gift list.

A safe bet and a gift that will be appreciated is something that you, yourself, have made—perhaps seasonal cookies and candies, nuts, and stuffed fruits. These are gifts with a particularly personal touch. And that, after all, is what the spirit of Christmas giving should be—giving a little of yourself to others.

You can pack your handiwork in wooden or earthenware bowls, a flower pot, small basket, or inexpensive cake or loaf pan. Other handy and inexpensive packaging items are oatmeal boxes, coffee cans, or paper plates covered with [illegible]

A gaily wrapped package makes even the smallest gift look good. Use odd ends of wallpaper brightly colored magazine covers, shelf paper or scraps of material.

If you have a favorite candy, cookie or fruit or nut bread recipe, use it, by all means. And for an additional touch, tuck a copy of your pet recipe into your gift.

Christmas Tree Industry Aids Forestry Programs

That beautiful Christmas tree you've purchased for your living room this Christmas needn't cause any qualms of conscience if you're the type who worries about the effect of the Christmas tree business on our forests

The fact that yours is one of 31 million trees used for holiday decorations this year makes it seem that our forests are in great peril, but such is not the case. In fact, at least half of these trees are coming from sources that did not harm or actually improved the forest land they occupied when cut.

Foresters who grow saw-log trees generally divide cut-over land into four classes and Christmas-tree land is the lowest classification. It won't grow good forests, but is ideal for Christmas trees since it barely supports tree life. The tree, in its struggle to exist, throws out quick and frequent [illegible].

On such land are the Christmas-tree farms, such as one operated at Tacoma, Washington, by Paul Kirk, the "Christmas-tree king." Kirk distributes 4 to 5 million trees a year and keeps several times that number growing

The last two or three weeks before Christmas are about the busiest of the year for Paul Kirk for his carefully grown trees must arrive at their destinations on time. It isn't unusual for him to tour dozens of cities checking on shipments before he gets home at the last moment to gather with his family around the Kirks' huge white-sprayed tree

How To Survive Year-end Festivities

Do you want to outlive this year? Well, then, you should drive as though you were making a bid for the title of "Best Driver of the Year"

This advice is given all Canadian motorists by W. Arch Bryce executive director of the Canadian Highway Safety council

Here are some of the specific recommendations Mr. Bryce issues to drivers at this time of the year

1 Be sure your car is in good running condition and ready for winter

2 Don't let your year end festivities endanger your own life or the lives of your friends Whenever you drive stick to coffee and other non-alcoholic stimulants

3. Leave earlier to get there on time and drive slowly. Allow yourself plenty of time to come to a stop. Avoid skidding by pumping your brakes

4 Don't drive during a snow or sleet storm. If you do, you may never reach your destination

5 When a considerate hostess offers you a cup of coffee at the end of an evening, accept it gratefully It will help you to keep alert on the way home

Mr Bryce also warned pedestrians against distractions of all sorts. "The simplest of all rules is to always cross with the green light and always at intersections," he said. 22tf

Colorful Alberta Lieutenant-Governor, "Vice-Regal Cowboy" Is Laid To Rest

EDMONTON — The vice-regal cowboy is dead.

Death came quietly, in hospital, after more than a month of illness to Hon. Dr John James Bowlen, the self-made man who parlayed hard work and determination into a successful business and political life capped by his appointment in 1950 as the Monarch's personal representative.

The death of the lieutenant-governor was the final chapter in a fascinating story which parallels that of the west's development, and in his passing Alberta lost the most popular man ever to hold the high office.

Born in Cardigan, P. E. I. John Bowlen didn't have much time to go to school so left home at an early age with 15 borrowed dollars and headed for Boston, where he worked first as a stable-hand, then as a street railway conductor.

By the turn of the century he had amassed $1,000 — big money in those days — and by regular visits to the public library had made up for the formal education he abandoned.

With these accomplishments out of the way he married and headed for the open prairies of western Canada. He planned to work as a farm laborer in Manitoba, but rented a farm instead, became a [illegible] farmer and cleared $2,000 in his first year.

Subsequent years had their share of disaster which was part of the gamble of homesteading, but by 1917 John Bowlen built up the biggest sheep and horse ranching enterprise in Canada. On his 80,000 acre southern Alberta spread at one time he had 1,800 head of horses.

In 1930 the big, hearty rancher was elected to the Legislature as a Liberal MLA and held a seat in the Alberta House for 14 years. For the final two years he was Opposition leader.

He was a fearless opponent of the government any time he felt it was taking a wrong step, but at the time he prided himself in a talent for getting along with people and he earned respect from both sides of the House.

Dr. Bowlen liked to attribute a large measure of his success to his ability to make friends with people. He would recall that as one of a handful of Roman Catholics in Macklin, Sask. in the early days he organized support among the Protestants to raise money for a Catholic church.

He liked to tell audiences that since becoming lieutenant governor he had spoken in just about every church in Edmonton. And in a joking mood, he would say the only time he ever lost an election was when the Knights of Columbus threw their support behind his opponent.

The thing he liked about the lieutenant governor's job was the contact with the public. He liked nothing better than to reminisce about his early horse-wrangling days. Edmonton author Tony Cashman, who wrote Dr. Bowlen's biography, dubbed him "the vice-regal cowboy," and it was an apt title. He was in his glory wearing a white Stetson hat and leading the parade opening the Calgary stampede.

The habit of hard work which brought him success as a rancher also made him a hard-working governor. He was in his office long before most civil servants left home in the morning. He seldom refused an invitation to address a gathering or sit at the head table at a banquet.

He had guts too. The night before he was to open the 1958 session of the Legislature he received word of the death of his son in the U. S. Members of his family were the only ones who knew about it, and they advised him to change his plans.

But he told no one and went through with the job. "I wanted no disruption in the routine," he said later. "It's not an easy thing to take but we have duties which must be performed."

One of his last official functions before going into hospital was to attend a breakfast meeting of the Westlock Chamber of Commerce, where he was named honorary president. He reminisced about the early days, then hinted he might be retiring one of these times. "I'll be 84 on my next birthday," he said. "If a fellow's going to kick around and have some fun, he'll have to start pretty soon."

Last week end the body of Dr. John J. Bowlen lay in state in the Legislative Building while hundreds of citizens filed past to pay their respects. Then with full military honors the body was laid to rest in St. Joachim's cemetery beside the grave of his wife, who died in 1956.

Future Foretold By Drowsy Hens

Divinations were an important part of the Christmas festivities in Czarist Russia.

After a special family Christmas dinner, the girls of the household placed five piles of grain upon the kitchen floor: each pile was given a name, such as Hope, Ring, Money, Thread and Charcoal. A drowsy hen was fetched from the henhouse and allowed to walk around the kitchen floor and choose a pile of grain.

Obviously the hen's choice of Money meant wealth, Ring foretold a wedding within a year, and Hope promised the fulfillment of a wish or a long journey. If the sleepy chicken chose the grain designated as Thread, a life of toil was predicted for the marriageable maiden of the household, and Charcoal was considered an omen of death in the family.

Old songs were sung to accompany such goings-on, while the girls and women vied to devise complete stories based on the antics of the hen.

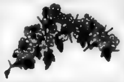
The Holy Thorn Of Glastonbury

In honor of the Hawthorn, which legendarily shielded Christ while he rested in the woods before the crucifixion, Joseph of Arimathaea chose a thorn staff when he started on his long journey to Britain shortly after the death of Christ. Arriving at last at his new home in Glastonbury, Joseph stuck his walking stick into the ground, the staff began to grow and soon acquired the habit of producing flowers each Christmas Eve.



The first literary mention of the thorn is contained in Hearne's History and Antiquities of Glastonbury, published in 1722. In this work, Mr. Eyston states: "Whether it sprang from St. Joseph of Arimathaea's dry staff, I cannot find, but beyond all dispute it sprang up miraculously."

When Britain adopted the Gregorian calendar in 1752, 2,000 persons assembled at Glastonbury on December 25—new style—to see if the Holy Thorn would bloom in agreement with the new calendar; when it did not, many refused to participate in the usual observance of Christmas. The evil of changing calendars was proven when the thorn blossomed on January 5—Christmas Eve—old style—and many ministers in the vicinity of Glastonbury appeased their congregations by announcing that Christmas would be observed according to the old calendar.

A cutting of the Glastonbury thorn was brought to America in 1900 and planted near St. Alban's school in Washington, D. C., by the late Right Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee. The cutting grew into a tree, blossoming for the first time in December, 1918; since then, it has blossomed each year at Christmas-time and attracts thousands of visitors annually.

NEWS from ISLAY

The bingo party Friday night was a grand success, every family was represented, one way or another. The business men very kindly donated to purchase of the turkeys: Dalt Torrance, Walt McCaughan, Hardy Ford, Bill McLean, B. Tookey, Bill King, Gordon Parser, Clarence Robertson, [illegible] and [illegible]. The H. and S. is very grateful to these men. Winners of turkeys were Mrs. Vera Anson, Elaine Sweet, David Hanna, Gerald Coulton, Garfield Simmons, Kenny Harrison and Bill Lilrich all tied, the winner got the turkey and the losers got their dollar back. Shirley Buchanan and Mrs. Kowalski tied, with Shirley the winner. Ev Inman and Syd Grout tied. Ev got the turkey. Mrs. Howard Robertson of Kitscoty and Mrs. Kowalski tied, Mrs. Robertson winning. Mrs. Eva Brassington of Vermilion teaching staff, Bill Bolton and Ken McLennan all tied, Bill got the turkey. Ample lunch was brought by the parents for which many thanks. Bill King, president of the Home and School asked for a show of hands for a whist party in January, with the majority in favor.

Sympathy is extended the Leo Kowalski family on the death of Mr. Kowalski's mother in the Islay hospital.

Islay is brilliant with all the Christmas lights on so many residences and business places. Some have their evergreen trees on the lawn decorated with colored lights, or their windows, the verandahs and even a tree atop the store and garage. Dalt Torrance has Santa, his sleigh and reindeer on top of his house, the drug store window with a tree covered with lights is very effective. Some lights are the blinker type going off and on.

The staff of the Sunday school treated the children of the Sunday school to a supper in the church hall ending with games. From the sound of things it was much enjoyed.

For White Gift Sunday the children and staff contributed articles for eleven towel kits for Korean children.

We wish all the readers of the Standard a Happy Christmas and a good year in 1960.

FRAUD — LOOK OUT FOR THE QUACKS!

Quackery, a particularly vicious form of fraud is not, unfortunately, a thing of the past. Many medical quacks do a flourishing business, preying on a gullible public, despite everything the authorities are doing to try to put an end to their activities, once and for all. This goal, however, can never be attained without the public's co-operation. How can you prevent anyone from being deceived when he really wants to be deceived? Yet, so many people do — some out of ignorance, some out of fear, some out of desperation. The quack who peddles useless — and often dangerous — remedies makes capital out of these emotions.

Ignorance can be overcome by education. So, to a large extent, can unreasonable fear of doctors and approved methods of treatment. But what to do in the pathetic case of a victim of an incurable disease, who, having been told the grim truth, nevertheless seeks straws — any straw to clutch at?

To him, the quack with his glib assurances and high-sounding pseudo-technical jargon represents renewed hope. "What do all these doctor chaps know anyway" runs his argument, "they're only interested in getting rich. Why, I have developed a guaranteed remedy for your ailment, and what's more, I have here testimonials from grateful patients to prove it works. But the doctors? Why they're afraid that such an easy remedy would put an end to the lengthy and costly treatments that keep them on easy street. So they refuse to even give my discovery a trial — they wouldn't dare. What's more, they're persecuting me at every turn." And so on and on. Strangely enough he seems to make sense when one is desperate enough. For a desperate man may not stop to reason that doctors and their families stand to suffer as much as anyone else from the suppression of proven remedies.

Particularly active is the cancer quack. Not content with his ghoulish extraction of large sums of money from victims in the late stages of incurable cancer, he is often the cause of delaying proper treatment of patients who could have been cured had they gone to a doctor early enough.

It seems incredible, but on this continent thousands of people are "taken in" each year by phony and worthless devices ranging from ordinary strips of metal to scientific-looking "electronic treatment" chairs. These chairs are claimed to be effective in the treatment of everything from arthritis to heart disease to cancer, they are, in fact nothing more than old easy chairs, shall we say, "wired for sound", but made to look impressive by the use of wires, dials and all manner of gadgets.

The quack spares no expense to advertise in newspapers and magazines — he gets good returns for money so invested! Beware of these advertisements. Beware too of the many books published by these charlatans. For regardless of what they say no diet is going to cure cancer nor at this time is there any pill for the purpose.

Likewise there is no diet nor pill nor exercise that will correct a defective retina and allow the patient to "throw away his glasses."

Any doctor who has been in practice for any length of time has seen victims after pitiful victim of these nefarious practices broke, discouraged, seeking at last the professional help he could have had many moons and many bank balances ago.

Never a dull fellow, the quack has a number of variations to his pitch. Turning away from diseases he will sometimes fasten his attention on the extraordinary merits of certain foods or he may turn his talents to solving the "problems of obesity."

Lack of real knowledge does not deter the food quack — he has a vivid imagination to draw on and so he is able to invest certain foods with all sorts of health-giving qualities while condemning others on equally spurious grounds. The food he advocates may be quite wholesome but since good nutrition depends on a proper balance of a number of elements, too heavy reliance on a particular food or group of foods can seriously upset that balance with detrimental results to health. Furthermore the unjust slander of certain classes of foods does untold harm and tends to undermine the work that government, industry and agriculture are doing to assure the nation of the safest and most wholesome food supply possible.

Medical and health authorities while directing public attention to the dangers of obesity constantly admonish that the only safe way to reduce is under the care of one's physician. The thousands of overweight people — and perhaps as many who merely think they are — deliberately ignore these warnings in trying to lose weight. With complete abandon they fall for every slick, pill-pushing advertisement that comes their way and they try every fantastic diet preparation.

New Provincial-Municipal Advisory Committee Formed

First meeting of the Provincial Municipal Advisory Committee, as proposed under the Alberta Government's Five Year Plan, was held recently at Edmonton. Chairman of the Committee (seated) is the Hon. The others, front left to right, are J. M. McKay president, and Gordon Mayer, vice president, representing the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, and Ross Ellis, of High River and J. M. McAfee of Red Deer representing the Union of Alberta Municipalities. The committee is set up to evaluate and recommend to the cabinet, or to the association concerned, ideas and suggestions of mutual interest originating from either group. The committee will meet as [illegible].

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

The amateur hour and play "The Black Widow" put on by the little theatre group of the Mannville Anglican church at Buffalo Coulee last Friday evening was a decided success. A good crowd attended and really enjoyed the novelty numbers in song and the "spooky" play. Just could be that there might have been a few bad dreams among the little ones (to say nothing of the older ones) judging by the screams on the appearance of the black spider and spectre and the black-outs. The parts were well cast with all characters being well portrayed making it difficult to pick any particular star. The play was sponsored by the B. C. Home and School and the proceeds will be divided.

On Monday evening, Dec. 10th, a teachers' meeting of the Mannville sub-division A. T. A. was held at the B. C. school with a good attendance.

The Heatherbell W. A. held a most enjoyable meeting at the home of Mary Ann Barlow on Thursday afternoon, with twenty three members present. Best wishes are extended to Wyn McInnes for a speedy recovery from her session with the flu. It was nice to see so many of our members from town out, thanks to lovely weather and good road conditions. Main new business was the election of officers for the coming year. The president is Mrs. Mollie Semeniuk, vice-president — Mrs. Jean Cooper, sec-treas. — Mrs. Mary Ann Barlow.

After lunch the social hour ended with an exchange of Christmas gifts with the sunshine pals. This produced much merriment and surprises as most had made a wrong guess as to who their secret pal was during the year. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Cora Landroth in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Larson were city visitors this week.

Mrs. Cleland Sr. visited her daughter in Edmonton last week, going up with Willie and Lester Wear who attended the F. U. A. convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cleland are now settled in their new home and that corner of the community has now brightened up considerably as Lorentz Samuelson, Albert and Harold Cleland are installed on Calgary power. No trouble getting Xmas presents for your whose now boys.

Most Beloved Carol Is 'Silent Night'

The most beloved carol of the many that are sung in all parts of the world is "Silent Night" that simple and tender German song.

Its origin was unknown for many years. Recent research, however, disclosed that it was written by Joseph Mohr, an assistant priest in Oberndorf in South Germany. The melody was composed by a schoolmaster Franz Gruber.

The poet and the composer were part of the choir that sang the carol for the first time on Christmas Eve in the Oberndorf church in 1818.

The night it was sung the small church's organ was out of order and the choir sang to the accompaniment of a guitar.

Since then the carol has been sung to the tune of almost every musical instrument in the world and in the languages of nearly all men.

That Reindeer Is Becoming a Tradition

That reindeer is becoming an American tradition.

Once upon a time there was a reindeer with a built-in flashlight bulb for a nose. You know, [illegible] the red-nosed reindeer. From a small beginning in 1939, the little [illegible] with the built-in [illegible] had become as familiar as [illegible] to youngsters everywhere.

First invented as a [illegible] away promotion for [illegible] Ward by Robert L. [illegible] before he became associated with Christmas. Songwriter Johnny Marks liked the title "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer," so he wrote a song about it. He was so sure he had a success that he started his own Publishing company using "Rudolph" as his first release. Gene Autry made the initial recording, and that one record sold [illegible] copies.

Last [illegible] there were [illegible] different recordings of the song for sale ranging from boogie-woogie by Sugar Chile Robinson to Bing Crosby, and cowboy singers.

I.O.D.E. Supports World Refugee Year

Throughout the world the period of June 1st, 1959, to May 31st 1960 is to be known as World Refugee Year.

At the November National Executive meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, the National president, Mrs. A. K. Richardson, said that I. O. D. E. members had given their unanimous support to World Refugee Year and agreed that the most practical method was to increase the Order's overseas programme of assistance to refugees.

From 1942 until 1959 the I. O. D. E. has spent more than a million and a quarter dollars on its refugee work. ($1,249,799.00)

From 1942 until the conclusion of World War II, relief was supplied to Polish refugees to the extent of $265,532.00.

In the period of June 1946 to June 1959, the sum of $984,266.99 was expended on aid for refugees in Europe, North Africa and Korea.

During these years the Province of Alberta contributed generously from the Primary Chapter level. The reports of 1958 alone show a great concern for all refugees and victims of war in its various phases.

$2,751.04 was spent in supplying the members with wool and materials to be made into clothing for women and children, layettes, baby clothes and quilts. 29 cases were shipped to Korea, the Save the Children Fund and SSAFA, containing [illegible] articles valued at $6,376.[illegible] In this effort 543¼ pounds of wool, 385¼ yds. of print and 1,985 yds of flannelette were made into [illegible] garments. 222 nursery and comfort bags were sent to refugees at a cost of $435.00. To the National Chapter, funds to be used for overseas relief Alberta contributed in cash $2,064.24. The entire effort from Alberta for overseas in 1958 amounted to $11,456.67. Included in this were books, toys and food. More orphans have been adopted by the Primary Chapters.

World Refugees have not been overlooked by I. O. D. E. in Alberta and the work this year 1959 — shows no reduction from the previous year.

Unless they eat the white man's food Canada's Eskimos never have teeth trouble. Dentists think the explanation is the Eskimo diet of raw meat, plus the chewing of animal hides to soften them for fashioning into clothes.

Letters to the Editor

Vermilion, Alberta,
Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Dec. 18, 1959.

Dear Sir:

It has always been a real pleasure shopping or just driving through Vermilion during Christmas season. The many homes and stores decorated for Christmas are a treat to see. Carol playing from downtown stores has added that intangible quality which is the real spirit of Christmas.

While the use of P.A. systems for the advertising of wares could hardly be justified, some consideration ought to be given to those public-spirited citizens who have spent their own time and money to provide music and inspiration at this season.

To the people of Vermilion I should like to extend a very Merry Christmas, and the sincere hope that we may continue to hear carols on the streets in the future.

Thank you Mr. Editor for your valuable space.

Ralph Wilson.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alberta.

Dear Sir

I would appreciate the use of valuable space in your paper to express an opinion in regards to Mr. Clendenning's letter of Dec. [illegible]. He is to be heartily congratulated for his stand in respect to the use of public address systems in Vermilion.

I am told, in the same issue of your paper, that a Christmas Light-up contest is being sponsored by the Vermilion Board of Trade, the object of it being (and I quote in part.) "to make a brighter Christmas for all." This will be a glittering display to those that can see.

What of the blind? We see through our ears, and get our theme of Christmas by hearing.

One of the greatest pleasures of going along on Christmas shopping tours to Vermilion in the last few years, has been the sound of the beautiful and heart warming carols of Christmas.

In closing, I wish to ask one question. If Christ had been born in Vermilion instead of Bethlehem, would the angels have been asked to confine their music to their own premises, namely heaven?

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion Alberta

Dear Sir

I have just been shown the editorial which appeared recently in the Vermilion Standard in connection with the activities of the Wainwright Chamber of Commerce in regard to transportation services in this area.

The Wainwright Chamber of Commerce hastens to correct an apparent misunderstanding of our activities. The writer of the editorial was apparently under the impression that this Chamber had commenced action directed towards the return of the transcontinental train presently routed through Vermilion back to Wainwright. I would like to take this opportunity to assure you that no such action has been undertaken by the Wainwright Chamber of Commerce.

The Wainwright Chamber of Commerce is however very interested in the transportation facilities serving the town and district and recently a transportation survey was taken from the members of this community. The change of transcontinental service through Wainwright of course precipitated this action, but the action was not directed towards the return of the train service which was transferred to the north line, rather the purpose of our action was to assess the transportation situation in Wainwright in order to determine whether the present facilities are adequate and if not, how they could be improved upon.

An initial consideration of the survey would indicate that as far as the railway services are concerned, about the only recommendation the Wainwright Chamber of Commerce would be prepared to make at this time would be a re-scheduling of the existing local train service.

I trust that this letter will serve to correct the conclusion which was drawn in your editorial and that it will also be accepted as a token of the appreciation which the Wainwright Chamber of Commerce holds for the friendly relationship which exists between the town and district of Wainwright and the town and district of Vermilion.

Yours truly,
John H. MacKenzie, Secty.,

Editor, Vermilion Standard,

Dear Sir:

Through the columns of your paper we would like to express our appreciation to the mayor and members of the town council of Vermilion for their very courteous reception at their meeting on Monday last, and for the fact that they have assured us that they have no objection to the broadcasting of Christmas carols as has been our practice in past years.

Also to the many individuals and groups who supported our stand in this matter, we say a sincere 'thank you'.

Compliments of this glad and happy season to all.

Yours sincerely,

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to the Editor and staff and all our friends and neighbors.

There isn't much news this week, everybody is caught up in the Christmas rush. Little folks eyes are shining bright, and many are expecting loved ones home for the holidays. The school children and teachers have been busy preparing for their concert which will be held on Dec 23 in the afternoon.

Congratulations to the former Florence Isley and her husband on their recent marriage.

Now in this gay festive season let us not forget the true original meaning of Christmas and remember: "It's not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare."

St. Francis Was First To Popularize Custom Of Christmas Carols

St. Francis of Assisi is accredited as having been one of the first to popularize the custom of singing carols at Christmastime. He taught the faithful simple and tuneful melodies, and the saying goes that, overjoyed by the success attending his presentation of the first Christmas Crib in 1223, he burst into joyous vocal recitation of the gospel story.

Hymns in honor of the nativity were written as early as the 4th century, but these monotonous church chants neither properly nor musically ante-date our modern carols. Experimentation with modal and intervallic relationships during the 13th century, together with the folk songs and [illegible] of the times, made definite contributions to the traditions and popularity of Christmas music.

Puritan England forbade public performance of carols; so for a while they traveled "underground" by word of mouth, and "broad sheets," printed annually, served to preserve the texts with a semblance of accuracy.

When the restoration of English royalty voided the Roundhead Parliament's abolition of Christmas festivities, residents of colonial Boston placed lighted candles in their windows to welcome the Waits who, resuming the Old English tradition, went about the city singing carols on Christmas Eve.

"It came upon the midnight clear
That glorious song of old . . .
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing."

It Takes Know-How To Burn a Yule Log

THE YULE LOG is a tradition of Christmas, but due to central heating and gas stoves it is becoming a lost tradition in this country. Few city dwellers have open grates or desire a log fire. And those living in the country find coal more efficient and less trouble.

However, for those who have a place to burn the yule log and want one tradition says it should be oak, ash, olive apple or pine. Further, the fire on which it is placed should be kindled from a brand saved from last year's log, and that it should not be allowed to go out during the night.

For those determined to have the yule log the voice of experience says get hold of all the wood you can. Some kinds burn better than others but reject none these days.

Ash is highly praised by some and can be used without being seasoned. It burns quickly but throws off great heat. Poplar on the other hand should be seasoned or it will spark badly.

Elm is condemned as undesirable but can be used. It is slow to get burning but lasts a long time and brightens up when it gets going. A few logs of birch, pine or fir will help it along.

Beech and oak are among the best logs. Beech is especially good having a pleasant aroma and a steady glow. Oak has the outstanding merit of burning slowly.

If none of these are available wood from all kinds of fruit trees are prime favorites for the yule log because of their pleasant smell when burning.

Miracle Plays Still Held

Among noted traditions observing communities of the world, old time miracle plays are still performed, often in the form of elaborate dances in solemn but lavish settings against the colorful background of tropical foliage.

My Daily Prayer

[illegible]

"This coming year I'd like to be a friend to everyone;
I'd like to feel each day well spent at setting of the sun;
I'd like to know that I have done at least one kindly deed,
Before I lay me down to sleep that I have given heed—
To some one's cry for sympathy, or friendship or that I
Have made the day seem brighter to some chance passer-by,
And that the world is better still in just some little way,
Because I've tried to live the very best I could each day.

"I'd like to be a ray of light when skies are [illegible],
I'd like to help some one who failed to [illegible] all the goal,
To start again [illegible] the storms, and find the skies are blue,
To know that in this good old world there's lots that's fine and true,
I'd like to be the kind of person everyone will love
And make the world seem just a [illegible]
I'd like in all my dealings to be true and just and fair,
What God will help me do these things shall be my daily prayer."

A Christmas Message . . .
Emmanuel — "God With Us"

by REV. C. W. MacKAY.

In the December issue of the MacLeans magazine last year an article was written dealing with the Star of Bethlehem. There have been a number of theories put forth over the years attempting to give a natural explanation for this happening. The latest one is that it might well have been a supernova, a rare exploding star, 10 million times brighter than the sun. They are so rare that astronomy has records of only three that have occured in our galaxy that is the milky way family of stars to which our sun belongs. The first was 1054 recorded by a Chinese astronomer (the next was in 1572 by Tycho Brahe (Danish astronomer.) the third one appeared in 1604. There have been none in our galaxy since 1604.

Not long ago two British astronomers detected intense radio emanations from the Tycho star. According to the announcement of these scientists, "there is no visible object in the neighborhood of the heavens where this star was observed by the old astronomer Tycho Brahe but, new observations show there must be left there something extremely hot. It is a powerful source of radiation." Though the star has been invisible for nearly 400 years the radiation is still reaching the earth.

The Star of Bethlehem may have been a supernova, but whatever the star of Bethlehem may have been, as far as astronomical calculations are concerned, it sent out a message through the skies which is still reaching the earth. And that message is Emmanuel — "God with us". Although the visible image of the star has long since faded, the divine radio impulses are still coming to earth with the message — "God with us."

The God who created this great universe in which we dwell, beyond human mind to comprehend, the God whose secrets are just beginning to uncover, the God who created the little child, is with us.

According to Jewish thought and belief that when God came to visit man His coming would be heralded with great signs and wonders. But God did not enter the world as men thought and planned, but rather in a very quiet and humble manner. As the poet phrased it

"They looked for a king.
To slay their foes and lift them high:
Thou cam'st, a little baby thing.
That made woman cry."

Or as the hymn writer put it
"How silently, how silently,
The wondrous gift is given."

God is with us in our fears. His message is "Fear not for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy." Dr Adler, noted psychiatrist, stated some years ago, "The only known cure for fear is faith." God's message to us is — "Fear not — I am with thee."

God is with us to help us overcome our sins. The Christmas message is — "Thou shalt call His name Jesus for he shall save his people from their sins." "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Some may be struggling with the spiritual sins of pride, envy, jealousy, ill-temper, self centredness, for others the sins may be of a carnal nature such as drunkenness, gluttony, ill-temper; whatever the problem we are to remember — "God is with us."

God is with us to bring joy and peace. The peace and joy he brings does not mean freedom from pain, suffering, loss but rather a peace and joy that remains even amid difficult circumstances.

"Peace does not mean the end of all our striving.
Joy does not mean the drying of our tears,
Peace is the power that comes to souls arriving,
Up to the place where God himself appears."

To our many friends in Vermilion and district the MacKay family send warmest greetings at this blessed season of the year.

Christmas Rose Has Real Significance

Legend tells us that a young shepherd girl was weeping bitterly as she watched the Wise Men on their way to take gifts to the Christ Child.

An angel appeared and after ascertaining why the young girl was crying, she waved her wand, and instantly the ground was carpeted with glittering white Christmas Roses. The young girl quickly gathered these blooms. When she presented her gift, the Christ Child smiled, and as his fingers touched the white flowers the petals became tinged with pink.

This custom originated with the Dutch. They used their wooden shoes instead of stockings.

When the Dutch came to New Amsterdam, the custom came with them—the wooden shoes being gradually replaced by [illegible] the [illegible] in nearly every home had a fireplace the natural place to hang the stockings was near the fireplace.

SANTA CLAUS LAND . . . You'd never convince the youngsters, but this photo shows the real Santa Claus land—Antalya in Southern Turkey, capital of the province where St. Nicholas was born, lived and became a legend 1600 years ago. Snow and reindeer are never seen in this lush land on the shores of the Eastern Mediterranean where swimming on Christmas Day is common.

There are about 135,000 Canadians employed in the primary and secondary textile industries.

Between 1941 and 1951, accompanying Canada's great industrialization, the urban population increased from 58.5 per cent to 62.6 per cent of the total population.

the former begins with the finished or semi-finished fabric supplied by the primary industry, while the latter begins with the finished or semi-finished fabric supplied by the primary industry.

Mr. Walter Wychopen of Calgary is spending the Christmas holidays with his family, the Mike Pawlows.

The card party at Claysmore recently attracted a large turnout and all present enjoyed themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bauer were supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bauer of Mannville on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Merna Williamson and son Dean were visitors at the Harvey Seymour home last week.

There was a large crowd at the annual Christmas concert at Claysmore Friday evening. The draw for the turkey was made and Mrs. Ralph of Minburn was the lucky winner. Proceeds from this turkey draw will go to the Vermilion School for Retarded Children.

The Alberta Wheat Pool elevator will be closed at Claysmore for one week starting Dec. 28 as the agent is taking a week's holiday.

Tigers Drop League Opener To RCAF 8 Goals to 6

Spotting the Cold Lake RCAF team quite a bit of weight per man and about six weeks' conditioning the Tigers dropped the league opener 8 goals to 6 but in so doing they gave plenty of promise of having a team to contend with before the season is much older.

Club president Gerry Swenson and coach Bruce Anderson presented a team featuring several former members of the club such as Stew Barr, Joe Brower, Frankie Ewing (back after a year's absence), Jim Bronson, now living at Mannville, [illegible] from Dewberry, Ken Brown who notched himself two goals, [illegible] of V.S.A. staff, Andy Redford and two players up from the Juveniles, Elmer Leahy and Pete Link. Newcomers are Lorne Scoggins, goalie from Mannville who won quite a reputation for himself in Calgary last winter, Manning, a V.S.A. student from Fairview, the two Lowrie boys from Marwayne, Dave and Murray, all adding considerable strength to the team while Barrett is another [illegible] much at home on the first string. Other players are also on tap and will no doubt appear in the line up from time to time.

The Cold Lake RCAF team beyond condition had very little edge on the locals. The air force boys are a remarkably clean playing bunch and it is hoped that all teams will follow their example.

RCAF SCORES FIRST

The RCAF opened the scoring at [illegible] of the first period when [illegible] shortly after Haugh [illegible] and Bagnall combined to [illegible] this one when [illegible] was doing penance for interference. Prior to this Frankie Ewing was benched for playing for a second with a broken stick. Ken Brown raised the hopes of the locals by scoring on Andy Redford's pass and then Manning evened up the count when he notched local counter number two on a [illegible] shuffle with Dennill and Warner.

Not to be denied three RCAF men swooped in on Scoggins and gave him no chance with Meehen finishing off on passes with Galloway and Murray. Two other penalties were handed out, one to Bagnall of the visitors and Barr of the Tigers.

The period thus ended 3 for the RCAF to 2 for the Tigers.

SANDWICH SESSION

The Cold Lake team has a habit of opening fast after a rest period and scoring before the other team has got into stride. This happened in both the second and third periods. In the second it was only 11 seconds before Meehen had tallied from Galloway and Miller making it 4 to 2. Tigers however came right back and again halved the lead. Ken Brown from Dennill. Bagnall banged in Neigh's pass, then it was Galloway from Miller and the period ended 6-3.

EDGE ON SCORING IN THIRD

The Tigers outscored the visitors 3 goals to 2 in the third but the margin wasn't enough. The air base boys pulled off their fast goal-getting play right at the opening whistle. Galloway from Miller. Stew Barr put the Tigers back into the fight with Bob Warner getting the assist, but Meehen, Miller and Galloway combined again to wind up the RCAF scoring at eight goals. Pen [illegible] notched two more, Dave Lowrie from Dennill and Andy Redford from Dennill, the last goal coming when Vermilion had a man advantage while Bagnall was serving time.

The puck was dropped by Russell Carroll, manager of the league to send the circuit away on the 1959-60 season.

Referees were Bob McKitrick of Cold Lake and Ralph Rudd of Mannville.

Line Up

RCAF — Crawford, Galloway, Neigh, Harrison, Violini, Murray, Meehen, Rowe, Haugh, Bagnall, Phillips, St. Pierre, Murphy, Smith.

TIGERS — Scoggins, Barr, D. Lowrie, Manning, Brower, Leahy, Ewing, Bronson, Dennill, Brown, Warner, M. Lowrie, Barrett, Link, Redford.

Statistics

A crowd of 347 fans paid admission to the game.

The Grim Reaper has been very busy in our neighborhood this year and deep sympathy is extended to all the remaining families of Mr. C. N. Jeffrey, Mr. J. Crews, Mr. Chas. Drysdale and lately Mr. Edward Stone at Burns Lake, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Presley and family are welcomed to our district, having bought and moved onto the C. Drysdale farm. [illegible] and Gail, have gone to live in Lloydminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stoddart, Dianne and Howard, also Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stoney were among those attending the Drysdale funeral from a distance.

T. V. aerials are making their appearance in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jack spent a week end with daughter Beverlie in Edmonton recently. Mrs. Roy Oldenburg was substitute teacher.

In 1958 Canada enjoyed 28.7 per cent of the world trade in wheat, compared to an average of 40 per cent in the years between the two World Wars.

Since 1954 there has been an annual average of 132,000 new dwelling units constructed in Canada and the completion of new homes now is rising more rapidly than the formation of new families.

United Church Board Meets at Dewberry

The official board of the Kitscoty pastoral charge of the United Church of Canada met at Dewberry on Dec. 9th with 21 members present. A budget of $9400 was approved for 1960 for the pastoral charge. Endeavor will be made to secure a student assistant to the minister for the summer months.

The official board decided that no objective be set for M. and M. but that each congregation support the fund to the utmost of their ability. As a result of Sector the 1960 M. and M. pledges should reach about $2400.

Support was pledged to the following benevolences: Christian Education, United Church hostel, Lord's Day Alliance, the Bible Society and Alberta Temperance Forces.

Mr. N. Jones gave a good report on the school for elders which was held in Vermilion on December 2.

The next meeting will be held at Islay on Jan. 27.

In 1958 there were 75,000 new families formed in Canada and 146,686 new housing units completed.

Marwayne Home and School Hears Talk by Prov. Education Adviser

Mr. Zaidi, the new teacher who is taking Miss Ulan's place, was [illegible].

Motion was made and carried to buy a hot plate. The H. & S. will sponsor the Bantam hockey league this year. The teachers were asked to make a list of equipment needed in the school.

Card parties will be held in the school on the first and fourth Fridays during January, February and March. The committee for the January parties will consist of Mrs. Sinclair and Mrs. Hale. Prizes will be given at party and a grand aggregate prize at the end of the season. Mrs. Sinclair will keep the crib scores and Mrs. Hutchinson the whist.

Mr. J. Leavitt, Physical Education adviser for Vermilion division, then addressed the meeting. He said that physical education was as important as any other subject. Phys. Ed. is the development and maintenance of the body to promote soundly functioning organs. Three times as much work is now done in a 40-hour-week as our grandfathers did in a 70-hour-week. Spare time must be rightly used and recreational skills come under this. A question and answer period followed.

Mr. A. Hancock moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Leavitt.

DINE OUT CHRISTMAS and
NEW YEAR'S!

Christmas and New Year's Dinners — with all the trimmings, served all day, December 25th and January 1st.

THE BOSTON CAFE

FLORIDA STYLE . . . Sure, it's Christmas in Florida, too. But white sand must substitute for snow, a sea-grape for an evergreen, but what's the difference when two such expert and lovely decorators are on the scene.

Outdoor Decorations Begun in Small Towns

Today nearly every community in the land has some kind of outdoor Christmas decorations and in nearly every big city you can find two or three spectacular displays.

It was a small town that first came up with the idea of lighting up the outdoors at Christmas time, but no one is quite sure which town gets credit for the idea.

Four communities are believed to have thought of it about the same time, as early as 1913. Two of them, McDonald and Germantown, are in Pennsylvania. Salem, Ore., decorated a Sitka spruce and Riverside, Calif. illuminated a large evergreen, an Araucaria.

The little metal trumpets decorating Christmas trees date from early Danish custom of blowing in the Yule with four hymns representing the four corners of the world.

Medieval Dinner Once Was Popular Custom For Coeds

Eating peas with a knife is contrary to Emily Post and doesn't seem to have much qualification for observance as a Christmas tradition, but for more than 25 years coeds at Pennsylvania State University partook of a fork-less meal each Yule season.

The traditional medieval dinner, complete with everything from costumed lords and ladies to the legendary boar's head, dated back to 1919, finally had to be cancelled when coed ranks swelled to almost 1,000.

The affair, sponsored by the Women's Student Government Association, began with a formal procession through the dining hall. Lord and Lady McAllister—the dinner was held in McAllister Hall—led the throng, which included noble lords and ladies, heralds, a poet, a cardinal, pages, and two jesters bearing the boar's head.

All these girls were appropriately costumed and sat upon a raised dais in the center of the holly bedecked room, which was illuminated by candlelight.

A choir furnished Christmas music, and the poet entertained the guests by reading Old English poetry from a scroll. In accordance with medieval custom, no forks or napkins were allowed, although guests sometimes secreted them in their pockets. The menu consisted of roast pork, mashed potatoes, peas and a very rich plum pudding.

Today's students eat a special Christmas dinner before going home for vacation—but it's served "sissy" style. They're allowed a full complement of table utensils.

The tallest Christmas tree on record was a 212 foot Douglas fir set up in 1950 in Northgate, a suburb of Seattle, Washington. It displayed 3,000 colored lights.

Preventive Dental Health Program Planned for Alberta Children

A preventative dental health program for pre-school and school age children will go into effect in Alberta in 1960. The plan, first of its kind in North America, provides for travelling dental clinics to be attached gradually to the province's 22 health units. Initially the clinics will be organized in areas where the need for dental care is greatest.

The overall program also provides for the training of a new group of health personnel. Commencing with the 1960 fall term, the University of Alberta Faculty of Dentistry will offer a two-year course to train young men and women as Registered Dental Auxiliaries. The course will be open to high school graduates. Upon graduation they will be qualified to assist dentists in preventative dental care programs carried out in the various health units of Alberta.

The Alberta Dental Association is cooperating with the Alberta Department of Public Health and the University of Alberta in the operation of the plan. Members of the association have agreed to spend a two-week period each year at one of the portable clinics in an operative and supervisory capacity.

The practising dentists will undertake all preliminary and major operations at these new dental clinics, including examination of children, treatment and care analysis, extractions and preparation of a tooth cavity for filling. The dental auxiliaries will perform such duties as recording dental needs, insertion of filler material in cavities, cleaning teeth, application of dental fluorides and general dental health education.

Arrangements are presently being made to have students in their third and final years of study at the Faculty of Dentistry, University of Alberta assist dentists in the program until graduates of the new two-year course fill all positions.

The portable clinics of up to four dental [illegible] will be moved from community to community within a health unit. The preventative and educational program will [illegible] children between the ages of three years and [illegible] twelve years. It is [illegible] [illegible] the facilities and services of the dental [illegible] [illegible] week [illegible]. A charge [illegible] to the patient would be made for [illegible] services.

Plans Made for Heavy Holiday Travel by Greyhound Lines

With Christmas Day falling on Friday and Boxing Day on Saturday, extremely heavy holiday travel is already being arranged by Greyhound Lines.

No finer Christmas gift could be imagined than the act of presenting yourself at the old family home or your closest relatives for this festive occasion, suggests Norman Williams, District Superintendent of Greyhound Lines, and the extra long week end will make it possible for travelling longer distances for such a Christmas visit than has been possible for several years.

"To get the most of Christmas at home, it is important to arrive relaxed and full of energy for the occasion — and above all safely. The comfort and convenience of Greyhound travel not only eliminates the driving strain, but also relieves the anxiety of those who are expecting you."

Extra sections will be available as needed, reports Mr. Williams, and with Greyhound's special Christmas rates for students and teachers as well as the general public — preparations are being made to handle a record volume of traffic this year.

Suggestions for insuring a care-free holiday journey home and return, as made by Mr. Williams are simple.

1. Make inquiries at your local Greyhound depot or office now, for schedules of service to your destination.
2. Ask about special rates for families and groups.
3. Plan to get your ticket early to avoid having to wait in line.
4. Let our Greyhound driver, whose safety record is rated at "16 times safer" than private car drivers — be your chauffeur.

Make this a happy Christmas — travel relaxed — arrive safely, and "leave the driving to us" concludes Mr. Williams.

WILDMERE WINKS

The stores and business places in town are all so prettily decorated for this gay festive season, and by the size of crowds everyone must be getting their shopping done early.

Little Denise Fretsen had a very painful accident last week when playing in an old car with her brothers. She got her finger crushed and it was thought that she might lose it but quick action on the part of her parents and the skill of the doctor saved it.

The community Christmas concert was well attended and some very good local talent was enjoyed. The event was complete with a well-laden Christmas tree and a visit from Santa. Thanks are extended to the W. I. who sponsor this every year and supply the treats.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith returned home Tuesday morning reporting an enjoyable holiday.

Mrs. Frank Gibson and Isabelle enjoyed Saturday in Edmonton visiting Mary and doing some shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Bathe and family of Lloydminster visited the former's sister Mrs. Waldon Westman and family on Sunday.

Betty Smith spent her days off at home in Wildmere with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert [illegible].

The monthly meeting of the Preston Home and School was held on Monday. The first lesson of the study on "Your Child at School" was taken and a film shown. It proved so very interesting and there are six of the lessons. Following the meeting, candy bags were packed for the forthcoming [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. David Dibben and family visited last week end at the home of the latter's parents at Red Deer.

Mrs. W. T. Garnett spent a day in Edmonton last week.

Mrs. Clark Sr. has gone to Drayton Valley to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. Lu Mudlock.

The party of hunters returned and the deer meat was delicious!

There will be a New Year's Eve dance at Basswood community centre. Come one and all, see the old year out and all bachelors are advised to be on their guard as next year is Leap year.

Ex-Vermilion Couple Renew Friendships

OKANAGAN FALLS — Mr and Mrs Robert Hall, nee Marina Capstan, former well-known Vermilion girl, motored to the coast recently where they attended the christening of Karen Josephine, infant daughter of Mr and Mrs. D. Truscott of Deep Cove. The ceremony took place in the small Anglican church of Deep Cove on Sunday Nov. 2nd and Mr. and Mrs. Hall were named godparents.

A christening is always a happy and interesting event and behind this one lies an interesting story of friendships made and kept. Mr and Mrs. Hall met the parents of Karen Josephine on the boat while travelling to Australia. Mr and Mrs. Truscott's marriage was a culmination of the journey as they were married after their arrival in Australia and the two couples shared living quarters in Sydney, Australia, for four months last year.

Mr and Mrs. Truscott returned to England where their baby was born, later coming to Canada and Deep Cove where they are now making their home. Mr and Mrs. Hall hadn't seen their friends since last January in Australia until they attended the christening at Deep Cove.

Alberta Will Assist In Freight Costs For Moving Feed

Farmers in east central Alberta who are in need of hay or roughage for livestock may benefit from the freight assistance policy recently announced by Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Agriculture. The policy provides for the payment of freight or part of the costs in trucking fodder to farmers who reside in Townships 32 to 58 inclusive and from [illegible] 1 to the west side of Range 12.

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner for the Alberta Department of Agriculture explained that this area has had low crop yields in the two previous years and in 1959 another light crop was snowed under in early October. There is little carry-over of feed in the district and it has been difficult or impossible for farmers to salvage feed from the current crop. The freight assistance policy is designed to enable these farmers to maintain their livestock herds. It does not however apply to farmers who may be purchasing stock for feeding purposes.

Details of the operation of the policy have been mailed to each municipal office in the area and to offices of the district agriculturists. Farmers who wish to apply for the freight [illegible] should do so at their [illegible] office. The Department [illegible] culture is receiving listings of hay for sale and is providing this information weekly to municipal offices concerned. It is suggested that farmers who wish to purchase feed contact the seller direct and make their buying arrangements. If hay is needed, farmers are advised to arrange now for their requirements lest winter conditions hinder the movement of hay at a later date.

Man ought to be mighty good to women. For nature gave them the big end of the log to lift, and mighty little strength to do it with.

Like the Wise Men of old, may you find treasures of the heart and the spirit this Noel!

Local Girl Leaves To Live Among Primitive People

Miss Betty Little

Miss Betty Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Little of Vermilion, left by plane from Edmonton on Dec 28 to go to Netherlands, New Guinea. There she plans to take up her life work as a missionary, under the auspices of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, among the most primitive tribes of people in the world.

Netherlands, New Guinea, is the second largest island in the world (not counting Australia), situated approximately 100 miles north of Australia. Because of isolation due to its position, the [illegible] until as late as 1936. It was even by-passed during the second world war activities in the South Pacific. Three years ago some missionaries of the Christian Missionary Alliance landed on the shores of the island, but were repulsed by the natives. On a second try shortly after, they were able to establish friendly relations with the people. In response to Gospel teaching, the natives overcame their hostile attitude and were persuaded to some extent, to give up their cannibalistic [illegible]. Before the advent of the missionaries it was customary for the tribes to practise cannibalism on the prisoners taken in tribal warfare, and it was in spite against their enemies that they seized and ate members of other tribes. Although considering human life as having little or no value, these people are fond of pigs, and regard the animals as very important.

[illegible] practised because of a lack of other food stuffs. The vegetation of the island is [illegible] luxuriant, as a result of a moderate climate and regular rainfall the year around. The temperature is not hot for that latitude [illegible] mountainous nature of the land, with an altitude of as much as 7000 feet above sea level. Rain [illegible] throughout the year, with no dry seasons as such. Indeed, there [illegible] there in Canada, since the weather is the same all the year round, with an overnight low of about 40 degrees above and a high in the daytime of from 60 to 70 degrees. It is a beautiful [illegible].

Miss Little has [illegible] considerable education and preparation for her unusual assignment. She went to public and high school here in Vermilion. After graduation from high school she worked for a year in the local telephone office, following which she enrolled in the Canadian Bible College in Regina where she was a student for four years.

Her first assignment as a missionary was at the west coast. She spent one summer with the Pacific Coast Children's Mission, and during that time was with the boat mission travelling up and down the B.C. coast. In the fall she went to Kentucky where she was with the Beef Hide Gospel Mission, a local mission for Kentucky people under auspices of the Christian Missionary Alliance. She remained in Kentucky for one and a half years.

This past summer Miss Little attended the Toronto Institute of Linguistics for one month, and then spent a few months in the office of the headquarters of the Christian Missionary Alliance in New York. She had applied for a posting in foreign fields and when the Netherlands, New Guinea station needed another missionary she was offered the appointment. Her work will be as a teacher of scripture. At present there are eight staff members with an opening for [illegible] at that station. Miss Little will have a term of service extending through the next four years, after which she will be given a year's home leave. She plans to return to Netherlands, New [illegible] which will be for five years. Her headquarters will be in the Baga Valley.

Miss Little is looking forward [illegible] to her unusual career of service [illegible] possibly remember or foresee all her clothing and household needs in a remote land where the supply boat only calls once each six months.

Canadian Utilities Buy Canadian Gas Turbine

For Vermilion Plant; Will Increase Capacity to Over 39,000 Kilowatts At A Cost of $2,250,000.

Canadian Utilities, Limited, who in 1954 installed Canada's first gas turbine generator, in their Vermilion plant, has completed arrangements for the purchase of yet another, larger gas turbine — the first to be completely built in Canada.

Company officials said the new 40,000 kilowatt power producing gas turbine will replace the smaller unit now in service at Vermilion and will go into operation by late 1961. It will provide additional power for the Company's [illegible]. The turbine - generator will be designed for remote control operation, and will burn either gas or oil as a fuel.

Cost of the new unit, including plant extensions, will be over $2,250,000. Contract for the turbine was placed with Canadian Westinghouse Company. Under the contract, Westinghouse will engineer and manufacture the complete unit in its plant at Hamilton, Ont. It will weigh 215 tons and a 76 ton generator stator will be the heaviest single component [illegible].

Meantime, the present 8000 kilowatt turbine at Vermilion, will be shipped to the Canadian Utilities Sturgeon generating station near Valleyview, to strengthen power capacity in the Grande Prairie district.

When the changes are completed the Vermilion plant will have a rated capacity of 39,000 kilowatts at peak load conditions.

Neilburg To Play Tigers Here Jan. 6

The next local E. A. H. L. action in Vermilion is scheduled for Wednesday next week when Neilburg make their initial appearance of the season on Vermilion ice. Whenever Neilburg appeared here last season there was always plenty of action and [illegible].

All of the Tigers' games have been close this season and they turned back Bonnyville Hornets 6 to 5 on Bonnyville ice last Wednesday evening.

TIGERS WIN AT BONNYVILLE

Vermilion Tigers turned in their first victory of the season at Bonnyville last Wednesday evening when they clicked for a 6-5 victory. The Tigers claim this is just one of many wins they expect throughout the winter. Their showing has been very good so far, losing games by no more than two goals.

Tigers Score 5 Goals In Seven Minutes

Playing at St. Paul last Sunday afternoon the [illegible] Tigers scored five goals in the last 7 minutes of the game but lost the decision as they were trailing 6 to 0 when they staged their delayed spurt. The final score read St. Paul 6, Tigers 5.

Clendenning's To Present Stetsons For "Hat Trick"

The Standard has been advised that Clendenning's Family Wear will again present a "Stetson" hat to any player of the Vermilion Tigers hockey club who scores 5 points in any game, league or play-off, in the north eastern Alberta hockey league. A shut-out will entitle the goalie to a similar award. Such award to be won only once by any player during the season.

Good luck and good scoring is Mr. Clendenning's wish to every Tiger for the coming new year.

Alberta Farm Aid Passed By Ottawa

The federal government has accepted Alberta's farm relief proposal, Agriculture Minister L. C. Halmrast said Monday.

He said he received a telephone call from federal Agriculture Minister Harkness saying Ottawa is prepared to share the cost of relief payments to farmers on the basis proposed by the province.

Under the scheme Alberta farmers who have harvested 30 per cent or less of their grain crops would be entitled to payments up to $3 per acre to a maximum of $600 per farmer. Alberta is the third province to take advantage of the cost-sharing relief plan proposed originally by Ottawa. Saskatchewan and Manitoba adopted the federal scheme earlier and submitted formulas for payment.

Mr Halmrast said his department will have application forms printed as soon as possible and distributed to municipal offices. Farmers who want to take advantage of the relief payments must apply to municipal offices.

Under the plan a farmer who qualifies will receive $3 per acre if he has harvested five bushels or less per seeded acre and $[illegible] per acre if his harvest is between 10 [illegible] bushels. To be eligible [illegible] must be less than 30 per cent.

Mr Halmrast said municipalities will have to be responsible for inspecting crop loss claims. Under Alberta's original proposal municipal secretaries would turn claims over to Prairie Farm Assistance Act inspectors for checking.

However Mr [illegible] Monday there are not enough PFAA inspectors to handle the job. Municipalities will have to hire inspectors and Ottawa will pay part of the cost of inspections said Mr Halmrast.

Farewell to the Frantic Fifties

When Historians assess the 1950's — a decade of discovery that produced the hydrogen bomb, the hula hoop and a whole new galaxy of sputniks — they should have no trouble settling on a name to typify the times.

If the 90's were gay, the 20's were roaring and the 40's were fighting, the word for the 50's was frantic. It was as it has been called, an age of anxiety. Living under a mushroom shaped cloud, kept on edge by Korea, Suez, the Hugarian uprising and the cold war, man couldn't help wondering if this decade would really last as decades should — for ten years. Besides the tension of international [illegible] there was the everyday stress of modern living — of battling through blaring traffic, climbing the job ladder and striving for a ranch style mortgage in suburbia. Cardiac cases increased 23 per cent and thousands of [illegible] took their troubles to the psychiatrist's couch.

It was in short a nervous, confused period in history. Even now at first glance backward it appears as a crazy mixed-up montage of faces and places, events and headlines of so many things, both tremendous and trivial that were part of life in the 50's.

The above extract is taken from a much longer and exceptionally interesting article which appeared in the Toronto Star Weekly.

Car Insurance

Canadian car owners can expect little change in their auto insurance premiums when they renew policies in 1960, advises The Financial Post.

Many auto-insurers, however plan to introduce a new accident-free rating category which will result in some premium reduction for drivers who qualify.

Insurance companies are also considering initiating discounts for the smaller car models which have proved to be less costly to repair.

STILL GABBIEST

Canadians are still the "gabbiest" people on earth reports The Financial Post.

For the seventh consecutive year Canada has retained the world's talking crown with an average of 511 telephone conversations per person, according to The World's Telephones, an annual compilation released by Bell Telephone Co. of Canada.

Place and show in the world talkfest are held by Iceland and the U. S. with [illegible] and 372 calls per person respectively.

While Canadians are the most talkative people we rank third in number of telephones per capita. Highest ratio is in the U. S. with 38 phones per 100 population followed by Sweden.

GREEN ACRES

District Agriculturist, and EDWARD DOBKO, Assistant D.A.

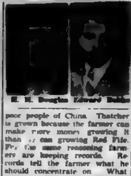
ANOTHER NEW YEAR

Ours, a next year country!

Announcements were made the other day about a new selective herbicide for 1960 which will control wild oats, long the problem of the grain farmer. A few days earlier the Federal Department of Agriculture announced the release of new wheat varieties "Pembina" and "Canthatch" which promise new rust resistance and consequently greater yields. During 1959 new breeds of livestock were distributed more widely and artificial insemination came into greater use. Each succeeding year thus brings new developments but only a beginning has been made. The weather (what havoc it played with us in 1959) still defies control. The markets for farm produce don't remain the same old problem but become more complicated every day. Millions of hungry mouths remain unfed but they cannot eat our production because of the price tag. The individual cannot solve this one. It must be solved by increasing production of the hands that want to feed the mouths.

Should the individual do anything about the cost of production? Will not more efficient production well increase our problems and reduce the prices. If everyone became as efficient as they could there would be a tremendous increase in production. They won't! Farmers do not grow Thatcher wheat in preference to Red Fife for the poor people of China. Thatcher is grown because the farmer can make more money growing it than he can growing Red Fife. For the same reasoning farmers are keeping records. Records tell the farmer what he should concentrate on. Whatever happens in 1960 a certainty will be an upswing in record-keeping by the people who want to farm. Contrary to what is often said there are people who really want to farm above all else. These are the people, the people who know what they want. The Extension Service is anxious and willing to help whether it is bookkeeping, introduction of new varieties, new stock or chemicals.



H. M. Douglas Edward Dobko

Only a beginning has been made on this vast complex of farm problems but wherever or whenever one arises your district agriculturist is willing to discuss it with you in strictest confidence and lend a helping hand if he can.

Wishing one and all season's greetings and a less troublesome and more prosperous 1960!

A guest at the home of Mr and Mrs Bert Wells for the week prior to Christmas was the former's brother Mr Hartford Wells of the Lethbridge district.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the ones responsible for putting on the wedding shower at Thorncliffe on Dec. 15, also to thank our friends who were present. A sincere 'thank you' for your gifts. Due to a misunderstanding of time and location, we are sorry we were not present.

TOLLAND TOPICS

Miss Susan Wolters arrived home safely Sunday night, to spend Christmas holidays with her family after a delay of three hours in train schedule caused by a derailment at White River Ont. Saturday morning. Three cars left the track due to an open switch but fortunately no one was hurt. Susan reports seeing lots of snowdrifts in Manitoba and part of Saskatchewan and colder weather in Manitoba and Ontario than elsewhere across Canada, so we in Alberta are fortunate indeed.

Mr and Mrs. George Gow are back from their honeymoon. Welcome to the district Pam!

Friends of Rev and Mrs. Chas. A. MacDonald will be pleased to hear of the birth of a daughter, Margaret Jean on Oct. 11. A little sister for Ian.

There was a good turnout to hear Mr F. S. Slocum give his report of the F.U.A. [illegible] Tuesday last. Several members were welcomed from another district.

Here's wishing all our readers a Very Merry Christmas and a safe journey throughout 1960.

Church service will be held on Sunday Jan. 3 at 11 a.m. at Tolland.

Island Hill News

Your correspondent, husband and family express cordial Christmas wishes to our Editor, staff and readers everywhere.

The Christmas concert held by the Princess Anne W. I. was well attended with a packed school. Santa was a jolly old fellow and really handed out the gifts. The kiddies all did their parts very well. This really does seem to be a worthwhile project.

Joyce, Jim and Lori Marlborough were at home at the Armstrong home on Sunday.

It is so nice to hear the Christmas carols from Clendenning's store again. What would Christmas be without song? We are so secure in the happy feeling and joyous release that comes to us when we hear them and sing them, that even thinking of a Christmas without carols would be incredible. Other countries must share this emotion too since they have such a wealth of Christmas music.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

ANOTHER YEAR [illegible]

It seems only the other day that the writer prepared his first article for Seedtime and Harvest. Yet 14 years have passed. These have been 14 years of great change, perhaps the greatest has been the tremendous growth of science.

One of the most remarkable changes of the past 14 years in the field of agricultural science has been the development of new and potent chemicals for controlling pests and diseases of plants and animals and for destroying weeds. And only a beginning has been made. One chemical company has just announced that it is seeking registration of a selective herbicide for the control of wild oats which it plans to market in Western Canada in 1960.

The recent release of the two new wheat varieties, Pembina and Canthatch, which were developed to strengthen the defences of prairie farmers against rust, is another indication of the valuable contributions of agricultural research. We must not, however, deceive ourselves into thinking that these and other technical advances will make the farmer's life simply a "heaven-on-earth." No, there are still problems to be solved. The weather, for instance, still defies control. One thing is certain, however, in the years ahead, the profitable production of grain crops in Western Canada will require the ready acceptance by farmers of the new ideas which Canadian agricultural scientists are continually producing.

As this year ends, the problem of feeding the world's increasing millions remains unsolved. This emphasizes the urgency of increasing rather than decreasing agricultural production. Solution of the [illegible] necessitates (1) the [illegible] of the findings of research and (2) maintaining soil fertility. In the Prairie Provinces, therefore, let us continue in 1960 to do everything possible to conserve our soils and to increase their productiveness.

On behalf of the Line Elevator Companies, our sponsors, we extend to all our readers "Greetings of the Season." For the Coming Year we wish you the Peace, the Hope, and the Joy that Christmas [illegible].

SLIP COVERS

Now that the holiday season will soon be over, homemakers will once more have time for a few "do it yourself" projects. A sewing project which you might undertake is the making of slip covers. This is wise economy only when the furniture is of good construction. It could happen that you have a piece of furniture which you are not using due to worn upholstery, or top covering which does not blend into your present color scheme.

CHOICE OF FABRIC

Choose fabrics of suitable weight and strength to withstand hard wear. Fabrics should not be so heavy that they will be clumsy to tailor or handle when putting on or removing from furniture. All fabrics should be pre-shrunk before slip covers are made if the covers are to be [illegible].

Good quality [illegible] is a wise choice as it [illegible] comes in a wide variety of colors and textures, is [illegible] and easy to care for. Look for textured cottons, [illegible], cretonne or sailcloth.

PLAIN OR PATTERNED

By using a variety of plain and patterned materials in room decoration, a pleasing effect is obtained. Too much design in patterned walls, floor coverings, draperies and furniture makes an unattractive room. It gives the same impression as clutter. Just as undesirable is too much plain color. Pattern somewhere in the room can create a focal point of interest.

FIT IMPORTANT

For best appearance, slip covers should be made to fit smoothly. They should be snug enough to hold their place but not so tight that they pull out at the seams. Neat secure stitching in suitable color and weight is essential for good appearance and durability.

CARE

Best wear follows proper care. If washing at home, a short preliminary soaking period is advised. Wash for five minutes in mild suds. Rinse well and protect by drying in the shade.

Derwent Elks Have Treats for Kiddies

DERWENT — On Dec. 19th the B. P. O. E. in Derwent sponsored a "Kiddies Christmas Treats" party at the town hall.

The celebration started in the afternoon with a free show of cartoons and wild animal life, which were greatly enjoyed by the children. About 200 children received treats from Santa Claus.

WILDMERE WINKS

1959 will soon be over and may the new year 1960 bring everyone happiness they never knew before, with good health and fortune.

December 22nd saw the Thorncliffe students and teacher, Mrs. Bob Lamport, stage a very nice concert. There aren't so many children there but nevertheless they knew all their parts well and Santa found a well-laden tree to climax an enjoyable evening.

The concert at Preston was held Dec. 23. There are so many little ones, and children in the middle grades all the same size that the stage was really [illegible] when they all gathered to [illegible]. The plays, drills, songs and the nativity scene put on by the three rooms showed many hours of patient planning and practising. Santa also paid a visit and distributed many parcels and treats. A lunch was served, supplied by the ladies of surrounding districts.

December 24th saw many of the store shelves in town getting bare while everyone finished off their last minute shopping. The carols broadcast from Clendenning's store certainly gave one a lift while hurrying around.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Mrs. Dick Donily who was grieved by the death of her grandfather. The whole family left for Calgary Dec. 20 to attend the funeral and stayed with relatives until after Christmas.

Mr and Mrs Waldon Westman and family spent Christmas at Fort Saskatchewan with the former's brother, Mr and Mrs. Bill Westman and family. They report the highway in a very treacherous condition due to the freezing rain.

Noticed around: Several varsity students looking happy to be home for the holiday break, so many new diamonds that we'll be needing sunglasses, eh Bertie, soon the wedding bells will be ringing. Maybe the Leap year coming up won't see so many eligible bachelors after all.

Don't forget the New Year's eve dance at Boxwood community centre. Everyone welcome.

Happy New Year to everybody!

Mrs J R Forsyth of Edmonton is spending the holidays with her son and family.

H. J. Payne Has Ancient Coins

Another very interesting collection of really ancient coins has come to light in Vermilion belonging to H. J. Payne. Included in his collection are French, German, Italian or Roman, English and Indian coins, besides some American money dating back close to the Declaration of Independence. The oldest of the 51 coins is a German one dated 1602.

Mr. Payne also has an old assessment notice on a lot in Vermilion, sent out in 1911. Assessed value of the lot was $200.00. The notice was signed by town secretary C. V. Cheser as assessor, and was printed at the office of the Vermilion Standard.

Miss Anne Shaw was special guest speaker at the Sunday evening service in the Alliance Chapel, Vermilion, Dec. 27. Miss Shaw leaves within two weeks for her second term of missionary service in Peru, S.A. with the Wycliffe Bible Translators Inc. After speaking she showed the film "Unsheathed", depicting the work of her mission amongst the Indian tribes in Guatemala.

A male quartette presented two numbers during the service "The Blood Will Never Lose its Power" and "Hidden Peace". The quartette comprised of Albert Mix, Rev. J. M. Schroeder, Ben Francisco and Gordon Thiessen, who was visiting here from Kindersley, Sask. was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Schroeder.

Rotarians Enjoy Annual Christmas Party At Rio Cafe

Last Friday, President Ross Beake presided at a meeting and Christmas party of the Vermilion Rotary club. An important feature of the program was the singing of Christmas carols. Two talented song leaders, Dr. Ben King and Gus Mirreault, kept the club members moving from [illegible] to another. Three visiting Rotarians from Lloydminster by names of [illegible], Emerson Luther and Russ Robertson, sang one of our most popular carols with great gusto.

Dr. Ben King read a letter received from Jesse W. Hughes of Kelowna, B.C. Mr. Hughes thanked the club for distributing thirty dozen 'glads' for him to hospital cases and shut-ins in Vermilion. Mr. Hughes said in his letter that he had shipped 115,000 blooms last August to 30 Rotary clubs and hospitals in Alberta and B.C. It is a tremendous undertaking and every one is grateful to Mr. Hughes, the benefactor, for his wonderful gesture.

Dr. Ben King reported on the large number of books donated by Rotarians to the municipal hospital library. It appears that this useful project is very popular with the patients.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 30 when university students from Vermilion and district will be entertained by the Rotary club. Would all university students home for the holidays please consider this announcement as an invitation to attend.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

J. Percy Page Popular Choice For Lieut.-Governor of Alberta

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Back in 1914, J. (for John) Percy Page was approached by a group of high school girls and asked to coach their basketball team.

"I'll try it," he replied, and the rest is history. His Edmonton Grads won every world basketball championship they could lay their hands on, kept Percy Page on the world's sport pages for 25 years and disbanded in 1940 when they ran out of opposition.

Last week white haired, 72-year old Percy Page was trying something new again and hoping to make just a big a success of it.

The Conservative government in Ottawa rewarded him for years of persistent Tory service in a Social Credit province by making him the lieutenant governor of Alberta, succeeding the late Hon. Dr. John J. Bowlen.

Mr. Page's appointment was announced from Ottawa a few hours after the impressive state funeral was held for Dr. Bowlen. Then on Monday he was sworn in by Chief Justice Clinton J. Ford of the Supreme Court, and minutes later was affixing his vice-regal signature to his first batch of orders-in-council.

Born May 14, 1887 at Rochester, N. Y., of Canadian parents, Mr. Page came to Canada at the age of three. He was raised at Bronte, Ont., attended Oakville Junior High School and Hamilton Collegiate Institute.

He subsequently graduated from Ontario Normal College with commercial specialist standing, Queen's University and the American Institute of Business. He came to Edmonton in 1912 to introduce commercial training in the city's high school system.

Mr. Page later became a school principal in Edmonton and remained one until he retired in 1952. But his chief aim was in the world of sports, and as a basketball coach he chalked up a record which has never been equalled. His Grads played 522 games and won 502 of them. In the course of their winning streak they travelled more than 125,000 miles. They won unofficial championships at four Olympic games.

ACTIVE POLITICAL CAREER

The new governor has also led an active political life. He was first elected to the Alberta Legislature in 1940 as an Independent, was re-elected in 1944 and sat as leader of the Opposition.

He was defeated when he ran for re-election in 1948, but in 1952 he ran as a Progressive-Conservative and was back in the Legislature. He was elected again in the 1955 general election, ran again in June of this year but was defeated by a Social Crediter in Jasper West riding.

In his new vice-regal office, Mr. Page will bring a quiet dignity. Although in Opposition to the government during all his years in the Legislature, he was the perfect gentleman at all times, seldom took part in the often vicious sniping which frequently goes on in the House. In fact, if there was any criticism of him during his time in the Legislature it arose from the belief that he didn't attack the government strongly enough.

Mr. Page is a rock-ribbed teetotaller and a non-smoker. During his last term in the Legislature he sat on the special committee which reviewed the province's liquor laws. Needless to say, he was one of the committee members who [illegible] no changes in the liquor laws. Later, he fought against liberalizing of the laws when the majority of House members decided it was time for a change.

Last week's swearing-in ceremony was brief and simple. It was held in the lieutenant-governor's mahogany-panelled office on the third floor of the Legislative Building.

Mr. Page, dressed conservatively as usual in a dark blue business suit, repeated the oath of office and the oath of allegiance to the Queen. Premier Manning and members of his cabinet witnessed the ceremony.

Later the same day the new governor and the premier decided there will be no New Year's Day levee in the Legislative Building this year, as a mark of respect for the late Dr. Bowlen. The traditional levee is held to give the public a chance to exchange greetings with the monarch's personal representative.

The new governor's first official duty will be to read the Speech from the Throne and open the first session of the 14th Alberta Legislature on Feb. 11th.

Meanwhile, he's turning up at his office around 9 a.m. to handle routine business and carry out the scores of duties as the ceremonial head of the government in Alberta.

Unique Greetings Pour Into Beam Station Here

Most unique greetings received over the Christmas and New Year season are those sent to the staff of the Dept. of Transport radio beam station at Vermilion. The greetings are sent in the form of yuletide scenes, some on religious topics and other Xmas scenes. The work undertaken takes considerable time to transmit and when completed is certainly attractive and artistic. Longest time this year was one sent by the R. C. A. F. beam station at Penhold which required 51 minutes. The longest lineal message [illegible] six feet and came from the Calgary air force office. The most northerly one was from Fort Resolution and was really beautifully done, while Cyprus was the most distant one received.

Tax Collections at High Level Despite Bad Season

Vermilion River M. D. Approve 8 Applications Under the Farm Purchase Board

At an early point in the meeting of the council of the M. D. Vermilion River No. 71 held on [illegible] the financial position of the municipality was discussed. It was reported to the council that up to the end of November 1959, collections on account of taxation amounted to some 86% of the amount of the current levy. It was felt by the council, that in view of the very unusual fall that had been experienced and the poor harvesting conditions which exist, that this was a remarkable accomplishment and an encouraging sign of the responsibility felt by the ratepayers to supply [illegible] services despite adverse conditions.

A brief report was given to the council by the Reeve, J. H. Kelly of his attendance at a meeting of the Municipal Financing Corporation in Edmonton on December 7th. It was reported that hospitals and schools were represented at the meeting for the first time and that 203 shares had been made available to schools, of which 63 had been taken. The estimates for 1960 for the various municipalities were revealed and showed that of the 43.1 million which represented the total estimates of all municipalities the cities of Edmonton and Calgary would require approximately 25½ million and that this figure did not include the schools in those municipalities.

APPROVE FARM PURCHASE APPLICATIONS

The applications which had been approved by the Vermilion River Farm Purchase Board to date were reviewed by the council and their approval was given to 8 applications which had been previously passed by the Board, bringing the total to date dealt with by the Vermilion River Farm Purchase Board to 15. A motion was carried which instructed that application for grant be made under the Farm Purchase Credit Act to the Department of Agriculture for the sum of $50.00 grant for each application to date to cover the cost of the operations of the board.

Provincial Planning Advisory Board order No 187 59 dealing with the proposed subdivision of part NW 33-53-5 with Raft Lake and the proposal to establish a summer camp comprising 16.6 acres on the shores of said Raft Lake recommended by the M. D. of Vermilion River No 71 was made available to the council.

CULVERTS

A motion was carried to the effect that any culvert orders placed subsequent to the date of the meeting concerning 1960 requirements be placed with the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and instructions were given to inform the culvert suppliers of this decision.

GUARD RAILS RELIC OF HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS

The matter of guard rails at crossings was discussed at some length by the council and a consensus of opinion was to the effect that these guard rails were a relic of the days when horse traffic was prevalent and that they served very little useful purpose in guarding crossings considering modern methods of transportation. Indeed it was felt by the council that a hazard was presented to some extent in their being in existence along the sides of the roads leading to level crossings as visibility was impaired to some extent by these structures. Instructions were given to inform the railways operating within the M. D. of the council's feelings in this matter.

L. E. WATT APPOINTED RETURNING OFFICER

Appointment of returning officer for the coming year, deputy returning officers, enumerators and appointing places for holding polls occupied the attention of the council during this meeting. As elections could be required in divisions two, four and seven during 1960, these duties had to be performed by council at this meeting. Laurence E. Watt was appointed returning officer for the M. D. of Vermilion River No. 71 and the deputy returning officers and enumerators for division two were as follows: K. Marklund, S. Allen, W. Davidson, R. Drysdale, M. Hansen and T. Sheppard; for division four: W. Shaw, J. L. Armstrong, P. McCambridge, T. Sheppard, J. Elliot, Mrs. C. Davis; for division seven: R. E. Stanley, F. Dembicki, Keith Brett and R. Gray. These appointments were made subject to the consent of the persons involved and should it become necessary to replace any of those so nominated for any reason that matter would have to be taken care of at some subsequent meeting of the council.

NOMINATIONS FOR DIVISIONS 2, 4, 7 on FEB. 26th

The date and place of the nominations meeting for 1960 was set by council as being Feb. 26 and the place the Kitscoty high school auditorium. The annual meeting for the discussion of municipal affairs was set for the same place on the same date to commence at 1 p.m.

COMMUNITY PASTURES

A letter received from G. R. Sterling, chairman of the Lands and Forests Conservation and Utilization Committee, concerning the establishment of community pastures was presented to the council. Due to the difficulty in putting the policy of the committee down on paper it was suggested by the writer that a visit be made to the council to discuss this matter with them. Instructions were given to arrange such a visit.

Communication was received from the Provincial Secretary concerning Part Two of the proposed 1960 Five-Year program designed to assist communities in acquiring recreational facilities. The plan concerned the Municipality insofar as the following quotation applies: "Hamlets in Municipal Districts or Counties will send their recommendations through the Municipal or County Councils to the Provincial Secretary. Here again a member of the Legislative Assembly will be expected to bring the plan before the people for consideration."

A report of an address given by W. H. T. Mead to a group interested in R. O. P. in beef cattle in the basement of the municipal office in Kitscoty on Nov 25, 1959, was made available to the council.

A brief report of the regional conference of the Agricultural Service Board held in Two Hills on December 1, 1959, was given to the council by Councillor Anderson. It was reported that the conference dealt extensively with the problem of duck damage in this part of the province and that some examples were cited to show the extent of the depredations in this area. From these reports it was evident that the damage was much more serious than anything heretofore experienced. Brucellosis programs, grass seeding both for agricultural purposes as a roadside treatment were discussed as was the spraying of roadsides for both weeds and brush. The delegates who attended from the council, namely councillors Anderson, Stone and Wheat, and the Field Supervisor for the Vermilion River M. D. felt that on the whole the conference had proven very successful and beneficial and it was hoped that further opportunity would be provided to attend such conferences in the future.

The monthly report of the Municipal Gas Inspector and the Public Works Supervisor were accepted by the council.

Communication received from the Department of Highways concerning a request made by the M. D. to replace the stop signs used on entering highway 45 from municipal roads at the north and south ends of the highway north of Marwayne was made available to the council. The feeling of the Department was that it would be unwise to replace these stop signs with "Yield Right of Way" signs particularly at this location.

JUBILEE HOME REPORT

Mrs. Hill, the matron of the Jubilee Home at Lloydminster, Saskatchewan, attended the council meeting and brought in a brief report of the activities of the home to the council. Mrs. Hill reported that 46 people were at present residing in the home and this was considered a maximum for the accommodation at hand. The average age of the residents was 81.6 years. The services which are rendered to those in residence at the home were outlined by Mrs. Hill and the therapy required for the aged as it is contemplated by an institution such as the Jubilee Home requires a great deal of

Health Unit Notes

FOR YOUR PROTECTION AGAINST FRAUD

Inspectors of the Food and Drug Directorate of the Department of National Health and Welfare are always looking for foods, drugs and cosmetics that may endanger health or that may be fraudulent because of the way they are manufactured, packaged or advertised. In their quest to keep a close watch on food and drug manufacturing and processing plants as well as on wholesale and retail establishments.

Some 30,000 samples of foods are examined each year, about half of which are of domestic origin and the rest imports. This looks like a small figure in relation to the nation's food consumption. However, the sampling techniques used have been developed from long experience and a sound knowledge of the industry. They have proved most efficient in revealing weak spots which are then quickly taken care of. Today, the Directorate enjoys the co-operation of most manufacturers and dealers, and only about 6 or 7 per cent of food samples taken are found to be adulterated. This is a substantial drop from the 30 per cent figure of the 1920's, when foods were first examined under the Act.

The Food and Drug Directorate inspects drug manufacturing plants to insure that all such products reaching the consumer are safe, effective and properly labelled. This inspection includes checking the control procedures employed by the manufacturer to prevent dangerous mistakes from occurring in the formulation, production and packaging of the drugs.

The Directorate also reviews radio and television advertising, for the Canadian Broadcasting Act stipulates that all advertising copy for foods, drugs and cosmetics shall be submitted to the Department of National Health and Welfare before it is accepted for broadcasting. Here any blatantly false or deliberately misleading statements are expurgated. The total effect on the listener or viewer is also assessed, for a statement which is inoffensive by itself may take on an entirely different shade of meaning when it becomes part of a longer script. This is not an easy task, and sometimes objectionable features of an advertisement become apparent only under actual broadcast conditions. When this happens, the advertiser is warned to make the necessary modifications or else withdraw the "ad". About 2,000 radio and television commercials are reviewed every month. Of this number about 15 per cent require major revision.

In all its dealings, the Food and Drug Directorate prefers the role of a preventative body to that of a punitive one, that is why it seeks to educate and persuade all concerned with the food and drug industries to comply voluntarily with the regulations. Punishment is resorted to only after all other methods have failed and earlier instructions and/or warnings have been totally disregarded. Its prime concern will and must always be to protect the public health and purse in respect of foods and drugs and to make it possible for Canadians to place full confidence in the nation's supply of these necessities of life.

NEWS from ISLAY

The immediate Islay area appeared to have a happy Christmas season, with the exception of a couple of homes where dear ones departed this life at this season. The Kowalski family whose mother and grandmother passed on, and at the Hutton home where word came to them from Vancouver of the passing of the oldest daughter, Mrs. Hope.

There were several gay family gatherings. Mrs. Marjorie Summers of San Francisco and Miss Gwen Torrance of Calgary and Mrs. Win Torrance all at Mr. and Mrs. Robertson's. Mr. and Mrs. Vic Torrance and Jean of Edmonton at the Dalt Torrance home. Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Beck and children at the Ivy Inman home. Mr. Starnes and Mr. Heslop at the McCaughan's. Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Grant from Edmonton at Mrs. Hilda Bell's. Miss Marie Steinhauer at noon dinner with the Misses Stone, the Russell Buchanan family and the Jim Hanna family with Mrs. Dave Buchanan. Mr. Anderson, Ralph and Bessie at the Bill Young's home. Dewberry Mr. and Mrs. S. Olsen of Kitscoty and the Neil McLennans and Miss Margaret McLennan at Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McLennan's. Miss Betty Martin of Edmonton had the one day at home. Miss Catherine Grout, also of Edmonton, had a few days at home, returning Monday Dec. 28. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner of Ponoka were at home at Dr. and Mrs. Sweet's, returning Saturday, and Miss Elaine [illegible] for a few days. The Moncrieff family journeyed to Cadogan to be with Mr. Moncrieff's sister and other members, a nice happy family gathering, 20 sat down to dinner. Mrs. Baguley and two children spent the day with friends at Vermilion. Miss Janet Kent went home to Irwinville for the holidays.

The Christmas concert was very much enjoyed, with the children all doing their parts so well. The singing was excellent. It looks as if we may have some Galli-Curci's the way those little grade ones stood and sang. The hall was packed as usual.

Mr. Joe Waterfield, who has been studying in England for the past two and one-half years, arrived by plane to have Christmas at home. He will be here until Jan. 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Waterfield and Mr. Bowser drove to Edmonton for Christmas day to be with Mr. Earl Bowser and family. It rained most of the way going up and the road coming home was treacherous and speed was cut to a crawl. The travellers breathed a big sigh of relief when they finally arrived home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Caro had dinner with the Misses Stone on Saturday. They and Jack Caro had spent the week end with daughter Mrs. Williams and Mr. Williams.

Sunday church services were well attended. Sunday school in the morning had many parents out, the children gave a fine program. At night service with the church filled to capacity Rev. Mr. Shortt gave a stirring Christmas message. The 18 voice choir rendered very lovely music, an anthem "The First Christmas Morn," several lovely carols and hymns. Miss Janet Kent sang a lovely solo. Mrs. Lila Waterfield conducted. It was a very enjoyable day.

Beginning in January church service will be at 3 p.m. for the next three months. Sunday school as usual at 11 a.m. The W.A. meeting will be in the church hall first Thursday in January.

We wish the staff of The Vermilion Standard and all its readers A Good 1960.

staff. The council welcomed the opportunity to listen to the report by Mrs. Hill as it will shortly be vitally concerned in the operation of a home at Vermilion which will serve a similar purpose and at a slightly later date another at Lloydminster It was felt by the council that for a similar age group it would be the desire of the council to have the same type of service supplied in the homes under [illegible] sponsorship as was now being provided by the Jubilee home.

The Editor,
Vermilion Standard Ltd.

Dear Sir:

According to information that I have received, on December 11 of this year, sixteen Vermilion district farmers were summoned to appear in court on January [illegible]

The charge - using purple gasoline in trucks bearing farm license plates. These trucks were being used that day for other than transporting farm [illegible]

As near as I can find out the men in question were helping to pour cement for the new senior citizens' lodge at Vermilion. The local farmers who were involved had sought temporary employment to ease them through an acute financial crisis.

The people involved were not aware that they were breaking any law The press release of September 8, 1958 gave them to understand that tax free gasoline could be legally used in any truck bearing a farm license.

During the series of joint political meetings held throughout the district in June of 1959, farmers were further assured in this regard by government candidates.

Now it seems that charges are being laid. Farmers charged will plead guilty and pay a small fine rather than face the expense of a trial

As a farmer and as a director of the Farmers' Union of Alberta, I feel justified in asking that a further press release be made and that the matter of conviction in this regard be investigated by the Attorney General's Department

Thank you Mr. Editor for your valuable space.

Yours truly,
Ralph A Wilson

Local Rink Wins High School 'Spiel at Wainwright

A rink of Vermilion curlers won the Grand Challenge event at the recent bonspiel for high school curlers held in Wainwright. The event was sponsored and managed by the Knights of Columbus.

Shown in the above picture is the winning Vermilion rink. Dr. Hauck of Wainwright is presenting the K. of C. trophy to Skip Roger Renaud, Wynn Pockett, third, Jack Marfleet, second, and Morley Marshall, lead.

Winning their way into the finals against their school classmates, was another Vermilion high school rink skipped by Howard Robinson with Neil Gannon, Allen Forbes and Tony Dixon. The final game was a close battle all the way with seldom more than one point separating the two rinks.

A rink composed of Henry Robinson, Allen Hathaway, Joe Beattie and Robert Pare was a third entry, so that Vermilion high school was very well represented.

Return To Scene of Crime Undoing For Service Station Burglar

A return to Westpoint service to obtain a supply of gasoline after he had successfully burglarized the premises, proved the undoing of Delmar Wayne Mattison of no known address. On his second attempt Mattison was caught by the Westpoint owner, Percy Walsh and aided by Irvine Bell, held until the police arrived. At first denying that he had broken into the station, he finally confessed when faced with cigarettes, tires and accessories found in his car and the property of Westpoint. The police found other articles in the car which they think are stolen property also.

Mattison has been charged with breaking and entering and robbery and is now in Fort Saskatchewan gaol awaiting trial.

The Westpoint service station is usually open 24 hours a day and Wednesday was only the second night that it had been closed. The proprietor, Percy Walsh went to open the station at 5:45 a.m. and found that it had been broken into. No one was in evidence and he returned to the house and told Irvine Bell of the break in and asked him to phone the police. No cash had been left in the station. Just as he was about to return to the station, Walsh observed a car driving slowly along highway 16 headed west. The car stopped, turned back east and went into the service station where the lights of the car were turned off. Walsh drove to the station with his lights off, noted that the car was still there, entered the building and pulled on the main light switch. He saw a man crouching in a small back room. Arming himself with a large rubber hammer used in changing tires, he ordered the man out and then to sit in a chair. Irvine Bell arrived in the meantime and the culprit was kept there until the police arrived a few minutes later.

Westpoint has been robbed on four previous occasions, when the thiefs were successful in making clean getaways.

Mattison in confessing said that after breaking in and robbing the station of the articles, he had left but found that he needed gasoline. He had therefore returned to the scene of the crime with the hope of filling his tank. It was on his return that he was seen by Walsh, and this led to his arrest. He is a young man, has no permanent address and was driving a car with Saskatchewan license plates.

Joan Stewart, of Kitscoty High, Receives Local A.T.A. Scholarship

At the Kitscoty Christmas concert on Friday December [illegible] before an audience of over 300 people Miss Jean Stewart was presented with a scholarship of $100. The award is the first one given since the teachers of the Vermilion Local of the Alberta Teachers' Association announced the provision for an annual scholarship. The presentation was made by the president of the local A. T. A., Miss Marjorie Knapp who congratulated Miss Stewart on her achievement and extended to her the best wishes of the association for success and happiness in her chosen career.

In making the presentation, Miss Knapp outlined the qualifications necessary for winning the award. It is given to the student receiving the highest standing in the Vermilion Division on the June departmental examinations providing he or she has received his complete matriculation with an average of 75% or more. In addition, the student must proceed to some school for further education. [illegible] 81.67, had the highest standing in this division last June. Runners-up for the award were John Bell and Eunice Grey of the Kitscoty high school and Marie Tovell of Vermilion.

Miss Stewart, a native of Kitscoty, obtained all of her education in the Kitscoty school. It was mentioned that she had been active and co-operative throughout her career, in extra-curricular as well as academic work. Previously, she won the Kitscoty Legion award and recently she received a Queen Elizabeth scholarship from the Department of Education.

Former Vermilionites Involved In Highway Accident Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Potter (nee Gladys Hareuther) and their three children, Grant 12, Blair 9, and Debbie 7 years, were travelling north on highway 2, three miles out of Wetaskiwin, when their car was involved in a collision with a cattle truck. The accident took place at 10:00 p.m. Tuesday evening.

All five occupants of the Potter car are at present in Wetaskiwin hospital. The truck driver escaped injury. Mr. Potter suffered a fractured skull, concussion, a broken jaw and laceration of the face; Mrs. Potter had an injury to one hand and various cuts and bruises; Grant has a broken leg, and Blair has a broken arm. Debbie was least injured, being just badly shaken up, and may be released from hospital today.

Mrs. M. Barr Wins Quiz Contest

Mrs. Manson Barr submitted an entry giving an answer to a quiz contest sponsored by Sonny Boy cereal, over CJCA, sometime about mid-December. On the program, just the day before Mrs. Barr's birthday, Jan. 2, it was announced that she had won a cash prize of $340. It would seem that Mrs. Barr had made fortunate arrangements to ensure herself of a generous birthday gift, but it can be unequivocably stated that this was not a 'fixed quiz'!

"Whereas the Federal Government has realized the need for farm aid in coming up with the $3.00 per acre on a 50-50 basis with the provincial government and whereas we feel it very unfair to our area which has approximately 75% of its crop harvested therefore we resolve that the Federal Government reconsider its plan and make the payment to all farmers."

NICE GIFTS FOR 1960

People of Vermilion are due to receive some nice gifts from the provincial government during 1960. According to a recent announcement foremost among [illegible] is the $10 per capita grant to the town for every man, woman and child in the town, based on the 1959 civic census which was [illegible]. This means that Vermilion will receive an outright [illegible] of $22,400 which must be spent on some recreational project.

The second very pleasing gift for 1960 calls for a block of hard surfaced street or the equivalent in hard-topped sidewalks and curbs.

The idea or thought behind such aid to towns and villages is an attempt to bring their recreational facilities more on a par with the cities, and by means of hard-topped streets and walks to increase the attractions and desirability of living and of shopping in smaller communities.

SPRING SEED QUALITY

The Alberta Seed and Crop Improvement Association has warned all farmers to [illegible] their grain supplies carefully. Serious difficulties may be encountered if damp grain is used for seed. At its annual meeting held recently in Calgary the Association expressed concern over supplies of seed grain for next spring because much of the 1959 crop was harvested in a damp condition.

Alberta's [illegible] of the Crop Improvement Service O. G. [illegible] the warning, pointed out that seed grain containing a moisture content of over 14.5% is likely to be partially dormant and germination tests cannot be considered reliable. In addition damp grain held in storage bins during the winter will invariably deteriorate in viability.

Further advice and information can be obtained from district agriculturists and local seed house representatives.

"Doctor, Why Am I So Tired?"

At the time of her death in 1958, Dr. Marion Hilliard, the well-known Canadian doctor, was working on what she held to be her best book, "Women and Fatigue". Completed now by two of her friends, Opal Boynton and Marion Robinson, with the assistance of her brother, Dr. Irwin M. Hilliard, FRCP (C), professor of medicine at the University of Saskatchewan, it is being published in six parts starting in January Chatelaine.

Dr. Hilliard, who felt that fatigue was woman's greatest enemy, believed that women today are tired for reasons other than that of their biological nature. "They are struggling with their role as females; they are tired because of strenuous efforts to perform multiple services at home, on the job and in the community," she explained. "Social changes have made a terrific impact on the home and family. Girls and boys are getting married in their late teens, often before they have had a chance to adjust fully to the biological changes of adolescence. Several million women with pre-school children are working outside their homes. More families are on the move, some even live on wheels. It is becoming more and more difficult to make a home — a place of rest, refreshment, nurture and contentment."

Although fatigue was often caused by too much hard work for too many hours, a good deal of it came from unsuspected causes, such as loneliness, frustration and the compulsive drive of modern life, Dr. Hilliard reported.

Normal fatigue that follows accomplishment should be enjoyed. Rest, relaxation and a good night's rest is all that is needed. But, warned Dr. Hilliard, "It's the fatigue you have accumulated, the fatigue that's too great to be dispersed by normal rest or a night or two of good sleep that can spell trouble."

[illegible] TO 1960

In spite of all the gloomy forecasts, Canada goes into the year 1960 in pretty fine shape. [illegible] has been held in check in recent months due in large measure to the courage of the government (maybe it's the Christmas spirit that makes me find [illegible] good word for the [illegible]), and the good sense of [illegible] generally in accepting [illegible] with[illegible].

Labour, too, has shown somewhat more restraint and good sense over the past four or five months. Most workers are of the opinion that it is better to hold the line and consolidate Canadian gains now than to go romping off on a false boom that could price us right out of competitive overseas markets, and thus create unemployment.

The sensible [illegible] in Canada gets something of a setback, however, when American-owned concerns [illegible] the wage rates [illegible]. An example is the [illegible] Paper Company, which applied wage rate increases in their home plants to their big operations here. Wonderful for their Canadian employees perhaps, but sure to cause discontent and new wage demands throughout the Canadian paper industry — where prices are already high enough. Acts of this nature by American-owned companies operating in Canada can have serious [illegible] Canadian economy, [illegible] when [illegible] involved.

In spite of these complications, Canadians have [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] should also go to various governments. By next [illegible]

FEDERAL-PROVINCIAL EMERGENCY UNTHRESHED GRAIN ASSISTANCE

Arrangements have been completed to assist farmers whose crop remains largely unthreshed. To be eligible more than 30% of a farmer's seeded acreage of wheat, oats, barley, rape seed and flax must not have been harvested by Dec. 15th, 1959 and that portion of the crop harvested must yield 10 bushels or less to the seeded acre in terms of wheat. The equivalent yield is one bushel of wheat is 2 bushels oats; 1½ bushels barley, ⅞ bushels rye or rape or ½ bushel of flax. Farms now declared eligible for P. F. A. A. will not qualify under this policy.

Applications for assistance are made at the M. D. office after January 10th, 1960. Assistance is paid only to farm operators. Eligible farmers who have harvested a crop of less than 5 bushels of wheat or the equivalent per seeded acre will receive $3.00 per unharvested acre to a maximum of 200 acres. Eligible farmers who have harvested more than 5 but not more than 10 bushels per seeded acre of wheat or the equivalent will receive $2.00 per unharvested acre to a maximum of 200 acres. Farmers who feel they may be eligible for this emergency assistance should apply at their M. D. office on or after January 10th, 1960.

FARM MANAGEMENT

1960 is on its way and if you are interested in belonging to a Farm Management group contact your District Agriculturist without delay. It has been found throughout Canada that there is no better way to learn Farm Management than by working with it. Your District Agriculturist is prepared and ready to work with you for two years or more if you want to improve the management on your farm.

GOING INTO SHEEP

Anyone planning to establish a flock of sheep in 1960 is strongly advised to buy ewe lambs from Southern [illegible] feed lots in late winter. The price may be a little higher than the market value of finish lambs but the beginner will have healthy and thrifty stock to start out with. The wool harvested next May will easily pay for the summer keep of the ewes and in 1961 the flock will be producing lambs. A farmer planning to purchase ewe lambs may apply to Alberta's Livestock Branch for practical assistance in the selection and purchasing of suitable ewe lambs at cost. Arrangements must be made in January.

BEEF CATTLE IMPLANTS

Stilbestrol and Synovex "S" implants are now proven to be effective tools of the beef feed lot. Implanted cattle can make greater gains but the cattle must receive enough feed and water to provide for those gains. Implants are not a substitute for feed. Implanted cattle gain faster but they may not finish faster. Usually a better finish is obtained on implanted cattle if they are held longer on feed and marketed at a heavier weight than normal cattle. Much of the adverse publicity of the poor grading of implanted cattle can be traced to cattle which were short of feed and water or marketed early.

ELECTRICAL CLINIC JAN 14th and 15th

A rural electrification clinic is to be held in the Elks hall at Mannville, Thursday and Friday, January 14 and 15 at 10:00 a.m. A skilled instructor will be in attendance at this clinic and if anyone has a problem in electrical wiring this clinic is highly [illegible]

MERINGUE FOR PIES

With the mince pie season past its peak, many families will be glad when mother returns to making cream type pies again. A number of these pies are topped with light fluffy meringue. Sometimes, though, the meringues have a tendency to "weep."

CAUSE OF MERINGUE "WEEPING"

This is caused by using too much sugar or may also result if the sugar used is too coarse. The meringue will shrink and toughen if the oven is too slow.

NEW TECHNIQUE — HOT OVEN

If you have always baked meringues in a slow oven, you will be pleasantly surprised at the new hot oven technique. The meringue is baked for 4½ minutes at 425 degrees F.

For the fluffiest effect place the meringue on the pie shortly before serving. If it is to be kept for a considerable period of time, set it in the refrigerator.

TO PREVENT COLLAPSE OF MERINGUE

Cream of tartar added during the beating of the whites helps to stabilize the meringue, lessening the danger of collapse.

AVOID USING PLASTIC BOWL

If you have been using a plastic bowl to beat up your egg whites and found they haven't been beating up too well, there is a reason. Some plastics contain a chemical which interferes with the beating of the egg whites. A glass bowl is better.

BEATING THE EGG WHITES

The egg whites should be beaten to the "soft peak" stage before beginning to add the sugar. The "soft peak" stage is reached when the peak (formed when beater is removed) folds over slightly. Allow 2 tablespoons sugar per egg white and add very gradually.

A TESTED RECIPE

You may have your own tried and true recipe. In case you haven't, try this:

2 egg whites
⅛ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cream of tartar
4 tbsp. sugar
½ tsp. vanilla

Letters to the Editor

Kitscoty, Alberta.
Editor, Vermilion Standard,
Vermilion, Alta.
Sir:

The brand book, the Alberta record of brands, is an historical document. And like all historians is not without [illegible]. At one time two letters sufficed for a brand. By what idea of expedience was the third letter added. The laws of Canada are the outcome of "a body of ancient customs and usages dating from time out of mind". Not so the brand book. In this case of the brands law an ancient usage has been violated. The fact is a two-letter usage would have provided enough brands for Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, without lapping.

Using 19 capitals, 30 lazy letters, 8 numerals, bar, half diamond, and half circle, using six points of placement, 40,344 brands is possible with the characters side by side. By using one character over another, a further 40,344 are available. 38,000 is the number in the present brand book. Another [illegible] custom that has been scrapped is the plan of putting one letter on any of the six locations on the animal. This plan would be available to any who wished to use it. This would add another 40,344 brands. 121,034 brands. Mr. Editor we should have had that printed. Figures are so tricky. With these [illegible] by what stretch of [illegible] was a third letter added to the Alberta brands.

Just for enlightenment consider some three letter computations. At present there are 19 capitals, upwards of 30 lazy, numerals, signs. Listen — using 19 capitals only, just 19, gives 34,[illegible] three character brands. Why all the [illegible], lazy letters, numerals, bars and half diamonds. Complication gone mad.

Three letter brands. Listen again. With 28 characters we have 123,[illegible] brands on one only location. Using six locations, 738,[illegible] brands. Remembering 38,000 in the brand book. Enough brands for Canada and the United States.

Summing up we find Alberta brands once had only two letters. Without rhyme or reason a third letter was added. The Department says the two-letter brand would hamper the work of the brand inspectors. Who are the inspectors. They are the only honest cattlemen. All others are suspect. When I present cattle for sale, I am suspect till I prove my innocence. It would be nice to be innocent without proof. At the stock yard, I declare the brands. Not good enough. They have to be inspected. I'm under a cloud till this is done.

THE SOURCE OF CHRISTMAS

Sir:

Mr. H. G. Smith of Mayerthorpe makes reference to "The Great Source of Christmas". Let us consider that source.

The celebration of December 25th as a "Holy Day" is perhaps one of the oldest institutions in history and mythology. It has been celebrated down through the ages with [illegible] by widely separated people who had no contact with each other. They [illegible] it in Europe, in Asia, and even in America before the coming of the white man.

WHY? The answer is simple. Let us go to the Sun Worshippers. They knew the sun to be the giver of all life. If it shone upon them they were warm and full of life, food grew in abundance to sustain that life. If it turned away from them they were full of gloom and eventually certain death. Until the 21st of December the sun swings south towards the winter solstice, the earth gets cold and dark; if the "Sun God" continued in that direction and did not come back, certain death would be the result. The giver of all life was departing from their midst, and the earth was becoming a dreary place. But lo, four days later, on the 25th of December the ancients were able to determine, without instruments, that the Sun God had halted in his downward flight and was actually returning. Great was their rejoicing and celebration for the "rebirth" of the Sun God, the giver of all life.

This was actually the origin of the great feast day we celebrate in so many ways and call Christmas. Actually it has nothing to do with the birth of Christ.

Yes, there are many, many things that need "debunking".

H. Allen.

(Taken from the Edmonton Journal and submitted to The Standard by Charles Young, Vermilion.)

[illegible] of all brands remain [illegible] on the [illegible], it is altogether likely that international trade will find this country a strong competitor. If increased productivity can be achieved, there could then be a series of increased wages without a corresponding increase in the cost of living index; and after all, that is the only kind of wage increase that does any good.

In other words, things look [illegible] good for 1960 and we [illegible] sincerely when we say, "[illegible] New Year to all!"

Presentation Is Made To Marwayne F.W.U.A. Members

The Christmas meeting of the Marwayne F. W. U. A. was held at the home of Florence Pinski on Friday, Dec. 18th with Violet Elliot and Thelma Seville as co-hostesses. There were twenty-five members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with carol singing and the roll call was answered with articles for baby layettes.

Twenty yards of white flannelette is to be ordered for making diapers for the layettes.

Twenyt-five cents per member is to be sent for pennies for friendship for the A. C. W. W.

Mrs. Braithwaite, F. W. U. A. president, is being invited to attend the meeting in February which will be held the afternoon of Feb. 22nd in the Legion hall. Mrs. Braithwaite will show pictures and tell of her trip to the A. C. W. W. triennual convention held in Scotland last summer.

Each member is to make an article for the Hobby Fair. This will then belong to the club to sell at a later date.

It was felt that there were enough members to do sewing for both the Islay and Lloydminster hospitals. Janet Hancock is to inquire at Islay and Lillian Tupper at Lloydminster.

Albert Pinski will build a cupboard in the basement of the Elks hall for the club belongings. Those appointed to this committee were Doris Kvill, Florence Pinski, Gladys Hutchinson.

A baking demonstration made with Co-op products will be sponsored by the group and held in the Elks hall late in January.

Coffee spoons with F. W. U. A. engraved on them were presented to members having perfect attendance at last year's meetings, and cups and saucers in the "Alberta Wild Rose" pattern to the retiring officers.

Santa Claus then arrived to distribute the lovely Pollyanna gifts. A bountiful lunch rounded out the evening.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, January 25th at the home of Della Protsch.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

On December 28th a large number attended the Christmas party in the Elks hall for all Marwayne members of the F. W. U. A., and F. U. A. and their families.

A variety program with [illegible] as chairman started the evening. Miss Joan Milne then commenced and [illegible] showed slides of the three month trip through Europe she took last summer. Lunch was served and then dancing was enjoyed.

Mr. Joe Hale moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for their entertaining evening.

Kitscoty High School Notes

After a good holiday, students are back at K. H. S. receiving results from pre-Christmas exams.

December was filled with activities for K. H. S. students.

On December 5th, the annual Snowflake Frolic was held in the high school auditorium with approximately 200 people in attendance. [illegible] orchestra from [illegible] supplied the music and the Kitscoty Ladies' Curling Club catered. The auditorium was decorated in [illegible] and white in a [illegible] theme.

[illegible] was the high school Christmas party. The evening began for the dormitory students with a turkey supper, which was followed by a dance in the auditorium for all K. H. S. [illegible]. Entertainment was provided by Ed Waterfield, Allan Ward, and Tommy Eglauer who [illegible]. [illegible] Buddzika and Margaret Plumb played a piano duet, Darlene West played the guitar and sang, and Shirley McGuigan and Elaine Hanna sang a duet.

Several novelty dances were held during the evening, and Marion Teskey and Anthony Organ winning the jive contest, and Elaine Hanna and Shirley McGuigan winning the old time waltz contest.

A delicious lunch was served at the boys' dorm where all students and teachers gathered and sang carols. The final item on the program was the presentation of gifts to the teachers from the students' union.

On December 23rd, the teachers handed out copies of the K. H. S. Bugle which was edited by Charlotte Creighton, Robert Nelson and George Putnee.

K. H. S. basketball teams are active, with the boys tied for first place in the Vermilion School Division League with Vermilion. The girls are tied with Marwayne and Paradise Valley for first place in the league.

Curling has recently been organized in K. H. S. and ten rinks were formed. The sports committee are busy working out draws, and curling will start this week.

BUFFALO COULEE ACTIVITIES

Holidays are over and things are getting back to normal once again. We wish everyone a happy New Year and hope that the sixties bring a release from fear and tension throughout the world and that peace on earth goodwill to men may become a reality.

With good weather prevailing, much visiting and entertaining was carried on throughout the community but with such a big area to cover it is impossible to keep up with all the individual visits. We are certain however, that everyone enjoyed the holidays.

Going farthest afield were Mary Ann and Jack Barlow who travelled to Vancouver while Mary Anne's mother and dad looked after Brenda and the farm. Stanley Barlow left before New Year's for Winnipeg to visit his sister Betty and family. Clifford Cunningham and Lorene Everett were home from the U. of A. to spend the holidays with their families. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Little and family of Wembley spent New Year's at the F. H. Eyben home. Grace and two children plan on staying for the rest of the month.

A nice crowd attended the C. G. I. T. candle lighting service on Sunday evening, Dec. 20th. Candle lighters were Clara Boier, Sharon Ensland and Alayne Stone. Betty Marfleet sang the solo "O Holy Night", and Mrs. Wyn Kennedy read the story of the blind Polish girl's Christmas lamp.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The gym was packed to capacity for the annual Christmas concert which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The teachers had put a lot of work into the training, costumes etc., with all the little people doing their parts very well. The senior students' play, "The Midnight Ghost" under the direction of Mrs. Juskow was very much enjoyed. To close the evening, Santa arrived to distribute the gifts from the Christmas tree.

Buffalo Coulee is to have a new teacher to replace Mrs. Pheasey who has been teaching grades 3 and 4 and part of 5.

The curling ice is now ready and due to be initiated this Tuesday as the draws get under way. Due to mild weather in December it is a late start.

The men of the district have been busy getting the skating rink flooded and ready so the children will be able to take their skates to school. Hockey practice for the boys was held on the ice on Sunday afternoon.

A rink of boys, Robert and Doug [illegible], Grant Haverstew and Lyle Gabrielson took part in the K. of C. high school bonspiel in Wainwright last week and report a very enjoyable time.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Eyben on the birth of a daughter on New Year's eve.

Civil Servants Enjoy Christmas Party

The members of Vermilion's Civil Service Branch No 3 held a very successful children's party followed by a dance, December 29th, 1959. Judging by the number of treats, dixie cups, oranges, prizes and the enthusiasm of the children, the party was a huge success.

The program began at 7:30 p.m. with the showing of some films, a sing-song, games, contests, treats and finally lunch. As soon as the tables were cleared away and some children put to bed the "Happy Hillbillies" from Islay took over and beat out a rhythm for the more energetic people to dance.

As something new, federal and telephone employees and their children attended as guests. Surplus treats, oranges, etc. were donated to the Vermilion School for [illegible] Children. This was the first year for the dance but judging [illegible] may become an annual event.

Tigers Turn Back St. Paul Hornets By 9 to 5 Score

Vermilion Tigers sent over 600 fans home happy on Wednesday evening last when they handed the St. Paul Hornets a 9-5 setback. This was the second victory for the Tigers this season and gave promise of many more. The size of the crowd on hand was encouraging also, a few over 600 paid admission, the largest one of the season to date.

St. Paul notched the opening goal just 2:20 after the opening bell, the well known Dehid doing the trick. Dave Lowrie, who turned in a fine game aided by the energetic Bruce Anderson, tied it up and then Jim Jones of the Dewberry line converted Dave Lowrie's pass and the fans were happy again. Dehid came through on Pundick's pass and the game took on all the appearance of a free scoring but close game. The fast scoring continued with the Tigers denting the hemp twice, Ewing from Jones and Ewen, and Frankie Ewing from Doull. Things looked bright with the homesters 2 up but Hryciw and Dehid made it 4-3 but Jim Jones scored his second goal with assists to Dave Lowrie and Doull and Bruce Anderson slapped in Murray Lowrie's pass to end the first period 6 goals to 3. Two penalties were handed out, — Anderson of the Tigers gathering in the first and Bugnon of the Hornets ending the period in the cooler.

The second period saw Scoggins of Mannville replace Cawthorpe in goal as coach Redford tries to keep both goalies sharp with lots of work.

The second period was quite the reverse of the first with only two goals scored as compared to nine. Each team tightened up its defensive tactics. 11.1 minutes had been ticked off before Machon scored a pretty goal. He is an up and coming player and his counter was a popular one with the fans. Goal number 11 put Vermilion further out in front of the 8-3 score with centre Doull scoring and Frankie Ewing an assist.

The goals in the period were outnumbered by the penalties. Sandy Ewen started the [illegible] to the sin-bin followed by [illegible]ler of the Hornets. Leaky was charged with high sticking and rested for 2 minutes, and then Machon and Church went off for roughing.

The period ended with an 8-3 score in favor of the Tigers.

Midway in the third period there was a burst of scoring, Dehid from Pundick brought the Hornets to the half-way mark at 11:44. Bruce Anderson [illegible] his second of the game [illegible] by Ken Brown, only to [illegible] effort nullified 10 seconds later with Dehid and Pundick ending the scoring for the game at 9-5. Fans didn't take too kindly to referee Richard sending Machon off twice in succession, the first for boarding and the second for what was called a trip but which looked like a good body check to the fans. Following the second penalty the ice was littered with programs, etc., and the game was held up for some 15 minutes.

The fans had a chance to see the smooth but very fast skating Jimmie Jones of Dewberry in action. Still in his [illegible] this youngster has all the appearance of a real comer. A nice playmaker, he is a very cool customer around the opponents' goal. In fact the Tigers took on a decided Dewberry tinge with Sandy Ewen, Hedley Doull, John Machon and Dave Lowrie all from the hockey-minded village to the north-east.

Among the new and younger players making quite an impression last Wednesday was Elmer Leaky. With a little experience he will run up a tidy total of goals. Frankie Ewing is right on the beam again and was one of the top marksmen with two goals and an assist.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Alvin Tupper (the former Antronnette Nolin) of Nelson, B.C., is vastly improved after taking a series of treatments in Vancouver for a heart condition. At present she is convalescing at the home of her mother here at Tulliby Lake.

Mrs. Johnny Forbes had quite a battle with the flu virus but was able to shake it off.

Christmas day saw Mrs. Louise Huntley and Mr and Mrs. Bert Hill and their three children at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Hill in Lloydminster. Arthur spent the day at Mrs. Tupper's parental home. The Alec Marsh family spent their Xmas with Mrs. Marsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams of Lloydminster.

During the night hours of Dec 26, an accident occurred on the highway south of the Lea Park bridge, when a farm delivery ran into Buster Fleming's truck which had been left parked on the road. The owner and driver of the delivery, Mr Bill Roberton, and his two passengers were rushed to the Lloydminster hospital to be treated for injuries sustained in the accident. Mr. Archie Wagner received a deep cut to his neck, Mrs. Philemean Dufresne a broken jaw, extreme shock, plus minor cuts and abrasions, while Mr. Roberton escaped with a broken nose. All are recovering satisfactorily in hospital. The Fleming truck received only minor damage while the Roberton delivery is reported beyond repair.

A Biblical meeting was held in the central school on the afternoon of Sunday, Dec. 27. Mr. George Bucknall spoke on the origin of religious worship in the world, then everyone participated in a Bible study on the advent of the space age, presented by Lee Wendt and Juvenile Behrens.

Condolences are extended to the relatives of Alfred McKay upon his untimely death in a highway accident north of Lloydminster. Alfred's friendly smile and ever-present willingness to help a friend in time of need will not be soon forgotten by people in the district.

PARADISE VALLEY NEWS

Happy New Year to you all. We hope you will excuse this correspondent for neglecting the news during December but with the thousands of cards, letters and parcels, it was impossible. Even though late, we will record a few special events.

P.V.W.A. HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

On December 1st, the P. V. W. A. held their annual meeting in the Sunday School hall with Mrs. Nickle and Mrs. C. Bleakely as hostesses. There was a good attendance. Final arrangements were made for serving lunch at the family Christmas service at the church. Also for Christmas gifts to be given. Rev. I McDonald attended the meeting for the election of officers. New officers were elected but all reports will not be in until next meeting so they will be given at a later date. The next meeting will be held on Jan. 5 at the home of Mrs. J Guy with Mrs. George Guy as co-hostess.

BANQUET ENJOYED AT SCHOOL

On Dec. 11, the W. A catered to a banquet held in the school auditorium by the teachers, and local trustees from the three points, Rivercourse, McLaughlin and Paradise Valley. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Blocksidge and Mr. and Mrs. John David of Vermilion. All were disappointed that Mr. and Mrs. Aalborg were unable to be present as expected. A number of fine speeches and a social time made up the program for this much enjoyed get-acquainted party.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE HELD AT UNITED CHURCH

The United church was filled to capacity on the evening of Dec 20th where the family Christmas service was held. The white gift order of service was followed with Mrs. E. Kragness leading the service and Mrs. W. A. Gunn reading the scripture passage. Mrs. J. Gordon read the story and Mr. W. Strett, Mrs. C. Ball and Mrs. S. Leighton assisted at the organ. All the Sunday school pupils did their parts well and the two selections by the senior choir were much enjoyed. Two children of Mr. and Mrs Clifford Coleman and one of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mannix were baptized by Rev. McDonald. After the program a treat and lunch was served to the children in the Sunday school room, and lunch and a social hour followed in the basement for the adults.

Film Shown At Anglican Men's Club

The film was shown following a sumptuous supper served by the committee of Lorne Puckett, Gerald and Keith King and Ken Urquhart.

Rev. W. Champness commented on the film saying that the Lambeth conference of Bishops is held every ten years and is attended by Anglican bishops from all over the world. This serves to unite the church and to unify and review all aspects of the work of the Anglican church throughout the world. The conference is held at Lambeth House, residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Three hundred and sixty bishops were present on this occasion.

The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 4 and it looks like T-bone steaks will be the menu as Alex Palin is chef in charge with Lance Playfie, Sid Burdett and Tom Stocker his willing helpers. All men of the Anglican church are welcome to attend.

Concert Features Folk Singers At Lloydminster

The second in the 1959 - 60 series of concerts sponsored by the Lloydminster Overture Concert Association, will be held in the high school auditorium, Lloydminster, on Friday, Jan. 8 at 8.15 p.m. and will feature folk singers Marais and Miranda.

Josef Marais and his wife Miranda have earned their title of "International Balladiers", being troubadors who not only collect and arrange songs of many lands but present them in their own inimitable way. Marais composes and plays the accompaniments on a classic guitar, and he and Miranda collaborate in conveying the spirit of the originals by free English adaptions and lively renditions.

Josef Marais was born in South Africa and had an extensive repertoire of South African folk songs, dating from his boyhood spent on a sheep ranch. Later he studied violin and music composition in London, Prague, Budapest and Paris and was soon established as a singer and recorder of folk songs.

Miranda was born in Amsterdam. Her father was a dentist who was also a music critic and a collector of ancient instruments, her mother was a concert singer. Destined to be a musician, she came to New York in 1939 and after teaching piano began working for the Office of War Information, where she met Josef. They appeared on broadcasts and were married in 1946, going to Hollywood to establish a home. They appeared throughout the country in concerts and recitals, made recordings and appeared on radio and TV for 32-week engagements.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

Happy New Year to one and all and happy square dancing to all fellow square dancers!

With the holidays over and everything getting back to normal, we will endeavor to get back on our regular schedule of the second and fourth Fridays of each month. To get 1960 off to a good start we will have Art Ziegler as guest caller in the Bowtell hall this Friday Jan. 8. Our friendship trophy will be offered that night as our members were successful in re-capturing it at Lloydminster's Xmas party. This is an invitation to all neighboring clubs to collect your members and try to win it at our dance on the 8th.

The last regular dance which would have been on Christmas night was dispensed with in favor of our New Year's square dance party. The evening was a tremendous success. The midnight supper was a turkey with all the trimmings. The tables were cleared away as fast as they were put up. The ladies then took over and the dance immediately changed to a Leap Year dance. At the close of the evening, Herb Hannah of Lloydminster kindly showed us the film he had taken at our dance about a month ago. The film was very good and we all went home with a much better idea of how we look to others.

CLANDONALD HALL

THE FUTURE OF HEALTH EDUCATION

(Adapted from an address presented by Dr Gebhard to the 50th annual meeting, Canadian Public Health Association, June 2, 1959)

Diseases are doctors' business but health is everybody's concern. Health education has not yet reached top priority but without good generalized health education improvement of our citizens' health is hard to achieve.

One-third of all illnesses and accidents can be prevented by education provided we put presently available knowledge to work by making people of good will take concerted action and enact such social legislation which will make every citizen a partner in our health improvement program. The most important task for health education today and for the future and I quote the World Health Organization is "to help individuals to become competent in and to carry on health activities they must undertake for themselves."

Too many people are under the illusion that health is for sale. Hospital and health insurance are fine things but they do not prevent people from getting sick, just as the term "life insurance" is a misnomer as it goes into effect only when a person has passed away; it is really a death insurance.

Diseases are doctors' business but health is everybody's concern. I like the "Charter for Health" of the British Medical Association. "Good health is not entirely or even mainly a question of medical services. It does not depend so much upon hospitals, or doctors, or bottles of medicine [illegible], as upon a suitable environment and a proper attitude towards health."

Like the poor the sick ones always will be with us but we hope in the future they will be fewer in numbers. We are all familiar with the reduction of mortality of the very young, of the extension of our life span but we should be more aware of the fact that the middle age group today is worse off than fifty years ago. This is especially true of the male population. The death rate for men, age 45 to 54 in 1920 was about 10 per cent higher than the one for women of the same age, but the death rate of the present is about 80 per cent higher for men. This is due to the increase in heart diseases, cancer of the lung, suicides and alcoholism.

Progress in disease prevention is a slow process. Visible success does not always show up in time of one generation and there is seldom a 100 per cent accomplishment. William Osler expressed it so well, in his famous phrase of consumption as the "Captain of the men of death," in saying in 1901, "the captain has been reduced to a lieutenant and will soon be reduced to the ranks though it is almost too much to expect that he will be actually drummed completely out of the regiment." As we have seen tuberculosis dropped from first to thirteenth place as cause of death, and we have also witnessed other contagious diseases diminishing in numbers, the last one we hope on the way out, being poliomyelitis.

MAN-MADE DISEASES

We are concerned mostly today in public health with such man-made diseases as accidents, dental caries, the ever-increasing cloud of air pollution either caused industrially or worse by the radio-active fallout. Nutritional deficiencies are the result of ignorance just as much as of low income. The great disorder of modern living, and I refer to alcoholism, is one of the most pressing problems in mental health. American and Canadian co-operation is taking on a new phase in this field as recently the U. S. Public Health Service made a grant of $85,000 to the Alcoholism Research Foundation of Ontario which will conduct a study to clarify the language and to improve the understanding in the field of alcohol problems.

There is much talk these days about increase in mental disease and that is just not true. I am of the opinion that the mental health of the present population is just as good and as bad as it was fifty or one hundred years ago, because I believe that heredity factors control the incidence of mental diseases more than those of environment, or the stress of modern living.

What Man has wrought, Man can undo. To better public health we do not even need more research if we would only apply the knowledge we already have. A case in point is the prevention of the most universal disease suffered by modern man in the Western Hemisphere. I am speaking of dental decay.

We have known about the principle of prevention by fluoridation of water supply since 1931. More than twenty-five years later two-thirds of the American children who could profit by this method do not get fluoridated water. Fluoridation has become a political issue in many localities. It has been defeated in local referendums more often than it has been approved.

STRANGE MIXTURE

The reasoning against it is a mixture of plain ignorance and emotions or in vernacular terms, "people are down on what they ain't up on." But it is not always ignorance which prevents progress, as in the case of a leading patriotic women's organization in the United States which voted in a national convention in Washington, against fluoridation because this organization is against the World Health Organization which has endorsed fluoridation, just as it has been endorsed by the British Ministry of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service.

The irony of this little story is that the good ladies were drinking the fluoridated water of Washington, D. C., as does the President of the United States and his grandchildren.

Canada, especially the city of Brantford, Ontario, deserves credit for having started fluoridation as early as 1945. Dental decay in ten years has been reduced by approximately 60 per cent, according to information of the Health League of Canada. Health educators have often been accused by the medical profession specially, for not knowing where they are going and what they want to do, but it is just as bad that leading members of organized medicine, as a past president of the A. M. A. or a former editor of a state medical journal have lead actively the propaganda against fluoridation.

We have to realize that the majority of people accept new things more by personalities than by principles. A good example is the story of Jeff Hall, a well-known English soccer player. His unfortunate death by polio made such an impression on the English people, that the British Embassy in Washington requested the flying over of one and [illegible] million Salk shots to London to meet the demands of parents for the vaccination of their children.

The outlook for the future of public health education has never been so bright as since the end of World War II. Never before have the American and Canadian people shown such an interest in all affairs of health and medicine from the local level on up to the international one of the W. H. O. We owe a debt of gratitude to the man who as the first Director General, made such an outstanding contribution in the field of international co-operation, Dr. Brock Chisholm.

(To be continued next week.)

CNR Completes Test Run With New Type Tank Car

WINNIPEG: A giant tank car has just completed an initial test run across Canada. One of the largest tank cars ever to travel on Canadian rails, the 14,400-gallon colossus was part of a Canadian National Railways freight train going from Montreal to the Pacific coast.

The car, which carried a shipment of phenol from B.A. Shawinigan Ltd., in Montreal to the plywood industry on the west coast, has approximately three times the capacity of the conventional 5000 imperial gallon car.

If the test proves satisfactory, the huge car will soon be making regular transcontinental runs.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

(Held over from last week)

Weather is just wonderful. No below zero readings in December as yet. Christmas Day was marvellous, although some rain in the morning caused slippery roads.

Two well known girls are in Germany, their husbands being in the armed forces, Myrtle (Ramsley), hubby and family, and Tillie (Heitman), Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walker and family.

The Omnesses enjoyed a wild game dinner at Mr. and Mrs. Severen Inman's in Islay on the evening of Dec. 13. Also present were the latter's parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beck from Bridstow and [illegible] of the [illegible] family. Piano solos by Gerald Inman were enjoyed very much, especially "The Robins [illegible]" [illegible] there is in real music. Thanks again folks for a wonderful evening. Mr. and Mrs. Beck planned on having Christmas with their daughter Violet and hubby and family in [illegible].

On Dec. 15 Orley Omness and sons-in-law Don Wilson and Jim Walsh went commercial fishing at Lake Wabamun. Many fishermen were disappointed at the small catch. Mrs. Throndson of town was on the farm helping while the men were away.

Mr. Arthur Lord who lives at the Lake is in excellent health. He had paid a recent visit to Mrs. Larsen at Camrose.

The same day Dec. 15 Gus Throndson and George Maggs of town went ice fishing at Fishing Lake where they were fortunate in getting a good catch.

The Xmas tree at the Centre was held Dec. 18 with well over one hundred in attendance. The children did very well in their plays and recitations and carols were sung by all. Santa came, very jolly, and had gifts and bags of candy for the children. Lunch closed a pleasant evening.

It was a very pleasant day on Dec. 20 when the Omnesses motored to Elk Point to visit sister Gertie Swanson. Through the northern valley it appeared to be Indian summer, which we missed last fall, with a lovely smoky haze. Mrs. Swanson recently has had two great grandsons, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Darling Lindberg a son, Lyle Morgan, born Dec. 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, Greenwood, B.C., Larry Newton, on Dec. 10. The mothers are sisters. May we add our best wishes.

Christmas service was enjoyed in Islay on the 20th. It was nice to see a full church. The choir and the music by Mrs. Lila Waterfield was so meaningful at this time. The message by Rev. Shortt "What Child Is This?", would be an inspiration to all.

It was a wonderful evening for all attending the Christmas concert at the high school auditorium in town on the 22nd. The teachers and all helpers are to be congratulated on their plays depicting the true meaning of Christmas. The children all did so well in their acts.

A jolly time for all was had at the Christmas square dance party in Clandonald on the 23rd. Art Ziegler from Vegreville was the [illegible] and called to eleven squares. It was good to see Marg along. Visitors were also out enjoying the evening. There was a Xmas tree, Santa and gifts for all. Lunch, ice cream and cake closed a sociable evening.

Christmas eve church service in [illegible] in the United church conducted by Rev. MacKay was well attended. The congregation was greatly enthused by the messages "What Christmas Means To Me", by Miss Pamela King, Master David MacKay and Miss Dorothy Jean Stewart, truly an inspiration to all and very well done.

Christmas Day guests to and from the district: Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Martin Jr. and family at the home of the latter's parents, the McCormack family, Rusylvia. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Butler [illegible] at Harry's parents in town. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Rochford spent a quiet Christmas at home. Their daughter Shirley, who had a serious heart operation [illegible], is doing well. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strome and family were in town at the home of Mrs. [illegible] parents, Mr. [illegible]. Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gordey and family were with Mrs. Gordey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Naciuk, Mannville. They have recently moved into their new home in that town. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baldwin and boys were at Mrs. Baldwin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wharry in Mannville for dinner and at Bruce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baldwin, in Vermilion, for supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cross were at the home of daughter Betty and Ray Stetson and sons at Fort Saskatchewan. Bob Mercier took care of their chores.

Mrs. Thelma Armstrong and family were with her sister Dorothy and Fred Glover and family at Lloydminster. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Stockwell and son [illegible] and Tommy's father Mr. Cliff Stockwell from Edmonton spent the day at the Johnny Nelson home in Lloydminster. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Throndson and daughter Joanne were with the latter's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Sheppard and girls at Kitscoty. Mrs. Mabel Lee from town and Mrs. Nora Ronaghan from Islay were with the latter's son Allen and Shirley Ronaghan and girls at Irma; Mrs. Stella Mayers was with the Mayers families at Watkins, Minn. She will visit Aunt Hannah, who is near 90, and family, in Ada, Minn., and expects to be home some time in January.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Endorsation of Social Credit Govt. Was Highlight of Political Year

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — People and events crowded the Alberta political scene during 1959.

The top event of the year from a political news standpoint was the June general election. Emerging from the event as man of the year is Alberta Premier Ernest Charles Manning, the man who engineered the fantastic results of the election.

Uncertainty shrouded the political horizon as the province prepared for the vote.

Conservatives, still riding on a crest of optimism carried over from their federal success, were confident of big gains. Some openly predicted a Tory victory.

Liberals were demoralized after their federal shellacking, but were fighting desperately to hang onto the big gains they made back in 1955.

Social credit staked its future on a gigantic five-year development plan which had replaced the oil and gas dividends, and urged the voters to stick with the Manning team.

When all the shouting was over, Socreds held 61 of the 65 seats in the provincial House. Liberal strength plunged from 15 to 1. Conservatives lost two of the three seats they held in the last House.

Political pundits are still scratching their heads over the outcome. But it seems fairly clear the voters wanted to make certain they kept Manning and his practical minded, progressive party in power, as opposed to old line party politics.

Manning, of course, was gratified at the results. But at the same time he realized it brought him some new problems, i.e., how to keep legislative debates lively and how to prevent his minions becoming smug and complacent without effective opposition. Socreds are forming internal watchdog committees to handle the job.

The election results also produced two or three lesser men of the political year.

Popular Michael Maccagno, the Liberal member from Lac La Biche who entered politics in 1955 with no pretensions of grandeur, suddenly found himself to be just about the most important Liberal in the province when he was re-elected.

Ernest Watkins, the lone Conservative from Calgary, became his party's chief spokesman in Alberta by virtue of his re-election. And Frank Gainer, the Coalition member re-elected in Banff Cochrane, feels sure his success proves his contention that Liberals and Tories will have to join forces if they want to oust Social Credit, even though it has been tried before to no avail.

The year just passed also saw the death of Alberta's most popular lieutenant-governor — Hon. Dr. John James Bowlen, at the age of 83. Three days later he was replaced by Hon. J. Percy Page, 72, onetime world-famous basketball coach and, until June, a Tory MLA.

In other political news of the year, the government started out fiscal 1959 by bringing down the biggest budget in the province's history calling for expenditures totalling more than $300,000,000.

Much of it was to finance expanded programs under the five year plan and the government was prepared to go into the red to do it. In fact Provincial Treasurer E. W. Hinman called for a $48,000,000 deficit. But with the fiscal year half gone no deficit had appeared. Buoyant oil and gas revenues had left the government with a $14,000,000 surplus and there appeared little likelihood of any deficit developing.

As 1959 neared an end the government revived the issue of a provincial industrial tax and as 1960 started it was still very much an issue. The government appeared on the verge of adopting a formula for assessing industry and spreading the proceeds among municipalities. The plan should be unveiled during the 1960 session of the Legislature, and could well be the big story of the coming year.

TOLLAND TOPICS

A bonspiel was held at Wild more during the Xmas holidays and appeared to be much enjoyed by the old, and many new curlers. The regular curling season started Jan. 4.

Miss Susan Wolters left on New Year's day to return to her studies in Toronto. Good luck Susan!

Our weather has been just marvelous, and whether rushing the season or a long way behind, Gladys Wolters found dahlias sprouting through several inches of coal dust. They were forgotten last spring and left in their corner in the basement all summer buried in coal dust. Such determination!

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cooper and girls spent several days with Mrs. Cooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred K[illegible]meier.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Foster of Edmonton visited for a short time on Sunday with the Wolters family. Also visiting for a few hours during holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wilson, being kindly brought down by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson and Gerry. We are glad to see both so well again.

We are very sorry to report that Ralph Thomsett lost his truck, being completely destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Chas. Young has been visiting her daughter Gladys at Camrose while Miss Rita Young is keeping house for brother Charlie at home in Hindville.

Sorry to hear that Miss Rosa Wolters was ill with flu during New Year week end, so was unable to visit relatives and friends in Tolland.

Also sick was Mr. Brooks Lysons of Edmonton so he and family only visited at Mrs. E. Lysons and boys home for a day.

A skating party at McGrath's dam was much enjoyed by a number of young people Tuesday evening last.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wilson and family were at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wilson in town for dinner and for supper at the Ralph Wilson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb McPhee and family had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. John David, Mr. Dave McPhee and Jean from town. Norman and Lorne McPhee from Pelican Lake, Gordon Good from town, Tom, Betty and Ewan David from Edmonton and Joe Allen and Sandy Good for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong an son Albert of [illegible] were with daughter May and Warren Edwards and family in town.

Thank you very kindly editor and staff for the lovely Xmas gift so useful in the festive season.

To all. A happy new year, day by day — then a wish, "May all life's best things come to you always."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane — Women's Travel Authority

A country doctor I know has six sound rules for driving under the most extreme winter weather conditions, day or night. His six rules are simple and sensible:

1 Never leave a thing to chance. Keep your car in perfect mechanical condition.

2 Get the "feel" of the road by taking it very slowly at first, testing your brakes, lights, the windshield wipers and defrosting equipment.

3 Drive slowly enough so you don't have to count on your brakes. Drive with an even, gentle pressure on the gas pedal and never accelerate suddenly or with a jerk.

4 If you must use the brakes, gently "pump" them up and down. If you feel the car starting to skid, turn the steering wheel in the direction the rear wheels are slipping to bring the front wheels in line.

5 Use tire chains on ice and snow. Chains are not a [illegible] but they cut braking distances as much as 40 to 50 per cent.

6 Triple or quadruple the usual distance between you and the car ahead.

But the best rule of all: When the weather is extremely bad, don't drive if you can avoid it.

I.O.D.E. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Frog Lake Chapter of the I.O.D.E. will be held at the home of Mrs. Dan Lateak, Vermilion, on Tuesday, Jan. 12 at 8 p.m. 26-c

Ice Capades, Greatest Show On Ice At Edmonton Gardens Jan. 18

The 19th edition of John H. Harris' "Ice Capades" comes to Edmonton Gardens January 18 to 23rd. Combining great music and ballet with championship figure skating, this all new 19th edition features 9 big shows in one. Following in the footsteps of such smashing successes as last years "Carmen" and "Madam Butterfly" producer John H. Harris has included four great Harris has incuded four great operatic productions in this year's colorful extravaganza. Such well known and loved operas as Gounod's "Faust", Puccini's "La Boheme", Leoncavello's "Pagliacci" and Saint Saens' "Samson and Delilah" combine to thrill audiences with the world's most beautiful music, costuming and skating.

Through special [illegible] with Walt Disney, [illegible] and the Seven Dwarfs return to Ice Capades 19th edition. To this fantasy has been added the most wonderful animals in all the world, rabbits in all hues of the rainbow, and dancing trees and elephants.

Nautical skating by the Ice Capets and Ice Cadets sets the motif for the gay and colorful production "Anchors Aweigh." Opening with a background of sporting yachts bouncing over the waves in a gay atmosphere of sea sport, Anchors Aweigh highlights beautiful and imaginative costume creations designed by Billy Livingstone.

The show opens with faultless execution, perfect expressiveness, timing and mood to Chopin's music from the ballet Les Sylphides. In the tradition of the ballet, the costuming goes beyond ordinary standards. Designer Billy Livingstone has created a pure white ensemble of satins, nets and silks embellished with diamond type ornaments that give the effect of floating stars and snowflakes against the ice.

The finale, "Salute to the Black Watch" is a gigantic tribute to the famous Scot Guards. Brought to America especially for this number are the talented Dagenham Girl Pipers who pipe and dance in spectacular Scottish fashion. More than 100 skaters, including the principals, make their final appearance in this act, a stirring number to highlight the world's finest talent on ice.

Ice Capades all new 19th edition will be presented at the Edmonton Gardens nightly January 18 to 22nd at 8:30 p.m. with three performances Saturday, January 23, 1:30 p.m., 5:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. 26-7

Vermilion To Receive $22,400 Recreational Grant; Two Blocks Pavement and One Block Sidewalk or 14 Blocks Cement Walk

The member of the Legislature for the Vermilion Constituency, Ashley Cooper, has announced the part of the Government's five year program as it pertains to the street paving in towns, villages and hamlets where the population exceeds 200 persons, within the Vermilion constituency. The governing bodies in each case have been supplied with full information and details of the program and are charged with making the final choice in what is desired. The choice lies between road paving, paved sidewalks or combination of the two, and is worked out on a formula based on population of the centre.

Under the plans the Town of Vermilion is entitled to approximately two blocks of pavement and 680 feet (approx. 1 block) of concrete sidewalks in addition to the paving; or approximately 8,250 lineal feet (14 blocks) of concrete sidewalks in place of the paving.

These quantities are approximate only, and are subject to some revision when actual costs can be determined. The work will be done in 1960.

MANNVILLE

Mannville will receive their choice of one block of paved road or 2,760 lineal feet of concrete sidewalks.

DERWENT

The village of Derwent will receive one block of paved road or instead of the paving, 2,880 lineal feet of concrete sidewalks.

INNISFREE

Innisfree will receive one block of pavement, and approximately 960 lineal feet of concrete sidewalk. In place of this they may choose 3,930 lineal feet of [illegible].

MYRNAM

The plan for Myrnam calls for one block of paved road, or approximately 3,330 lineal feet of concrete sidewalks.

RECREATION GRANTS ALSO

Grants based on a $10.00 per capita basis for all Alberta communities of 100 or more population except Edmonton and Calgary, to assist in the building of recreational facilities will also be made available this year as the second part of the Alberta government's five year program, according to Mr. Cooper. Population figures used to compute the size of grants will be the figures used by the Department of Municipal Affairs in 1959 for grant purposes.

On this basis, Vermilion will receive a cash grant of $22,400.00; Mannville $6,300.00 or thereabouts; Innisfree $3,180.00; Minburn $1,500.00; Derwent $2,880.00; Myrnam $4,000.00. These figures are approximations only will vary slightly.

Hamlets are also eligible for the grant providing the population [illegible].

Applications for Unthreshed Grain Assistance Now in Order

Farmers may now make application for assistance under Federal - Provincial Unthreshed Grain Assistance Policy. Those who have less than 50 per cent of their total seeded acreage threshed and whose average yield is less than 10 bushels per acre on their seeded acreage are eligible for this assistance.

Applications may be obtained from municipal district offices.

Any payment made on an application will be made to the farm operator only. If a land owner, who is not the operator, has a claim on part of the payment he will have have to obtain his share by arrangement with his tenant. The Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture will be responsible for making the final check on applications and for processing them for payment. However, inquiries from farmers, with respect to the policy, should be made at municipal offices.

The department urges that the applications be completed just as quickly as possible, says Alberta's Field Crops Commissioner A. M. Wilson so that inspection of unharvested crops can be made. No applications can be accepted after the last day of February. Every effort will be made by the department to send out payments as quickly as possible.

Complete information regarding this policy can be obtained from all municipal officials and from the district agriculturists throughout the province.

Tigers Win Thriller From Lloydminster 7-5 in Overtime

Vermilion Tigers sent the biggest crowd of the season, 600 fans home happy Wednesday night when they won a thrilling overtime victory from the Lloydminster Chevies 7 goals to 5. It was all tied up at five all at the end of regulation time. In the overtime at the 2.10 mark, Frank Ewing tapped in Denhill's pass to give the Tigers that hope-raising counter. They held off a determined Lloydminster attack, thanks to Lorne Scoggins who made some wonderful saves, to the 8½ minute mark. Lloyd then pulled goalie McGale in favor of six forwards. The face-off was in the Tiger territory but Ike Bronson fired a shot the length of the ice that ended up in the Lloyd net for the counter that clinched the game.

The game was very fast and clean. Officials Ralph Ruud and Deaville made an excellent job of handling the refereeing and an exceptionally good game resulted.

The Human Side Of It

Dr. Elfan Rees, chairman of the International Committee for World Refugee Year, has presented a poignant picture of the [illegible] of the problem of displaced persons.

The refugee problem may be called political and economic but it is much more than that. It is essentially a problem of human need and human happiness.

If World Refugee Year in which Canada is participating with [illegible] other nations, is successful, twice as many displaced persons may be helped as in a normal year.

But this will leave millions in the same position as before.

Every refugee says Dr Rees, believes that this is going to be his year of salvation. Since this expectation will not be fulfilled for millions, the participating nations will have to prepare for the disillusionment of next year.

This means a long term program of financial contributions, more compassionate immigration legislation, much better housing schemes in countries where refugees now are and vocational training to give them technical skills.

It also means that their ration of hope and human dignity must be sustained.

Few crusades on behalf of men, women and children have been more selfless in their origins and motives, than that of aid for the refugees.

Elective Subjects for Students

The elective subject program [illegible] at the Olds and Vermilion Schools of Agriculture has been well received by the students attending.

Agricultural students in their graduating year can elect to [illegible] in any one of the following [illegible] subjects which comprise four periods a week. Advanced animal husbandry, automotives (tractor overhaul), advanced welding, wood shop, horticulture, dairy and poultry husbandry.

First year students in Home Economics have been given the option of selecting, in addition to their regular subjects, four periods a week in typing, poultry or horticulture. Girls in their graduating year can elect four periods a week in record keeping, advanced clothing construction, or experimental and quantity cookery. Also two periods a week in dairying, poultry, horticulture, home nursing or employment training may be taken.

It is felt says Alberta's Superintendent of Schools of Agriculture J. E. Hawker that electives offer a means of meeting the varying interests of students and that they are also a step toward greater specialization. As circumstances warrant, it is expected that this type of program will be developed further, he added.

U. of A. Homecoming Date Is Changed

Alumni Homecoming of the University of Alberta, which attracts hundreds of graduates annually and is a traditional part of Varsity Guest Weekend in late February, has been postponed to Saturday Oct. 8.

This new date will coincide with an [illegible] football game between the U. of B. C. Thunderbirds and the U. of A. Golden Bears.

Reservations have been made to hold the mammoth graduate rally in the new Phys. Ed. building on the campus. The class of 1935 celebrating their silver anniversary year of graduation, will be specially honored as has been the program pattern in the past.

Better travelling weather, improved facilities, and the return of a major spectator sport to the campus influenced the decision to schedule Alumni Homecoming in the fall rather than winter annually.

NEW WHEAT VARIETIES

Newly licensed wheat varieties, Pembina and Canthatch are now available. Pembina was developed primarily for the rust areas of southern Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan where rust resistant varieties must be grown. It is anticipated that this variety will not prove satisfactory for production in Alberta.

Canthatch appears to be equal to Thatcher in yield, earliness and straw strength in all Alberta tests, however it has more resistance to stem rust than Thatcher. Rust resistance has not as yet been very important for most of Alberta, and farmers here are advised that they should not pay any premium for seed of this variety over the price asked for Thatcher.

LIST OF PUBLICATIONS

A revised listing of all Agricultural publications of the University of Alberta is now available to residents of this province. This listing includes publications based on research results of the Faculty of Agriculture Extension papers and leadership materials. Anyone can obtain a copy of this revised list of publications by writing to the Agricultural Secretary, Department of Extension, University of Alberta, Edmonton, or contact your district agriculturist office.

Members of the seed trade may place orders against this lot on a first come, first served basis. The department will make shipment to the seed company only and not to individual farmers on behalf of the seed company.

4-H FIELD CROPS CLUBS

This is the time of the year when interested parties should take steps in organizing 4-H Crop clubs for the coming project year. SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The Circle Eight club held their regular dance on Jan. 9th which was well attended by local members and six visiting clubs. Art Ziegler kept every one active and laughing through out the evening.

The Jolly Mixers from Vegreville having the most [illegible] captured the trophy. Don't forget, Circle Eight members, that the trophy is now in Vegreville and you know what must be done to recapture it. It will be impossible to get the trophy before Vermilion's next dance which will be on Friday Jan. 22 in the Bowtell hall with Johnny Max well behind the mike. Vegreville's dance follows this one and as there are some very active members in the Circle Eight club, no doubt some of them will journey to Veg. the following night and recapture the trophy.

CURRENT FLOOR COVERINGS

Probably the most talked about floor coverings are the vinyl ones. Available in outstanding colors, these are extremely durable and unharmed by grease, cleaners and most other household threats.

Since pure vinyl is very costly, manufacturers have combined it with other lasting substances to form inlaid vinyls. An example is Armstrong's Corlon range of vinyl floorings. These are available in sheet or tile form and may be installed above or below grade. The approximate price range varies from $100 to $150 for a 10 ft. x 15 ft. area.

VINYL COATINGS

These are used over patterns on felt backings and are known as [illegible]. While this provides an easily maintained surface, the product is not as [illegible] as the inlaid vinyls. [illegible] recovering [illegible] does take place. They are, however, an improvement upon enamel surfaced felt backed materials. The approximate price is $25.00 for a 10 ft. x 15 ft. area.

VINYL COATING ON CORK

Cork tiles with a vinyl coating are expensive but create a beautiful, long-wearing and easily maintained floor. This is especially suitable for living or dining rooms. These may be applied above grade only. The price is about $280 for a 10 ft x 15 ft. area.

VINYL ASBESTOS TILES

These are commonly referred to as Excel vinyl tiles. This is misleading as the major components are asbestos and plastic. These tiles do resist staining more than asphalt tiles. These may be installed above or below grade. The approximate price is $40.00 for a 10 ft. x 15 ft. area.

ASPHALT TILES

The color range is limited, the material is noisy, non-resilient and brittle and additional maintenance is very often necessary. Grease creates a staining problem and may even cause colors to run. A 10 ft x 15 ft area can be covered for about $30.00.

LINOLEUM PRODUCTS

These have carved a name as being a sound product. They require more maintainance than the new vinyls but they will outlast them and will continue to be used in quantity.

Films On Africa Are Enjoyed At Mannville United Church

MANNVILLE — With a very good attendance at the United church on Friday evening, Jan. 8th, an exceptionally interesting filmstrip and film were viewed by members from Minburn and Innisfree congregations, as well as a number from the Anglican church. The films were pertaining to African life and habits, and were of special interest to [illegible] church and Anglican W. A.'s as they are both studying about Africa in the course of their missionary work this year.

The film, and the filmstrip as Rev. Frank Andrews explained, were produced by Rev. Anson C. Moorehouse. The filmstrip depicted missionary activity in Africa and the second film showed how Christianity came to Africa. A worship service was conducted by Rev. Moorehouse by means of recording, which all present followed. Their choir was most inspiring. Even though they sang in their native tongue, one could feel the Christian message in the gladness portrayed by their voices.

Apparently where there were only nine politically independent areas, there are now thirteen. The course of this study was centred on Angola where the people expressed their grief with drums and singing which was replaced by happy singing as Christianity was learned and propagated by a few who went further afield to work. "Angola Awakes" was informative and "I'll Sing, Not Cry", was equally appealing to those of us who have not known dire need and hunger such as was portrayed in the picture.

Following the films, a hymn was sung, after which Rev. Andrews pronounced the benediction.

Particularly impressive was the singing of hymn No. 426, "From Every Stormy Wind That Blows" by the African choir, in which those present joined in singing the English words as they sang the African ones.

Celebrate Silver Anniversary

MANNVILLE — On the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary recently, Mr and Mrs. Fred Proudfoot were honored by their many friends in the village, as approximately 50 gathered in the Elk's hall to surprise the happy couple. A most enjoyable social evening was spent, after which Mae and Fred were presented with a "money tree" from the group, with best wishes. Both Mae and Fred warmly thanked those present for the wonderful surprise, and a delicious lunch was served.

The extra few seconds it takes to wait for traffic to pass before turning left can be worth a great deal to you. tf

Folk Singers Provide First-Class Entertainment At Lloydminster

Josef Marais and Miranda provided a highly entertaining and novel evening of music for the members of the Lloydminster Overture Concert Association at the second concert of the series held in the high school auditorium on Friday evening of last week. Marais and Miranda are creative minstrels who, like troubadors of old, collect folk songs and stories from many lands and translate them into modern language, harmonizing and presenting them to the understanding and enjoyment of their audiences.

Their programme last Friday consisted of some twenty-two selections and three or four encores of folk songs from England, Ireland, Holland, United States, South Africa and France as well as one or two in Yiddish and Hebrew.

Josef Marais was born in South Africa and Miranda began her career as a pianist in her native Amsterdam and their musical background and origin combined to produce a pleasing effect to the evening's entertainment. The classical guitar, played by Josef, and the highly entertaining touches of the comedienne by Miranda proved to be a well-rewarded departure from the usual type of musical entertainment given at concerts of this calibre.

At the reception following the concert, held at the home of Rev. W. H. and Mrs. Feeling, members of the executive, their wives, husbands and guests, learned something of the off stage life of this very talented couple who live now in Hollywood and who retire in the off season of summer to their mountain home in California where they translate, arrange and compose music and also teach at the Idyllwild School of Music and Arts. Hiking and nature studies form part of their pleasures and they delight in living the slowed-down life of the out doors, away from planes, trains and concert schedules.

GOLDEN AGE CLUB

The next social afternoon of the Golden Age Friendship club will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 20 at 2 p.m. in the Legion hall. Whist will be played and [illegible] served. Please be on time. 27

Club Holds Father, Daughter Party

The Marwayne 4-H Clothing club held a father and daughter Christmas party on Dec. 18. The party started with a lively singsong, then an indoor track meet and a short game of basketball.

Lunch was served in the audio visual room which was beautifully decorated for Christmas.

Mr Joe Hale thanked the girls for the very pleasant evening, to which Jackie Crichton very ably replied.

The first meeting of the new year was held on Jan. 4, opening with the pledge. Roll call was answered by 'Stain Removal' hints. Correspondence was read and new business discussed. The first year girls then discussed cosmetic cases, second year girls, skirts and third year girls tested fabrics. Next meeting will be held on Jan. 18th.

Public Invited To Visit "Show Home" on Saturday

The Inter Urban Developments Ltd., have extended an invitation to the citizens of Vermilion and district to visit their "Show and district to visit their "Show Home", one block north of the new high school, on Saturday, Jan. 16, during the hours from 2 to 8 p.m., at which time there will be hosts to welcome the visitors, show them through the house, and who will serve free coffee and doughnuts to the adults and balloons to the kiddies.

This is an opportunity to see some of the latest developments for comfortable, economical housing. New ideas in home styling, the use of new materials in construction and other innovations will be explained to anyone caring to enquire about these features.

This show home is the first of five houses to be completed. The other four are expected to be finished very shortly within a matter of a few weeks. Although the houses are all part of the same project undertaken by Inter Urban Developments Ltd., they are definitely not to be considered "row housing". There will be differences in the exterior styling to make each place an individual unit. Each purchaser will also have a choice of interior decoration. There is a variety of floor plans in the houses and the prospective owner may make his choice from several floor tile samples.

Each house will have a full basement with a forced air heating unit installed therein. There is copper pipe plumbing throughout 220 volt wiring and precast concrete outside steps.

These two and three bedroom homes have large kitchens, fully modern, with mahogany cupboards. The picture windows are thermo-sealed for comfort and economy.

The houses in this development are custom built and are not of prefabricated construction. If there is demand for more than the five residences, these will be arranged for as needed.

The Inter Urban Developments Ltd. has planned and arranged for the construction and complete financing of the five houses in the project. Officials have been pleased with, and are grateful for the co-operation and help received in their work here at Vermilion. Wherever possible they have sub-contracted work to local tradesmen whose congratulatory advertisements are published in this issue of the Standard.

For the public showing of the model home on Saturday, it will be completely furnished with merchandise lent to the enterprise by two Vermilion firms, Renaud & Casey Hardware and Simonsen's Furniture.

Reg Mitchell of the Mitchell Insurance Agency Ltd. is the local representative for the Inter Urban Developments Ltd., and may be contacted by those who are interested in the details of the purchase of one of the homes.

The Vermilion project is one of several real estate developments which have been recently established by Inter Urban in Alberta towns. Until a short time ago such developments have been confined only to the cities.

A sincere welcome to citizens of Vermilion and district to take advantage of this invitation to see the show home on Saturday is extended by the Inter Urban Developments. The public is asked to feel free to visit the show home without obligation of any kind.

Ruth Ewen Is Bride Of James Hines At Dewberry

The Dewberry United church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, December 12 when Miss Ruth Janice Ewen became the bride of James Elmer Hines. Rev J Shortt of Kitscoty officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr and Mrs. George Ewen, was radiant in a floor-length gown of white nylon net over satin, edged with sequins at the neckline, and had lily point sleeves. Her chapel veil misted from a coronet of sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The maid of honor Miss Cheryl Jones wore a waltz-length gown of coral net over taffeta. Miss Beverley Porter, as bridesmaid, chose a gown of blue net over taffeta and both wore white feather hats and carried nosegays of white carnations. Miss Penny Ewen, the flower girl, was adorable in a yellow nylon and lace dress, carrying a nosegay of white carnations.

The groom, son of Mr and Mrs. Vernon Hines, was attended by Dale Craig and Ron Bodnar. The ushers were Dennis and Robert Hines. Miss Isabelle Jones played the wedding music and Mr W Kruger sang "The Wedding Prayer" during the ceremony.

A reception was held in Dewberry United church hall and was catered to by the Dewberry United church W A. The ladies served a delicious turkey supper. The bride's table looked lovely centred with a three-tiered wedding cake baked by the bride's sister, Mrs. Neal Jones, and decorated by Mrs. Vic Dennill.

Mr Ken McLean proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Mr Kruger accompanied by Miss Isabelle Jones at the piano, sang a solo, "The Wedding Morning." While the gifts were being opened Mr Kruger led the guests in a singsong much enjoyed by all.

For travelling, the bride wore a blue wool suit with white accessories, and a corsage of Talisman roses.

On long drives, rest your eyes at intervals by glances at hills or houses at a distance, than at curbs or signs nearby. tf

CUSTOMERS who wish to obtain Spirella Foundation garments are asked to contact the local agent, Mrs. A. Hildreth, phone 231, at once, as the company will not operate in Canada after Feb. 15. 27

Receives Friends On 90th Birthday

On her 90th birthday, last Saturday, January 9th, Mrs. H. C. Oakley was pleased to welcome many of her friends who came to call and to tender their best wishes to her on this happy occasion. A great number of friends who were unable to be present in person sent cards of greeting and best wishes.

Mrs. Oakley thoroughly enjoyed the visiting and the kindness of her friends, and was grateful for the gifts and flowers sent to commemorate the day. To climax a happy birthday she received phone calls from her grandchildren in Edmonton and Swift Current.

Mrs. Oakley enjoys good health for her years, and is still able to see and read quite well without glasses. She attends the United church service every Sunday.

She likes to recall the early days in Vermilion over 50 years ago, when she came here with her husband, the late Mr H. C. Oakley and her three small children. She remembers well the time when her brother the late Rev. A. R. Aldridge, founded the little Methodist church in Vermilion.

Deepest sympathy goes to his wife Margaret and children Bobby and Marilyn, his father Mr Fred Machin and brothers Sandy and Tom.

Several from this district attended the 'Search for Talent' show in Mannville Saturday evening. Former residents of this district who appeared on the show were Frank and Mavis McCauley and Jim Scott. Their numbers were certainly enjoyed by all of us as was the rest of the show.

Walter Wychopen has returned to his studies at Mount Royal College, Calgary after spending holidays with his family, the Mike Pawlowa.

Robert MacMillan has returned home after a two weeks' stay in Mannville hospital. Sunday callers at the MacMillan home were Mr and Mrs Pete Krashinsky and Mr and Mrs Herman Hundle.

Jehovah Witnesses To Hear A. M. Didur Here On Sunday

Arrangements have been finalized for the bi-annual visit of a special representative from the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Didur will be staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Friesen from the 12th of January till the 17th. His stay will be climaxed by giving a public talk in the Elk's hall on Sunday at 7 p.m. The subject that he will talk on is "Walking Wisely in a Wicked World."

Mr. Friesen announced last Sunday after their regular study of the Bible at his home that the congregation of Jehovah's witnesses are all going to be busy during that time. Mr. Didur has with him a moving film that will be shown four times in different parts of this district as well as in Derwent town hall on Sunday the 17th at 2 p.m. with a Ukrainian commentary. This film will take one to many parts of the world including France, Holland, Germany, Rome and many others. It will also show the Divine Will International Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, in New York City, where a great witness was given of a quarter of a million people from 123 different lands were gathered in peace and unity.

One of the duties of the special representatives of the society is the training of ministers so that no matter where they live their ministry is carried out in unity. This is in harmony with the command given by Jesus to his disciples and apostles at Matthew 28:19 "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

Explorers Present Gift To Hospital

MANNVILLE — A group of enthusiastic girls, the Explorers of the United church here, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Ruth Hubbard, recently passed on some of the true Christmas spirit. Washable toys were presented by Corinne Ewing on behalf of the group, to the matron, Miss K. McClymont of the local hospital. The presentation came as a part of their Christmas party wish, so this enterprising group journeyed to the hospital, and made known their wishes that hospitalized children might have new toys with which to play. These girls range in age from 9 to 11 years and prior to the Christmas season, sold over 100 Christian Church calendars. They are at present beginning an interesting mission study on Africa.

OUR LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Will Premier Manning Accept National Leadership of S. C. Party?

by KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Political circles are humming with speculation again about the possibility of Alberta's Premier Ernest Manning taking on the national leadership of the Social Credit party.

Fuel was added to the fire last week when a Calgary weekly newspaper (The North Hill News) published a story saying the premier has already decided to seek the leadership.

Premier Manning, in eastern Canada at the time, quickly replied that he has "no intention" of applying for the job.

However, it should be noted that the premier hasn't really closed the door on the possibility. At a New Year's Eve press conference he told Edmonton newspaper and radio newsmen he has no personal desire to enter federal politics. But he added that he would "think twice" before refusing if circumstances made him feel it was a duty or an obligation.

Sometimes, he said, personal preferences have to go by the boards.

The notable thing about the premier's press conference statement was that it was the first time he's ever left the door even slightly ajar. Previously, when asked about the national leadership, he's said only that he's not interested.

Orvis Kennedy, national Socred organizer, admitted last week that there is widespread demand among party members in other parts of Canada for Manning to take the helm.

Solon Low has served notice that he will retire for health reasons so the party will have to find a new leader. "You can't blame the members for wanting to get the best man available," said Kennedy.

There probably will be no final answer until next summer when the Socred party holds a leadership convention in Ottawa. Meanwhile, the speculators can have their fun and the attendant publicity doesn't hurt the Socreds a bit.

So far as the Calgary news story is concerned, it seems doubtful that Manning has already reached a decision. For one thing, there's a good chance of Social Credit making solid gains in the national scene.

Social Crediters are saying there is a good chance of moving into a political vacuum they believe is being created by widespread dissatisfaction with the Liberal and Conservative parties.

But most Socreds admit that if they are going to make any impact they'll need a man of Manning's calibre and stature to swing it for them. When you come right down to it, Manning is probably the only Social Crediter in Canada who would stand even the remotest chance.

And if he is going to make a place for Social Credit on the national scene, he'll have to start soon and build up an organization between now and the next federal election.

Naturally, talk of Premier Manning entering federal politics revives speculation about a possible successor to the provincial leadership post.

And this means problems for the party too, because Ernest C. Manning is clearly the one responsible for Social Credit's magic in Alberta. There are some able men in his cabinet, but it would take plenty of hard promotion work to build around any one of them the leader image Manning already has.

Municipal Affairs Minister Alfred J. Hooke is the senior member of the cabinet, next to Manning, but isn't necessarily his closest colleague. Some observers say Education Minister Anders O. Aalborg would have the inside track in the event of Manning leaving provincial politics.

Among others prominently mentioned is Highways Minister Gordon Taylor, one of the hardest working cabinet ministers and a man who is developing into a good all-round politician and public relations man. Another man who might be in line is Provincial Treasurer Edgar W. Hinman.

Natural gas rates have become one of the hottest issues in the province. Consumers are reported complaining about increased rates, and seem to be blaming the gas export policies of the provincial government.

Manning has said repeatedly gas export isn't a factor in rising gas rates. On the contrary, he says, export will tend to keep domestic prices down. But this doesn't seem to satisfy consumers. All they know is that their gas bills are higher this winter and the government must be the one to blame.

DANCE IN LEGION HALL

WILDMERE WINKS

Everyone was surprised to hear of the death of Charles Friedland, an old timer of the Woodvale district. The writer can recall being at his home many times as a child and how his humor and friendliness won the hearts of all, old and young alike. There have been many changes since they came here.

We are sorry to hear of Mr Abe Frissel's illness in an Edmonton hospital and wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross White and family of Vegreville and Mr and Mrs Gerry Willmer of Vermilion visited at the Westman home on Sunday.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Jerry Hadley of Drayton Valley on the birth of a baby daughter on Jan. 7th.

On Friday evening Joanne Hughes entertained a number of her school friends at a skating party. They enjoyed a very delicious lunch in the house afterwards.

Some of the young boys played a game of hockey at Buffalo Coulee on Sunday afternoon. Another group had a curling game at the rink.

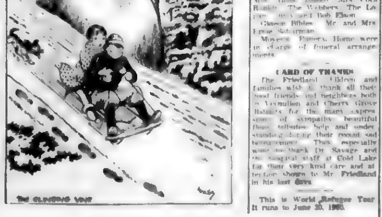
Mr and Mrs. J. C. Wallington visited at the Fadden home on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Frissel and family of Wainwright were also there. Mr. and Mrs. Wallington called at the Gibson home on their way back to town.

The district was shocked on Saturday, Jan. 9 to hear of the sudden passing of another old timer of the Wildmere district, Charles Morand in Calgary. Charlie as he was known to all came to the Wildmere district in 1912 from Pincher Creek, Alta. He homesteaded in what is now Triangle district. He was always willing to help and give his best to every community effort. In 1928 he married June Smith, daughter of Mrs. Smith and the late Adam Smith, formerly of Wildmere, who along with six daughters and three sons are left to mourn his passing. He and his family moved to Calgary several years ago where they have since made their home. All their many friends and neighbors join in sending deepest sympathy to his sorrowing family.

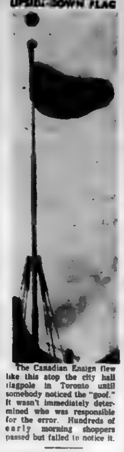
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frieser went to Edmonton on Monday to consult a specialist on the condition of Denise's finger injured in an accident while playing in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers left Monday morning for Calgary to be with their sister Mrs. Morand in her time of sorrow.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime



UPSIDE-DOWN FLAG



The Canadian Ensign flew like this atop the city hall flagpole in Toronto until somebody noticed the "goof." It wasn't immediately determined who was responsible for the error. Hundreds of early morning shoppers passed but failed to notice it.

Death and Funeral Of Chas. Friedland

There passed away at the John Neil hospital at Cold Lake on Jan 2nd, an old timer of the Vermilion district, Mr. Charlie Friedland who had reached the age of 89 years, 1 month and 8 days.

The deceased was born at Beaver Dam, Wisconsin U. S. A. where he met and married Minnie Ihele on December 15th, 1892. Four children were born of this union, three girls and one boy.

They homesteaded in the Vermilion district in 1907 where they lived until Mrs. Friedland passed away in 1950. Mr. Friedland sold the old homestead to Roger Watt. He has since made his home with his children, living in Edmonton part time and at Cherry Grove where he very soon became known as Grandpa Friendland to everyone.

Mr. Friedland leaves to mourn his passing his loving children, Mrs. Henry Wilhite of Edmonton, Mrs. Arthur Friedland of Kingston, Mrs. E. H. Dilcox of Cherry Grove and Mrs. Hulda Potter of Edmonton. There are 14 grandchildren, 30 great grandchildren and 11 great great grandchildren.

The funeral services were held in the First United church, Vermilion, on January 6th, 1960, conducted by Rev. C. W. MacKay who brought a very comforting message. Pallbearers were Alex Ross, Harvey Turner, Roger Watt, Luther Thompson, Bob Wilson and Bob Elson.

Dewberry C. G. I. T. Hold Vesper Service In United Church

On Dec. 20 the Dewberry C.G.I.T. held their Vesper Service in the United church at 7:30 p.m. Cheryl Jones as president, was the leader, Loretta Holmen was the solo voice in the choral reading and Leone Purser, Carol Bowman and Beverly Lemp took the three different solos and Tina Whiteside, Lynne Purser, Linda Axley, Leatrice Anderson and Anne Collins presented the reading "Christmas Thoughts in Kottayam". The J. B. Phillip's Scripture was read by Isabelle Jones. Following this came the candle-lighting part of the service. The three candle-lighters were Jean Holman, Karen Farberg and Maureen Finlay. The service ended with the girls forming a cross of candles. The church was decorated with candles in the windows and along the front of the stage. Thanks are extended to Mr. Kruger for directing the singing and to Mrs. Websdale for playing the organ.

The following night, Dec. 21, the Intermediates sang carols in the west end of town while the Senior group sang carols in the east end. Although the primary purpose is not to collect money the donations are gratefully accepted and will be used for M. and M. Following the carolling, the group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alf Purser for a turkey supper, along with the group leaders, Mrs. Neal Jones and Mrs. Lowrie. The Kruger family and Mr. Jones were also guests in attendance.

The White Gift service was put on by the United Church Sunday school on Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. Mr Kruger's class of boys presided over the service, with each class contributing an item. One of the highlights of the evening was the presentation of the "Manger Scene", with Anne Marie Braithwaite as Mary and Bobby Nelson as Joseph, supported by a chorus from the nursery class.

Lunch was served by the C.G.I.T. girls, having been provided by all the parents in attendance. The teachers presented each child with homemade candy, popcorn balls and a gift.

Health Unit Notes

THE FUTURE OF HEALTH EDUCATION (cont'd)

By Dr. B. Gebhard

Not everybody is interested in health just as the public is not primarily interested in public health per se, but there are enough people of all walks of life who are willing to do something about their own health and willing to pay for it as shown in the millions of dollars in dimes contributed annually to the many health and hospital drives. May I refer to my own organization, which is basically a membership organization which receives no tax subvention or Community Chest support. In 1940, as we opened our museum's door we had a membership of 800, with a $10 minimum dues. Presently our membership is over 3000, of which 80 per cent represent the general public.

There is much discussion under professional health educators about the "hard to reach" individuals, but I am sure that these individuals are quite open for advice when they are sick, or have a sick one in their family.

Where illness is a point of departure health is a very desirable goal, worth all kinds of effort. Patient education is one of the most neglected fields as we have erected an artificial barrier between preventative and curative medicine.

Health workers, and that includes physicians, too often forget that it is always the patient who makes some kind of a first diagnosis, either rightly or wrongly. It is always the patient who initiates a course of treatment either by treating himself or calling on help from qualified, or unqualified sources. All this depends, more or less, on the patient's familiarity with health and disease. We the health workers have no right to blame the people for not knowing the facts. Biological illiteracy is quite evenly spread among all income classes.

Patient education in [illegible] offices and hospitals, in outpatient departments, and with the sick at home is a great challenge for the future. We have to have better working relationships between medical organizations and hospitals and public might lead to [illegible] of health educators, establishment of city or countrywide health film libraries, or the rallying point might even be a health museum in connection with a hospital as it is in operation in a suburb of Philadelphia, the Lankenau hospital for six years now or a health museum in a doctors' office building opened recently in a suburb of Chicago or it might be, for the first time, a health museum in connection with a city or state health department.

As all education, the future of health education depends on our children and grandchildren. There might be many things wrong in this world but the increase in family size, referred to as the baby boom in the United States with 30,000,000 bundles from heaven in eleven years, should make those people think twice before they refer to the U.S. as the "most materialistic neighbor." School health education is naturally easier to organize than adult education.

What is called for is a better general biological orientation in teacher training. To me the inner space of man will always be more important than all the fantastic exploration of outer space but teaching of youth has to be up to date. Last year our special exhibit "Man in Space" tripled our school group attendance. Controversial subjects, be it alcoholism, or family life education must be made an integral part both of teacher training and pupil discussion. I am convinced that 50 per cent of all mental problems could be avoided by proper instruction in these fields. Too often we are too late and this includes the parents, too.

FULL CO-OPERATION

A Danish sex educator once said, "It is better to have this instruction a year too early than a day too late." With the lowering of the average age of marriage (teenage marriages have increased in the U.S.A. by [illegible] per cent since 1940), parents and teachers should do their best in preparing future homemakers. Too much is presently left to chance. We are a little proud at the Cleveland Health Museum on having the full co-operation of public, private and parochial schools in these activities which we call family life education, which usually start with fifth graders. I realize that here moral and religious issues are involved, but health education without these subjects is incomplete and ineffective.

(To be continued next week.)

DO IT NOW!

... when skilled men and materials are available. In addition to interior renovations to homes, plants and businesses, there are many other things that can be done to advantage during the winter—maintenance of lawn and garden equipment, electrical appliances, outboard motors and automobiles, as well as dry cleaning of drapes and rugs, replacement of upholstery, etc.

TORONTO ADOPTS REFUGEES IN WEST GERMANY

In the human garbage dumps of Europe called refugee camps 223 refugees from half-a-dozen countries exist in the rotting remnants of Hitler-era barracks. When news was brought to them that Toronto, Ontario, was going to adopt them, raise $200,200 and bring them into the sunshine once more it roused flickers of interest in only two faces. Canada meant nothing to most of the inmates but it does to Nikolaus Bosyk, nine, who displays his sweater sent by 15 Toronto "foster mothers." A group of downtrodden children are shown in the camp which officials hope to clear away during World Refugee Year.

New 2 Storey $500,000 Aquarium Being Constructed in Calgary

Construction has started on a $500,000 aquarium and required equipment which is being built by the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company Ltd. at the company's plant in East Calgary. The aquarium will be one of the largest in North America.

President of Calgary Brewing and Malting, J. B. Cross, said the aquarium is the first stage in a plan which in later years will include construction of a large, western-[illegible] museum adjoining the aquarium.

"Both the museum and the aquarium are planned to provide Albertans with an interesting and educational visiting place, and as attractions which will be of interest to tourists," Mr. Cross said.

The two-storey reinforced concrete and steel building—140 by 65 feet in area—was designed by J. Stevenson and Associates and is being constructed by Poole Construction Co. Ltd. Basement will house mechanical equipment, while the main floor will contain 40 small tanks for tropical fish, 24 tanks for larger species of fresh and salt water fish, and a pit for alligators and other reptile exhibits. The aquarium will be open to the public by next August, Mr. Cross said. It will adjoin the present fish hatcheries building, but will in no way affect the trout-rearing operation now being carried on there. Rather, the new project will be complementary to the fish hatchery and the beautiful rockeries and fish ponds which are attractions of the Brewery [illegible].

The second floor of the new aquarium will be used to display Western historical exhibits until the museum adjoining the aquarium is constructed. The museum is tentatively planned as a two-storey circular structure 100 feet in diameter which will be joined to the aquarium at ground level by an open patio and by a cross-walk at the second storey.

Museum material has been collected by the Brewery for several years and research is continuing so that, on completion, the museum will reflect the history of the Western horseman from the days of Cortez to the present. Lifelike models including those of such famous westerners as Chief Crowfoot, Col. Macleod, Pete Knight, John Ware, and portrayals of specific historic incidents in Alberta are planned.

The Department of Highways was also to be contacted for more information regarding the proposed hard-surfacing of main street and to request the visit of a government engineer to look over the situation. It was decided to make application to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for the annexation of the land on SW [illegible] Sec. 30-50-8-4.

The monthly statement was presented and signed by the Mayor. A request was heard and granted from the Canadian Legion Post No. 33 to have Saturday [illegible] reserved for the Ice Carnival at the skating rink. It was further decided to have A. Reid check the water valve in the fire hall and report on same.

Of course, this crack train isn't likely to pull in at your Imperial Esso service station, but it, too, is an important Imperial customer and plays quite a part in your everyday driving.

Why competition among oil companies for customers like "The Canadian" benefits you

You and customers like the railroads want to be sure that you are getting the best products, the best service and the best price.

In Canada there are 74 oil companies competing to serve you and your car. Imperial is one of them and has 13,000 people working in oil fields, research laboratories, refineries and sales forces—all helping to compete for business.

The standards of quality, service and price that it takes to win railroad business benefit all our customers, large and small.

That's one reason Canadians have made Esso stations the busiest on Canadian roads.

WILDMERE WINKS

(Held over from last week)

1960 entered in a little better than 1959, at least as far as the weather was concerned. Here's hoping we are favored better than last year.

The New Year's dance at Rosewood was well patronized and everyone brought the new year in with blowing of horns and adorned with paper hats and ticker tape. The girls did a nice job of decorating too.

New Year's day saw many gatherings of friends and relatives throughout the district.

Mrs W. T. Garnett and Judy spent a few days in the city during the holidays getting the latter's glasses changed. Mr. Garnett also was a city visitor on Co-op business later in the week.

TRUCK BURNS

Ralph Thomsen had the misfortune to lose his truck by fire last week. With the aid of neighbors passing by he managed to get it away from the buildings.

CURLING UNDERWAY

The curling club has made up the rinks and draws began on Monday, Jan 4.

On Saturday Frank Gibson, Wally Westman, Albert Smith and George Thursby were hosts in a game to a rink from town, namely Frank Wilkinson, Harvey Tebbutt, Milo Fleming and Nick Klotz. The visitors were the victors.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thursby and family of Forestburg spent New Year's and the two days following at the Gibson home, also visiting friends in town.

Eddie Holte was home for the holidays and enjoyed the spiel at the rink. Bill Veitch and company won top honors.

BIBLES PRESENTED

On Dec. 20 the W.A. held a very nice social evening of films at Preston Central school. They presented Bibles to the young people of the district who are starting out on their own, namely Betty and Marie Smith, Doreen Martin, Mary Gibson and Ken Graham. Mrs. Wallington was also given a token of remembrance for her loyal and willing help. Rev. Blaine Smith of St. Walburg, previous student minister of this field, was on hand to present the Bibles. He visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hughes overnight.

HUNGARY WAIF FINDS PARENTS AFTER 10 YEARS

There were tears of joy at Malton airport, Ontario, when 12-year-old Ildiko Horvath walked off plane from Hungary into arms of parents who hadn't seen her since she was 16 months. Mr. and Mrs. Horvath escaped across the Austrian border in 1949. They did not bring their baby girl with them because they had to cross barbed wire fences and a mine field. Ildiko's parents kept her visa valid by continuous renewals for seven years. On Sept. 3 her passport was granted in Budapest.

Ice Capades, Greatest Show On Ice At Edmonton Gardens Jan. 18

The 19th edition of John H. Harris' "Ice Capades" comes to Edmonton Gardens January 18 to 23rd. Combining great music and ballet with championship figure skating, this all-new 19th edition features 9 big shows in one. Following in the footsteps of such smashing successes as last years "Carmen" and "Madam Butterfly" producer John H. Harris has included four great operatic productions in this year's colorful extravaganza. Such well known and loved operas as Gounod's "Faust", Puccini's "La Boheme", Leoncavello's "Pagliacci" and Saint Saens "Samson and Delilah" combine to thrill audiences with the world's most beautiful music, costuming and skating.

Through special arrangement with Walt Disney, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs return to Ice Capades 19th edition. To this fantasy has been added the most wonderful animals in all the world, rabbits in all hues of the rainbow, and dancing trees and elephants.

Nautical skating by the Ice Capets and Ice Cadets sets the motif for the gay and colorful production "Anchors Aweigh." Opening with a background of sporting yachts bouncing over the waves in a gay atmosphere of sea sport, Anchors Aweigh highlights beautiful and imaginative costume creations designed by Billy Livingstone.

Another musical bouquet in this year's Ice Capades is "Cavalcade of Hits" featuring the 15 most popular melodies of the past 50 years, selected by the nations leading disc jockeys in an international poll.

The show opens with faultless execution, perfect expressiveness, timing and mood to Chopin's music from the ballet Les Sylphides. In the tradition of the ballet, the costuming goes beyond ordinary standards. Designer Billy Livingstone has created a pure white ensemble of satins, nets and silks embellished with diamond type ornaments that give the effect of floating stars and snowflakes against the ice.

The finale, "Salute to the Black Watch" is a gigantic tribute to the famous Scot Guards. Brought to America especially for this number are the talented Dagenham Girl Pipers who pipe and dance in spectacular Scot fashion. More than 100 skaters, including the principals, make their final appearance in this act, a stirring number to highlight the world's finest talent on ice.

Ice Capades all new 19th edition will be presented at the Edmonton Gardens nightly January 18 to 23rd at 8:30 p.m. with three performances Saturday, January 23, 1:30 p.m., 5:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. 29-7

Recreation Centre Proposed For Exhibition Grounds

Would Be Aided By Dominion And Provincial Grants

A delegation representing the Vermilion Board of Trade, the Agricultural Society and various service clubs in the town, attended the council meeting on Monday evening and discussed with the council the possibility of building a recreation centre containing a hockey arena on the grounds of the Agricultural Society. Such a building would be eligible for large Federal grants and it was proposed to use the provincial recreation grant of $22,400.00 towards this purpose.

It was also hoped that there would be donations from service clubs, private individuals and from the two municipalities. Thoughts have been turned in this direction by the fact that the province of Alberta will make a donation this year of $10.00 per capita, $22,400 in the case of Vermilion, which must be used for some recreational facility.

Home and School Association To Hear Talk On "Regional Libraries"; General Public Invited

The Vermilion Home & School Association will hold the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 26, at 8 p.m. The attention of members is directed to a change of meeting place. This gathering will be held in the auditorium of the new high school because it is hoped that there will be a large attendance to hear Mr. E. T. Wiltshire speak on the topic "Regional Libraries."

The general public is invited to attend this meeting to hear a full explanation of the benefits accruing to a community from the formation of a regional library.

Basically a regional library is a system of operating a central working [illegible] tains, organizes and sets up a large supply of books in the manner of a city library, and [illegible] in as many centres as the area wishes to set up. It isn't a series of travelling boxes; it is a system of libraries right close to where people live. It can provide service for adults and children community and school. Considerable assistance is given in the form of government grants, and local cost is very nominal. Any existing libraries may participate, and would have, if they do, far greater resources, but the important feature is that villages, hamlets and rural areas not now able to have library services, could then have a continually changing supply of books of their choice. Our schools would also benefit.

The foregoing is a very brief summary of what a regional library can do and be — the principle is important enough to explore carefully, and consider.

On the assumption that there is interest in such a possibility here, the Vermilion Home and School has arranged for this open meeting next Tuesday at the new high school auditorium, so that any interested persons may hear the details of the formation of a regional library from Mr Wiltshire.

Some representatives from Vermilion went to a meeting in Vegreville, held last month, to hear some of the details about the plan for setting up a regional library. Their reaction was very favorable, and they report with enthusiasm on the advantages of the formation of such a library for this district. No decisions or organizational steps have been made or taken in this matter but it is thought that the people of the area should have an opportunity to learn, at first hand, about the benefits of a regional library, and then to feel free to express their point of view.

An additional feature of the agenda for the H. & S. meeting will be the presentation of pictures of H.R.H. Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip to the high school.

HEALTH WEEK

Canada's sixteenth annual national Health Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada — a national citizens committee of the World Health Organization — in co-operation with Departments of Health and Education throughout the Dominion of Canada, will be held January 31 to February 6. The purpose of the week is to make Canadians aware of the achievements of medical science in the areas of prevention and cure and to point up the ways in which each Canadians can utilize these developments to have good health.

oogd Lde pGieje gi ieay Jims

One of the important suggestions of the Health League this year is that service clubs, Boards of Trade, Home and School Associations and other voluntary groups establish standing committees on health in order to apply locally the established standing committees on Health in order to apply locally the established principles of preventive medicine.

It's Leap Year Again . . .

It's Leap Year again and you can blame the Scots for declaring it open season on bachelors.

They probably saw the custom of letting a woman pop the question as a way to put money in the treasury and take spinsters off the welfare rolls.

According to the research of World Book Encyclopedia, Scotland is said to have decreed in 1288 that ladies "of bothe highe and lowe estait" shall have the privilege of proposing during Leap years.

If a man refused the offer, he was fined as much as one pound, unless he could show that another woman had a prior claim on his affections.

The ladies, however, had to give fair warning that they were out to catch a man. If the edge of a scarlet petticoat wasn't clearly visible a man was absolved from paying the forfeit.

France reportedly passed a similar law, and the ladies of Florence and Genoa are said to have been given the privilege before Columbus sailed to America.

The gallant Englishman supposedly didn't need a law to make them give the fair but single sex a break. But they backed up the custom by depriving a man of benefit of clergy if he scoffed at a Leap year proposal.

Even if he didn't hurt the lady's feelings, he was obliged to present her with a silk gown as a consolation prize.

Cameron Report on Education Given Poor Press Treatment

Disappointment in newspaper treatment of the Cameron Report on Education was expressed by the commission chairman Senator Donald Cameron in an address before members of Banff Rotary club Monday afternoon.

Misleading headlines, out-and-out errors in interpretation and editorial comment based on false premises . . . these were the points scored by Senator Cameron in his talk to club members.

By way of illustration, the chairman noted one headline inferred the commission report expressed satisfaction with things as they are in Alberta's education system. "but we made some 280 recommendations for changes . . . I don't see how that can be construed as favoring maintenance of the status quo."

"Commission Rejects French" was another headline "but we actually recommended that more time be given to the teaching of French."

Senator Cameron particularly deplored Calgary newspaper reports which had it that the Commission was against separate schools.

"This is false and mischievous," he declared, "I have the utmost sympathy for separate schools in the rural areas where centralization has forced Catholic children into public schools." He added that the curriculum as it now stands made provision for one-half hour of religious instruction in all schools throughout the province but that about 90 per cent of the school boards did not use this half hour.

Senator Cameron said John Cormack author of the minority report submitted along with the majority report had used the tactic of setting up straw men and then knocking them down. He said Mr Cormack had over simplified matters in labelling his fellow commission members as "progressivists" as opposed to those in favor of traditional methods.

"There are many different philosophies on education and we aimed to take the best from each of them," the Senator said.

"My own view on the aim of education," he added, "is that it should develop to the fullest the intellectual spiritual and moral potential of the individual."

Turning to another aspect of the report Senator Cameron said it was proposed to improve the quality of teachers in Alberta with a minimum of four years training and a degree being set as the standard.

"We estimated this would take 11 years if such a program were instituted now," he declared. "Along with this would go a greatly increased teacher salary scale . . for teachers who had shown merit."

The speaker went on to note that among 31 professional salary scales in Canada, teachers stand 29th followed by nurses and ministers.

"The three people who have the most to do with setting standards in the community are at the bottom of the salary scale," he observed.

Senator Cameron acknowledged that the terms "Social Studies" and "Health and Personal Development" used to describe many subjects now lumped together in two units, were distasteful to himself as, indeed they appeared to be to many people in Alberta. "but I am not too concerned about what these courses are called so long as their content is good and our recommendations are aimed at strengthening this content considerably."

The commission chairman said that school grants used to be on a 200-day school year but that field days, teachers' conventions and the like had shortened the year to 184 days. "We propose that this situation be corrected."
